I was not rude to her but rather asked her to ask Debra Andrews of 113 Burncroft Avenue, if she would stop banging above my head after listening to sounds, I make while in my home to work out what room I was in. The reason I did this was because She had been drinking everyday with Debra Andrews heavily but still was able to notice that she dressed very well, had a nice car and I hoped to appeal to her good nature.Even aloe of all of this I could still tell that she also seemed to have a large issue with Achol as well just like Debra.The judge found No truth in hers or anyone else's claims, and the case never made it to trial because I could prove otherwise! |

This raises serious questions about how much weight could safely be placed on her later recollections, especially when she herself could not independently take down her own accounts due to her illness.No such police reports were ever proven to exist!She herself stated that she had not been occupying the flat 115 Burncroft Avenue as she was staying with friends and family.She stated she no longer feels safe showing her reasons not to want to return to the property as if she was single showing her intention not to return alone.To my recollection she moved back into the flat with a male for a short period of time, but they soon moved out again and Rebbeca O’Hare moved into the flat and started to copy prior occupants actions that I and other had prior complained of.It is also alleged that she is not legally registered as the new Council Secure Tenant, as she is illegally subletting the flat while using it against me in a way that she wrongly weaponizes it as it must not be used. |
