A Diary, making a Book off Truths, Created and Authored by Mr. Simon Cordell, a Boss/ housing tenant & UK resident: -

Chapter 1

Introduction: --

Topics: --

I am a strong believer in the following saying, as quoted: Lesson's must always get learnt from on goings, so to prevent similar occurrences from persisting to happen in the future.

This is now my personal introduction to this official diary / Book / Report;

My Name is Mr. Simon Cordell, and this is part of my life story. This Report / Book got written by me for supplying true and accurate information to the complaints departments and the public. It is my intentions (To start this report) with a pretence of a story of a fiction, so I will begin, one day I found a colourful box and it had a wind-up handle coming out of the side of it, so me, being me, I went up to the box and took hold of the handle, in doing so, I spun the handle. At first, I would hear this cranking noise; it was ever so quiet but hearing this noise encouraged me more and more, to keep on spinning the handle. One second turned by and then another second, till I started to feel and enjoy the fun in the rhythm, then as I took my hand off the handle to stop what I was doing, then Pop, outcome this jack in a box. Now, as some people would, or might say, let's get back to reality, this now is an Introduction, which in fact starts, with a summary, of my own, personal middle adder lessons of age and in brief, this is a short walking, to some of my earlier childhood memories.

Chapter 2

Family Life: --

Throughout my whole life I have got raised with high living standards. My dad was a union reprehensible himself, and that off a good statue, I can continue to say I have a close mother to son relationship, my mother and I have always been close to each other and this is alongside with the rest of our family member's. My mother got born in Great Britain and is the best person any one could want as a mum, and together we as a family, are always there for each other, this gets done by us all, as a family should do for each other. As a sequence of events, I can remember; historically in my life time, when in the younger days of my life, my dad as he still does now, worked hard, so he could provide for his loved ones and this was in an addition to getting managed, for us to get provided, with having nice things; "living essentials," such as: A Good Education, Food, Drink, Housing, Holidays and Good; Clothing. This was certainly inclusive of all the rest of the best in the benefits, a person could want while growing up. When describing my father; I would explain that he demonstrates, the highest standard's that can get set in a person's lifetime or just to describe his character a little more; I would paint a picture that's would show, a true Person who always stands for the correct principles, towards being a proud man. My father is a strong and honest man, who is from the West Indies; "Antigua, what's also known as; Waladli, or; Wadadli, by the native population," he himself had a well-disciplined upbringing. Together, my father and mother, are very consistent in their ways of life and would oversee to encourage all of their children's additional energy does go towards the right things out of life! My parents would always keep; One's eyes on inspecting that first-class standard's that are needed to get met and achieved do get met to, aloe I did have different learning issues to overcome, such as being tongue tied. I can remember my father & mother furthering this education of ours by sending me and my younger brother, to a Sunday school, so I personally do know and understand that it is; "surely" a fair statement to say; that neither of my parents, especially my father was any were next too impressed, when I first got arrested by the police. If I was to explain, some more about how I felt, at the time; I would continue to say, that it is correct for me to express myself by saying, that on this day I was more than worried, when I got into trouble that is to say, I was worried of what was about to happen to me, by my father and mother, once the police had finished dealing with me.

Chapter 3

Remembering: -

I can clearly remember thinking to myself when I was a growing man; that things have changed for the better within the world since my mother and father had got older: - oh how I now know that I had got it wrong; I understand that I maintain myself to be a very polite person and I believe this has happened, as for my parents' upbringing and life's toils, throughout my life. My frame of mind, is that I am usually in a good mood, as I quote myself and I accept, I may get found by some persons, as towards being slightly elevated, but this is part of my personality and to further this conversation it is a true fact this elevated behaviour constitutes to a positive impact, rather than a negative impact, on myself and the people's life's around me. In explaining about my life and the continual efforts of my work studies, I would say I am building, a mini festival to which can get classed as its own city, regulated by HSE standards, legislation and other needed professions, professionals, so to protect traders and the public, while looking after myself. This has led me to having to study to a fair degree and partly, but not in large, one of the many causes, to my disappearance, from my friends and the public.

Chapter 4

Me at this age!

I believe that the time given to a person's in their life is short already and to date of this report being drafted I have awaited a whole, five years, so to return to society from my disappearance and I know that this is that moment in time for me to accomplish that reappearance, but I find myself having problems in doing so. I am still here alive and still living in London, just about to date of the 15/07/2017 and it is sad to announce that I am now being held as a prisoner to an unjust system of law illegally, and in me expressing this fact I can continue to explain that this is getting achieved by me getting held captive by Government representatives in my rented home, so in return, I used Google, so that my writing can spring forth, to its best power's and this is the produce. It is wrong that I am being held as a prisoner, in my rented home in the United Kingdom and this misconduct in Law in-doubtfully means that I am being held against my free will. This displaced unreasonable behaviour in Law has gotten accomplished; with no wrongful actions in the law being taken by myself. These issues also include some members of the public and this is also to be inclusive of specific people that work as representing governing officials who altogether achieved dissatisfaction's in my life with dishonourable intent of Join Circular. The governing officials who took a part in what I claim about caused Malefices of Public office against me which is the carriage to Targeted Malefices and up to date all parties involved have gotten put into receipt of the evidence of my truth found claims and yet nothing has changed for the right of things in my life as they must. Members of the Government officials, placed a clear display of deceitful lies towards my person and also about other(s) persons involved, when manipulating their powers of law, this misuse of their trusted powers being abused in such a way, got done for their own reckless self-gain and now I know that them involved officers of the law and involved civilians my get punished, as another person "Reader" should agree too as well. This misplaced behaviour by Members of the Governments Official's got partly achieved, so that it would discredit me in the public's view and got endorsed, in a deceitful, manner, so to also aid in them police officers wrongfully taking away my liberty and security, so for themselves to avoid justice. Because of what has happened I now have been forced to suffer through the past five years of my life, now I hope this report Helps me and maybe any other person(s), that being said Help in reference to these issues and or any other similar issues, like what I do mention about within this report, so, they do not get left unattended towards or manipulated and then on afterwards with these goals of mine at present getting completed it would always mean that in the near on future problems like mine do not get slightly or totally avoided and then on throughout the process not corrected in a fair way and fair time frame. This will mean that once my problems like mine are highlighted to the relevant persons, as has proceeded to happen in my case load, as of so far! People will not get left to suffer by way of neglect, misconduct or in any form of unfair process in general. In the moments of the time of my complaint(s) I have got left without the problems getting resolved in a fair manner and by them issues not getting addressed this has caused me great sufferings, I know that these sorts of problems that I do mention about within my report, should never get left to emulate. Negative problems and crimes have gotten left to accumulate, so to arise without any official legal or moral grounds getting implemented, this means that at the earliest given points of the opportunities given to the relevant persons no person followed the correct protocols, I know this as I personally granted the involved person(s) all chances throughout the case's history's myself.

I done this to resolve the issues of my official complaints in a civilized manner, with no avoid of creating this report. Crooked behaviour, as I can prove has got left to continue to flourish and should have never had happened and this is why I have continued to document what takes place and now this documentation, shows the truth in what members of my neighbours and the government's official's representatives have participated in and should not get tolerated in society, as it is wrong. As a consequence of the information and the evidence that I hold about them all that is contained within this official report, the police and council have let members of my neighbour's getaway with criminal actions towards me; the official's allowed members of my neighbours to start and continue to victimise me and this is inclusively of what they themselves have already done wrong.

I keep confirming to myself, what should happen next?

Now I am sure, those involved members of neighbours should get punished by way of a criminal offence and this must be inclusive of the named government officials that are contained within this document who took part towards a down full in the stability of mine or any life. Those members of neighbours that get involved are the true instigators of the incidents I claim about and they caused a lot of the illegal and immoral issues that are being brought to attention about. Together they all involved, harshly caused illegal offences towards me, and they together involved, participated in making the last five years of my life a complete living hell and while doing so endanger my life by way of similarity of a none feeble future. The nature of the crime's that members of neighbours and government officials committed towards me, would mean any other similar offender would face the risk of a custodial sentence being imposed against them and this is to explain in any other similar circumstances, like mine. A prison sentence being issued in pursuit of the people's roles that got involved with their parts of the misconduct and illegal activities of misplaced behaviour to which they involved took a part of an unmoral -role against me and the United Kingdom's Legal Justice System, would in fact be the correct official practice of law being implemented, as for what they now and then continued to do and get away with is an absinthe of an uncivilised person(s) actions and for people to be a large within today's modern society and without apprehension of the law must no proceed to allowed and this is to get shown by ways of legal means of must, so to prevent for them taking place again within side of this modern age of the state of United Kingdom's land or any other state of land, what got done was with criminal intentions.

Chapter 6

A simple hope to myself; -

To continue, I hope by way of me planning and then accomplishing my plan I will be able to set an example that shows why this should never happen again, to another person. This plan of mine will get accomplished, so to end up-being with any right-person(s) minded satisfaction's, being granted in my favour. To further my plans, I intend for my next aim's to be as effective as the last, what was "Preventing this from happening again" this additional plan of mine will be in re-gaining my revoked freedom, in a return to all of this report getting completed. The hope is that these goals of mine together that I have set, will help me and others to also re-insure to help stop any other similar events as this ever-taking place again, such as the torturous acts that have and still are taking place against me, by way of the people involved, being made to comply with my rightful right of ambitions and stop breaching my Human rights. This is to get achieved at the earliest opportunity by me and any other informed person, so I can be equal and happy to other people, so I can perform at my optimum levels in being successful, at completing my dreams and establishing my own companies, so to be able to make me live a happy and healthy life style. I want my life to end up being better and having a positive effect while also having a constructive impact for me and others at all times. This ambition is slimier to most other people's dreams and plans and I believe that is to accomplish one of the most important goals set among all other people and that to me is to make sure that before I pass away to heaven, I can confirm that I am always a loving person towards others and myself, while having the most fun as possible. This mandatory plan will also mean to me and others that I provided. Provide for my own family and others; Other is to mean any further introductions of any person(s), that any person's maybe fortune-net to meet and therefore come across in their or my lifetime.

Chapter 7

I always hear people say; why did they do that?

This book got made, with a view of letting me be able to explain my version of events. Like what has taken place in my life as of so far and this will get managed by way of writing and expressing about some struggles and happiness I have had to face along my route of life. When thinking about the subject of the journey of my life, I tend to think things like; oh, how what things have, become somewhat a little Tardiness for me, due to my on-gongs at the present. I have so far been a long way into what I would class as a fight off struggles, that being said towards, my glory of my success in achieving my own dreams. When managing my dreams to become a reality I wanting to create my running company. Taking a look at my first glances of doing so, I started to put my concentration into building my companies straight after realising exactly what I wanted to do. So, with this truth in mind, I also know that I continued to work hard from the start and ever since then I still worked hard up till date of now and this report amounts to that time, I committed hard work in completing my dreams. I know that I believe in my dreams becoming a reality for me and other(s) and therefore I will continue to compete my life's efforts into finalising my dreams and to do this I will just simply keep working harder to further my companies' production, so that in my future I will stay prepared to survive. This will be no matter what happens in that time given and I intend for myself to be successful in my own best abilities at all times. I have not yet to be able to re incorporate my company; however, I am currently working on having it re registered once again. The intentions are, to aim in having the company registered as a limited company, this is to be with charitable status within its articles of the memorandum of association, but so far, this part of a dream of a reality for me alongside the paths of my missions to success have gotten corruptly daunted.

Chapter 8

Life in general at this stage;

When considering my life with the police, to start of I would know that it would be fair statement for me to say that if I said that I had never had caused problems that lead to the boys in blue; that would be a lie and I am not one to commit a lie needlessly to say.

The 1st Anti-Social Behaviour Case!

Before the Anti-Social Behaviour Order case my brief occasions of interaction with the police were quite average for any civilian of the United Kingdom, I was pulled over whether driving or walking in my own home town or in any other person's own town, I found thought growing up that no matter what the circumstances were the police would approach my person first. Being from London I just took most of this behaviour of the police as normal, as an explanation I accepted their pattern of repeatedly approaching me as if to say: - "it is like being punched in the jaw every time by them." Throughout the years I watch many innocent friends become victims of their actions, so I tried my best the same as any other person does to stay out of their way and to me this now and then means that I am simply fed up of paying for police officers and judges mortgages out of my life's expenses when at no fault of my own as most cases tend to be. The police are persistent in wrongful negative claims against my person on first approach and this is of any form of approach, as are the judges when dealing with issues relating to me. I understand that the needed for the judges to get feed so for the police to maintain their statistics and system gets "Abused" and in my name and this does also include the rest of the officials that follow in their footsteps, clamming to always be representing a justified law at first use of the tongue.

Chapter 9

This chapter is about I, referring to another person about back into the past, when I was younger and those person(s) are you: -

At the stage of being a fair bit younger, I got placed in the care system when I was a child and as a continuation to this, I have always tried to help vulnerable people. I believe it is easy to understand why I like to help people and also that my reason is easy for others to agree to, for the main reason being explained now, "People are people" and because of this I find that in life many people find it frustrating and difficult to fend for themselves, with some day-to-day problems that they "people" get faced with in this world. When I meet people like this, I can relate to them and I find it a lot easier in most of these occasions, to interact, when all together aiming for the best out of life, as, most deprived people seem to do. I do not know if this is why, but I have always wanted to give something back to the community. This has meant as a consequence of my good intentions that Too Smooth Entertainment Ltd got established and therefore created. It took me and other(s) time to build my website and I have accumulated a lot of help from many different people along the route. The company has now got parked, due to the on going's at present. The Company is aimed to be trading once again soon that is to mean in the near on future. When building the company, I can always remember playing a game whenever I was driving around London and other, what I did in this game was to write down any company van I could see driving past detail's if I believed they would help me with my dreams. In me playing this game, I used to stop at shops and talk to the owners about different business opportunities. I can remember stopping at my local churches in my living surrounding areas and taking their details also.

Chapter 10

The start of the expected angle to the angle that caused the Announcement to others, of the known or unknown reasons to why; I got intrusively attacked, in an inhuman way by the police council and others and then on put in fear of the safety of my life: - The Anti-Social Behaviour Order that has got put against me is an attempt by members of the police and local Authority to find me guilty of offences I did not commit and their decisions had a negative effect on my health and stopped me from developing my company, this behaviour is not acceptable or reasonable, this has now wrongfully, while slowly, playing, a negative, downwards roll in my life. These problems now at the present since stopped me in my personal life from doing as I had planned into it.

Bringing back the festival; --

As past said, in addition to everything that is going on, I am still in the process of developing my business and this includes a plan, to hold a festival. I had actually planned so to have this event in 2014; however, the stress of different court case proceedings that occurred, have and still do cause me problems with completing this goal, for a fact Member of the metropolis's police constabulary understood what they were doing to me, was illegal so to prevent this event from happening, when they involved together decided to misuse their powers against me and in doing so, they foresee this when entwining the true fact of events to which they accused me of, in truth falsifying the evidence to deceive and pervert the course of justice, thus as they wanted to aid in their own wrong self-gains.

The Police are the ones who are in the wrong: --

What has got done to me by police was wrong and done to help them self's then, "Active Police Officers," in aiding to gain a guilty verdict against my person and scarily them officers are still active police officers after clearance of my evidence of corruption to which they intentionally cause, the officials mentioned about are in still in deployment of duty to date, upset tingly. For an example of their displaced inappropriate behaviour, Members of the Met police force and the local council, colluded together at a meeting, so to be able to dream up and assemble a knocked together, fake version, of events of incidents. This got accomplished so to have a negative effect on my life and then on after to stop my independence. Certain officers and official government members together classified the fabricated colluded official evidence that I now observe and claim together them official's planed and processed this fake information, so to force me, Simon, into a deceitful civil court case and then on after many more different court cases, through t this a sex Scandal got created in the public's view and in my name so to scare me out of my birth right county and this got achieved by officials to stop me showing what they originally done to me. The court case got put against me immoral wrong and also got completed under illegal grounds of the law, the officers involved left their signatures at the bottom of their adduced official pages, what is named as the Anti-Social Behaviour Order. While together those police officers and council workers collaborated with intent to victimize myself. I feel what has happened is so wrong in law for any person to accomplish, and then especially get away without any legal disciplinary action being taken against them self's, that it would be unjustified for me to allow this to happen by concealing the truth from all. My caseloads have led many civil person's and governing authorities to being involved in an undignified, manner, hasty at that towards myself and this is partly what this intends to reveal the truth about.

Knowing what I make happen, is for the best: -

By the same token's, I have used my pen to draft my notes, all by myself, so to create this document with the effort of my mind, body and soul, I watch my fingers work that God has provided me with as I look at them in an amazement while they continue to work by typing on my computer keyboard, as I tell them to do so. In doing this, I hope to use my knowledge and wisdom wisely that I gained thought my life so far, so being able to further manage to oversee that I always work at my optimum levels of work and now this document I have created is a true call for justice in return. This document is a true article of facts to fight back against the wrongdoings of other's actions that got forced towards me. In this document the context contained within it, is so to make sure of the correct endorsements, of my human rights do get re-established, these rights are all of our rights and entitlements as citizens of the United Kingdom state.

Chapter 12

What is right is right and what is wrong is wrong and that's why I work & study hard to be in the right: --

To enforce just a few of the many of our legal rights, I would re-claim at present the Right to equality and an equal justice system, these rights constitute towards a better way of life, for every person alongside many of our other entitled mandatory legal rights. For a fresh start, any person going to read this should from now should first put the kettle on and make a cup of tea or coffee and or relax to any of the few benefits you may enjoy out of your life, as the last five years of my life seem to have amounted to a full-blown book, so if you now ready to start and carry on, please read on.

Dialogue's and more Dialogue's: --

— Well were to start, that is the question at the moment and a fair one I think at that. A lot of people know that I have been off the so called seen for about three years or so now, as dated: —25/06/2013 as the police came to my flat and arrested me and I then went to prison on remand because of this case, for now we will name that the Gazebo case and after a year of this case I got released for around 2 months and have since then been held under police and court conditions, that now as of to date amount to some form of an Asbo against my person and for those that don't know what I mean by of the scene "of the scene: of the scene is a short abbreviation, that does create a shortened definition for; "A person that does not get seen locally, by other person(s) in a towns or its surrounding area's "that is to imply." It is now time for me to explain a short summary leading into the eight years of my life living in Burncroft Avenue, then continue with the next five years (It's been about five years since 25/06/2013 when my problems started as the gazebo case and then run into the ASBO case, the ASBO case started on 12/09/2014 and this is when the police lied and said that they served me the 1st Asbo application / bundle, at my flat. I will continue with this report in short detail for now and continue in finer detail in the official diary section of the report to show all of the true details of relevance of the on goings of my situations at the present.

Chapter 14

The start of living in my flat in the year of 2006: --

I believe that you will also be absolutely, flabbergasted, by overseeing and take a long deep honest look into what I have been producing evidence in support of, by reading what I have noted down: - Initially, in the beginning of living in my home I got a next-door neighbour called Stan Curtis, who lives at the door number of 111 Burncroft Avenue Enfield London En3 7jq. The first time I met Stan to me now to date was a long time ago, that is to mean from the day's date, of the 14/09/18, I would say myself from around the year 2006, what is about 12 years ago now! as one might say "oh how time fly's by when you're having fun," this might just be a better way to explain the distance in the gap of years we have both knew each other before our problems started with one and other and yet again not at my own fault I do say.

My home was not the same anymore once I gotten to know them all: -- when meeting Stan for the first time I remember that it was soon after I just moving into my council flat, our first conversation was polite, and courteous, as a person might like to explain well-mannered thought, in the following years to in-laps we became friends living next doors to each other, in our homes our families became fair friends also showing each other respect. Stan lived with his civil partner as did I: - well when I say that I mean that my civil partner stayed between my flat and her family home in and around the years of 2006 till 2012, the years seemed to go by as fast as a blink of an eye. Thought them years of me and Stain being friends, we both shared some of the same friends, whom also lived and resided in Burncroft Avenue, to name a few, there would be the names of: -

Link!

The information I have provided this far is too just to name a few of the people that made themselves, be involved in my life, in a horrifying way.

Chapter 15

To get updated still

I have got told before, of people saying that everyone who looks into history will find a secret sooner or later, the older nephew / or the son of the Mathiyalagan Markandu's family, is that portrayed dark secret. The guardians achieved this dark secret by saying lies on a numerous, amount, off different occasions to me. They further together knew they were being deceitful in doing so and in turn immorally declared wrongful truths to support their cover up against what they imposed against my person. Together Mr Markandu Mathiyalagan and his wife Revathy Mathiyalagan managed these lies to me by claiming the nephew - son never lived with them, at 117 Burncroft Avenue, as did he, "the nephew / son and there lies were said and then officially documented to help them evade justice." The older Mathiyalagan Markandu's nephew son WHO IS NOW NAMED AS Kanathran Thevasara, himself claimed to me that he lived in another flat supposedly to have got contained in the same block of flats as I live within. When describing some more about where he had explained to me that he lived I would say that the block of flat that we all reside in have two properties on each floor and is a three-story high rise building without any rear exit to which Kanathran Thevasara explained to me that he lives on the third floor. Each two flats sharing contained on the same landing share a small hall way with both properties on the same floor having their front doors face one and other and this prosiest with about an eight-foot gap between them. In the year of 2012 when the Markandu's family moved into Burncroft Avenue, we never really saw each other so to speak and get to no one and other but I suspected that he could see into my life and see my good ambitions and hardworking commitments turning into a reality for me and the people revolved around my life.

Chapter 16

Introducing the first time that I spoke to Mr. Markandu Mathiyalagan: --

For me to explain to any other person the first time that I did met the Mathiyalagan family, so, to speak to each other I would explain on this day I was driving back home and just pulled up in the Housing estates community car park car outside my flat. I remember parking on the roadside bend what is just opposite the first car park in Burncroft Avenue Enfield, when after parking and locking my central locking as I walked back into my home, I noticed a man whom just moved into the flat above, the flat above I refer to is addressed 117 Burncroft Avenue. He was being held by the collar of his own brown leather jacket, this was being done by a person I do not have much contact with but do not I accept this person to be a long time next door neighbour, on taking a more conclusive approach to the ongoing I found myself presented within, the next-door neighbour wanted to punch the new neighbour Mathiyalagan in the face for some reason not known to me. I knew this to be no business of my own, but due to it being an issue on the estate, to where I live, I got involved in a civilized manner and neutralize the problem, I clearly remember not asking the both of them what their issue (s) was about and explained that the young gentlemen could not hit Mathiyalagan Markandu in the face, the reason I gave was as he and his family were new residents moved into the same block that I live in and he is also an adult to us both, in short we must respect our adults, the young gentlemen followed my advice and then release him by the scruff of his collar, every person then after continued along in their day and to my understanding with no other further problems, I never did speak to Mathiyalagan Markandu until months later but if I was to make an assumption I would say that if we did come across each other in the block we would have spoken to each other just a little and also say hello to each other. The information I have provided this far is too just to name a few of the people that made themselves, be involved in my life, in a horrifying way.

Chapter 17

There is always a start: -

As a further true result towards the facts of events that have taken place in my life, I can state with honesty that I can remember the occurrences within the mentioned incidents within this report very well. While living next doors to Stan, I kept my life “quiet” as I prefer a private life and at around the same time of living in my new home I would always hear the sound of laughter drifting up and down and around my housing estate, this was in the first few years of moving in, the mentioned sound of laughter was always coming from outside in the street “the Sound of Safe Children Playing” making me welcome in this new home town.

Chapter 18

In the events of my past occurrences while living on my estate: --

I can remember making my first ever mistake, while living on my housing estate, what acutely happened on this occasion did take place on a hot sunny day, that then took place in the middle of summer, I was driving back home when I made an error and clipped another car wing mirror, this was unfortunate to happen, I think that I did put a note with my details on their window and that is how we latter chatted about it. The car that got involved, had got parked down my home town street, I soon later found out the owner of this car was to be a Miss Christine, who is a close friend to Stan Curtis.

Chapter 19

Once I moved into my home in the year of 2006: --

I noticed the sound proofing issues with the premises, pretty fast as they are too impulsive and in turn cause an intrusion of my private and family life! this is as they are inadequate to fair living standards and are in fact so bad that each housing resident can hear each other's conversation, I know that the council rented homes are not up to the correct ISO standards, this has now also got agreed by the council housing estate manager in writing Sarah Fletcher! That past summer now, somehow, back then, seemed to be one of the happier moments in my life. I and my first civil partner found our self's sleeping every night when she stayed at my flat: -- in the front room. My next-door neighbour Ozzie had a good friend of ours both who used to live with him and this friend got gained thought the first years of meeting them both together, this friend stayed in the bedroom, what is next doors to my bedroom and was the reason for me and my partner sleeping in the front room. We sleep in the front room as it was a lot easier to sleep with just Ozzie beside us, as for the noise his made in the front room towards us was a lot less disturbing! Me and my partner decided to close the door to our own bedroom, until the noise issues could get resolved! No matter what room we went into we could not get no peace of mind due to the bad sound instillation within the flats! After many different conversations with my civil partner to how this was having an effect on our way of life, we approached Ozzie as he was then our close friend, we used to relax on occasions and have a general chat, so, knowing this made me believe that I could talk to him and he would understand mine and my partners concerns and treat them with resect! And as for a matter of fact and subsequently, at the first consultation with Ozzie, it did get agreed by him that his flat mate our friend, would move out and into his own place of residence, but this did not happen in all of our conversations over the years to come. In all honesty, it took the time of over five and a half years' and notably, once I and my first civil partner broke up after making several numerous of additional requests, with no luck in Ozzie respecting our requests and this happened at mine and my partners down full, after we spoke many times I believe Ozzie started to really understand how this was having an effect on our life's but he still did not respect our wishes in a fair and timely manner and this neglect came at our, costs out of life. Not only (this) but there was also a different man, whom this man I did not get to know the name of and this man lived above my flat and his door number used to be 113 Burncroft Avenue. He lived in his flat for some time before I first moved in to my home, to tell the truth and to my understanding; I can remember him saying or someone else saying that he had lived above me for about five years beforehand in total. In this short amount of time we both never came across each other's paths of life, this is to mean throughout this period of time that we both lived above and below one and other, I also believe he himself or maybe Stan told me that he had been in the army and was badly injured beforehand of us knowing one and other, I got told this is the reason to why when I or my guest went into our own personal back garden he would start to shout out of his window, I could understand this and that's is why I never really used my garden in that period of time unless I needed to, after the gentlemen moved out of his home 113, instead soon after came the arrival of Debra Andrews: Debra Andrews has now since in the writing of this report, became my ex upstairs neighbour, as she has now moved into another home and since Debra has moved out of the flat, speedily, another person moved into the flat of -113, who is named: George Quinton, and as a continuation after One year and twelve days later, so, a little while after, George Quinton moved out of the address of – 113, as dated the

and now since a new tenant of the Enfield Council and the Enfield Homes has taken position of the premises and moved into the premises to live up and till date of the 16/12/2017

During living in my home for the first few years, I saved and decorate my family home and this was while my Nan was still alive.

Having my back garden: -

I live on the first floor, so, I have the privilege of having my own back garden, when arriving to live in the flat the back garden I am in position of still needed work done to it, so for it to be developed into a good condition. In planning to redevelop the garden I decided to buy a log summer house and I then started to save the money needed so to purchase the one I had found and desired. While saving the amount of money that I needed to raise, I prepared the foundation in the back of my garden so for it to be ready At the time I had an understanding of what I required and to my own recollection; I was under skilled in knowledge at the time, so to be able to complete the job in hand, but being me, I started to dig the hole I thought that would be adequate, my Nan found out my intentions and offered to help me raise the capital I requested, so I accepted her help. When waiting to place my order for my new log cabin I got reading the newspaper, when I noticed an advertisement of another person trying to sell a sound system. The advertisement said: — the right person at the Hallam will make the right sound and the people will come. With reading this article placed in the newspaper, everything changed and instead of purchasing a summer house I then bought this sound system, after talking to my Nan that is, as she had put money in and I did not just want to buy it and not talk to her. In reading the advertisement I then realised the price was expensive; I remember still not getting deterred away from this bargain; the equipment got priced at around the ten thousand pound's mark and to my utmost surprise this turned out to be just for the speaker box's and their needed drivers. I thought this price was expensive as explained at the time but quite soon after understand they were worth their money in gold. The reason this is a fact was because of the experiences I had with them and the people they also made extremely happy. The reason's; that I chose this new profession supply music equipment, which is in the entertainment industry, was because of four reasons: -

- 1. I love music and seeing when it makes people relate to it and they come together.
- 2. I wanted to make sure I would maintain being an honest man who does manage to provide for his family without the police presence to which always gets induced towards people.
- 3. Because I had prior brought a catering trailer, which leered me to working in music events, so I approached my local council in Enfield, so in order of creating a large-scale community event and got dismissed away by their representatives. I found this happened with most of the government run services until I met some of my friends and the friends, I met were attending a privately-run house party. The people I met at this event are very similar to myself, the reason for this is that every single one of them, has got let down by the so-called government system what is there to protect us in one form or manner of way.

4. I understood creating an entertainment hire company would be legal, so I accept I own entertainment equipment, for that reason and I have acquired this equipment for my company. The company I am building and the aim is to rent the equipment out to people. This aim is to try to hire the equipment out to conferences, school fates, local community events, private birthday parties until most recently when the issues I raise halted me in my goals.

My Website: -

Around this time, I was building my website with a friend called Josh and he had been teaching me how to use Photoshop so that we could together build a digital catalogue to hire out our services to the public within the entertainment industry and while this continued to happen, Jet; gave me the business directory as a complied piece of CC plus code, to build upon. I decided to use it as a charity and asked for his and others services to help me in completing my vision, so the dream became a reality for me and people to use. Because of the talent I saw in Josh I decided it would help us both with our dreams in I build a printer because this would help me keep advertisement costs down and general repairs such as vinyl wrapping my catering trailer again.

Kind Regards,

Gaheris Edwards.

Si Note:

Because the Metropolitan police force keep pulling me over on and around my door step in London, mostly while I am driving, I keep on getting a lot of police Road Traffic producers under the road and traffic act 2003.

The reason for this was because my insurance policy was not showing up on the Mid data base.

This police involvement in my life led me to having to make contact with my insurance firm for proof of my insurance so, the email above is proof of evidence of myself obtaining a copy of my Insurance policy.

This policy got sent out to myself after emails were sent in a request for my personal documentation. I received a copy of my Insurance policy the following day.

In regards to this matter, I will soon continue to explain more about the circumstances in a bit more detail than I already have through this document.

Issues with My Housing Management Team!

A bit of history about my living circumstances. In when I first moved into my flat it never seemed to be in a bad state of a living condition due to it being decorated by the Enfield Council ready for me to move into. What did happen is that after the first few months of living withinside of the flat, I started to notice the walls and ceilings had started to get covered in mould and my personal property had also started to get badly damaged by living quarters bad disrepair conditions. I decided that I had had enough of suffering due to no fault of my own and started to take picture evidence of my sufferings. I also started to document what took place while I declared to the relevant companies; "Bodies" that my flat had really bad damp growing inside of it.

My local council whom are also my landlord got approached about the disrepair circumstances by the date of;

December 2006

From the date of my first contact with the Enfield Council's' repairs teams in December 2006

it then after took multiple calls and emails of myself and others to the Enfield Complaints departments reasonable persons, whom after

2006

sent many different visiting surveyors to get the emergency graded problems fixed, but to my dissatisfaction and lack of safety the problems never got fixed in a fair time scale and the damp continued to happen to my home, me and my property and without any fault of my own. Somehow the emergency raised issues took the Enfield Council and the Enfield Homes a couple of years to get mostly rectified and after an upsetting while disappointing semi completion date of the year of the walls in my bedroom and front room got repaired and this meant that the walls got taken back to brick and re-repasted. In the time frame while the announced agriculture work took place to rectify the damp issues within my rented home by the Enfield Council and their subcontracted staff the damp caused me the loss of the enjoyment of my flat and also caused damage to most of my personal property. This occurred at no fault of my own,

2008

2008

“I still continue to stress while explaining even now what happened to me.”

I suffered with bad health that got caused by other people’s negligence and the reason partly being for this bad health was because of the time frame the damp was left to grow untreated by professionals and I also continued to suffer because my flat became a work site.

Due to the site works taking place in my home I had to have an industrial machine called a humidifier, placed into my bedroom and this was to remove the water that had built up in the internal and external walls of the building.

In

what was a year prior to me signing into a mutual contract with my landlords?

in turn, I in person believing to be able to rent my flat to live inside of, Safely and Happily.

Before and while the contractors started and continued the needed important disrepair works;

This meant that the only time I got allowed into my bedroom was to empty a bucket of water that the humidifier “machine” collected, I can remember that in the beginning of the machine getting placed inside of my bedroom that the water bucket for the humidifier used to fill up many times a day, on an average of three times a day and I also noticed that as the months continued to pass by the amount of unneeded stored water became less and less, I do reminisce on this time as I had to manage to maintain the machine myself and found this hard to achieve, aloe I did without any major incidents, this meant that I had to always be present at certain times of the day to complete this job and this was right up until the council and the Enfield homes reasonable persons were able to finally start their works.

From the start of the initial disrepair problem the cause for the damp got documented by the Enfield council's’ staff to have occurred because of bad ventilation within the estate’s premises, this information got noted in the year of

and as a resolution to the problem an air ventilation system got agreed to get installed and so, adapted to the premises.

The works involved in the installation of this air system meant that I had to have some large circular holes cut into my windows of my home and this included my kitchen window that leads to my back garden and that of the same to my bathroom window that leads into the main street, the hardware needed for the ventilation system got delayed by the Enfield Council's contractors, so that the ventilation system never got completely installed for a much longer time frame than anticipated, in fact it took three years later in the year of

for the job to get completed. For me this became a very disappointing situation and without any roundabout motion of change in a fair and speedy time.

My home got left in-an-insecure way, in-between this time frame, because of the large circular holes that got left in the windows, In short I got left with holes in my windows due to the Enfield Councils and the Enfield Homes staff's teams, lack of organisation within their own protocol's.

Even though the flat stayed in an unliveable state of condition through the years of

Till

2008 and then on up to the year of semi completion in 2010

I still got made to live in my flat in the horrendous conditions it suffered with and when a long time after, some of the disrepair issues did get fixed such as the walls, ceilings inside of my flat, the flat then continued to suffer from more knock on effect issues, as an example, due to the past damp within the first repairs, the floorboards went rotten causing sinking floors and this added towards making the flat even more unliveable than any person should have to accept, due to the dangerous risks involved. In a short definition of a layman term, I had no flooring laid down in my bedroom, as you walked into the bedroom itself and this disrepair issue started in the year of 2008

because my foot-sunk, through the wooden floorboard. What happened to me to cause this further problem, was my heating boiler had started to give me lots of issues from the start of moving into the premises, in the year of 2006

After I reported the problem, the council sent a representative, who replaced the main mother board component inside of the heating system, to make it work once again, by the year of 2008

when reported; -- the board did need to get changed more than just once.

In the end months of

the damp floorboards in my bedroom got lifted up, after I reported the issue of my foot sinking through the floor to the council repair team. Like a circular motion I suffered with the floorboards in the bathroom getting lifted up as well at the same time and afterwards not laid back down correctly in a timely and safe manner, in a summery I got told I could not get allowed back into my bedroom other than to empty the humidifier and confusingly that the bathroom was OK to enter into even with the floorboards in both rooms then on being in the same state of bad condition, as they had not gotten replaced in both rooms, the reason that the floorboards could not get re-laid in my bedroom and bathroom was because the bedroom radiator pipe also leads into the other radiator in the bathroom and this is because they both share a u bend under the floorboards into each other, as both of the radiators are on the opposite sides of the same wall, from one and other! What did happen, is that the metal pipe had fractured, under the floorboards, causing each room to flood and not noticeably to any person, so, this disrepair issue had concealed itself, since I moved into my home, "until we detected the problem." This error caused me to lose water pressure in my boiler system, so this leaking water added to the damp issues and accounted for the past boiler motherboard problems. When after noticed by the Enfield Councils and the Enfield Homes-Teams staff, they ordered that another surveyor come out to my work site of a home of an address, to oversee the problem. Days later a newly arrived member of staff agreed for a new heating system to get installed thought my flat and ordered for the old heating system to get completely decommissioned, so for the flat to be ready for the new installation, with an addition of a temporary piece of wooding for the floor to get laid, but this flooring did not get laid down and I continued to get left with no floor boards in the bathroom and bedroom inclusive of no working heating apparatus, as did get intended to get fixed and fitted and even more to the facts: --I got left with holes in my kitchen window and bathroom window, not to forget the water collection machine placed into my bedroom, still being present after the walls getting fixed. No reasonable persons attended again for months after until the year of once me and my mother had placed many more complaints into the complaints departments, when after our follow up complaints, a person attended and just laid down some temporary flooring, while still leaving the holes in the windows making my home insecure, no heating system in place and then after still living the humidifier in the bedroom. This lack of organisation on the Councils behalf and their subcontractors caused me to suffer. As just prior explained after many more complaints got made, the floors did finally get replaced in the year of

2009

The following years slowly went by

2012: --

My life got made to be a living hell because of the mentioned disrepair issues still presiding to get left abandoned by the Enfield Council and the Enfield Homes Teams.

On the

02/03/2015

my mother and I were sick of making calls to the council regarding my heating, air ventilation system and nothing getting done to fix the issues, so, my mother emailed a complaint to the council, regarding the multiple amount of issues and repairs not getting corrected. Once the council had received this email the air ventilation systems hardware did finally get installed, but still nothing regarding my heating.

In

my mother got a call from a lady from the council regarding the heating, saying, who surprisingly explained to her that I had prior removed all my metal pipe-work for the heating system to function. My mother got upset at hearing what the lady said to her on the phone, and as a consequence she explained to the lady that she wanted for her to arrange for another manager and surveyor to come to my home flat and my mother stressed that this must happen within the next few days from then on, so for the Enfield Homes and the Enfield staffs teams to be able to re-analyse the situation then in hand by the complaint departments "reasonable persons,” and my mother continued her conversation by expressing; if she had to she would lift the rest of the flooring up in my flat to prove the metal-pipe-work was all still in existence and in its correct place. In that moment of my mother’s conversation with the Enfield employee, the lady explained while she was still on the phone that there is no need for what my mother had told her to happen and that the council will replace the heating system. To finalise the problems: -- they just did not stop for me there and as a continuation the Enfield Council employees then sent another surveyor out to my flat to oversee and then order to replace the heating system but surveyors or council employees had previously already told the sub-contractors that I had removed all the pipe work, to the point that no one wanted to come out and do the work.

Then on the 19th of June 2015

and the 31st of July 2015

the initial main emergency problems got finally addressed and a new heating system got reinstated so for the disrepair problems to be rectified to a degree, but the damp as I still to date complain about continued to grow and come back, yet again, to abbreviate on the circumstances in hand up and till date of renting my home, the damp still formulates to occur. When the sub-contractor did arrive on the

he was very shocked to see all the pipe-work still in place, when he did arrive to my home and also said that he is glad that he met me and saw the truth himself. In the time of me making my official complaints: -- the Enfield Council came to their rented address and then the council employees explained to me, that they could also see the bad extent of the living conditions through the years that me and my home are imposed to stay in. The Enfield Homes and the Enfield Council agreed that they will upkeep the repairs in the flat to the correct living standards, without any work commencing, as arranged by them. As an added add on and at no fault of my own and for an unfair amount of time, my flat stayed so, cold if it were not for me needing my home to live in, it would have equalled to the same conditions, as being outside in the open cold air! In the winter things got a lot worse, I needed more than just your normal extra protection off winter covers, for me to be able to try my best to keep warm. I did buy myself an electric heater but the cost of running this was very high and also at my own expense. As mentioned I had a different surveyor after surveyor come out to my home address to help me manage the issues in my rented home, without any fair follow-ups and each time every different person in attendance, would say that the work must get completed in a short time frame and yet it never got completed, meaning that a large list of mutable emergency repairs that must get met in any circumstances to the correct ISO standard of fair living standards, did get neglected for years and has not gotten rectified to a good standard right up and till now and this is unfair and at my loss of living.

Summary

Sound Proofing Issues;

Since I moved into the flats at Burncroft Avenue, I have noticed that there are very bad sound proofing issues within these blocks of flats. You can hear everything in the flats, that other people in different properties are talking about, doors closing etc. this causes many horrific issues, to the extent that I have had to move into my front room to sleep, I did call the council due to this and they said nothing could get done!

The flat I rent also suffers with Damp;

From the start of my tenancy agreement, poisons mould-damp has caused me many unneeded issues in my life this includes the damage of my personal property and also that of my own bad Health, which the council did not correct for years, due to their own negligence and then after them repairs finally taking place the damp once again started to reoccur, “and posits to establish itself in my rented property, up and till date, due to bad maintenance of the buildings infrastructure, who the burden of disrepair issues lies solely with my Landlord's the Enfield Council and the Enfield Homes.”

The flat I rent also suffers with a Broken Central Heating System;

As a third issues of emergency graded issue, my central heating system in my Flat ceased to work and at no fault of my own, this incident caused me pandemonium within my daily routines of life, substituting an organised schedule into Havok, in reflecting on the problem of me living without any working heating system, I can remember this being for a far longer time frame than any person must induce as humanly inhabitable, living circumstances. I can also pertain that I did suffer thought, due to the Enfield Council's negligence, the Enfield Council maintained to be irresponsible thought all of the repair and complaint procedures of utmost importance. Their staff's behaviour was that of none reasonable persons and showed true negligence towards me their client, evolving the disrepair problem such as the broken heating system not to get fixed for years after the initialise complaint of myself. The already listed disrepair issues caused me the Loss of my Front Room, as there was! / No working Heating system! / Damp / Damp re-growing on the rear and other wall's, soon after the repairs took place. Once again soon after the repairs taking place and then on after! / water started to run down the main front room wall! The damp and central heating issue caused me the Loss of my Bedroom! / No working heating system! / damp reoccurring on the rear wall and around the windows even low they are ventilated!

- The Loss of my kitchen! / No working heating system!
- The Loss of Hallway! / No working heating system!
- The Loss of my Bathroom! / No working heating system!

Thursday French Tek to be updated

Me and some of my friends who worked out to be a large amount of my work colleges had planned to go away for a weekend trip to France. With our destination being a well-known event called French Tek.

Our group altogether had worked hard in the past weeks before hand. What we had achieved was to have my personal catering trailer and an Audio sound system ready to travel to our destination with us.

We were not the only sound system attending the event from London and this meant that we got to travel alongside a large convey of other attending groups.

All together and all for all, friends and friends like one big family living out of the back of our vans, cars and tenants, having some of the best time in our life's.

The pre made plan was simple, Drive safely out of London to Dover port and then to France for French Tek. All of us set for a weekend of fun, madness and raving.

or maybe for some of the group a few more days extra than just the weekend.

I found myself taking part in a local Street party: —

In the day, month and year of

03rd of June 2012

I started to hire out my entertainment equipment and was still attending the Local civic centre regarding creating my own dreams and making them a reality for everyone. “Building a Festival”

Just before the

03rd of June 2012

I got approached by another resident off Burncroft Avenue, “My Housing Estate” in aid of supporting my estate in a local street party.

Getting invited made me happy, because this meant I was a step closer to completing my dream by supporting fellow members of neighbour’s in building a community event.

I got a job of supplying entertainment equipment and I done this at a no chargeable rate.

To me, and I believe others, the event was a success and to my own recollection the day went ahead with the tents and their friends very well. There were no other issues of concern between any of the other Burncroft Avenue residents, so everyone simply had a good time together.

2012 Street Party

& I Broke Up with D!

I can remember that just before the street party had taken place that I had been having problems in my relationship with my living partner and this had caused us to take a break apart from each other for a planned little while.

Sadly, for myself and everyone else involved this meant that I attended the street party on my own.

Debra!

Debbie Came to my flat asking to borrow money in the sum of £10, when intoxicated with drink and her vocabulary was that off slurred speech, she stayed reasonably polite and the money got granted to her that she asked for.

I treat the council officials with respect in the believe that they must act in a natural manner when dealing with incident relating to their clients, but they act Inferior with bios decisions against me, resulting to and in no logic or fair gain and at the conclusion of incidents, once put in receipt of true official evidence, nothing constructive changes and this negative occurrence is at my loss of life without any wrong doings from myself!

At this time in my life I was working hard a building my own company that would support me and my family for the following years to come. I named this company Too Smooth.

It started off with my self-going to Spain on a holiday a holiday at a much younger age, I would say around the age of twenty-two.

Disrepair: --

I continue to stay negatively overwhelmed by the circumstances that I get made to live in by the Enfield Council and the Enfield Homes complaints department's and this continues to carry on year after year, even once the Enfield Council and the Enfield Homes have gotten notified about my emergency disrepair issues of concern. Their employed staff left me with disrepair issues far longer than should be and this caused me a negative knock-on effect within my life and I now have no other option other than to continue to suffer because of the staff's neglect towards my life because of the lack of their jobs right concern(s)!

Si Note:

While living at my flat I started to have a few problems such as

And this meant that I had to contact my local council for support in regards to the matter.

Once I had done so I got told that the best thing that I could do was to keep a diary in regards to the issues and this is what I did. Up above is a copy of the diary that I got sent to complete and fill out.

As the days went by, I started to notice that I did not have enough room to keep writing in the form that I received and the main reason being that the tables were set going downwards, meaning that I could only write a very small amount of text in each divided division.

I understood that I had more to explain than what the incident diary could manage and this is how I came about building this diary.

The Enfield Homes and the Enfield Council have gotten lots of different chances of a chance for a good early resolution(s) so to be able to fix the disrepair issues contained within my flat. The start of the problems for me in accordance with Debbie Andrews: — while I was living in Burncroft Avenue I started to find myself having problems with Debbie Andrews.

Debra Andrews is a mixed-race lady who moved into the Housing Estate above my flat, in flat 113.

When Debbie Andrews first moved into her flat, I tended to get along with her well, I would say very well as neighbours and I done the best I could so to be able to look after her. I and others maintained a simple goal of good Friendship, the same as I suspected any other person would or should manage, while respecting their neighbour (s) or any other person (s).

Debra:

The start of the problems for me in accordance with Debbie Andrews: —

Debra had started to come to my front door a lot more. Debbie Came to my flat asking to borrow money in the sum of £20, when intoxicated with drink and her vocabulary was that off slurred speech, she stayed reasonably polite: the money got granted to her that she asked for. At the Time: 12:04pm

- Fest:
The Start of the Trailer Case!
- Time Spent Building;
My Company: --

This wonderful festival. I do say; -- Life is funny, isn't it?

On the positive side of my life, while at this wonderful festival, we was having the time of our lives and this is to mean me and my partner, regardless of these problems I kept having with the members of police or my neighbours, while running around, doing you know what if you are lucky enough to have already to have been to a festival, all I can remember is it was a simply amazing time. A long and in our joyfully journey within the festival fields, I met lots of different people, though I would not know, later in that day would have an effect on me, at the present time in my life. Part of my life, ended up revolving specifically around one new person in particular, this was after I left the festival and this person got introduced to me and my partner, while we attended to this Weekender out. The facts are that while I and my partner went out to the festival together; I came across a man. This man explained to me that he owned a trailer that he put up for sale. When this got explained to me, I felt like; mostly, what he had said to me was magic, and I realized there and then that I was to own this trailer and this moment had supposed to happen. I understood that this trailer would help me within my future dreams. It was simply, “this was supposed to be,” it was not pure luck that this man and I had met each other, remarkably, straight after, I remember the sound of his voice, once I and my partner had left his presence, the Consequence of our conversation from being all together, was that his voice was still ringing to me, like an alarm bell would, when getting activated, that a person would hear about a building or on a car, ringing out aloud, I could hear this still like from the first second, that his words had left his mouth. This voice went on in my head for ages, all I would hear is his voice, saying that he would not mind, selling me his trailer. His voice repeated and repeated, over and over again, it continued to repeat an over and over again to me, this was going on, all in the back of my Conches. In view of what I wanted to happen, I had made sure that I had taken his details there and then, when I had met him at first and confirmed his details to be real and this was while I was with him; this got achieved for Clarification purposes. What is more to the understanding, is that I knew that I had to; for the Purpose of keeping my dreams a reality, plan quick, so to invest in this trailer, “as soon as possible,” in order for me to be able to own the trailer before another person would. So, as soon as I had arrived back home, I arranged the money that I needed and soon after found myself alone and then driving back to where I had just come from, this being more or less needlessly to say, that is to explain. I can remember that arrangements got overseen, without delay, so that I could see this man again and got sorted out quickly, by myself, so that I could get my newish trailer of him, to say the truth; in doing so, things got rather terrible for me along my route, in the middle of my travels. I thought I would not complete the mission that I had set for myself successfully, and this was pretty soon after I had left my own area, I was thinking; that I still had not even managed to finish and arrive yet to my destination and the vans' gearbox had started to fail for me along the motorway, to which I was driving down at the time and as a result, when listening to the noise that I noticed was wrong at first I realised that I was in trouble, with the gearbox transmission what I did was start to see if I could solve the vans issues, as an explanation, I tried to see and hear if I could notice what the main problem with the transmission was. Hence, I noticed that it would not be easy for me to fix, while still driving the van and without pulling it over first, once after me trying to listen and feel for the problem and not solving it, I realised that my extra good luck was running at an all-time absinthe, right then for me, so, I continued to travel in the van at the pace of a slow snail, so to get to the next nearest service station. I caught a bit of added luck back, while travelling down the motorway in the van with the gear still making a bad clunking noise, I soon after the problem had occurred arrived to a service station. Later on, when there I inspected for the problem details a bit further to no evade of the problem from what me and the van was having, in trying to resolve the issue I could not find nothing that was obviously wrong with the van, for what reason this had happened to me, I just simply could not work out. For me, this occurrence is any driver's worst nightmares, especially, when in a faraway destination from your home. To summarize up, diagnosing the problem with the van, I would say the following: in this instance, this could otherwise get classed as an unfixable problem that got caused from an internal mechanism that could not get fixed at the roadside “failing”, what has in turn broken on you. The only option really, is to get the vehicle additionally, recovered, luckily, for me, is that I am always having to be a reliable person for any of my client's event's, this always means that I have to have an AA recovery policy in place, however, a standard policy does not get the additional trailer recovery scheme clause in the AA's basic policy, added at the basic price but still with me being under those circumstances, I understood that the policy I had ordered did get chosen to always include the trailer additional recovery option, which the AA recovery provides for trailer recovery. On the balance of things, I have always paid for this fee just in case of any situations of instances just like this one that I had found myself presented within the reason for me being prepared is that I already owned my own trailers prior to picking this new one to me up. In my final analysis, I make the phone call that I needed to get accomplished, so to be able to continue with my day this phone call got made to the AA's call centre and got done while I was still at the service station. In brief, in planning to doing so, I had decided that I still could not fix the gearbox issue and the time was ticking on so I decided to go for it in the van and pre arrange for thee AA recovery to meet me a the newish trailer that I planned to purchase, go for it to me, meant just jump in the van and be careful, as I had made it thus so far safely anyway. In my understanding that I was to attempt to continue on my journey in the then not yet fully broken-down van, I grabbed all of what I had; extra, needed from the service station first, before leaving and heading on my way. I soon afterwards continued back on the motorway going forward to my final driving destination as I had prior planned to do. Instead of calling the AA to where I was at the time, I had left the service station to end up back driving on the motor in a safe manner. While on the negative side of everything that had gone wrong for me, I still got worried about the possibility of breaking down on a motorway, so I continued to travel at mine and my vans slow and painful pace, of a snail. Before I knew it, I had continued driving for as some would claim to say to be, what seemed like a lifetime?

But in reality, this time was just a little longer than ever anticipated, significantly, to me. When after sometime later I realized that I had done it, I had finally made it to the trailer that I needed and wanted to own. Just to clarify, in me completing to get to the trailer with the van, I knew that I could make it back to my home, safely, and in doing so, complete my goals, that I had set for myself and likewise this would include, with my newly, purchased trailer. AA recovery being prearranged was pure genius to me and with all of this information processed by myself and then freshly, analysed in my mind, I fully, understood at that precise moment in time, that there would not be any more problems with my plans, "I got the trailer."

Life could make you cry, yet again, I am telling the truth the police kept pulling me over: --
In this point of my life; I managed to still stay happy and in my thoughts; I was as innocent as a true; "Jubilant British Child." From me describing my first arrival at Burncroft Avenue, I would say Life to me was pretty average to myself and others, in this time period the police had been pulling me over where-ever on a regular basis, but what was going on seemed to still be manageable. When I got home, I reminisced on the bad incident, what did take place while I went out. I can visualize and now document down what happened to me: I got stopped by the police on the

I was yet again harassed. My vehicle showed up in error on the police Database stating I did not have any insurance to drive, but I really did have the correct insurance policy in place at the time. Police later created a case out of the on goings of the incident and took the case to court, this got said to get done by government officials via a summons, what I did not receive. In applying to have the case reopened, I did get justice and as a further, consequence to this meant I won the case and this became apparent a few months after the problem aroused, but even so, this was not until I noticed this case existed; In the final stages of this case I did finally managed to sort the issues out in the police's ongoing case, against me, by showing my insurance policy to the judge at the courthouse, so in this instance, towards my person I was adjacent to, a fine and points that did take place against my person, in turn causing me to suffer and this incident caused me wrongful punishments of expense, out of my life, to partly explain some of my expenses this incident got placed as an offence onto my driving licence, in an effect; causing a driving ban to persist. I latter did have the conviction removed, and the inducements redacted from my driving licence but this case also caused me other additional wrongful losses out of my life.

The Enfield Council and the Enfield Home teams keep on putting a tremendous amount of unneeded stress onto and therefore into my life and this is then after and while causing me bad health. Disrepair problems are causing my well-being to decline and at no fault of my own and due to these issues that I keep on having to raise; “by ask for them to get addressed in a fair and practical while reasonable time and manner “do not get addressed correctly and this adds on to my upset these disrepair problems continue to arise without any halt, of the raised disrepair issues carrying on from accumulating, I am upset that I find no trustworthy service provided by my landlords to rectify my concerns by use of their employed members of their staff!

Worthwhile is a must towards the way I must get left to feel after sending the correct fair responses for issues to be repaired to the Enfield Councils and the Enfield Homes complaints departments in collaboration with their policies, but as a client I am not made by the staff to continue on having a worthwhile positive feeling and find myself getting let down by them on stead on stead of my disrepair problems getting fixed.

I simply would just like my heating system fixed and the other raised mentioned disrepair issues within my home to also get fixed but still with no evade of my happiness getting established in these disrepair issues turning into a non!

Helpful and a timely service is what I expect off the Enfield Council and the Enfield homes teams, as do the rest of the majority of their clients) when requesting for health to get taken into consideration, time is always of the essence. The Enfield Council and the Enfield Homes staff's teams must equal towards an outcome of a constructive impact in resolving the problems they get faced with within their daily jobs routines but in mine and many other(s) / clients of the named companies this does not tend to be apparently so, on many different occasions people as I have noted from the internet also do not get a fair response. I can only imagine the amount of official complaints following negligence and misconduct procedures against themselves stored in the Enfield Councils and the Enfield Homes file cabinets lying dormant that are of unsatisfied client(s) and even so, I understand that many these and other people in the future will continue to get let down by their staff and therefore their service. "As if in to say no lessons have been learnt from the past wrongdoing or errors." Words down the phone in a letter or in context creating a policy do not completely solve these issues alone" Hence, the saying; Actions speak louder than words.

I understand that the level to which any human-being should accept getting disregarded by any state officials should be of a nonexistence. The recklessness behaviour created from my disrepair concerns not getting addressed does in fact equalling towards what a human-being should accept, it is of bad behaviour from staff professional's. My raised disrepair issues should not end up not get treated as applaudable behaviour of themselves, as for a fact the Enfield Council's and the Enfield Homes staff team member's showed me disrespect and therefore these incidents I claim about must get treated as a case of disciplinary action against themselves that does get "treated by the company officials in body correctly and not get forced to get dealt with outer body.

I found myself working most days one way or another by spending my time and education on building my company I tended to pull most of my friends and family into helping me as well so that I could keep the cost down as a new starting company and these emails are above just some of the evidence I have to found my claims as true.

These Emails are proof of myself working on my company that got damaged by the police and the Enfield Council, in the years of late 2013 and onwards the company suffered the most damage.

Disrepair: --

I am unsure of why these problems have gotten left by the Enfield Council and the Enfield homes teams to emulate and request a full detailed response to why I get made to suffer, in regards towards the Broken Heating system and damp issues thought my home and also ask why they have gotten left for such a long duration of time?

Receiving more similar attention from the police: —

The date was the 13/08/2012

and I cannot remember what the weather was exactly like, but by this time, I had gotten a bit more than fed up of the attention I was receiving from the police as they started to take a deep destructive negative on the people around me and my life. On this day, pretty much straight away after talking to the police outside of my mother's front door; I found myself being transported by the police, to Hertfordshire police station, it never did get explained to me at first why this was happening to me but once it finally did, I got shocked when the police officer said that it was something to do with a so called robbery in the year of

and this meant some seven years prior. I knew that I was innocent but this fact still never changed that I got taken to a police station. When told I found out that this was for the accused crime of; "some sort of shop robbery," to which I never committed, at the end of the two days that I did get detained, I got granted bail for this case and re arrested straight away for another allegation. Three days, I never got released to freedom due to another wrongly added allegation even allow I got bailed for the first arrested case Creating the basis of the official's other case against me, this other case got alleged to off happened in Birmingham, but I never went to Birmingham on the date in question. This meant that I really did not understand why I was yet again being held and left still confused to why the Birmingham police wanted to speak to me. In short, I got kept in one of the Hertfordshire police stations and then taken to a Birmingham West police station. I spent all day in police stations for two different reasons by the end of my detention accounting for three days of my life and this caused me a load of unneeded negative stress, for me and family while others, these accused crimes and offense I surely did not commit! Honesty, stayed on my side, and the solicitor travelled a long distance to represent me in Birmingham also, "with her trust in my good faith as I had explained to her," she managed the Hertfordshire case files and then after drove to Birmingham police station to deal with the next allegations / caseload put against me, so as an explanation: A little while later and without delay we both arrived to the next police station. I can remember that these travel arrangements were uncomfortably unfortunate for me, as a matter of concern I got placed in a G3 van from my own local home police station. What is a G3 Van?

A G3 van to me is a people transporter and gets otherwise known as a police sweatbox! Once getting of the motorways and then on out of the G3 van I found my person to have arrived at the day's final destination;" Birmingham's great Old Nick" Soon after getting booked in by a custody sergeant. I wanted to find out why this actually happened to me. When talking to my solicitor about, what the police explained to her in regard to what they knew about the case, she never got told why I was being held, as the information got refused to her by the custody officer in charge of the case, but despite this I was to find out why soon after; be as it may, this happened while sitting at the police stations interview table, the reason said to me, "For Theft of a Motor Vehicle," I was in absolute amusement, me, Theft of a motor vehicle, at my age and with my ambitions set in life, I was yet again insulted, but happily alive and also happy in knowing I never done anything else wrong. The Court Case was then latter "NFA" in a short summary; No further Action got taken in the end.

I get made to feel infuriated by the Enfield Councils and the Enfield Homes disorientated practice towards their Statutory Duty of conduct towards their client(s) and in this case me, because their staff make me sufferer every day and night by their negligence.

The named companies' staff's behaviour causes me intentional infliction of emotional distress and this gets inflicted upon me, in the staff understanding the urgency of me having heating in my home is of an absolute importance.

I felt Afraid: --

The front door got left closed and as I put my hand on the handle, I felt afraid of what might happen, as I attended to the knock on my front door that had woken me up?

In view of the

my mother was at her home, when the police came to her address, they done this when first looking for me on this day, when speaking to them outside of her front door, she asked why they had attended her home, she got told the reason was because of them police officer's presence, wanted to arrest me, for my newish trailer, that I had prior brought on the;

Link: -- 19/07/2012

The trailer that I had brought was lying outside chained up in my mother's front garden, when the police had arrived there and somehow, some way, the police had said that this was the trailer, what was missing as stolen.

This trailer was mine, and it was the one that I had brought of the man from the festival on the 19th – 20th - /07/2012 and to me then was being claimed as stolen. Soon after the police had arrived at my mother's address "not only did this happen," but also the police officer's come straight to my house, as they now wanted to arrest me and could not find me at my mother's home address, for the Trailer that I had brought. In the long run, I did not know that they had been to my mother's already and was on the approach towards mine. Without realizing that the police officers had arrived to my home, there was a knock on my front door, so I got up and looked through the spy hole, as this is my normal procedures to see outside of my home front door, on inspecting I noticed police officer's. To emphasize about what happened on the day at first, I would say; I felt afraid of what might happen to me and I think that this would be normal for most people, so after talking to the police officers, outside of my front door for some time, with my front door closed. I came to the understanding thereupon talking to them, that there was no other option in their heads, other than for me to go to the police station, with them. In detail, my brain analysed the situation and told me that on this occasion it would be best for me to protect myself & run, because I could speak to my solicitors and mother beforehand, so I headed straight out of the back door and before I knew it, I was running in my trainers and using my toes to move quickly, away over the garden fences. To put it differently, the next thing that I remember was the fresh air hitting my face, (or) rather, making me realize; that I was then from that second in time, on the run and this was from the police, at least until things got better. Getting, put into a state of realization: — I found out, that this time would be to the police officers' satisfaction and I would get arrested and as a further result towards the on goings of the day, I would also get caught by a police dog and its handler. I had made it less than a couple of back gardens, along from my own back garden, but the police helicopter must have been local and I could hear it on its approach, so, I did not have many other options and hid under some attic installation in a shed. All I can remember is feeling sweaty and hot I felt that the game was soon to be up for me and that would mean that I was to get caught and would go to the police station, Soon after hearing the helicopter I ended up hearing a police dog that barked that was close on it approach to me I could tell that it was in another back garden next to the one that I had hid inside of, alongside to where I was hiding. Where I had to hide, I was contained with no luck, I had nowhere to run to and therefore I got stuck with no place to get away to. To continue to explain what happened next, I would say that on the negative side, for me, I had noticed that the police helicopter had hovered above me and to date I still suspect with its cameras recording to where I had ended up in hiding, so, in the process I got out of the garden shed with my hands up and the helicopter was clearly, above me, I noticed that it must have been guiding the attending police officers to my present location. In accepting that the game was out of the bag, I walked over to the garden fence that was right next to where the police officer and dog handler was in, I popped my head up over the fence and said I surrender, as a result, the police dog handler told me to jump over the fence, and head towards him, I did as he said and as soon as my feet landed on the floor, he told the dog to attack me, in either case, I got hurt and all I can remember is the dog biting my face, body, arms and legs, I got taken to the hospital, for my injuries to get treated and I further stayed on police bail conditions in this case until

when it was finally NFA.

The Conditions of the Police bail were as above!

My Life has definitely changed for me by now and in being granted the quoted and as a further continuation of events, I have noticed that no matter how much I induce myself into good things that I commit my time to, that I always seem to get into some form of speculated: -- “accused trouble.” I and some other people believe that these happenings occur until now, with the police for my, jubilant, denial of not having a deprived lifestyle and also for getting to this age in my life I partly believe that the police just simply will not leave me alone as they want me in prison or dead full stop and this is, because of their running companies" running objectives: -- to me this means that this is because of how misplaced the police force get portrayed by some officers, at different times.

Subject: RE: Simon Cordell Court case

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this email after a call I made to the court about a case that was heard about no insurance which the outcome was 6 points on my driving licence and a £700 fine.

My Name and address are below

Mr Simon Cordell
23 Byron terraces
Edmonton
London
N9 7DG

The problem I have with this is yes I was pulled up by the police and was asked to bring my insurance to a police station which I did do, but it seem the police had given me the wrong form so the police station would not accept me to give them my insurance documents and said it would need to go to court, I have never heard anything about this until I got a letter from DVLA saying I had to send my driving licence back to them, I called DVLA to be told that there was a court case which was heard and that I been given 6 points so needed to send my driving licence to them to get these points added, I explained to them that I did not know about any court date and that I did in fact have insurance to drive on the day the police pulled me over. DVLA give me the court information to contract the court which I did and was told I need to put in that I did not know about the court date. I called Enfield court and was told that I need to write a letter to them which I have done but as of today's date

21/12/2012

I have not heard anything back from them. Today

21/12/2012

I got a next letter from DVLA saying that my driving licence was going to be revoked on the

again I made a call to them which they have put a next 28 days onto the date that they will revoke my driving licence, I have also made a next call to the court and it seems I was given the wrong information and it should have asked for the case to be reopened which I am doing now by send you this email. Please could you reopen the case so that I can indeed show the court I do in fact have insurance to have been driving on the date I was pulled by the police, and as I said on the phone to the court person I speak to today I did not know about any dates for court before I got the letter from DVLA. I will enclose in this email my insurance documents so you can see in fact I was insurance, and could you please send me a new date to go to court to prove this.

Many Thanks

there was to be a private party that took place, in and around the surrounding areas of Canary Wharf and I got invited to attend to it, so I went to the party with my partner. In this instance, other, people who were occupying a building were treating it as their home; this was being granted and obtained under a section 144 LASPO notice. On this night, when driving to our destination the police used a wrongly entered intelligence report that had prior got inputted into the police national computer, which explained that there was no insurance policy for my vehicle, but there was a policy in place for me to be driving. It had been dark at night and I was far away from my home, so on this one of many occasions of being pulled over by the police, I felt quite lucky even low insured not to get my car seized afterwards or end up being arrested, not to forget the possibility of both occurrences actuarially taking place towards my person, as to my past experiences with the police, I have learnt that this would be normal in most police cases, when they get involved with I or other members of the public.

In a few more words of mine, I would say that I had not prior planned to supply any sound recording equipment on this day to any other person and to strengthen this fact on the day I was driving my car. Two of my points that I raise now is that any sound equipment that had gotten referred to by police on this occasion, just would never have fitted into any car, at the end of everything and after spending time with the police officers, the police did finally release me to go, and I didn't end up getting arrested. I knew that the police officer's at the time who got involved in pulling me over could have used their powers of law, correctly, or incorrectly, so with this in mind, I for the most parts of our confrontation stayed charmed, as I knew that the officers' of the law could have manipulated their power of law, so for it to be; in any form of a crooked way, as has prior happened to I before and this is to be inclusive of other people, this would have g

De

67 +achieved so to detain me and or my vehicle at the roadside, so I stayed relaxed and humble! After the Police had driven off and left us alone, I continued to my destination. In the first moment's, once we arrived, I and my civil partner settled in with our friends, for the next few hours we had an enjoyable night, when suddenly, at around 200 Hours; clearly; the UK GMT time zone, one intoxicated, drunk man came up behind me and hit me across the back of the head, my first reaction was to defend myself from his be crazed actions and this is what I did. The drunken man attacked me with a glass bottle hitting me from behind on the back of my head and in a truth of a true reality, it was luck that I was not turning around at the time. This took place many hours after the police had left me and my partner at the roadside, when at first on that evening pulling my car over. In the moments of me acting in self-defence I and this person had a brawl against each other and in me taking control of the moments of the incident, I ended up attending the Royal London Hospital soon after, this was for me to get some surgical stitches applied, because I had hurt my head in the beginning. Part of my personal upset is that, now since the day of this incident, somehow, some way, some government official, has used these incidents in the year of in an appeal stage when it never got submitted in the first part of the Asbo application. The have also induced extra intel into the Asbo folder but may not have reopened the true Crimint. The days accused events have gotten manipulated by getting turned it into an incident against me and illegally, the forged intel got included into the Anti-Social Behaviour Order application and as a conclusion to them officers "misconduct" I am now left imprisoned within my own home due to such out of time info and wrongful edited information.

OCCUPATION OF WITNESS: Unemployed ADDRESS: 109

This statement consisting of 7 page(s) each signed by me, is true to the best of my knowledge and belief and I make it knowing that, if it is tendered in evidence, I shall be liable to prosecution if I have willfully stated in it anything which I know to be false or do not believe to be true.

I am Simon Cordell; my date of birth is 26th January 1981. My home address is as stated above. I am making this witness statement in response to members of the police and local authority's application for an anti-social behavior order.

I am currently in the process of trying to establish my company. I have not yet incorporated it; however, I am currently working on having it registered as a company. I am aiming to have it registered as a limited company with charitable status within the articles of the memorandum of association. I have become a member at general meetings held at my local community hall in turn taking part in the daily challenges a community hall can be presented with. This has introduced me to various people who have helped me with good advice.

I have always wanted to give something back to the community. I have established my web site with a lot of help of others and have now "parked" my company, and I exhibit proof of this of this as SC/1. The company is not yet trading, but I aim to trade soon.

I was placed in the care system as a child, and I try to help vulnerable people. I know what it is like to have to fend for yourself. I exhibit letters of proof that I have helped homeless people as exhibit SC/2.

I believe that this application is an attempt by members of the police and local Authority to find me guilty of offences I have not committed in turn having an effect on my health and stopping me from developing my company, and it is not acceptable or reasonable. I am in the process of developing a business plan for a festival at Barley lands in Essex. I had planned to have this event in 2014, however, the stress of the ongoing ASBO proceedings have stopped me from putting this festival on. I exhibit a draft business plan as exhibit SC/3, and a business submission form for a community festival as exhibit SC/4.

I was once arrested by members of the police outside White Sands Nightclub on 14th November 2013 at Brixton Hill and I had my van seized. The reason given for stopping me was that I had "tools of the trade" in my van and my insurance did not cover driving a vehicle on this basis. My vehicle was seized as it was alleged that I did not have insurance. I was actually insured at the time, and there were no tools in my van. I exhibit proof of my insurance as exhibit SC/4. A police officer gave incorrect evidence in court that he had not taken my vehicle because there were tools in it; however, he had made an inconsistent statement previously saying that there were tools in the van. I exhibit proof of this incident as exhibits SC/5, a witness statement authenticating the sound recordings I have submitted, exhibit SC/6, transcripts of sound recordings of conversations with police personnel and my insurance company, and exhibit SC/7, a sound recording of a phone call from a police officer to my insurance company, and exhibit SC/8, a further sound recording of a phone call between the insurance company and the police car pound. I was convicted of driving without insurance on the basis of his evidence. I am appealing against conviction on the basis that the police officer gave incorrect evidence to court. My insurance company has provided me with a letter of indemnity and witness statement in this respect; however, I am currently banned from driving as a result of the officer's incorrect evidence. I exhibit the clerk's notes from the Magistrates Court trial verifying that the police officer told the court that my Van had not been seized because of there being tools in the Van, and a covering email from Lavender Hill Magistrates Court, as exhibit SC/9, and I exhibit proof that I am currently banned from driving as exhibit SC/10. I had a legitimate reason for being at White Sands Nightclub as I was discussing becoming entertainment manager for White Sands Nightclub; I was going to see a friend about the possibility of a job interview. My van was empty on the date in question.

I accept that I own entertainment equipment. I have acquired these for my company. I am trying to build a company, and the aim was to rent the equipment out to people. I have prepared draft terms and conditions of business that I exhibit as SC/11. I was trying to hire the equipment out to conferences, school fates, local community events, private birthday parties until the stress became too much. I would hire the equipment out to private parties, and to people who could provide me with sufficient identification, and who could cover any damage to the equipment.

I have worked and attempted to work with charitable organizations, in particular Muswell Hill festival helping kids with cerebral palsy, as well as the local scouts Ponders End festival, Lock to Lock festival, Enfield Town Festival, Durant's Park Festival. I am a member on the committee at my local community hall, I have also been working alongside D.E.M.S event management service's in aid of Bliss who are a charity that helps premature babies. I have been building strong relationships with a view to developing a running business helping make a positive effect of today's people and society. I exhibit proof of my business relationship with D.E.M.S as exhibit SC/12. I am very concerned that this application is damaging my attempts to build a legitimate business by way of darkening my name and company brand. I had arranged a community charity children's fashion show fundraiser, and I exhibit proof of this in the form of tickets that had been printed for the event as exhibit SC/13. However, this event did not go ahead as planned as the stress of these ongoing proceedings meant I could not take part in it.

I am currently signed off from work due to problems that I am having. I exhibit proof of this in the form of my doctor's authorisation as exhibit SC/14. These proceedings have taken a large part in the deterioration of my health, by way of the stress caused.

I will now comment on the incidents that I am alleged to have been involved in and that form the substance of the complaint that has been laid against me.

I am alleged to have been involved in the organisation of and/or supplied equipment for and/or attended an illegal rave at Canary Wharf on 12th January 2013. I accept having attended a private party on this date I had been invited to; I did not organise any event on the 12th January 2013, and I did not hire out or lend any sound equipment or encourage anybody else to do so. I arrived at the occupied building at about 10 or 11pm. I was there for about 3 hours, and then I was attacked by an occupier of the building and I was hospitalised. I was taken to hospital at about 2am. I do not know what happened after I left, but I was not involved in organising any event and I did not rent or lend out any sound equipment in respect of this. I exhibit proof that I was hospitalised as exhibit SC/15. I also dispute that I have any criminal convictions for Class A drugs or for supplying any drugs. I did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the 12th January 2013.

On the 07th April 2013, I was going out with my friends and I had some off-road bikes in the back of my van. I was looking forward to this day, and it had been arranged for a Sunday. We were waiting at Ellesmore Road when the police stopped my van outside my friends. Ellesmore Road is a house on a housing estate. I do not see how this is relevant to proceedings for an anti-social behaviour order; in addition, the prosecution offered no evidence in respect of the charges that were brought even though they were reliant on police witnesses. I had been wrongfully arrested for not having insurance when I was insured to drive. I did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the 7th April 2013.

It is alleged that I was looking for venues in which illegal raves could be held on 24th May 2013. I dispute this. I had been contacted by a friend called Joshua who was living at 204 High Street Ponders End EN3 4EZ known as the Old Police Station at Ponders End. As I was driving towards 204 High Street I was stopped by members of the police. I consented to having my person and my car searched; however, I had not done anything wrong and nothing was found. I dispute making any comments about being able to attract people to illegal raves and illegal 3-day events. I did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the 24th May 2013

In respect of evidence raised concerning an event at Hyde Park on 20th April 2014; I was hired by norml-co.uk to attend the event. I was told it was legal, and I was hired on a dry hire basis. I was doing the job on a 'no profit' basis, and this was because the person who hired me had been let down by someone else. Members of the police told me at the event that I had not been hired by the organisers of the event, and that I was not supposed to be there. I had been hired by normal- co.uk, and I had been told that this was a licensed event. I took the police at their word, and I did not use my equipment on that day. I exhibit proof that I was hired as exhibit SC/16 I did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the 20th April 2014.

In respect of my presence at Unit 5 St George's Industrial Estate, White Hart Lane on 25th May 2014. I attended a commercial building that the occupiers were residing in having displayed s144 LASPO notices and in turn treating the premises as their home. There was no music played. I was not involved in the organisation of an illegal rave of any sort. I did drive there in my van VRM CX52JRZ, and I accept that I had 2 speakers in the van; however, I did not have a full sound system with me. I was using my van for storage. I had my van searched by members of the police, nothing was seized, and I went home I did not cause any anti-social behaviour on the 25th May 2014.

In respect of the 06th June 2014 at an occupied Warehouse on Progress Way in Enfield; I do not accept that I was present at this warehouse on that date. I was with a friend at my house on this date and attended my mother's house Lorraine Cordell my sister was present D Benjamin and family friend Jamie Duffy who has housing difficulty's and lives at all my family's addresses and helps out where needed due to health problems my family has.

In respect of the 07th June 2014 at a Warehouse on Progress Way in Enfield; I had been having a family drink in the pub/hall with my cousin D Edwards his leaving party went from the 07/06/2014 till the early hours on the 08/06/2014. I had arranged to drop a friend's locker keys off to him, I left the pub/hall to go and visit my friend who was residing at Progress Way. I accept that I was approached by members of the police, he asked me my name and my details, and I did not reply to him. He asked me to follow him back to where I had just come from, which was where my car was parked along the Great Cambridge Road. I did what he asked. I felt like I was being accused of organising a rave, which I had not done. I then waited in the petrol station across the road for my friend so that I could give him his locker keys back. I then left and went back home. I was not involved in organising any event at a Warehouse on Progress Way. At no point was any of my sound equipment used for this event or did I cause any anti-social behaviour on the 7th June 2014.

I was not present at any event on Progress Way on the 8th June 2014. I was at my mother's house with my mother, Lorraine Cordell and my Nan, Sister Deon Benjamin, and a family friend, Jamie Duffy.

On the 20th June 2014 I am alleged to have been involved in the organisation of and/or supplied equipment for and/or attended an illegal rave at 1 Falcon Park, Neasden Lane, NW10. I had been contacted and asked if I would hire a sound system out for a gentleman's birthday party. I agreed to do so, and the sound system and a van were collected from my house. My terms and conditions were signed and a deposit was given to me. I exhibit the terms and conditions and a copy invoice in respect of the transaction as exhibit SC/18. I received a phone call at 1am in the morning by a client who said that the sound system was being seized, and that the police were in attendance. I remember getting up and attending at around 1am to 2am. It took me 1 hour and 10 minutes to attend. I remember there being lots of members of the police present when approaching the address, I had been given. I parked my car and approached the police at the doors and spoke to the police officers I explained and showed the invoice and a copy of my terms and conditions of hire. I was allowed entry to pack the sound system away, and it was explained to me that it was being confiscated. I was allowed to collect the sound system from the police at a later date. I never returned the sound system to the client as he had breached my terms and conditions. I did not knowingly supply equipment for an illegal party. I did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the 20th June 2014

On 19th July 2014 I am alleged to have been involved in the organisation of and/or supplied equipment for and/or attended an illegal rave at the 198 Great Cambridge Road, Enfield Town, EN1 1UJ. This road is between my house and my mother's house, and it is the route that I usually drive when going to Mac Donald's. I was passing what is known as the old Carpet right, 198 Great Cambridge Road when I saw a man who I know to be homeless being detained by the police. As I was travelling on the opposite side of the Great Cambridge Road, travelling from Lincoln Road, I had to turn around at the closest traffic lights next to the Odeon Cinema. I noticed a car park a few premises before 198 Great Cambridge Road, a general car park opens to the general public and belonging to Magnet. I parked there as I could see that the police had blocked access to the car park belonging to 198 Great Cambridge Road. I locked my vehicle and walked up to where the police were detaining the person I knew. On doing so, a police officer approached me and told me I was under arrest for a possible breach of the peace. I was later released from police custody without any further action being taken. I was not involved in the organisation of any event on this day at 198 Great Cambridge Road, nor did I supply any equipment. I did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the 19th July 2014.

On the 24th July 2014 I am alleged to have admitted to police officers that I organized illegal raves. At about 16:30 I was driving down Alma Road. I use this road to travel between my mother's house and my flat as it is the shortest route between both. My Nan also lived just off Alma Road just before her recent death. On travelling from my mum's house on the 24th July 2014 after visiting my Nan and my mother due to my Nan's illness my Nan was staying at my mum's house. I was going home to my flat. I used Alma Road as a route to travel as I often do. I noticed an unmarked police car as it was indicating to take a right turn, the opposite way from which I was travelling. I realized it was an unmarked police car as I had seen the driver on active duty in the local area. As I drove past it changed its indication to the way I was heading. It indicated left. The car followed me and then put on its blue lights. I pulled over to the left-hand side of the road, opposite the BMW repair center along Alma Road. On the left-hand side of the pavement leading to the back entrance of Durant's Park a male officer got out of the passenger side and approached my driver's door. I opened my window to a little and asked why I had been pulled over. The police officer said he was not sure why but his colleague had instructed him to do so. He then went back to his unmarked police car, and reproached my car window with his colleague the driver of the police car. I asked again why I had been pulled over, and the driver of the police car pulled out his truncheon and said I had to get out of my car, and that if I declined my window would be smashed. I got out of my vehicle as I did not have anything to hide, I had not committed any offence whatsoever, and I was not wanted. I was told I had been pulled over because I had driven too close to the car in-front of me. This car did not stop and had not been stopped by police. I was then accused of having drugs, and I was searched, and my vehicle was searched and nothing was found. I was then asked by the police what I was up to. I said that I was setting up my catalogue that I had been building with a friend, and that my website was nearly completed. I said that I was trying to achieve positive effects within today's society with my business I was trying to build a brand. This was a Thursday at 16:30. Once the police had checked everything, they needed to we parted after I had shaken hands with them. I then made my way home. I did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the 24th July 2014

On 27th July 2014 in respect of an alleged rave on private land with a warehouse being occupied at the rear of Millmarsh Lane, Enfield. I am said to have been involved in the organisation of and/or supplied equipment for and or attended an illegal rave on this date. I attended a 20th birthday party at Millmarsh Lane, and I had dinner with people who were living there. I never knew of any event taking place on. I did not have any sound system on the premises. I understand that the sound system was moved at the request of police, the owners of the PA equipment was the occupiers, and I did not have any hand in this. I had been invited as a visitor. The occupants had placed LASPO notices on their premises. I did not own any of the sound equipment that was found there, and I did not rent or lend any sound equipment to anyone in respect of this occasion or take part in the organisation. I did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the 27th July 2014.

I am further alleged to have been involved in the organisation of and/or supplied equipment for and or attended an illegal rave on the 09th to 10th August 2014 at Millmarsh Lane. I dispute this. I was not involved in organising any rave, and I did not supply equipment. The police have alleged that this event was run by Every Decibel Matters. I can confirm that I am not an employee of this organisation, or a shareholder, or a director and have no controlling interest in this company. I exhibit a letter sent from Every Decibel Matters Ltd "to whom it may concern" verifying this, I exhibit this as exhibit SC/19. I had gone to have a birthday dinner, but I was not present at an illegal rave. Police came and requested that people leave and so I left. I did have a conversation with the police concerning three empty CO2 gas canisters that I had in my vehicle, VRM MA57LDY. I did display knowledge of nitrous oxide, but this was just in a general conversation with the police as it is information I had to learn when carrying CO2 cylinders for welding. I do remember talking to a police officer about an occupier I had met called Jena having passed her first aid test. This was general conversation. I dispute encouraging any crowd behind a gate to come in. I did not try to incite others to breach the peace, and I did not try to put anyone in danger.

I deny behaving in an anti-social manner on this date. I did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the 09th 10th August 2014.

I am Steve Elsmore, a Police officer attached to the Anti-Social Behaviour Team within the London Borough of Enfield. I make this further statement regarding an ASBO matter in relation to Simon CORDELL. On 16th May 2016, I was asked to check timings in relation to the schedule that is due to be served on the court. Whilst searching for timings for Crimint HTRT00376798, I found an incident log attached to this Crimint. I do not recall previously seeing this log. Usually the inputting officer would put an indicator on the Crimint to say that there is an attachment. On this occasion there is no indicator referring to this attachment. It is possible that I may have previously missed this attachment due to the volume of incidents that I was searching through.
The attachment itself is an incident report from Canary Wharf Group and the incident summary states -Trespassers on site - illegal rave - forced entry shed 4 - Police tasked - no action - group left site. This is dated 12 January 2013. The incident log details what action was taken by Canary Wharf

Group during this particular incident. It also provides detail on the impact to the residents. On page 5 of the incident log there is an entry that states "P BOUZON (CW178) informs the ECC that the vehicle registrations that he gave me are actually the 2 vehicles that gained access through the fence and are located within the Shed 4 area". One of the vehicles is MA57LDY. This vehicle was registered to Simon CORDELL as per the Crimint Report.

This comment also applies to the damaged fence. I am now taking a replacement padlock and chain to replace the one cut off during the break in, to the gate where concrete Jersey Blocks have now been positioned. Disrepair!

I continue to highlight my issues of concern causing me dissatisfaction within my home. The broken heating disrepair issues that are within my flat have been left for too long of a time, no reasonable person from Enfield Council or Enfield homes complies with their statutory duties to fix this disrepair problem and in the time that this problem has gotten left to eclipse I have suffered and I also understand that it is unprofessional behaviour of the Enfield Councils and the Enfield Homes staff to leave me living like this!

Today my friends visited my home and see me shivering in the cold yet again and still without any working heating system.

I found this unamusing because it's of no fault of my own and I feel that I should get supported by the Enfield Council within their statutory duties in rectifying the disrepair issues that are contained within my rented home, "such as the non-existent heating!"

I made the relevant phone calls today to the Enfield homes and Enfield Council complaints department so, to receive an efficient service, regarding my re occurrence of the damp and broken heating system inclusive of the sound issues of disrepair that I face on a daily basis that are within my rented home but ended up receiving a service from the staff that caused me intentional infliction of emotional distress from their reckless disregard of lack of concern in addressing the disrepair problems within my flat!

Disrepair!

A full investigation is supposed to have taken place within the first stages of my complaints and this is to mean once the Enfield Councils and the Enfield Homes got put in receipt of the emergency issues that I do raise with them. The disrepair issues within my rented home stay the same and sows that, nothing has changed in the issues getting fixed, also the Enfield Homes and the Enfield Council do not persist to established disciplinary action against their staff in a fair and equal manner, as they pursuit against their client(s,) who are also members of the public. Enfield Council's and the Enfield Homes staff representing my cases should have taken my safety and health into account and did not in regards to the broken heating within my home in a reasonable time, consequential from the start of getting informed of the disrepair issues.

The disrepair issues remain unhurried from getting resolved in a fair manner of due process and continues without concern for my health and safety. Subject: RE: Simon Cordell Court case

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this email after a call I made to the court about a case that was heard about no insurance which the outcome was 6 points on my driving licence and a £700 fine.

My Name and address are below

23 Byron Terrace

Edmonton

London

N9 7DG

The problem I have with this is yes I was pulled up by the police and was asked to bring my insurance to a police station which I did do, but it seem the police had given me the wrong form so the police station would not accept me to give them my insurance documents and said it would need to go to court, I have never heard anything about this until I got a letter from DVLA saying I had to send my driving licence back to them, I called DVLA to be told that there was a court case which was heard and that I been given 6 points so needed to send my driving licence to them to get these points added, I explained to them that I did not know about any court date and that I did in fact have insurance to drive on the day the police pulled me over.

DVLA give me the court information to contract the court which I did and was told I need to put in that I did not know about the court date. I called Enfield court and was told that I need to write a letter to them which I have done but as of today's date

21/12/2012

I have not heard anything back from them. Today

21/12/2012

I got a next letter from DVLA saying that my driving licence was going to be revoked on the

again I made a call to them which they have put a next 28 days onto the date that they will revoke my driving licence, I have also made a next call to the court and it seems I was given the wrong information and it should have asked for the case to be reopened which I am doing now by send you this email. Please could you reopen the case so that I can indeed show the court I do in fact have insurance to have been driving on the date I was pulled by the police, and as I said on the phone to the court person I speak to today I did not know about any dates for court before I got the letter from DVLA. I will enclose in this email my insurance documents so you can see in fact I was insurance, and could you please send me a new date to go to court to prove this.

Many Thanks

Mr. Simon Cordell

Dear Mr Cordell

Housing Benefit Notification

I have changed your Housing Benefit from 01/04/2013 to take account of new year benefit levels from April. I have decided that your benefit is now as follows:

£86.84 per week from 01/04/2013

How You Will Be Paid

Your benefit will be paid by directly crediting your rent account.

Notification of Council Tax Support

I have worked out your council tax support from 01/04/2013 to take account of new year benefit levels from April. I have decided that your benefit is now as follows:

£12.64 per week from 01/04/2013 How You Will Be Paid

£658.99 council tax support has been paid to your council tax account. The total amount of council tax support for 2013/14 is £658.99.

You will soon receive a Council Tax bill dated 14/03/13 that will tell you how much council tax you will now have to pay. On the back of the bill is a summary of how we have calculated your Council Tax.

Other Information

Appeal details for Housing Benefit, information on the Council Tax Support scheme and other information are included with this letter.

About Council Tax Support

In previous years the Government has funded a national Council Tax Benefit Scheme which may have meant you did not pay Council Tax. The Government is abolishing the national Council Tax Benefit Scheme from 1 April 2013.

In its place, councils have been asked to set up local support schemes for council tax but the Government has given less funding than it currently costs. In Enfield, the shortfall in funding is over £4m a year.

Despite this funding shortfall, Enfield Council has agreed a new local Council Tax Support Scheme based on the previous national benefit scheme with some amendments. Details of the new scheme are available on our website, www.enfield.gov.uk/counciltaxonline.

Your Council Tax Support award has been based on this new scheme.

How Council Tax Support is worked out

Council Tax Support is worked out using the information supplied in your previous Council Tax Benefit claim and the amount of Council Tax expected for the property you live in.

We start with looking at if you are eligible for any discounts, such as single person discount. We then turn your remaining amount of council tax into a weekly amount.

Pensioners, war widows of working age, and those receiving war disability payments will continue to be eligible for Council Tax Support for up to 100% of the Council Tax that you have to pay. For the remaining working age claims (aged up to 65) you can receive a maximum benefit of up to 80.5% of council tax due.

Claimants receiving the following benefits will automatically give you the full award less any deductions for non-dependents (other adults living with you):

1. Income Support,
2. Guaranteed Credit
3. Income based job seekers allowance
4. Income related employment and support allowance

This means that if you are working age and not in a protected group, you will get 80.5% of your council tax as a benefit. If you are a pensioner or protected, you will get 100%.

For all other claims we look at your total income, any savings that you have and deduct from that a recommended allowance that you need to live on depending on your circumstances and family make-up.

For every £1 that your total income is over the recommended allowance we deduct 20p from the weekly maximum amount of Council Tax Support you can receive. The amount left is the Council Tax Support we give you each week.

All weekly amounts are then worked out for the year and paid to your Council Tax Account. You will receive a bill setting out what contribution, if any, you are expected to pay towards Council Tax. See the back of the Council Tax bill which for information on how we can calculate your contribution.

Your sincerely

Enfield Benefits Service

How Your Housing Benefit Has Been Worked Out

From 01/04/2013 your Housing Benefit will be £86.84 each week.

The rent you are charged each week is £92.49.

Housing Benefit cannot pay for some service charges that are included in your rent. The rent you pay has to be reduced by the amount of these service charges. These amounts are shown below:

Actual amount for Ineligible Water £5.65

Total deductions for services £5.65

The amount of rent after deducting these charges is called your maximum eligible rent. Your rent of £92.49 must be reduced by £5.65, to £86.84 each week. This is your maximum eligible rent.

The maximum Housing Benefit you can get is £86.84 each week. This figure is used when working out 'your total weekly Housing Benefit'.

Your Total Weekly Housing Benefit

As you are receiving Income Support, I can pay the maximum Housing Benefit of £86.84 each week.

The vehicle was in Ellesmere Street junction of Upper North Street There could see there were 4 males sat in tire front cab. The person in the driving seat was a light skinned ic3 male (sus) Police parked behind the van and Pc Aston got out the car to get around to the van. As he rounded our car the van pulled to the right toward Upper North Street. Pc Aston was now in front of the van and the van stopped. Pc Scott opened the car door to speak to the driver and he said 'What the fuck do you want, you can't stop me' We identified ourselves as a police officers by displaying my warrant card and he continued to say 'you have no power to stop me what are you powers' It was explained why we were there and why we had stopped him. Pie remained aggressive saying that we did not know how to do our job and that we had no power to search him. The oilier males in the van were telling the male to calm down and let us get on with it. He was still aggressive saying that he was all legit saying that we had no reason to be there. He then turned off the engine and jumped out the van and walked to ward the pavement. Police were called to Ellesmere Street El 4 where an informant had seen a group of males load a flat screen TV into the rear of a white Ford Transit panel van Vrm CX52 JRX. The informant was a local resident and was particularly concerned as her neighbour had been recently burgled. The vehicle was in Ellesmere Street junction of Upper North Street There could see there were 4 males sat in the front cab. The person in the driving seat was a light skinned ic3 male (sus) Police parked behind the van and Pc Aston got out the car to get around to the van. As he rounded our car the van pulled to the right toward Upper North Street. Pc Aston was now in front of the van and the van stopped. Pc Scott opened the car door to speak to the driver and he said 'What the fuck do you want, you can't stop me5 We identified ourselves as a police officers by displaying my warrant card and he continued to say 'you have no power to stop me what are you powers* It was explained why we were there and why we had stopped him.

He remained aggressive saying that we did not know how to do our job and that we had no power to search him. The other males in the van were telling the male to calm down and let us get on with it. He was still aggressive saying that he was all legit saying that we had no reason to be there. He then turned off the engine and jumped out the van and walked to ward the pavement. We explained he was detained for the search and he continued to shout 'Don't you fucking touch me, I can walk around' He continued to question our grounds and I again

Court Case: "Sunday Going out on my Motorbike for the day."

Wandering Around: --

This fine day was just me wandering around to others and to me it was just another day, very much similar to other days and I guess this would be very much the same; for any other people, who reside in and around, the Great British town's streets off London: - Going out with friends. One of the many of best days of our lives had gotten planned out, so for me and my friends to go out on our own Off-road-Scramblers. What acutely; happened, is that on the

07/04/2013

I had arrived at my friend's house, what is on, an up kept average, London housing estate. This was on the traditional British day of rest and for that fact, it was a Sunday. On this occasion, I and my friends were in London's Streets, EW1. Initially, in the beginning and thought that days moments, in the start of the days, hours that me and my friends had all been together, I would say that everything was going fine, for me to quote a saying off what happened in the one thousand and four hundred and forty minutes going on in them twenty-four hour that I think many people may already have heard before, so for me to define the days' event's, I would say; all good things must come to an end. Before the police officer's presence, I and my friends had intended to head out on our planned travels and this day would have included us all being able to arrive, at our prior planned destination, but as always in my life, the police had stopped us.

Next in, is Just, three out of three, quick short couple of notes; —

Note 1; The day had got set by ourselves, so for us all, to have; a lot of excitement, within the legal constraints of the united Kingdom's Laws and because of this we were all, being silent and relaxed, therefore we caused no trouble and was just waiting to go out for the day.

Note 2; A lot of different people's off-road-motorbikes were present, as, we all were on this day out for me and my friends. When the police officers questioned us all about them, beforehand of arresting my person, everybody's off-road-motorbikes; were already in three different prior arranged vans and soon to us, the true owners of them all, were to be able to go on the move to our chosen place on that day, if not for the police officer's interruption.

Note 3; I also would like to note the point of; I and my friends, definitely supplied no entertainment equipment to anybody, on this date and therefore, as a result of mine and other's good intentions for this day, I did not cause any acts of Anti-Social Behaviour, hence, together I and my friends, did not cause any illegal or civil problems, as a quick briefing towards a summary, on this incident; I did not feel like I could even go out for the day that being said and meant to mean; with some of my friends and not getting harassed, by the police, once again.

A continuation of the same day events: --

07/04/2013

So, for me now to only leave the rest of the past day's events to get explained, now down too I explaining even more-extra further truths; The police officers who had commenced, on us, at the time did say to us all, who were present at the incident, that they had got called to a report of a Burglary. When this got explained to us by the police officers it had got confusing to me and my friends, as, we caused no criminal offences that got accused of our persons that the police officers were then alleging to us. Members of the police had approached us and this was while I and my friends were all together, getting ready to head on an into our travels out; In portraying, to another person the day's predicaments, of one of the now at present, funny parts of this day I would start by explaining; that it was the so called 999 police call / the police officers present at the scene so-called witness. The dilemma of what ended up happening to me is that by the end of me explaining to the police officers, about me being an innocent man, is that the police officers continued with their plans not to trust in me, and they forcibly searched inside of my van, while using their powers of law against me. OK, at the time to me and my friends felt that, how the police officers, made us all feel, got achieved by the copper(s), so that things had got completed wrong by them and this was happening to me and my friends, so, that what was going on to us was not so funny at the time but once the copper did their searches and finished embarrassing me, I can recollect them getting out of the back of my van and in both of them officers managing to doing this, I noticed that they both accepted to me, that I was right from the start and there was no stolen property in my van, in fact there were just two off my own personal off-road-Scramblers, to my own satisfaction.

As a continuation of the

I make it evident that People always claim that god; Loves a person to try hard at good things, out of their life and this is what I done and still do. When the Police took the time after doing their searches inside of my parked van, they had to explain their intelligence to us all, this got done so for the police officers to explain their reasons of search on me and my property, they both explained the following; that it got based upon the so called original 999 call that the police call centre had received and in that report a civilian person claimed to see a burglary, that was supposedly in progress, they continued to further their information to us, by explaining that the police officers witness who had called them had seen some sort of stolen property, such as a TV, being placed into the back of my van. This was never true and now in any off the situations such as, more, neither, nor anything of the right that is expected, the Police are now using this day as a civil case, at a later date, to their own wrong advantage against me, after me being charged and not found guilty for anything for the day, the legal director of the Metropolitan police force just simply refuses to take any of the cases out of the Asbo folder and this case is also out of the time limitation Act 1980. Where the incident has got put into the Anti-Social Behaviour Order case files it has caused me to wrongly suffer and even after me winning the case in court and then to make things worse, the police officers, who are to support taking pursuit of this so called pointed out wrongful actions, who are in charge of creating and the on goings within the Asbo case do not seem to be able to provide, any of the following: — As the police officers said, at the roadside, there should be an official police intelligence CAD, that should relate to this date and time of this incident.

One;

This police cad should also be able to refer to the Pacific details; that must describe a person accusing me or other people of criminal offences.

Two;

Neither do the police show the evidence of the 999 callers, stating that they saw a burglary that was in progress.

Three;

The missing and not induced Cad of police official information, must then introduce true evidence, off the so called; if any, true audio recordings, that would relate to any of the 999 calls, that got said to have got made on this day. The Second part of the day: --

I, can evidently, reminisce, on both of the police officers, being clear and adamant, in what they had together said to us, while still chatting with the police officer's, they continued with what they were doing to my person and also continued to do their Identification checks, on the two-Off-road- Bikes this did also include my van, and they all came back to be legitimate but this never got mentioned again in case that I won at court or even in the up-to-date Asbo on goings. In another addition to the events, of the day, the police said that I had No insurance, so to be driving my van and this become a further negative effect, towards me. This further negative effect got place upon me already knowing, that my insurance company had also tried, for themselves to help me, so to resolve all the problems that we were all then together having. After my van and I got searched, by the attending officers of the law, I continued to get abused by them both at the roadside; the reason to why I got abused is; because of my insurance policy, still not showing up on the police National computer systems, I continued to get frustrated because of this and the following reasons. It was easy to understand that I was getting constantly attacked by members of the police force, attacked as if in to describe a person always getting harassed. This Harassment partly took place on most available Sunday's. I can remember that on this occasion I literally had to freeze on the day; While re-analysing the circumstances that I got presented within by them police officers on the scene, so, to be able to stop any of the tear's that unexpectedly seemed to want to then drizzle down my face; or maybe start too really flood out really fast of my eyes and to then come down both sides of the cheeks, tears running down onto my garments, and straight onto the floor. The police officer in front of me had become criminals "thieves," they wanted my van and the bikes to go to their police compound and for me to pay for it. I knew right there and then that they had no legal rights to do the things that they were doing to me and take my van and this is that precise moment in time, when I held my breath into stop them tears, I continued to talk to the police about not seizing my van. When I asked them to trust in me in the hope of them police officer's, not doing any of their unusual unwanted actions against me, such as: The Intimidation and Harassment, that I am made to believe that I must get used to, when getting somehow, someway, victimised by some police officers. Referring to another addition of a part to everything, that was going on, I said to the police officers; that there is a harder problem to overcome and this problem was with the day being a Sunday; and I do strengthen this now made announcement about the day being a Sunday, as to the contrary is because this got done to myself wrongly and as to a consequence off the police officers own bad decisions and actions that on the day lead towards their entrusting misplaced behaviour towards me, as they both must have also already understood that; 99%, of insurance companies do not get opened, on a Sunday so, my insurance policy should have covered me alongside with my word, when I told the police officers, whom were present that I had already got insured. With the day being a Sunday, this also meant that they could not have been able to make a phone call to my insurance company, “on this day,” besides in my defence, I told the police officers, whom were present, at that precise stage that I had already got insured and showed a copy of my policy to them both.

To keep the ball rolling, another key point is, that for many months pre-existing to this incident equalling to the amount of time that it got left to extend to this incident, my mother previously had tried to help me to stop the dilemmas I kept having with my insurance policy. My mother had already tried many times beforehand to resolve the issue of my concern, by contacting the relevant people involved, this included the police, DVLA and my insurance company, as well as the MID database. Throughout her conversations with the relevant people, she come to an agreement with them all and what got agreed is that this problem would get resolved between them all, “as to describe something being fixed, not a problem no more,” so to me this meant that together a lot of people had all prior tried to work out why; I was always, not showing up as insured. I noticed myself that on the police computer I did not show up as insured, but I was OK on the mid database and OK on my insurance company’s computers, but still no one could solve the problem. While talking to the police officers at the roadside about my insurance I noticed that there was no more talk about a stolen TV from any house; what next started to persisted to proceed is that, while still standing and talking to the police officer’s, I did get a bit upset and by the middle of our discussions, all of our voices, had become at a bit high of a rate, the reason being of my voice getting louder was because I got accused of not having any insurance and they wanted to stop my pre planned day out on my bikes. I did have the correct insurance policy in place, so for me to be driving and able to drive that can then, that was in question at the time, so I do not see why I did get arrested by the police officer on this day and I also do not see why the police officers made this case get continued towards me, by them police officers; following charges against me. After getting humiliated by getting searched for a TV I then having my van seized with my bikes in it. Once arrested, I got taken to the police station, I then after got charged and granted police bail and this got placed on to a further date for me to attend at a courthouse, meaning that in turn I then got to attend to a court hearing and this was for a hearing, so that I could enter my no guilty plea, to establish that I needed to wait for a trial to take place, this further date got set so for me, to be able to defend myself. When in court, and at the first preliminary hearing it then got explained to me by the judge, that if I do not attend to the courthouse; a prison sentence may get issued towards my person and this would work out to be with the possibility of a fine or both. Amusingly, the charges that got brought into motion by the police were for a breach of the peace and for no insurance, which I did not commit, this meant me paying out of my pocket more money to the government official’s or even a custodial sentence. Under these circumstances I had already had to pay the Police car compound money who had seized my van and in turn this forwarded the fact that I suffered yet again, for losing my vehicle and the cost of paying, to get it back out of the police car compound. I done nothing wrong and I paid a lot of money, for my insurance policy, to which I lost, due to these court cases on goings. All of this information to me meant by things just simply; changed in my life and I slowly got depressed, as you can read all about, because of the manner in which the police officers were treating me, as I understood what they were doing to me was so wrong. I look back in time and forward into the present time of today in writing this book / report / diary, when both of the offences had said to have taken place, that the metropolitan police force brought into motion; the reason for this is both of the cases, tarnished my life and got dropped shortly after. Both cases got dropped shortly after in compliance towards a decision that got made of a “No Further Action” being taken place against me, but this case still was not to be over in the copper’s eyes. The accusations claimed against me in the case files continued to get used against me. In the moment of these occurrences and a long time after this day protested to proceed, I knew that what they were doing to me would change my life for the worst and that this meant to me that whenever I continue to wake up, at my own home on most mornings since the day’s incidents took and take place, I seem to keep thinking to myself the same little thought: repeatedly, and repeatedly, again; how did this day get added to the Anti-Social Behaviour Order Application, at this present time of my life. The original police officers’ statements, got held in the police national computer system, after being imputed on the first few days, what did in fact truly happen is that after the incident took place in Elsmere Street, I went to court and got found not guilty and then afterwards; “Some, other, different, police officer’s,” from another police force alongside with the metropolitan’s legal director edited the old NFA case information, by extended their work abilities and decided to take the law into their own deceitful hands, while the original Crimint got placed on their working companies’ systems. This got done so for it to get fabricated, and then they compiled their falsified redeveloped made and said to be findings, of the day, so to adduced them findings into a copy of the Anti-Social Behaviour Order proceedings, that I am fighting against, up and till date, which has wrongly, got put against me, with no honest reason’s, as I already prior won the so-called court case in the court. In add-amusingly, to me, was nothing ever got explained again, that being about any report of a Burglary, which the police officers claimed all about and now it makes me feel furious, in knowing what the police officers are doing to my life all of the time, when regarding this instance and others, it left me being even, moreover, to being intrigued, by the police officers who got involved, I get astonished by them all, for what they have done to me.

Points of Facts of Law:

- 1. I won this case at court and then afterwards the police used it to gain a guilty convection against myself!
- 2. Mr Cordell did not involve himself in the organization of any illegal rave.
- 4. This was his friends housing estate and because of there is reason there is no party locations within the local housing area, making a party very unlikely.
- 5. And the day was a Sunday, Very unlikely for a party of any form or concept.
- 6. Nor did he supply equipment on said date.
- 7. Mr Simon Cordell will State; “that he was not rude to police, but he did feel like he could not even go out for the day with some of his friends, without getting stopped and searched by members of the police. He states he did not get upset in the manner that the police have said he did and that he does not mean to come across as rude to police. In this case he was just trying to explain the error on the system.
- 8. It is also noted that the caller was very clear that they saw a flat screen TV being put into Mr Cordell’s van, which is confusing to why when the police searched the van, they found no TV, but did in fact find two of his off-road motor bikes, which is not included in Steve Elsmore statement.

The police did checks on Mr Simon Cordell's Off-Road Motor Bikes but this is also not stated, but should show up on the seizure notice, as Mr Simon Cordell did ask the police office to take careful note of the two off road motorbikes, as due to the high value of them.

9. Mr Simon Cordell will state; "that he did get a bit upset when the police said they were going to seize his van, as he did have insurance in place to be able to drive the van in question, but there was an error on the MID database.

Miss Cordell had been trying to help her son resolve the issue concerning his insurance policy not showing on the mid database alongside with members of their local police force and his insurance company KGM too, together they had tried to work out why Mr Simon Cordell was showing as uninsured. There was information noted as intelligence on the police National Computer stating this I had asked the police to check on their systems due to this, but they would not they just wanted to seize Mr Simon Cordell's van without checking, so he knew he was being wrongfully accused at this point, as he had done nothing wrong and he did have insurance to be driving and had paid a lot of money for his insurance.

10. In addition, the prosecution offered no evidence in respect of the charges that were brought even though they were reliant on police witnesses. Mr Simon Cordell had been wrongfully arrested for not having insurance when he was insured to drive.

11. He also did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on this date in question.

12. There are no CAD's for this date, but yet they were meant to be, a CAD referring to the pacific details that should be relating to a person stating, that they believed a burglary was in progress and of the 999-caller stating that they had seen a person who was putting a flat screen TV into Mr Simon Cordell's van.

I am Simon Cordell; my date of birth is 26th January 1981. My home address is as stated above. I am making this witness statement in response to members of the police and local authority's application for an anti-social behaviour order.

I am currently in the process of trying to establish my company. I have not yet incorporated it; however, I am currently working on having it registered as a company. I am aiming to have it registered as a limited company with charitable status within the articles of the memorandum of association. I have become a member at general meetings held at my local community hall in turn taking part in the daily challenges a community hall can be presented with. This has introduced me to various people who have helped me with good advice.

I have always wanted to give something back to the community. I have established my web site with a lot of help of others and have now "parked" my company, and I exhibit proof of this of this as SC/1. The company is not yet trading, but I aim to trade soon.

I was placed in the care system as a child, and I try to help vulnerable people. I know what it is like to have to fend for yourself. I exhibit letters of proof that I have helped homeless people as exhibit SC/2.

I believe that this application is an attempt by members of the police and local Authority to find me guilty of offences I have not committed in turn having an effect on my health and stopping me from developing my company, and it is not acceptable or reasonable. I am in the process of developing a business plan for a festival at Barley lands in Essex. I had planned to have this event in 2014, however, the stress of the ongoing ASBO proceedings have stopped me from putting this festival on. I exhibit a draft business plan as exhibit SC/3, and a business submission form for a community festival as exhibit SC/4.

I was once arrested by members of the police outside White Sands Nightclub on 14th November 2013 at Brixton Hill and I had my van seized. The reason given for stopping me was that I had "tools of the trade" in my van and my insurance did not cover driving a vehicle on this basis. My vehicle was seized as it was alleged that I did not have insurance. I was actually insured at the time, and there were no tools in my van. I exhibit proof of my insurance as exhibit SC/4. A police officer gave incorrect evidence in court that he had not taken my vehicle because there were tools in it; however, he had made an inconsistent statement previously saying that there were tools in the van. I exhibit proof of this incident as exhibits SC/5, a witness statement authenticating the sound recordings I have submitted, exhibit SC/6, transcripts of sound recordings of conversations with police personnel and my insurance company, and exhibit SC/7, a sound recording of a phone call from a police officer to my insurance company, and exhibit SC/8, a further sound recording of a phone call between the insurance company and the police car pound. I was convicted of driving without insurance on the basis of his evidence. I am appealing against conviction on the basis that the police officer gave incorrect evidence to court. My insurance company has provided me with a letter of indemnity and witness statement in this respect; however, I am currently banned from driving as a result of the officer's incorrect evidence. I exhibit the clerk's notes from the Magistrates Court trial verifying that the police officer told the court that my Van had not been seized because of there being tools in the Van, and a covering email from Lavender Hill Magistrates Court, as exhibit SC/9, and I exhibit proof that I am currently banned from driving as exhibit SC/10. I had a legitimate reason for being at White Sands Nightclub as I was discussing becoming entertainment manager for White Sands Nightclub; I was going to see a friend about the possibility of a job interview. My van was empty on the date in question.

I accept that I own entertainment equipment. I have acquired these for my company. I am trying to build a company, and the aim was to rent the equipment out to people. I have prepared draft terms and conditions of business that I exhibit as SC/11. I was trying to hire the equipment out to conferences, school fates, local community events, private birthday parties until the stress became too much. I would hire the equipment out to private parties, and to people who could provide me with sufficient identification, and who could cover any damage to the equipment.

I have worked and attempted to work with charitable organizations, in particular Muswell Hill festival helping kids with cerebral palsy, as well as the local scouts Ponders End festival, Lock to Lock festival, Enfield Town Festival, Durant's Park Festival. I am a member on the committee at my local community hall, I have also been working alongside D.E.M.S event management service's in aid of Bliss who are a charity that helps premature babies. I have been building strong relationships with a view to developing a running business helping make a positive effect of today's people and society. I exhibit proof of my business relationship with D.E.M.S as exhibit SC/12. I am very concerned that this application is damaging my attempts to build a legitimate business by way of darkening my name and company brand. I had arranged a community charity children's fashion show fundraiser, and I exhibit proof of this in the form of tickets that had been printed for the event as exhibit SC/13. However, this event did not go ahead as planned as the stress of these ongoing proceedings meant I could not take part in it.

I am currently signed off from work due to problems that I am having. I exhibit proof of this in the form of my doctor's authorisation as exhibit SC/14. These proceedings have taken a large part in the deterioration of my health, by way of the stress caused.

I will now comment on the incidents that I am alleged to have been involved in and that form the substance of the complaint that has been laid against me.

On the 07th April 2013, I was going out with my friends and I had some off-road bikes in the back of my van. I was looking forward to this day, and it had been arranged for a Sunday. We were waiting at Ellesmore Road when the police stopped my van outside my friends. Ellesmore Road is a house on a housing estate. I do not see how this is relevant to proceedings for an anti-social behaviour order; in addition, the prosecution offered no evidence in respect of the charges that were brought even though they were reliant on police witnesses. I had been wrongfully arrested for not having insurance when I was insured to drive. I did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the 7th April 2013.

Like a hurricane, they kept on tucking into me; while forcibly Ripping, me apart: -

By the next date in reference being a quarter of the way through

2013

I say that things had become a constant vision to me of the metropolitan police always bullying me, they would never, stop intimidating me, it had become so bad that it had become a "reality" the police just would not stop harassing me, victimising me, labelling me, right up until the last final moments that I have to live to take my last final breaths of air and then end up straight after, as getting claimed as a dead body. On the members of the metropolitan police force yet again pulled me over to stop me in my car, the reason given to me for being stopped by them while in my car, got explained to be; - This error occurred; because my vehicle insurance was still not showing up on the metropolitan police computer systems. When checked it stated that I never got insured and that in some circumstances, different on duty police officers, were having problems with being updated correctly, betraying to them, that I might not have insurance to drive. I had insurance at these different times; as any reader of this report would also understand to be true, as well by now; it was simple for the police on this occasion to handle this incident; In a fair manner of law, to accept there was an error on the police and or the MID database and this was at no fault of my own but as in most cases with the police this did not happen. This inelegance on the police national computers got put into place due to me prior being, incorrectly, stopped, so many times beforehand, by random representing police officers of the law. In the start of the case the police used a summons against me, so to take me to court also, which I never receive, adding, even more complications to my daily surprises; I was later to find out that the judge who heard my case at the court, found me guilty in my absence and after his or her hand, he or she added more driving points to my driving licence and another fine. A fine got issued in this case by the judge, I and others worked hard, for us to get the case reopened in co Hurst towards the rest of the court cases, that I got imposed too. In the final stages of the court case I ended up showing the court my insurance, so I won the case.

The Points did finally get removed of my driving licence and the fine ended up being revoked; coincidentally.

The start of the Bianca Road Case for the Gazebo: --

A Gary cloud was hovering slowly over my head: -

Another event took place with members of the Metropolitan police and this was on the date of;
04/05/2013

On this day a private party took place on Bianca Road South London and now day of the so-called Gazebo case got referred to by the police as a burglary case.

The weather on the day was: --

The Bianca Road Case for the Gazebo The Day & Night of the Birthday Party

As it was a nice day in the beginning of May; it got arranged in advance, to the date mentioned, for a private get together to take place. It got sorted out amongst people, so in order that we support our friend and this was in a satisfactory and plausible reason, it was her Birthday, so the party got agreed to get started and with this all explained so to be able to show that the day got set with good intentions. Without doubt, I met this friend while attending a few parties in the past, to this date; from the moment I met her, she is always there for any other person's, she could help. In myself trying to explain her personality, I would gladly, say: — she has a heart of gold. On her birthday, I agreed to accept to help her, because I wanted to get involved in her birthday party.

She asked me if I could help her may be supply or all of the sound equipment on the day, so I said yes to her request. The party took place, this was in an outdoor location and the police attended and asked for the party location to get moved on, so for the party to be in a new location. Agreement's got made for this to happen and it proceeded to get moved as agreed. To sum up the incident about my friend, whose birthday parties had got arranged, at the same time in life she was living under adverse possession, this got done by her being in compliance; with the United Kingdom's, Treaties and Acts of law she was living in the statue to her legal rights and because of these reasons given the party then got finally moved on to where she was living at the Bianca road; originally. The ladies' birthday that got too happened, did not live alone at the time and as a consequence to this information; she was part of an occupation and for this reason, she had to communicate to an agreement, with her housemates, this got done and it got agreed, so for her party to continue to take place in her home, otherwise, the party could not have gone ahead, due to every person(s) considerations, of their belongings, the simple reason being so for them all to get kept safe. The party went ahead with no Problems and just the usual occasional pop up by the police presence after their request to get moved on from the outside open to air location, so at the end of the party and after having as much of a good time as I could with all my friends I then left and went back to my home.

Back to the Future: --

In around the same term of time that would equal towards “five past months,” I was at my home address, when I noticed an unexpected knock on my home front door. On answering the door, I was to find out, that it was the police and I felt uncomfortable, I remember thinking this was another repeat of the police harassing me. I got arrested for suspicion of burglary and handling some stolen goods. The police came to my home and taken my own garden gazebo that got assembled by me about a year prior, they took it from my own back garden there was not much I could do, I was later to find out they believed it possible, to have got stolen somehow, someway, I later I found out, from the occupied building for my friend birthday got held at Bianca Road. Subsequently, after a year on bail I suffered because!

Debra!

Debra keeps on knocking at my flat's front door in 24 hours a day to day basis and this is becoming more than appreciated by myself I had become concerned at what she was doing to me on a daily basis and kept asking others for help, she had no remorse for her actions towards me. Debbie Came to my flat asking to borrow money again in the sum of £10, when intoxicated with drink and her vocabulary was that off slurred speech, she stayed reasonably polite: the money got granted to her that she asked for.

Dear Sir or Madam

I have emailed your court on a number of occasions regarding my conviction and sentence for no insurance. I am making this request to have my case listed in order that I can do the following;

1. Application to set aside the conviction

2. Reopen the case Application to set aside the conviction: On

22nd July 2012

I was stopped and given a producer by the police as they did not believe that I held a valid policy of insurance. I attended the police station and I was advised that my case would be going to court and I would be summonsed in due course. I never received any summons in relation to this matter and I only became aware that the case had been dealt with in my absence when I received a letter from the DVLA advising me that I had to send in my driving licence. I disputed with the DVLA the points but I was given an ultimatum that if I did not send in my licence it would be revoked. I therefore had no choice but to send in my licence. I immediately contacted the Court by telephone and I was advised to send an email. I sent in a number of emails and I have been given a number of emails but I have not received any confirmation from the court. I forwarded a copy of my insurance policy to the court and again this was ignored. The offence of no insurance was allegedly committed on

22/07/2012

22nd July 2012.

I had a valid policy of insurance from 23/03/2012

23rd March 2012

and this policy was valid until

22nd February 2013

The company insuring me was Tradex Insurance Company Limited. I am the named policy holder, Mr. Simon Cordell and my policy number are L/WST/MTP/0192359. I have points on my licence which I should not have. Can you please as a matter of urgency email me back on this matter so that I can have a date so that the conviction can be set aside and my case heard in order that I can show the court my insurance and the PLO can make the necessary enquiries. Once this has happened, I would be grateful if the court could email the DVLA to advise them that the points have been issued in error and the fine be set aside also. This matter is urgent and is dragging on. I cannot resolve this matter until the case is listed before either a District Judge or Magistrates so I would appreciate your cooperation. I am very disappointed that you have ignored all my emails. This is causing me stress. Can you now please resolve this legal matter by listing the case for an application to set aside the conviction?

I can then forward my documents to the relevant prosecuting authority. I await hearing from you in relation to this matter and I thank you in advance for your anticipated co-operation in this matter.

Yours faithfully

Simon Cordell

Disrepair!

I treat the council officials with a fair reverence in the notion that they will act in a natural manner when dealing with incident relating to their clients and in this case me but I do not get treated with the same curiosity back, when asking for the disrepairs to get fixed within my rented home and in turn making me doubt my own referred words!

Lorraine

There are many ways to skin a cat. Having thought about Simon's other case it may be better to wait until the hearing as we may be able to make representation to the prosecutor on the day in question that Simon did have a valid insurance policy and the data base could not be accessed. There were no warning markers re the van. The whole reason for the stop of the vehicle had to be ascertained as why was he stopped in the first place, if not for no insurance then for what?

I can refer them to the case re possession of the bladed article. Basically, I will argue that but for his van being seized for no insurance for which he was not guilty and could have brought his insurance to the station on a producer then the public order offence would not have been committed. We will play it by ear, I think.

Once put in receipt of true official evidence of the disrepair problems towards my flat the Enfield Council and the Enfield Homes act temerarious with disregard towards the quandaries that I do mention about and that are of the utmost of emergency concerns, and this lack of obligation of care is at my loss of life without any erroneous doings from myself!

Ponders End!

Helping, a homeless friend, in his time of need I got contacted by a friend, who was living at 204 High Street Ponders End EN3 4EZ: --

It must get Scary for those involved, who are the true instigators and ends up even scarier for those people that they truly, affect. This is the commencement off another day of my life that somehow got added wrongfully into the Anti-Social Behaviour Order case files, as perhaps, it got added in error by police. Part of the reason it got added in error is; Cases like this one can only get added into the on goings of the Anti-Social Behaviour Order case files or any other case files, as a case reference, as to the time limitation Act 1980, which states, a case must get applied six months from the incident, to which this case was not. It is incorrect for the police to allege, that on the

and I was looking for venues in which to hold an illegal rave, so they or it could go ahead, I disputed their accusations at the time and still do to date, I knew that I never committed the crime, so I understood for them not to be true and this got worse as a result of this not being me. I got contacted by a friend, who was living at 204 High Street Ponders End EN3 4EZ, also known as the Old Police Station at Ponders End, as he and some others, were homeless, so was living and living under a section 144 and needed money to get loaned to them, plus I in enjoyed being around them, so to do this, I headed towards 204 High Street, to park the vehicle I was driving. I decided the best option for me, was to drive down an alleyway that I always knew to be there, the reason I knew this, is that there was once upon a time a car park behind the two well-known landmarks, that were once and still are present. one of them buildings, has now got demolished, so that the land can get redeveloped and got known as the name of the old ponders End police station and the second building being named as the Kinder Garden Centre, I believe many people also probably, know the well-known landmarks, who may live in and around the surrounding areas, who could also be able to remember them. I personally understand the area well, as this is where I have lived all of my life, so I understood about the car park that was at the back of the two well-known landmarks. Being, from the area meant I also knew that no civilian drivers can park on the high road, because of the double yellow lines or other restrictions, what are or were in place, so I parked in the back-car park like I have done many times before. I believe the police saw my car as I took a right turn to drive down to where I intended to stop; the police had followed me straight away after they see me, because I see them pay attention to me, as I drove past them. What I remember is that of myself locking the vehicle I was driving in as the police approached me. The police were now standing by my side and this is normal for me, their presence is so normal. Where the police have pulled me over so many times before in an addition to this, I just got ready for their police procedures, as I knew that they would want to search me, I was right the police searched me and my car, the police said they done this because they thought that they smelt a strong smell of cannabis. As always, I consented to this search to proceed. The police cannot dispute this knowledge of them police officers that had approached me and who stopped me, as I just got out of my car, or how would they have said the car smelt strongly, of cannabis, and this is to explain, in their police statements, as they do. Even more to this, was the reason to why the police officers gave me the conditions of search and their consent form due to being searched by themselves. In an addition, there had been nothing done wrong with my part once everything got clarified to be true of me. When the official police officers, checked me and my car, I have done nothing wrong, so nothing ever got found. I emphasize, as an effect, to what took place, the police watched me leave straight after, completing their procedures, so as an effect of these on going's; after talking to the police, we all dispersed and the police see me head back towards my home.

Please take note to the picture above and that of the building on the far right being the old police station, you cannot see the front vehicle entrance as it is in the far right of the picture and is the only entrance. The alleyway in the middle is where I drove my car down and stopped there is no rear entrance to the police station from the ally as there is two other running companies in-between and to the far right is another running company.

It is alleged that Mr Simon Cordell was looking for venues in which illegal raves could be held, on 24/05/2013

24th May 2013

Mr Simon Cordell dispute's this. He will state that he had been contacted by a friend called Joshua, who was living at 204 High Street Ponders End EN3 4EZ, also known as the Old Police Station at Ponders End, as he and some others were homeless, so was living and residing under section 144. as Mr Simon Cordell was driving towards 204 High Street, he drove his car down the alleyway so that he could park the vehicle he was in, He parked between two well-known land marks, which is where many people who do live in an around the surrounding areas would be able to remember as the old ponders End police station next to the Kinder Garden Centre. Mr Cordell states he knows the area very well as this is where he has lived all of his life, so he knew about the car park at the back of the two well-known landmarks, as he states you cannot park on the high road, because of the double yellow lines or other restrictions. He had parked there before, he states he believes and knows that the police saw his car as he began to take a right turn to be able to drive down to where he intended to stop, he knew the police had followed him, as he had seen them pay attention to himself as he had driven past.

Mr Cordell does remember clearly that of himself locking his vehicle as the police approached him and now was standing by his side. He states that this is normal for him and over the years of his life he has become use to the police approaching him for numerous accusations, so that has also made him used to their presents, Mr Simon Cordell states that that this is so normal for him, so he got ready for the police procedures, as they said they wanted to search him and his car because the police believed that the car he was driving smelt strongly of cannabis, Mr Simon Cordell sates that he would always consented to this. He is sure of his statements of facts and that the police cannot dispute this, that of the police officers that had approached him and who had stopped him as he had just got out of my car, or how would they have said his car smelt strongly of cannabis, which is the reason that the police officers gave him the conditions of search and their consent form due to a search of himself and that of his vehicle that he was driving.

Mr Simon Cordell will state; "that he had not done anything wrong and nothing was found on his person or in his car." Mr Simon Cordell will dispute making any comments about being able to attract people to illegal raves and illegal 3-day events, what reason would he have had to say this. Mr Simon Cordell will state to the applicant that he was a visitor to the location of interest, due to a call from a friend who asked if Mr Simon Cordell could loan him some money for food. He will also include that he did not cause any Anti-Social Behaviour on the

24th May 2013

Mr Simon Cordell does not know what Joshua said to the police, as he was never with Joshua. Mr Simon Cordell does not know why Joshua would have said to the police that he was his lawyer, or if Joshua said this at all to police. Mr Simon Cordell has tried to get hold of Joshua to make a statement for this case, but due to him being homeless, it has been very hard. As far as he is aware the building was being occupied by people to live in, he states he does not know anything Joshua said to police about know any think about a rave. Mr Simon Cordell did not manage to visit him on this day. At no point is Mr Simon Cordell being accused of acting in an anti-social manner on this date, or by any members of the public inclusive of members of the police, neither was he arrested.

Subject: Regina v. Simon Cordell for application to clarify bail conditions and vary bail conditions on 16/07/2013

Tuesday 16th July 2013

Dear Sir or Madam

We act on behalf of our above-named client under the terms of a legal representation order. Our client's matter was listed at Woolwich Crown Court for a preliminary hearing and an application to vary our client's bail conditions. The Learned Judge on that occasion refused to deal with the application to vary bail and raised issues regarding why the surety was not present. He removed the surety requirement and our understanding is that our client was admitted to bail on the same terms as before. A number of issues have now arisen as a result of this. Serco attended to insert an electronic tag and this was never a condition of our client's bail when he was granted bail by Woolwich Crown Court but a curfew with a door step condition was imposed. Our client explained this to Serco who left. We clarified that this information was accurate by reviewing the advocate's attendance note from 10th July and also receiving verbal confirmation from Mr Lemos to further verify this. When our client went to report to Edmonton Police Station in compliance with his bail conditions, he was arrested for breaching his bail in that he refused Serco entry to install the electronic monitoring equipment. This was on

13th July 2013

Fortunately, our client was able to produce a copy of the bail notice from Woolwich Crown Court and also a copy of the advocate's court attendance notes who attended on 13th July 2013. He was released. Ms Cordell contacted Serco and advise Jo badge number 3072 of this development and Serco will now wait until

16/07/2013

Tuesday 16th July 2013

to receive clarification from the court. Can you please list this case tomorrow?

16th July 2013

in order that matters can be clarified. We thank you in advance for your assistance in this matter and we await clarification of this.

Yours faithfully

MICHAEL CARROLL & CO.

There are some cases where the person involved in the re-opening matter does not need to attend court but in all cases people should be informed of the date of hearing, not sure this was not done in this case, but as long as the outcome was right for you, I am pleased to hear that.

Adults

The Care Act 2014 states there is a duty to undertake the safeguarding of adults where a local authority has reasonable cause to suspect that an adult in its area has need of care and support, or is experiencing, or is at risk of, abuse or neglect, and is unable to protect himself or herself against the abuse or neglect or the risk of it. The need to safeguard and promote the welfare; along with protecting a vulnerable subject is paramount and I believe in keeping with the directions in the Care Act 2014, the health, safety and wellbeing of the subject outweighs the public interest risk of not sharing this information

Level 3 -Amber: when complex needs are likely to require longer term intervention from Social Services.

At about this point in time, I would say; that it must have slowly been coming up to the end, of the first eight years of my life, while living at Burncroft Avenue. These last few past chapters are to describe the first few years while I have lived in Burncroft Avenue. It must be about that time, for me to go into some 2nd phase of my life time's chapters, containing more of the finer exclusive details, of the truth. I got arrested on this date the:

and remanded to prison till the 28/06/2013

This was the start of everything going wrong for me and I got locked up for a back-garden gazebo court case, from the date prior off Bianca road at the private birthday party that I helped with, what got dated the

04/05/2013

as explained about in chapter 1232323.

A few more months later after the 04/05/2013

I got placed on police stringent bail conditions, which meant, I could not leave my home, this persisted to continue to happen, because on the

the police came to my home address, and they arrested me for improper allegations, related to a suspected criminal offence of burglary, to which I knew I did not commit. Unfairly, the police charged me, legally how, I do not know and as a continuation off this allegation I soon after got remanded to go to prison, as a Summary to the reasons of why this happened to me, an explanation later got then given and was; due to incorrect police intelligence that is now contained in a copy of my criminal record. I later on found out for it to be in error under the data protection act 1998 and therefore wrong information that got contained on the police national Computer system, about myself "PNC." This is easy for me to prove that I am correct and this is still getting addressed to date, of me writing this. Gonging to prison on remand, meant to me that things just could not get any worse, I got taken to London's Centerville prison, at Her Majesties Pleasure and I still had done nothing wrong, then I got placed in the prison on fours and to any one that does not know what I mean by the fours, you will have to contemplate on the correct answer yourselves, I got kept in there for two whole nights', for me to later get released by the Judge and chambers, on bail conditions. The bail conditions got imposed against me, so, I could get granted bail from after being released from prison by the Judge, were because: --

1. The amount of the surety in the sum of one thousand pounds and this must get provided from An Ms and this is to get surrendered to the nearest Police Station, — prior to Mr S Cordell is being release from Custody.
2. Home Residence, to be @ Burncroft Road, Enfield, EN3 7JQ.
3. Not to enter the London Borough of Southwark.
4. Surrender my Passport to the nearest Police Station.
5. Report daily to Edmonton Police between the hours of 1400 – 1600. 6. Curfew 8pm — 6am this is to be a (doorstep condition — I the Defendant should show myself to any officer upon their requests.)

Gonging to prison on remand, meant to me that things just could not get any worse, I got taken to London's Pentonville prison, at Her Majesties Pleasure and I still had done nothing wrong, then I got placed in the prison on fours and to any one that does not know what I mean by the fours, you will have to contemplate on the correct answer yourselves, I got kept in there for two whole nights', for me to later get released by the Judge and chambers, on bail conditions.

The Facts

I will now state the facts and they are that the police knew I could not have done any think of the sort too what they were saying and the errors on the police PNC database caused me to go to prison, and I fell victim to how I was being treated by the courts, because of what was being told to the judge by the police and CPS and, this is also inclusive of the time leading to how long the case had taken due to myself not getting disclosure from the police after the judge ordered it, we did not get disclosed until the trial date. The reason the prosecution would not give disclosure was it because they knew by giving me it, they would have got the case dismissed much earlier and this happened for reasons such as the information I and my family had obtained. I could do nothing with my company and lost loads of contracts due to the bail conditions I was under knowing I had done nothing wrong so to get put under these conditions. Due to how much the police had kept tarnishing my life when I had not done anything wrong; this caused stress in my long-time relationship till we had to depart from one and other, as she and I could not take know more of the police harassment. The case took over a year to deal with, as the CPS would not give the disclosed that me and my solicitors requested thought, this never got given after the judge had ordered it to happen himself, and he told the prosecution to provide us with our request. This case got dismissed in and got acquitted before the trial could start. The facts of the gazebo case at Bianca road is simple; the police knew I could have done nothing of the sort they themselves blamed me for. Errors on the police PNC database all about my criminal recorded had wrongfully caused me to go to prison and because of these issues I felt like a victim to how I was being treated, by the courts and this is to further put it another way, because of what got told to the judge by the police and the CPS, caused the period that this court case ended up getting left to eclipse for escalating to a far much longer time scale than ever would be necessary. Due to me not getting disclosed from the police even after the judge had ordered the information to get passed over, I still did not get given it in a timely manner that I had requested to get disclosed. The court case ended up taking far much longer than a year until it got rightfully dropped. This meant that I was invariably on police bail conditions "curfew," wrongfully for over a year.

My Sound System: --

When doing, my sound system up at my home address while on bail; I used as much of the time given to me by the courts; to my best abilities and advantage, as for the bail conditions placed on me, for the gazebo case at Woolwich Crown Court, so I committed my time to repairing some available equipment, that I had already purchased for my running company's needs. On this occasion when I looked on Google and when I was also using, YouTube, I came across a video clip, what showed somebody's vehicle being 3D mapped; so, I decided to do further studies towards this topic and invest in the equipment, I needed to obtain, so to induce this new technology into my sound system; funny another, this meant, I ended up purchasing a sewing machine and this got done inclusively, of the digital equipment and materials, I wanted to have, so to do the correct job. Once I managed to get prepare everything needed, I took my first steps in completing my new goal. While in my own back garden at my home, I stood and painted the speaker box's in the sunny hot days and still using any additional time that I got left over to work while I got kept indoors to work in my front room, I Debbie Andrews kept watching me out of her front room window while I worked. I played with the sawing bobbing and sewing needles, this was easy for me to do as I have always enjoyed sawing. The rest came naturally, too me with the help and good advice of other past prior assemblers, in completing my missions, I got flabbergasted at the effects that I had achieved and could not wait to show others. Shortly, after the first days of August, I finished doing my modifications, so I moved the sound system back to another location, fort it to get kept safe, I believe at this time given, that I oversee the right amount of respect got given towards others in completing my goals and made sure that I did not upset a person.

Building A Festival

I always found myself, at home, and this was a lot more than usual and the reason for this was; because of the court case. Changing to a different topic, I knew Debbie to have serious Mental Health problems, so I kept a reasonable close eye on her well-being within the time we got along, while this was going on, beforehand and after hand, at different times, Debbie used to come to mine and my first civil partner front door, asking to borrow money from us, as she did on this day at around the time of 01:33PM, she was always drunk with slurred words, this was not a big problem at first, on most occasions if me and my partner could help, "we would help," this is as we believed any person should help their neighbours, like if we saw her trying to carry her shopping up to her flat, as the man; I would help her carry it up to her front door as assume this is the right action to take. Only ever once, did I ever go into her flat and this was only for five minutes to help her!

I believe She'd only done these things to me because she was lonely, as can get read about in this report/ book, after me and my first civil partner ended, sadly on

Debbie came down to my flat more and more frequently, she was trying to bring me alcoholic drinks and still asking me for money, in a summary, as if I was getting stalked by her, I never let Debbie inside my flat whenever she knocked on my front door. Sometimes, the hard liquor she would try to bring me, I believed was in return for the money I supported her with, as previously said I would never take the drinks of her, this was because I do not drink alcoholic substances regularly. I always tried to do my best to advise her to stop buying hooch and spirits this was inclusive of asking her to stop drinking it. On the whole and shockingly mine and Debbie's problems started soon after she had sent me numerous ID of peculiar letters, she had done this once she had realized that I was single. I still have those letters of her to date, most of them letters to invite me into her home and it seems from me reading them letters that most of them she had written had got done, while she got intoxicated with drink. For the right reasons, I kept our friendship as it had been for all the five years prior to what I had known her for, "as dated as" and politely declined her offers, of a closer friendship. I remember this memory well, as I was going through the court proceedings of the burglary case, at the same time.

It is unbelievable that I am still supposed to live in the flat with such deplorable damp and cold conditions!

There has also been squatting in the building for some time and again also other units within them roads. Still trying to get other dates of parties that were held there within the last year at the building Simon sound system was hire in. Also, the writing on the wall in which they say Simon done the Burglary he wants someone to test it to show he never wrote it. Which will prove also he did not do that damage.

I had to attend to the court, and this was for the case at Woolwich Crown Court for the gazebo case that took place at Bianca road for my friend's Birthday party. While in the Courtroom it got said that my Mother needed to attend to the court due to the surety she had placed down towards my bail, but on this day, she was in hospital, because she was having an operation. The judge was horrid towards me when he raised his points of law about my mother; who was acting as surety still and her not being at the courthouse, so for her to confirm the position of yet again surety! In the courthouse the judge got informed by me and my acting solicitor that my mother had not declined the positions of surety against me, from still being in place. My mother was in hospital and should never have got ordered by the acting judge; so that she must attend to court or I will get detained, as the surety is continuous from the prior occasions. The judge did not agree and said as the surety got taken at the police station, as ordered by the prior judge that she would need to attend court to reconfirm her position as surety. This is wrong in law and despite me putting a relevant authority; off Choudhry v Birmingham, at the Crown Court before his honour, which is clear on this point of law. Finally, and after much desiccation the judge accept that we were right, this got done by him to all of us present. After this debate the judge continued to say to my barrister that me; His client, has escaped custody by “the skin of his teeth.” I was yet again, put in fear for my freedom being taken away from me and this got done for no fair reason. The court case then got put over for the trial date, that had got set to get heard.

Debra!

When I arrived back at my home after attending the court house for the Court hearing I found another letter of Debbie that had been wrote while she had got drunk.

Debra / Moving Bed!

Debbie asked me to go into her bedroom: -- In the days to follow I noticed that outside of my flat, I could hear the wind howling through the streets, as the sun was trying to come out to play, while I was still trying to stay safe inside of my home. By this time Debra's fire was nearly out, in this instance, Debra Andrews had knocked on my front door but instead of asking the normal question "like can she borrow some money" she had asked the question of whether I can help her by moving her bed out of her flat, I remember having to agree to help her, so I went upstairs to her flat for the first time and only time. When I entered, I noticed that she had been finding life hard, she had not managed to keep her flat to a high level of standard of hygiene and I could smell the odour of cider that she had been consuming, I politely hurried to complete the job that I had agreed to do for her then in hand and quickly made my way back home. After that day, I did always feel like she took an offence for not spending more of my time with her, as she knew I was a single man by then.

Please see barrister's court attendance note. Mr Lemosa has no recollection of a tag being mentioned but does recall a doorstep condition. However, if Serco have court paperwork then he will have to allow them access as they could call police to have arrested for breach of bail. I will list for bail variation next week.

As for the Q and A records from PC Almy there is a lot he has lied about. Simon did say to him that he brought a job lot of 5 chairs and 5 gazebos this is a fact. But he also said the Gazebo that was in his garden was brought from focus along with another thing he got for his kitchen. Also, none of the PC have said that me and Sheila was at the address we got there just after Simon let the police in this should have been noted and has not by any officer. I know they are meant to ask and note anyone that comes to the address when they are there. As for the Nokia phone I was the one that told the police I got it from Tesco for Simon. Also, no colleagues secured the dog Simons put the dog out before he let the police in. Also if you look at PC Almy statement where he said Simon was going to set the dog on them, then look at PC golden you see that both are saying something else if it was the case Simon had said he was going to set the dog on them it would have been in both statements. As should have been all the Q and A from PC Almy statements why is it the case all this is only listed on 1 statement when all officers should have heard what was said. We also have the receipt from the guy at the party, I through Simon had given it to you the other day he must have forgot. He is looking for the receipt from Focus still. But it must be somewhere at mine or his.

Please find attached copies of the following: Advance information. You will no doubt note that there is no detailed loser statement setting out the stock that was actually stolen, however there are a number of very unhelpful Q and A's recorded in the statement of PC Almy. These were also signed by Simon. Can you please as a matter of urgency locate the receipt for the gazebo in the garden so that we can deal with this issue at trial. I will need confirmation of this so that I can include this in the defence case statement. I am on annual leave as of 3pm today but I am hoping to access my email when I am away so please feeling free to email me if there are any issues and questions that you have regarding this matter.

Hi Jose

I just wanted to update you to something that has come to light about this case. The party that happened in the building that they say that Simon done the burglary in on May, on the people at that party was also meant to be done for burglary which does go to show the damage to the building was there on the 18/02/2013

18th Feb 2013

so how then can they do Simon for all this when they already know the damage to the building in Feb and that people were arrested for it. I am going to try and get some name of the people in Feb that were arrested and I will keep you updated.

Establishing My Entertainment Company: --

Up until, date and still while on these bail conditions, I continue to work hard on establishing an Entertainment Company and this includes: -

1. Designing and building my Website T.S with much help of others people.
2. Building a T.S company Management system as required for my work.
3. Establish new contracts with already established large and small cooperative companies, to which I managed to do well for one instance, I met a friend at a private party and lucky for me he offered me more work, at a new and upcoming festival in Barth, so I accepted and the date has got set for

13—14/07/2013

All I have to do is go to court and get my bail conditions ferried, “verified” so I planned and organised this and the court date got set for the 16/07/2013

I and the gentlemen who offered me the work continued to keep contact with each other through emails.

4. To Network among new and old social peers.
5. As soon as the day arrives, I am then on my way to; Woolwich Crown Court for the gazebo case that took place at Bianca road for my friend’s Birthday party.

Please find attached copies of the following: Advance Information You will no doubt note that there is no detailed loser statement setting out the stock that was actually stolen, however there are a number of very unhelpful Q and A's recorded in the statement of PC Almy. These were also signed by Simon. Can you please as a matter of urgency locate the receipt for the gazebo in the garden so that we can deal with this issue at trial. I will need confirmation of this so that I can include this in the defence case statement. Subject: Regina v. Simon Cordell for application to clarify bail conditions and vary bail conditions on

Dear Sir or Madam

We act on behalf of our above-named client under the terms of a legal representation order. Our client's matter was listed at Woolwich Crown Court for a preliminary hearing and an application to vary our client's bail conditions. The Learned Judge on that occasion refused to deal with the application to vary bail and raised issues regarding why the surety was not present. He removed the surety requirement and our understanding is that our client was admitted to bail on the same terms as before. A number of issues have now arisen as a result of this. Serco attended to insert an electronic tag and this was never a condition of our client's bail when he was granted bail by Woolwich Crown Court but a curfew with a door step condition was imposed. Our client explained this to Serco who left. We clarified that this information was accurate by reviewing the advocate's attendance note from and also receiving verbal confirmation from Mr Lemos to further verify this. When our client went to report to Edmonton Police Station in compliance with his bail conditions, he was arrested for breaching his bail in that he refused Serco entry to install the electronic monitoring equipment. This was on

13th July 2013

Fortunately, our client was able to produce a copy of the bail notice from Woolwich Crown Court and also a copy of the advocate's court attendance notes who attended on

13th July 2013.

He was released. Ms Cordell contacted Serco and advise Jo badge number 3072 of this development and Serco will now wait until

to receive clarification from the court. Can you please list this case tomorrow?

16th July 2013

in order that matters can be clarified. We thank you in advance for your assistance in this matter and we await clarification of this.

Dear Lorraine & Simon

Please see attached the crime scene photographs. They do not add anything to the case. The attached statements however confirm that the police were aware that there were squatters in the premises and this contradicts the statement of the Inspector. I think that a Saturday office appointment will be better at my office. I will confirm the time on Saturday morning as I have another two clients attending also. I am on a legal visit in the morning and then I have a conference at Wood Green Crown Court.

As for the Q and A records from PC Almy there is a lot he has lied about. Simon did say to him that he brought a job lot of 5 chairs and 5 gazebos this is a fact. But he also said the Gazebo that was in his garden was brought from focus along with another thing he got for his kitchen. Also, none of the PC have said that me and Sheila was at the address we got there just after Simon let the police in this should have been noted and has not by any officer. I know they are meant to ask and note anyone that comes to the address when they are there. As for the Nokia phone I was the one that told the police I got it from Tesco for Simon. Also, no colleagues secured the dog Simons put the dog out before he let the police in. Also if you look at PC Almy statement where he said Simon was going to set the dog on them, then look at PC golden you see that both are saying something else if it was the case Simon had said he was going to set the dog on them it would have been in both statements. As should have been all the Q and A from PC Almy statements why is it the case all this is only listed on 1 statement when all officers should have heard what was said. We also have the receipt from the guy at the party, I through Simon had given it to you the other day he must have forgot.

He is looking for the receipt from Focus still. But it must be somewhere at mine or his.

App for a variation in bail

“Refused!”

Application for a variation in bail: --

It was the

16th July

and the courthouse was hot and full of many people the time was; 2:10pm and I had arrived 30 minutes earlier than needed, as I wanted to get the case resolved in my favour. when asking the court clerk of the courtroom I got told that I was to be standing in the courtroom with his honour HHJP. So, rock would stand the application for a variation in bail for the case files. This was an application for a Bail Variation due to my work commitments and I was to get told that the Judge would not allow for the Bail Variation to get granted and enforced for me to continue business in my profession I must sublet out my company. My life's hard work subleased out to other people to run and without me present. I explained about many other new job contracts I had obtained and that was to be coming up and provided evidence to support these truths of mine. I explained how I had prior managed to get these contracts and how the bail conditions were stopping me from running ligament business opportunities to the judge and the Crown Prosecution. I also showed the Judge a lot of different evidence like my T.S website that I was paying for and had already invested a lot of money and time of effort to get built, this included the “T.s charity section and needed documentation.” Many people had been building, this T.S website for me and other to succeed well in and out of life, as the police were well aware of. Included in the provided documentation that got submitted to the judge and to the prosecutor was a lot of different contracts for work, this included jobs such as; Ponders End Festival that got held on the

26—27/08/2013

I expressed to his honour that as a starting company that I could not offer to pay for the well needed additional trained staff, so for them to take my role and that I have to leave a lot of different pieces of expensive equipment on sites, such as generators that power the site. He still ordered to me that I still needed to attend back to court for the trial and reinstated that I must also subcontract my own companies out to other people to manage.

I went back home after the court case and got left in disrepair, as well as upsets.

Hi Jose

Look really sorry to bother you on holiday, I tried to get Michael to deal with this but he seemed to get very upset. Today we went to Woolwich crown court; the judge did not leave the curfew as you said they may not have when we last talked. But the bail conditions were sorted as far as I was aware, curfew with door step as before. I even got the guy that was sent to get the bail printed out for me which I will add to this email. I later today called Serco to make sure the tag had been lifted but again they told me the court had again said he was on tag, so I called the court and I got a rude lady who said well that's the order I have in front of me when I told her what I had she then replied that well you need to get your solicitors to re list it. I told her that was why it was listed for today but she was still being rude and unhelpful. After I called the office and talked to someone and they called the guy that come to court for Simon, he also told your office it was door step. I was told that due to us having the letter from the court that Simon should not let the tag go on. Worried this was when I called Michael to be honest, he did not seem to care and said something I was not happy with. He said this was your case and he was fucking going to email you to find out what the fuck was going on. I told him not to that you were on holiday he said that does not matter you and your husband are not getting on and you would be happy for the email. I am not hiding the way in which Michael talked to me in fact he was just trying to say tell Simon to put the tag on as it did not matter. And really, I think he was thinking that it was a tag from the start as I sure he was not hearing me right. Should I tell Simon to put the Tag on or not as far as Simon said when I told him what Woolwich had done, he said he was not going to let them put the tag on this is causing me so much headache. And I know they will just arrest him like they tried to do the other day. So, I don't know what to do for the best. But I am really not happy how Michael talked to me. I am sorry to have to email you on holiday this should be some time to enjoy yourself and you do need that with the hours you do.

As for the Q and A records from PC Almy there is a lot he has lied about. Simon did say to him that he brought a job lot of 5 chairs and 5 gazebos this is a fact. But he also said the Gazebo that was in his garden was brought from focus along with another thing he got for his kitchen. Also, none of the PC have said that me and Sheila was at the address we got there just after Simon let the police in this should have been noted and has not by any officer. I know they are meant to ask and note anyone that comes to the address when they are there. As for the Nokia phone I was the one that told the police I got it from Tesco for Simon. Also, no colleagues secured the dog Simons put the dog out before he let the police in. Also if you look at PC Almy statement where he said Simon was going to set the dog on them, then look at PC golden you see that both are saying something else if it was the case Simon had said he was going to set the dog on them it would have been in both statements. As should have been all the Q and A from PC Almy statements why is it the case all this is only listed on 1 statement when all officers should have heard what was said. We also have the receipt from the guy at the party, I through Simon had given it to you the other day he must have forgot. He is looking for the receipt from Focus still. But it must be somewhere at mine or his.

Lorraine

PS when we Simon know the time for the listing in court tomorrow do you know yet.

Please find attached copies of the following: Advance Information You will no doubt note that there is no detailed loser statement setting out the stock that was actually stolen, however there are a number of very unhelpful Q and A's recorded in the statement of PC Almy. These were also signed by Simon. Can you please as a matter of urgency locate the receipt for the gazebo in the garden so that we can deal with this issue at trial. I will need confirmation of this so that I can include this in the defence case statement. I am on annual leave as of 3pm today but I am hoping to access my email when I am away so please feel-free to email me if there are any issues and questions that you have regarding this matter.

I am writing this letter as I still do not have a court date to clear this matter up and I still have points on my licence which I should not have due to this. I do understand that in your reply to my email you had a backlog but had passed on the paper to have the case re opened. Subject: Wrongful conviction and request to set aside the conviction and reopen the case

Dear Sir or Madam

I have emailed your court on a number of occasions regarding my conviction and sentence for no insurance. I am making this request to have my case listed in order that I can do the following;:

1. Application to set aside the conviction
2. Reopen the case

Application to set aside the conviction: On

22nd July 2012

I was stopped and given a producer by the police as they did not believe that I held a valid policy of insurance. I attended the police station and I was advised that my case would be going to court and I would be summonsed in due course. I never received any summons in relation to this matter and I only became aware that the case had been dealt with in my absence when I received a letter from the DVLA advising me that I had to send in my driving licence. I disputed with the DVLA the points but I was given an ultimatum that if I did not send in my licence it would be revoked. I therefore had no choice but to send in my licence. I immediately contacted the Court by telephone and I was advised to send an email. I sent in a number of emails and I have been given a number of emails but I have not received any confirmation from the court. I forwarded a copy of my insurance policy to the court and again this was ignored. The offence of no insurance was allegedly committed on

22nd July 2012

I had a valid policy of insurance from

23rd March 2012

The company insuring me was Tradex Insurance Company Limited. I am the named policy holder, Mr. Simon Cordell and my policy number are L/WST/MTP/0192359. I have points on my licence which I should not have. Can you please as a matter of urgency email me back on this matter so that I can have a date so that the conviction can be set aside and my case heard in order that I can show the court my insurance and the PLO can make the necessary enquiries. Once this has happened, I would be grateful if the court could email the DVLA to advise them that the points have been issued in error and the fine be set aside also. This matter is urgent and is dragging on. I cannot resolve this matter until the case is listed before either a District Judge or Magistrates so I would appreciate your cooperation. I am very disappointed that you have ignored all my emails. This is causing me stress. Can you now please resolve this legal matter by listing the case for an application to set aside the conviction? I can then forward my documents to the relevant prosecuting authority. I await hearing from you in relation to this matter and I thank you in advance for your anticipated co-operation in this matter.

Yours faithfully

Simon Cordell

28/06/2013.

I did call your offices on the 16/07/2013

to ask if my benefits for housing and council tax was still being paid due to me just finding out my DWP payments had been stopped. I was told on this date they were still being paid and the lady my mum spoke to on the phone told her that due to me having some issue I could get council tax reduction due to mental impairment and that the Lady would send out the paper work. I have put an appeal into the DWP about my claim being stopped and I am waiting to hear from them. Since I got released from prison after one day on the

28/06/2013

I have had nothing to live on I have not got any food or gas or electric at my address for the last few days as it has now run out and I have no way to live until the DWP looks at my appeal.

I called the DWP today

24/07/2013

to see if there is any update on my claim and have been told as of to date there is no update. But they should have something in the next few days, I told them I have no way to live but they cannot speed anything up. They got my letter on the 19/07/2013

but it has yet to be scanned into their system. I am therefore asking if my housing benefit and council tax can be put back into place so there are no missing payments within my claim.

Lorraine

Please find attached copies of the following: Advance Information. You will no doubt note that there is no detailed loser statement setting out the stock that was actually stolen, however there are a number of very unhelpful Q and A's recorded in the statement of PC Almy. These were also signed by Simon. Can you please as a matter of urgency locate the receipt for the gazebo in the garden so that we can deal with this issue at trial. I will need confirmation of this so that I can include this in the defence case statement. I am on annual leave as of 3pm today but I am hoping to access my email when I am away so please feel-free to email me if there are any issues and questions that you have regarding this matter.

Regards

Josephine

Hi Josephine

I am just writing this to get an update on Simon Case he wants to try for bail again on the

when he is next in court. He has done some research and calls and from what he understands the judge is breaking his human rights in not letting him work. Also I need an update as to when he is next in court for the trailer thing when he was at boomtown, I know it is Aug some time but need a date that it is listed for I am sure it's for the case to be heard not sure what stage it is at.

Also, Tyrone case at the police station today has been dropped the police called him and told him it was dropped. Also, I need to get these letters done for his case on the

and I need to find out where he has to call to get the drugs test done. I knew you was busy over the weekend so just left you as I knew you had a lot of work to do after I got your email.

Subject: Simon's case

Hi Lorraine

Winchester Crown Court

This case is in the warned list for

29th August 2013

I am still waiting for Simon to provide witnesses who can corroborate the negotiations between Simon and the "seller" Woolwich Crown Court The main problem in this case is that Simon is unhappy that he is subject to an electronic curfew. As you are aware, I did not request a curfew as I knew that this problem would arise. He was initially given a door step curfew but the Judge changed this to an electronic curfew. This is the preferable option as it is a qualifying curfew and counts half a day towards any custodial sentence, if convicted. The Judge did state an electronic tag as the clerk checked the tapes for what was said. The Judge is within his rights to do this as he will view this as relieving a burden in terms of man power from the police. I cannot challenge this as it is still a curfew.

Bail variation:

Simon has to be realistic in terms of what we can achieve here. One of my obligations as a solicitor is to manage a client's expectations. I will of course make an application to vary Simon's bail conditions but as I stated before I will require emails from Simon from clients requesting that he cover events with quotes given by Simon as to how much he will charge. The smartest way to attempt to get Simon's bail varied is to ask for certain dates as opposed to lifting the curfew altogether as the Judge will not do this. If Simon persists in stating that he is not allowed to work and earn his living then Simon will then have to complete a change in financial circumstances statements for both the Woolwich case and the Winchester case and the court will have to assess his monthly contributions for both cases. At present he does not have to make a contribution as he is in receipt of benefits. I can only properly challenge the evidence in this case when I receive the case papers and then make my requests for secondary disclosure. The court would then be more amenable to an application to remove conditions of bail. I am sorry that Simon feels that his case is not being handled properly. I sent Simon a client care letter at the commencement of this case outlining the complaints procedure. I do not believe that Michael was aware of the calls made by Simon to the office. I tried to deal with Simon's case personally and usually I do. e.g. Going to Birmingham Police Station in 2012, attending home address after his remand from Camberwell Green Magistrates Court to draft bail application. I am not sure what happened when I was on annual leave but based on your email it appears that the complaint should be directed against me as I am the fee earner and I am meant to supervise case workers. Michael is the Principal of the Firm and not the fee earner on this case. The case workers knew I was contactable by email and did not contact me. Michael Carroll has had no dealings with this case. (Since returning from annual leave I have dealt with 2 complex rapes, 3 GBH and a police station duty to date.

I did intend to call at your address this weekend but I was on duty and I had to deal with a complex rape at Colindale on Sunday. This case lasted all day. I can only apologise for this.) If you do not believe that Michael can investigate and deal with your complaint then I must now advise you to address your complaint regarding this matter to Edel Speirits at the West London office. Her email is edel@michaelcarrollandco.com.

If you are not satisfied with her resolution of the complaint then you can then proceed to complain to the Ombudsman. I am sorry that Simon feels this way and I am sorry that you are disappointed in my conduct of this case. Disrepair!

What I expect off the Enfield Council and the Enfield homes, when requesting for my health to get taken into consideration, is a replication that does not make me wait for months in an emergency situation of disrepair and with an expeditious outcome of a constructive impact that resolves the quandaries, but this has not transpired as of yet!

Hi Jose

Simon does not blame you at all he knows you got a lot to do, and knows you do your job he just felt while you were away the office did not have a cue on what to do. He just wanted a reply as to what was going on and that was not happening. And did not in fact know that Michael Company was not involved in his case he was thinking that Michael Company was acting for him so when you went away, they could deal with it which they did not. Michael also has talked to Simon about this on the phone more than once so is aware of this Simon did not like the way in which Michael talked to me or him but the last time, he talked to Michael that was sorted over the phone. Josey, we don't have a problem with you at all. The problem we had was no one was able to deal with anything while you were away and that should not be the case the office should be able to deal with things if you are not around.

Subject: Simon's case

Hi Lorraine

Winchester Crown Court

This case is in the warned list for

29th August 2013.

I am still waiting for Simon to provide witnesses who can corroborate the negotiations between Simon and the "seller". Woolwich Crown Court. The main problem in this case is that Simon is unhappy that he is subject to an electronic curfew. As you are aware, I did not request a curfew as I knew that this problem would arise. He was initially given a door step curfew but the Judge changed this to an electronic curfew. This is the preferable option as it is a qualifying curfew and counts half a day towards any custodial sentence, if convicted. The Judge did state an electronic tag as the clerk checked the tapes for what was said. The Judge is within his rights to do this as he will view this as relieving a burden in terms of man power from the police. I cannot challenge this as it is still a curfew.

Bail variation:

Simon has to be realistic in terms of what we can achieve here. One of my obligations as a solicitor is to manage a client's expectations. I will of course make an application to vary Simon's bail conditions but as I stated before I will require emails from Simon from clients requesting that he cover events with quotes given by Simon as to how much he will charge. The smartest way to attempt to get Simon's bail varied is to ask for certain dates as opposed to lifting the curfew altogether as the Judge will not do this.

have to complete a change in financial circumstances statements for both the Woolwich case and the Winchester case and the court will have to assess his monthly contributions for both cases. At present he does not have to make a contribution as he is in receipt of benefits. I can only properly challenge the evidence in this case when I receive the case papers and then make my requests for secondary disclosure. The court would then be more amenable to an application to remove conditions of bail. I am sorry that Simon feels that his case is not being handled properly. I sent Simon a client care letter at the commencement of this case outlining the complaints procedure. I do not believe that Michael was aware of the calls made by Simon to the office. I tried to deal with Simon's case personally and usually I do. e.g. Going to Birmingham Police Station in 2012, attending home address after his remand from Camberwell Green Magistrates Court to draft bail application. I am not sure what happened when I was on annual leave but based on your email it appears that the complaint should be directed against me as I am the fee earner and I am meant to supervise case workers. Michael is the Principal of the Firm and not the fee earner on this case. The case workers knew I was contactable by email and did not contact me. Michael Carroll has had no dealings with this case. (Since returning from annual leave I have dealt with 2 complex rapes, 3 GBH and a police station duty to date. I did intend to call at your address this weekend but I was on duty and I had to deal with a complex rape at Colindale on Sunday. This case lasted all day. I can only apologise for this.) If you do not believe that Michael can investigate and deal with your complaint then I must now advise you to address your complaint regarding this matter to Edel Speirits at the West London office. Her email is edel@michaelcarrollandco.com.

If you are not satisfied with her resolution of the complaint then you can then proceed to complain to the Ombudsman. I am sorry that Simon feels this way and I am sorry that you are disappointed in my conduct of this case. I will forward this email to Michael Carroll in the morning but if you decide over night that you do not want Michael involved in the complaint and want to include him in the complaint then please confirm this so that I can forward your email to Edel Speirits.

Lorraine / Simon

Please see the barrister's back sheet from the 16th July 2013. This should have been forwarded onto you and would have been by me if it had been emailed to me in Bulgaria. Case workers are not allowed to send over any paperwork on any client file without prior authorisation from the Solicitor with conduct, namely me. I cannot criticise the case workers for this as I am pretty strict on this. If this had been emailed over to me in Bulgaria then I would have emailed on it but as I was on annual leave the case workers viewed this as nonurgent as the Judge refused to vary the conditions. I am also emailing you the client care letter again which outlines the complaints procedure.

Regards

Josephine

PS As indicated when the case papers are served and the secondary disclosure served then it may be possible to make a further attempt to vary bail but at this stage, I do not believe that the Court will entertain it.

I am in the process of getting Simon's correspondence bundle scanned so that this can be emailed to you and Michael Carroll / Edel Speirits. Unfortunately, as Simon has raised a complaint and is considering contacting the Legal Ombudsman then this will now have to be resolved as a matter of urgency. I need confirmation as to whether Simon wants Michael himself, or Edel to investigate the complaint. Again, if Simon can confirm this in writing please so that I can get this matter resolved, hopefully to the satisfaction of all parties. I understand that you are saying that Simon does not have a problem with me but I am the designated fee earner on the file and as such I have the overall responsibility, the buck stops with me. The case papers have arrived this morning and I will scan and email you a copy before the close of business today. Can you please confirm dates when Simon will be available to attend the office to give his instructions on the case papers so that a defence case statement can be prepared?

Lorraine unfortunately I cannot now deal with Simon's case until his complaint has been resolved and another case worker will have to be resolved in the interim. Please confirm the name of the person you want this investigate this matter by return email.

at Woolwich Crown Court

Dear Lorraine / Simon

Thank you for your telephone call today. I am copying Michael Carroll into this email as he is now overseeing and monitoring all the work that I undertake in this case to ensure that I am preparing your case properly and to your satisfaction and complying with your instructions. I set out below the main content of our conversation but if I have left anything out please come back to me as soon as possible.

INSTRUCTIONS:

Simon you confirmed that your benefits had been suspended and you did not have the funds to attend the police station every day. You stated that Edmonton Police Station is a 2-mile walk from where you currently live. You have asked me to make an application to remove this bail condition.

Secondly, you have asked that your curfew be suspended for an up and coming festival in Enfield.

Thirdly, you have asked me to consider the merits of making an application to dismiss the charges against you based on the fact that you entered a building that was being squatted in and therefore you were not a trespasser.

Fourthly you stated that the photographs sent to you were of poor quality and were in black and white.

Fifth, you complained that the barrister did not present your case properly.

Six, you requested your case papers from the Winchester case. I will deal with each of the points that you have raised and the agreed action.

Point (1) I can make this application to remove the reporting the condition. I can source a map from the internet to show the distance and I can also show bus prices on an Oyster card £2.80 per day in fares as I assume only one bus is required. If I am wrong in this assumption can you please confirm by email the number of buses and the routes that the buses take at your earliest convenience. Can you also please ask your mother to email over the letters that you have sent to the Benefits Agency appealing and requesting the reinstatement of your benefits as this will assist my application.

Point (2) Again I can make an application to suspend your curfew on the dates of the festival but again I need the documentation from the Council regarding this to support your application.

Point (3) I will have to consider this point in more detail but if I can illustrate an analogy to you which I believe that the Judge will also use. Your case is that you were not a trespasser when you entered the building due to notices on both buildings which confirmed they were legal squats. You may well be right. The law on burglary consists of entry to a building or part of a building, as a trespasser with intent to either steal item, cause GBH or doing unlawful damage or actually does any of the aforementioned. I will deal with the trespass point firstly. The notices in relation to the legal squat may well highlight that you were not a trespasser when you entered. (I confess that I need to research this point) I think that we can also agree that the squatters were not the owners of the building and had not made any claim for adverse possession. I have included some information on adverse possession for your ease of reference at the end of this email. Even if we can establish that you had a right to be in the building it does not follow that you had a right to any of the contents. These would still remain the property of the owner, unless you can provide me with the relevant section / legislation / case law. There are a number of instances when a person can enter premises initially by invitation but once they do an act contrary to the right of entry, they then become a trespasser. i.e. a customer in a shop reaching over the counter and taking a sales assistant's purse / phone. This is burglary because the person has stolen property (a) that was not for sale (b) that was in a part of the building where the public did not have access. The other stumbling block to an application to dismiss is your police interview. You accept presence and you accept purchasing items of garden furniture from a male called Mohammed. You state that you have a receipt. This is a trial point and one to be left to the jury as to whether you believed that Mohammed was lawfully entitled to sell the goods to you. Whilst considering this please bear in mind that although the notices allowed entry once Mohammed assumed the rights of the owner by disposing of the property and selling it, he then arguably became a trespasser. I am not concerned about the damage caused to the building as you state that this was caused on a previous occasion so I should be able to establish this from the CPS in my disclosure requests in your defence case statement.

Point (4) I can easily remedy this issue by bringing the photographs with me when I attend your mother's address near the end of next week. I will confirm the day closer to the time and I am grateful for your consideration and understanding that I cannot at this stage give you a fixed appointment. As you are no doubt aware my diary varies from day to day and emergencies do arise.

Point (5) Unfortunately I am only made aware of problems when clients tell me they are unhappy. I forwarded the correspondence bundle to your mother which demonstrated how much work I have actually undertaken in your case to date, both during social and unsocial house and even when I have been on annual leave.

Point (6) I will email the case papers over on the Winchester case under separate email as this is a separate case.

NEXT ACTION REQUIRED BY YOU:

1. Emails to Benefits Agency re appealing and requesting reinstatement of your Benefits
2. Documentation re negotiations with Enfield Council and confirmation of date when festival will take place.
3. Receipt from Focus confirming that the gazebo in the back garden of your property was not stolen.
4. List of witnesses present when you purchased the garden furniture
5. Receipt for the garden furniture

I hope that this email clarifies the information that I require.

NEXT ACTION BY MICHAEL CARROLL & CO.

Once I receive the above information, I will email the Crown Court and the CPS and I will request an urgent application to remove the reporting conditions on the grounds of financial hardship.

136,

I will confirm a visit nearer the end of next week in order that you can see the colour photographs. I will confirm with the barrister that they are happy to use black and white pictures and if this is the case, I will give you the colour set. Should you have any further questions then please email me back so that I can assist you further.

PS Below I have attached some information regarding the law of adverse possession

The new regime – a brief overview Prior to the coming into force of the LRA 2002, a squatter could acquire the right to be registered as proprietor of a registered estate if they had been in adverse possession of the land for a minimum of 12 years. However, the doctrine of adverse possession did not fit easily with the concept of indefeasibility of title that underlies the system of land registration. Nor could it be justified by the uncertainties as to ownership which can arise where land is unregistered; the legal estate is vested in the registered proprietor and they are identified in the register. The LRA 2002 has created a new regime that applies only to registered land. This new regime is set out in Schedule 6 to the Act. It makes it more likely that a registered proprietor will be able to prevent an application for adverse possession of their land being completed. The following paragraphs provide a brief overview of the new regime; the remaining sections of this guide discuss it in more detail. Adverse possession of registered land for 12 years of itself will no longer affect the registered proprietor's title. After 10 years' adverse possession, the squatter will be entitled to apply to be registered as proprietor in place of the registered proprietor of the land. On such an application being made the registered proprietor (and certain other persons interested in the land) will be notified and given the opportunity to oppose the application. If the application is not opposed¹, the squatter will be registered as proprietor in place of the registered proprietor of the land. If the application is opposed, it will be rejected unless either: it would be unconscionable because of an equity by estoppel for the registered proprietor to seek to dispossess the squatter and the squatter ought in the circumstances to be registered as proprietor the squatter is for some other reason entitled to be registered as proprietor, or the squatter has been in adverse possession of land adjacent to their own under the mistaken but reasonable belief that they are the owner of it, the exact line of the boundary with this adjacent land has not been determined and the estate to which the application relates was registered more than a year prior to the date of the application. In the event that the application is rejected but the squatter remains in adverse possession for a further two years, they will then be able, subject to certain exceptions, to reapply to be registered as proprietor and this time will be so registered whether or not anyone opposes the application. I by 'opposed' we mean that a counter notice is served; see section 8 Giving counter notice to the registrar in response to notice. Instead, or at the same time, the registered proprietor may object to the application on the ground that there has not been the necessary 10 years' adverse possession; see section 7 Objecting to the squatter's application for the implications of such an objection.

Subject: Regina v. Simon Cordell for plea and case management hearing on 4th September 2013 at

Woolwich Crown Court

Dear Lorraine / Simon

Thank you for your telephone call today. I am copying Michael Carroll into this email as he is now overseeing and monitoring all the work that I undertake in this case to ensure that I am preparing your case properly and to your satisfaction and complying with your instructions. I set out below the main content of our conversation but if I have left anything out please come back to me as soon as possible.

INSTRUCTIONS:

Simon you confirmed that your benefits had been suspended and you did not have the funds to attend the police station every day. You stated that Edmonton Police Station is a 2-mile walk from where you currently live. You have asked me to make an application to remove this bail condition.

Secondly, you have asked that your curfew be suspended for an up and coming festival in Enfield.

Thirdly, you have asked me to consider the merits of making an application to dismiss the charges against you based on the fact that you entered a building that was being squatted in and therefore you were not a trespasser.

Fourthly you stated that the photographs sent to you were of poor quality and were in black and white.

Fifth, you complained that the barrister did not present your case properly.

Six, you requested your case papers from the Winchester case. I will deal with each of the points that you have raised and the agreed action.

Point (1) I can make this application to remove the reporting the condition. I can source a map from the internet to show the distance and I can also show bus prices on an Oyster card £2.80 per day in fares as I assume only one bus is required. If I am wrong in this assumption can you please confirm by email the number of buses and the routes that the buses take at your earliest convenience. Can you also please ask your mother to email over the letters that you have sent to the Benefits Agency appealing and requesting the reinstatement of your benefits as this will assist my application.

Point (2) Again I can make an application to suspend your curfew on the dates of the festival but again I need the documentation from the Council regarding this to support your application.

Point (3) I will have to consider this point in more detail but if I can illustrate an analogy to you which I believe that the Judge will also use. Your case is that you were not a trespasser when you entered the building due to notices on both buildings which confirmed they were legal squats. You may well be right. The law on burglary consists of entry to a building or part of a building, as a trespasser with intent to either steal item, cause GBH or doing unlawful damage or actually does any of the aforementioned. I will deal with the trespass point firstly. The notices in relation to the legal squat may well highlight that you were not a trespasser when you entered. (I confess that I need to research this point) I think that we can also agree that the squatters were not the owners of the building and had not made any claim for adverse possession. I have included some information on adverse possession for your ease of reference at the end of this email. Even if we can establish that you had a right to be in the building it does not follow that you had a right to any of the contents. I will now progress the application to vary Simon's bail and I will copy you in on the emails. One observation that I do make and the Judge will pick up on this is the time of the festival from 12pm 6pm. Whilst the Judge may extend the curfew time, he may not suspend it. However, if Simon is remaining on site with his equipment overnight then I can include this with my representations for bail.

Please get back to me.

Lorraine

Thank you for your emails to date in respect of this matter. The emails that you have forwarded does not specifically state that Simon has been booked so I will need an email confirming this and the agreed fee etc. Can you also please confirm the number of days that the festival goes on for and the duration. The flyer refers to

26th August 2013

from 12pm 6pm but there is no time specified for the

25th August 2013.

The application that I will be making will be for curfew suspension from 25th

and

26th August 2013.

The Judge will however require information as to why he requires the whole of the 26th bearing in mind that the festival runs from 12pm 6pm. Can you provide additional instructions on this please and also an email confirming that Simon is providing the entertainment?

I will proceed and try to get the reporting condition relaxed in the interim and will await your instructions in relation to the above.

Subject: Regina v. Simon Cordell further application to vary bail and suspend curfew on 25th

and

Dear Simon / Lorraine

Simon it is my understanding that your mother is having internet difficulties at present. I sent over a number of emails this weekend which I will try to forward over to you from my trash box.

Re: application to remove reporting condition. I confirm that I have lodged this application already.

Re: application to suspend curfew for

And

26th August 2013

Simon, I have requested written confirmation from Omar Lawrence that you have been awarded the contract together with the particulars of the contract as the Court will undoubtedly ask for this information. There is also a risk that the Court / Police will check that the contract is genuine and this may well entail telephoning Omar Lawrence to check the detail. It is not unusual for the court to check bail addresses by analogy so I am merely putting you on notice of this fact. I will not have any control over the information that is provided by the police to Mr Omar Lawrence but they will have to identify themselves as police officers and this may raise questions about why police are making these enquiries. Your mother has explained that you may lose the contract as a result of this and unfortunately, I do not have any control over this. The options therefore available to you are as follows:

- (1) Attend the festival during the curfew hours and then go home
- (2) Apply to the court to vary the electronic curfew and request that the court do not disclose details of your criminal history or current court case. However, Mr Lawrence may well wonder why an enquiry has been made
- (3) Do not make any application and take your chances this is not advised as you will be arrested for breaching your bail and there is a high risk of remand to prison until the conclusion of your case
- (4) Discuss the matter with Omar Lawrence beforehand so that he is aware and he can confirm this in the email to the court. The risk with this is that he may use you for this festival but may seek an alternative resource next year
- (5) The final option of course is not to make the application and attend in person during your curfew hours and get an alternative person who you trust to look after your equipment overnight on

25th August 2013

This option allows you to retain the potential for further contracts via your company, ensures that future clients are not aware of your previous criminal history and will also safeguard any future contracts with Enfield Council. Clearly this is a matter that you need to consider very carefully and weigh up the pros and cons of each option. I am aware how important this festival is to you and your business. If you decide to make the application to vary bail then I will need the following from you by

15th August 2013:

1. Letter from Omar Lawrence that you are hired for the festival

I will need this information by

15th August

as the court and CPS will require 5 days to agree the matter administratively, failing which I will ask for a fixed hearing on 22nd

Or

23rd August 2013

I await your instructions with regards to the above matter. I have confirmed to your mother that I will require your instructions in writing. Should you have any questions then please do not hesitate to contact me.

Regards

Josephine

PS I will endeavour to send all other emails from trash box. Your mother has copies on her system.

Thank you for your emails to date in respect of this matter. The emails that you have forwarded does not specifically state that Simon has been booked so I will need an email confirming this and the agreed fee etc. Can you also please confirm the number of days that the festival goes on for and the duration. The flyer refers to

The application that I will be making will be for curfew suspension from

26th August 2013

The Judge will however require information as to why he requires the whole of the 26th bearing in mind that the festival runs from 12pm - 6pm. Can you provide additional instructions on this please and also an email confirming that Simon is providing the entertainment? I will proceed and try to get the reporting condition relaxed in the interim and will await your instructions in relation to the above.

Subject: Regina v. Simon Cordell for plea and case management hearing on 4th September 2013

Dear Lorraine / Simon

Thank you for your telephone call today. I am copying Michael Carroll into this email as he is now overseeing and monitoring all the work that I undertake in this case to ensure that I am preparing your case properly and to your satisfaction and complying with your instructions. I set out below the main content of our conversation but if I have left anything out please come back to me as soon as possible.

INSTRUCTIONS:

Simon you confirmed that your benefits had been suspended and you did not have the funds to attend the police station every day. You stated that Edmonton Police Station is a 2-mile walk from where you currently live. You have asked me to make an application to remove this bail condition.

Secondly, you have asked that your curfew be suspended for an up and coming festival in Enfield.

Thirdly, you have asked me to consider the merits of making an application to dismiss the charges against you based on the fact that you entered a building that was being squatted in and therefore you were not a trespasser.

Fourthly you stated that the photographs sent to you were of poor quality and were in black and white.

Fifth, you complained that the barrister did not present your case properly.

Six, you requested your case papers from the Winchester case. I will deal with each of the points that you have raised and the agreed action.

Point (1) I can make this application to remove the reporting the condition. I can source a map from the internet to show the distance and I can also show bus prices on an Oyster card £2.80 per day in fares as I assume only one bus is required. If I am wrong in this assumption can you please confirm by email the number of buses and the routes that the buses take at your earliest convenience. Can you also please ask your mother to email over the letters that you have sent to the Benefits Agency appealing and requesting the re-instatement of your benefits as this will assist my application.

Point (2) Again I can make an application to suspend your curfew on the dates of the festival but again I need the documentation from the Council regarding this to support your application.

Point (3) I will have to consider this point in more detail but if I can illustrate an analogy to you which I believe that the Judge will also use. Your case is that you were not a trespasser when you entered the building due to notices on both buildings which confirmed they were legal squats. You may well be right. The law on burglary consists of entry to a building or part of a building, as a trespasser with intent to either steal item, cause GBH or doing unlawful damage or actually does any of the aforementioned. I will deal with the trespass point firstly. The notices in relation to the legal squat may well highlight that you were not a trespasser when you entered. (I confess that I need to research this point) I think that we can also agree that the squatters were not the owners of the building and had not made any claim for adverse possession. I have included some information on adverse possession for your ease of reference at the end of this email. Even if we can establish that you had a right to be in the building it does not follow that you had a right to any of the contents. These would still remain the property of the owner, unless you can provide me with the relevant section / legislation / case law. There are a number of instances when a person can enter premises initially by invitation but once they do an act contrary to the right of entry, they then become a trespasser. i.e. a customer in a shop reaching over the counter and taking a sales assistant's purse / phone. This is burglary because the person has stolen property

(a) that was not for sale

(b) that was in a part of the building where the public did not have access. The other stumbling block to an application to dismiss is your police interview. You accept presence and you accept purchasing items of garden furniture from a male called Mohammed. You state that you have a receipt. This is a trial point and one to be left to the jury as to whether you believed that Mohammed was lawfully

Sim-DWP.doc (27.50 KB)

Sim-Baljit-saimbi-Income-surport.doc (25.50 KB)

Prior to the coming into force of the LRA 2002, a squatter could acquire the right to be registered as proprietor of a registered estate if they had been in adverse possession of the land for a minimum of 12 years. However, the doctrine of adverse possession did not fit easily with the concept of indefeasibility of title that underlies the system of land registration. Nor could it be justified by the uncertainties as to ownership which can arise where land is unregistered; the legal estate is vested in the registered proprietor and they are identified in the register. The LRA 2002 has created a new regime that applies only to registered land. This new regime is set out in Schedule 6 to the Act. It makes it more likely that a registered proprietor will be able to prevent an application for adverse possession of their land being completed. The following paragraphs provide a brief overview of the new regime; the remaining sections of this guide discuss it in more detail.

- Adverse possession of registered land for 12 years of itself will no longer affect the registered proprietor's title.
- After 10 years' adverse possession, the squatter will be entitled to apply to be registered as proprietor in place of the registered proprietor of the land.
- On such an application being made the registered proprietor (and certain other persons interested in the land) will be notified and given the opportunity to oppose the application.
- If the application is not opposed¹, the squatter will be registered as proprietor in place of the registered proprietor of the land.
- If the application is opposed, it will be rejected unless either:
 - it would be unconscionable because of an equity by estoppel for the registered proprietor to seek to dispossess the squatter and the squatter ought in the circumstances to be registered as proprietor
 - the squatter is for some other reason entitled to be registered as proprietor, or
 - the squatter has been in adverse possession of land adjacent to their own under the mistaken but reasonable belief that they are the owner of it, the exact line of the boundary with this adjacent land has not been determined and the estate to which the application relates was registered more than a year prior to the date of the application.
- In the event that the application is rejected but the squatter remains in adverse possession for a further two years, they will then be able, subject to certain exceptions, to reapply to be registered as proprietor and this time will be so registered whether or not anyone opposes the application.

I By 'opposed' we mean that a counter notice is served; see section 8 Giving counter notice to the registrar in response to notice. Instead, or at the same time, the registered proprietor may object to the application on the ground that there has not been the necessary 10 years' adverse possession; see section 7 Objecting to the squatter's application for the implications of such an objection.

entitled to sell the goods to you. Whilst considering this please bear in mind that although the notices allowed entry once Mohammed assumed the rights of the owner by disposing of the property and selling it, he then arguably became a trespasser. I am not concerned about the damage caused to the building as you state that this was caused on a previous occasion so I should be able to establish this from the CPS in my disclosure requests in your defence case statement.

Point (4) I can easily remedy this issue by bringing the photographs with me when I attend your mother's address near the end of next week. I will confirm the day closer to the time and I am grateful for your consideration and understanding that I cannot at this stage give you a fixed appointment. As you are no doubt aware my diary varies from day to day and emergencies do arise.

Point (5) Unfortunately I am only made aware of problems when clients tell me they are unhappy. I forwarded the correspondence bundle to your mother which demonstrated how much work I have actually undertaken in your case to date, both during social and unsocial house and even when I have been on annual leave.

Point (6) I will email the case papers over on the Winchester case under separate email as this is a separate case.

NEXT ACTION REQUIRED BY YOU:

1. Emails to Benefits Agency re appealing and requesting reinstatement of your Benefits
2. Documentation re negotiations with Enfield Council and confirmation of date when festival will take place.
3. Receipt from Focus confirming that the gazebo in the back garden of your property was not stolen.
4. List of witnesses present when you purchased the garden furniture
5. Receipt for the garden furniture

I hope that this email clarifies the information that I require.

NEXT ACTION BY MICHAEL CARROLL & CO.

Once I receive the above information, I will email the Crown Court and the CPS and I will request an urgent application to remove the reporting conditions on the grounds of financial hardship. I will confirm a visit nearer the end of next week in order that you can see the colour photographs. I will confirm with the barrister that they are happy to use black and white pictures and if this is the case, I will give you the colour set. Should you have any further questions then please email me back so that I can assist you further.

Regards

Josephine

Dear Lorraine / Tyrone

The letters appear to be very short. Can I suggest the following?

Dear Catherine

Thank you for the help that you gave me up until the date of this incident. As you are aware, I have been trying my hardest to beat my addiction to Class A drugs. Up until the date of this incident I believed that we worked well together and were making progress. Unfortunately, I reacted quite badly to the news from Social Services that I would not be able to see my daughter or have my daughter stay with me at weekends and this was based on information that you provided to Social Services. I suffer from anxiety and depression and at the time I just thought about not being able to see my daughter and I blamed you for this. I now thought about it and I know that you only did this out of concern for my daughter. I am very sorry for my behaviour and I know that you were only doing what you thought was right for my daughter. I should not have reacted as I did. I was extremely anxious and emotional and all I thought about was not being able to see my daughter so please accept my apologies.

Yours sincerely

Tyrone Benjamin

Dear PC?

Please accept this letter as an apology for my behaviour on (date). You were not aware of the reason for my behaviour at the time but Social Services had notified me that I would not be allowed to see my daughter or have her stay at my flat. I suffer from anxiety and depression and day to day events can affect how I react. PC Ainsowrth was speaking to me and because I was emotional and crying, I was embarrassed as I could not control my emotions. I did not want people looking at me in that state and I was trying to have a private conversation with PC Ainsowrth. I now accept that you were only trying to do your job. I did not mean to be offensive, rude or as you perceived threatening. This was not my intention although I accept that my behaviour was extremely erratic.

170,

I am not making any excuses but I am trying to explain what I was feeling on the day. I am very sorry and I hope that I do not behave like this in the future. Please accept my apologies.

Yours sincerely

Lorraine the letters are due by

12th August 2013

on my reading of the court note. I do not believe that Tyrone will receive a custodial sentence for this. If you can ask Tyrone to be at your address for 1pm tomorrow I will attend and help with any amendments before they are emailed.

171,

With regards to the drug testing the barrister's attendance note is silent as to who is responsible for arranging this. I will contact Probation tomorrow for confirmation for clarification. I believe you informed me that Tyrone missed an appointment. You did not say why this happened or indeed who had arranged this appointment. I have discussed with you my concerns that Tyrone's behaviour is becoming more erratic and unpredictable. Can you please confirm whether any progress has been made with regards to Tyrone accessing treatment via his GP for his addiction and counselling?

I write this to get an update as to Tyrone case that is due in court on the 12/08/2013. Can you please tell me where I will have to call to get an update as to where Tyrone will need to call to get his drugs test done, I am going to start and write the letters the best I can and hand them in tomorrow so they cannot say they never got them. At this time, it looks as if he can end up going to prison as nothing has been done there is only a few days left till he is due in court. Also, can you give me an update to what is going on with Simon case, he is really upset ATM that nothing has been done he also feels that Michael Carroll cannot cope while you are not there. Even though he asked the office more than once while you were away on holiday for his case to be listed in court this was not done. He was just told by the office he will need to wait till you got back from holiday. I have emailed you about his case since you got back from holiday and had no reply to any emails about him. Simon himself has also made many calls to the office and still nothing has been done. It does seem there is a real break down to Simon case and it is just being left with nothing done or no replies. He is now thinking he is going to take this up with the solicitor's ombudsman. He is sad it has had to come to this as he has used Michael Carroll for many years as you yourself know. I do understand that you are very busy with all the caseloads you have. But we are feeling at this point you are the only one doing any work at Michael Carroll. And the other people working there cannot cope as to even list his case to the court for an application to vary/remove bail conditions to be listed at court.

At this point we do not even know if Michael Carroll is dealing with his case any longer and just not been told, there for he is asking at this time is Michael Carroll still dealing with his case or not? If not, then can you let us know by tomorrow the latest so that he can get a new solicitor.

Many Thanks

To: Lorraine Cordell <lorraine32@blueyonder.co.uk>

Lorraine / Simon

Please see the barrister's back sheet from the 16th July 2013. This should have been forwarded onto you and would have been by me if it had been emailed to me in Bulgaria. Case workers are not allowed to send over any paperwork on any client file without prior authorisation from the Solicitor with conduct, namely me. I cannot criticise the case workers for this as I am pretty strict on this. If this had been emailed over to me in Bulgaria then I would have emailed on it but as I was on annual leave the case workers viewed this as non-urgent as the Judge refused to vary the conditions. I am also emailing you the client care letter again which outlines the complaints procedure.

Regards

Josephine

PS As indicated when the case papers are served and the secondary disclosure served then it may be possible to make a further attempt to vary bail but at this stage, I do not believe that the Court will entertain it.

Hi Jose

Simon does not blame you at all he knows you got a lot to do, and knows you do your job he just felt while you were away the office did not have a cue on what to do. He just wanted a reply as to what was going on and that was not happening. And did not in fact know that Michael Company was not involved in his case he was thinking that Michael Company was acting for him so when you went away, they could deal with it which they did not. Michael also has talked to Simon about this on the phone more than once so is aware of this Simon did not like the way in which Michael talked to me or him but the last time, he talked to Michael that was sorted over the phone. Josey, we don't have a problem with you at all. The problem we had was no one was able to deal with anything while you were away and that should not be the case the office should be able to deal with things if you are not around.

Subject: Simon's case

Hi Lorraine

Winchester Crown Court

175,

This case is in the warned list for

29th August 2013

I am still waiting for Simon to provide witnesses who can corroborate the negotiations between Simon and the "seller".

Woolwich Crown Court The main problem in this case is that Simon is unhappy that he is subject to an electronic curfew. As you are aware, I did not request a curfew as I knew that this problem would arise. He was initially given a door step curfew but the Judge changed this to an electronic curfew. This is the preferable option as it is a qualifying curfew and counts half a day towards any custodial sentence, if convicted. The Judge did state an electronic tag as the clerk checked the tapes for what was said. The Judge is within his rights to do this as he will view this as relieving a burden in terms of man power from the police. I cannot challenge this as it is still a curfew.

Bail variation:

Simon has to be realistic in terms of what we can achieve here. One of my obligations as a solicitor is to manage a client's expectations. I will of course make an application to vary Simon's bail conditions but as I stated before I will require emails from Simon from clients requesting that he cover events with quotes given by Simon as to how much he will charge. The smartest way to attempt to get Simon's bail varied is to ask for certain dates as opposed to lifting the curfew altogether as the Judge will not do this. If Simon persists in stating that he is not allowed to work and earn his living then Simon will then have to complete a change in financial circumstances statements for both the Woolwich case and the Winchester case and the court will have to assess his monthly contributions for both cases. At present he does not have to make a contribution as he is in receipt of benefits. I can only properly challenge the evidence in this case when I receive the case papers and then make my requests for secondary disclosure. The court would then be more amenable to an application to remove conditions of bail.

I am sorry that Simon feels that his case is not being handled properly. I sent Simon a client care letter at the commencement of this case outlining the complaints procedure. I do not believe that Michael was aware of the calls made by Simon to the office. I tried to deal with Simon's case personally and usually I do. e.g. Going to Birmingham Police Station in attending home address after his remand from Camberwell Green Magistrates Court to draft bail application. I am not sure what happened when I was on annual leave but based on your email it appears that the complaint should be directed against me as I am the fee earner and I am meant to supervise case workers. Michael is the Principal of the Firm and not the fee earner on this case. The case workers knew I was contactable by email and did not contact me. Michael Carroll has had no dealings with this case. (Since returning from annual leave I have dealt with 2 complex rapes, 3 GBH and a police station duty to date. I did intend to call at your address this weekend but I was on duty and I had to deal with a complex rape at Colindale on Sunday. This case lasted all day. I can only apologise for this.) If you do not believe that Michael can investigate and deal with your complaint then I must now advise you to address your complaint regarding this matter to Edel Speirits at the West London office. Her email is edel@michaelcarrollandco.com.

If you are not satisfied with her resolution of the complaint then you can then proceed to complain to the Ombudsman. I am sorry that Simon feels this way and I am sorry that you are disappointed in my conduct of this case. I will forward this email to Michael Carroll in the morning but if you decide over night that you do not want Michael involved in the complaint and want to include him in the complaint then please confirm this so that I can forward your email to Edel Speirits.

Dear Simon / Lorraine

Simon it is my understanding that your mother is having internet difficulties at present. I sent over a number of emails this weekend which I will try to forward over to you from my trash box.

Re: application to remove reporting condition. I confirm that I have lodged this application already.

Re: application to suspend curfew for

And

26th August 2013

Simon, I have requested written confirmation from Omar Lawrence that you have been awarded the contract together with the particulars of the contract as the Court will undoubtedly ask for this information. There is also a risk that the Court / Police will check that the contract is genuine and this may well entail telephoning Omar Lawrence to check the detail. It is not unusual for the court to check bail addresses by analogy so I am merely putting you on notice of this fact. I will not have any control over the information that is provided by the police to Mr Omar Lawrence but they will have to identify themselves as police officers and this may raise questions about why police are making these enquiries. Your mother has explained that you may lose the contract as a result of this and unfortunately, I do not have any control over this. The options therefore available to you are as follows:

- (1) Attend the festival during the curfew hours and then go home
- (2) Apply to the court to vary the electronic curfew and request that the court do not disclose details of your criminal history or current court case. However, Mr Lawrence may well wonder why an enquiry has been made
- (3) Do not make any application and take your chances - this is not advised as you will be arrested for breaching your bail and there is a high risk of remand to prison until the conclusion of your case.
- (4) Discuss the matter with Omar Lawrence beforehand so that he is aware and he can confirm this in the email to the court. The risk with this is that he may use you for this festival but may seek an alternative resource next year.
- (5) The final option of course is not to make the application and attend in person during your curfew hours and get an alternative person who you trust to look after your equipment overnight on

25th August 2013

This option allows you to retain the potential for further contracts via your company, ensures that future clients are not aware of your previous criminal history and will also safeguard any future contracts with Enfield Council. Clearly this is a matter that you need to consider very carefully and weigh up the pros and cons of each option. I am aware how important this festival is to you and your business. If you decide to make the application to vary bail then I will need the following from you by

15th August 2013:

- 1. Letter from Omar Lawrence that you are hired for the festival. I will need this information by

15th August

as the court and CPS will require 5 days to agree the matter administratively, failing which I will ask for a fixed hearing on 22nd

Or

23rd August 2013

I await your instructions with regards to the above matter. I have confirmed to your mother that I will require your instructions in writing. Should you have any questions then please do not hesitate to contact me.

Regards

Josephine

PS I will endeavor to send all other emails from trash box. Your mother has copies on her system.

Simon

I have now read through all your case papers, interview transcript and unused material.

Areas for discussion:

1. Premises - need full address of where the rave took place
2. Any emails / Facebook notification of the rave / booking your sound system for the party / any invoices given to the people hosting the party
3. Full contact details for Mohammed in order that I can take a statement confirming the sale to you
4. Receipt that Mohammed gave you, presumably this itemises the goods sold and date of purchase by you - pg. of your interview you make reference to leaving with your sound system and then being offered a job lot of chairs - need specifics on this see 5 below. Please also read your bottom page 20 of your ROTI "I bought it of the person who put the 144 notice on both of them premises that was living there and was a registered squatter to the buildings. What made you believe that Mohammed had a right to the property?
Where did he tell you he got the property from?
5. I need confirmation of the date you purchased the items; the location where the sale took place
6. What made you believe that both premises were linked? For all intents and purposes, they appear to be separate buildings and entry to Unit 3 appears to have been gained through a hole in the wall not a natural doorway. This is criminal damage and therefore illegal.
7. Confirmation of where the Notices were displayed. Any photographs from the rave to back this up would be very useful
8. Neighbours who can confirm the date the gazebo was erected
9. More information on the hole in the wall - photographs would be helpful from rave photographs and also any persons who were living there in the Unit 3 squat
10. Recordings of conversation between you and police before entering the party. Any shoulder numbers of officers who attended the premises so we can request statements etc from them re damage.
11. What proof do you have that Unit 3 was not barricaded with wood as the Director alleges and the barricades were not simply moved prior to your arrival?

Simon I will have a full discussion with you regarding the law etc on Friday but if you can concentrate on the above and collating the requested information. I will draft your defence case statement after I have taken a full proof of evidence (statement) from you.

Josephine

What made you believe that Mohammed had a right to the property?
Where did he tell you he got the property from?
5. I need confirmation of the date you purchased the items; the location where the sale took place
6. What made you believe that both premises were linked?
For all intents and purposes, they appear to be separate buildings and entry to Unit 3 appears to have been gained through a hole in the wall not a natural doorway. This is criminal damage and therefore illegal.
7. Confirmation of where the Notices were displayed. Any photographs from the rave to back this up would be very useful
8. Neighbours who can confirm the date the gazebo was erected
9. More information on the hole in the wall photographs would be helpful from rave photographs and also any persons who were living there in the Unit 3 squat
10. Recordings of conversation between you and police before entering the party. Any shoulder numbers of officers who attended the premises so we can request statements etc from them re damage.

11. What proof do you have that Unit 3 was not barricaded with wood as the Director alleges and the barricades were not simply moved prior to your arrival?

Simon I will have a full discussion with you regarding the law etc on Friday but if you can concentrate on the above and collating the requested information. I will draft your defence case statement after I have taken a full proof of evidence (statement) from you.

Regards
Josephine

Hi Josey

After talking yesterday and saying about the insurance we will need to get the insurance for the building and insurance of the contents from anyone who owns or rents the property as I think you will find there is more than one insurance for the place, building insurance is something else to contents, and because you got more than one person for the property you are going to need all insurance being held by any person. Also, the guys who said things was taken should be able to do a stock check any real company would be able to do this which will show the amount and numbers of items taken on the 16/02/2013

and what he was saying has been taken on between the 01/05/2013

to the

08/05/2013

a person can't just say it's this amount without listing the items taken and numbers and any company should have done a stock check in Feb 2013 when this 1st happened and then again, a stock check in

So far, we have no number of items that have been taken just saying it's the amount he has said and that don't add up. Also looking on the LiLo Orders there Venice chairs are not listed on the order invoices he has given, the only item there is the Harrogate Gazebo, but he is saying in his statement that beds, trampolines, so where is the invoice for these items. There has got to be a list of how many items were taken he can't just guess the total amount so has to know the items and numbers that where taken on both dates. Also, on the land registry is this listed as one unit the reason I have asked this is the way the main section is to enter the building there does seem to be only one main section the other side may have been added after to make the unit to make it into 3 units. If this is the case and it was 1 unit to start with has planning permission been granted for the unit to be made into 3 units?

Hi Simon, Thanks for the email. Is there any chance we could also book your bouncy castle for the same weekend?

Please advise price for both activities. We are checking we can get an electricity supply as generators are not allowed. Both activities will need to in place on Friday between 4pm and 8pm. The park will then be secured and security guards will patrol through the night. The show is open to the public between 10am and 6pm both days. We are very happy to organise the activities ourselves, including set up and tear down if that keeps the price down, the final takes down is always chaos and if you want, we can tow from the park and return to your address as far as the fireworks are concerned can you quote for your big generator of the day please?

Our display is on Saturday

02nd November

in Enfield Town Park.

Many thanks, *****

Hi Simon, I just, have had a read of your liability policy. Did I read right?

Your liability is only up to £500k?

If so, realise I would be taking a risk as the council usually require a liability a lot higher than that. We will have to run with it, but if you're going to do more local jobs, we will need to check this out next week. THX. O.

To: Lorraine Cordell

Subject: Simon's case

Hi Lorraine

Winchester Crown Court This case is in the warned list for

29th August 2013

I am still waiting for Simon to provide witnesses who can corroborate the negotiations between Simon and the "seller".

Woolwich Crown Court. The main problem in this case is that Simon is unhappy that he is subject to an electronic curfew. As you are aware, I did not request a curfew as I knew that this problem would arise. He was initially given a door step curfew but the Judge changed this to an electronic curfew. This is the preferable option as it is a qualifying curfew and counts half a day towards any custodial sentence, if convicted. The Judge did state an electronic tag as the clerk checked the tapes for what was said. The Judge is within his rights to do this as he will view this as relieving a burden in terms of man power from the police. I cannot challenge this as it is still a curfew.

Bail variation:

Simon has to be realistic in terms of what we can achieve here. One of my obligations as a solicitor is to manage a client's expectations. I will of course make an application to vary Simon's bail conditions but as I stated before I will require emails from Simon from clients requesting that he cover events with quotes given by Simon as to how much he will charge. The smartest way to attempt to get Simon's bail varied is to ask for certain dates as opposed to lifting the curfew altogether as the Judge will not do this. If Simon persists in stating that he is not allowed to work and earn his living then Simon will then have to complete a change in financial circumstances statements for both the Woolwich case and the Winchester case and the court will have to assess his monthly contributions for both cases. At present he does not have to make a contribution as he is in receipt of benefits. I can only properly challenge the evidence in this case when I receive the case papers and then make my requests for secondary disclosure. The court would then be more amenable to an application to remove conditions of bail. I am sorry that Simon feels that his case is not being handled properly. I sent Simon a client care letter at the commencement of this case outlining the complaints procedure. I do not believe that

Michael was aware of the calls made by Simon to the office. I tried to deal with Simon's case personally, and usually I do. e.g. Going to Birmingham Police Station in attending home address after his remand from Camberwell Green Magistrates Court to draft bail application. I am not sure what happened when I was on annual leave but based on your email it appears that the complaint should be directed against me as I am the fee earner and I am meant to supervise case workers. Michael is the Principal of the Firm and not the fee earner on this case. The case workers knew I was contactable by email and did not contact me. Michael Carroll has had no dealings with this case. (Since returning from annual leave I have dealt with 2 complex rapes, 3 GBH and a police station duty to date. I did intend to call at your address this weekend but I was on duty and I had to deal with a complex rape at Colindale on Sunday. This case lasted all day. I can only apologise for this.) If you do not believe that Michael can investigate and deal with your complaint then I must now advise you to address your complaint regarding this matter to Edel Speirits at the West London office. Her email is edel@michaelcarrollandco.com.

If you are not satisfied with her resolution of the complaint then you can then proceed to complain to the Ombudsman. I am sorry that Simon feels this way and I am sorry that you are disappointed in my conduct of this case. I will forward this email to Michael Carroll in the morning but if you decide over night that you do not want Michael involved in the complaint and want to include him in the complaint then please confirm this so that I can forward your email to Edel Speirits.

Regards

Josephine Ward (Associate Solicitor)

Hi Darren, sorry for the late reply thank you for the email as we talked the cost of the Space Ball for the event for both days. Bouncy Castles for the event for both days is one kids from up to 3 years old, one adventure playground 5 years old and above, and a 12x12 which is all ages. I will do all of these for £300 this will include a man for the space ball and the Space Ball as this event is for the Enfield Scouts. Can you tell me the power for this event and how it will be powered?

Also, the 70 KVA generator with all leads and distributor board for Saturday 2nd November in Enfield Town Park will be a cost of £300 for the generator plus fuel, but the fuel would need to be paid up front which I would say is around £50. The generator has all its Electrical-Certificates'. For Saturday in Enfield Town Park there will be an Electrician with me for safety reasons the Electrician cost will be £80. I will send my public liability insurance and Electrical-Certificates and risk assessment when needed. Can you please confirm the prices, and dates?

Many Thanks Simon

Hi Darren

The generator with no fuel and an electrician will be £380, this will be due to me not taking a deposit that is why want my own electrician on site. If you want to hire the generator without an electrician then a deposit would need to be paid, this would be given back once my electrician confirms the generator is in the same state as it was before the event. We have already given a 50% discount on the price for this event.

Many Thanks

The Moon: --

I know that the moon is too far of a distance away to stay on for me, as the world is too beautiful of a place to stay away from, but even as beautiful as the world is to spend my time inside off, on this day in this world, I upsettingly found myself attending at court: --

It is the beginning of September and just after the ponders end festival has taken place. I had prior arranged by myself to attend at court on the

because I needed to start new work commitments. On arriving to the courthouse, I explained to the judge that the bail conditions were causing me problems in a multitude of ways, I expressed to him the importance of my company to me and how my living circumstances were dependent on the stability of my up and coming contracts of work, I explained to that I had a new contract to supply entertainment equipment on the 08/09/2013 for a good cause, for kids with cerebral palsy at a festival in Muswell Hill. The Hearing continued ahead, my application to amend bail conditions, got refused yet again. My conditions got denied from being ferried once again, by a judge on this day at Woolwich Crown Court, but satisfyingly to me and others in the end, I did manage to get involved and supply the equipment to the event for everybody with extra hardship.

I like to be able to explain to everyone that it is a powerful reed, when you write like this: -

Before this Debra had continually attended mine and Ozzie's addresses, she endeavoured us with her so-called love. By this stage she has become an occupier of her premises for about five years, in turn living with us as a resident in Burncroft Avenue. Prior to any problems between us all I and Ozzie had both decided not to allow Debra Andrews access into our own flat's, as we could understand she has special needs. We managed to look after her, while treating her like a sister, in a short explanation, as much as she attempted to gain access into our homes, we both discretely presided in both politely declining her entry and stayed adamant in our decision. But to our surprise Debra Andrews had found something that would mean to her that she'd not be bored or lonely again, "Stain." Thought the most of the years that Debra Andrews did live above me, Debra never did knock on Stan's front door, while stains wife was present with us all. The reason for this to me was because I believe, she knew of Brenda's presence. Debra simply knocked on mine and Ozzy's front doors. Eventually, my own civil partner also raised a large concern about Debra always knocking on our front door, the reason for this was because of the persistent knocking on the front door, which in turn caused my partner weirdly to question me in regard to my personal relationship with Debbie. Whenever I needed to, I would go to my front door and look through the spy hole, this was whenever I heard a person at the front doors, that is to mean the front doors of my or Stan's, as his front door is opposite to mine and the other reason was partly as my guard dog always makes me aware of anyone else's presence. Henceforth, as a sense of natural instincts, I will confirm who is there for our safety. Because of security I had noticed Debra had started to knock at the front door of Stan on a daily basis a short while after his wife had passed away, I would notice that he would always grant her access and that she would be carrying a shopping bag full of alcoholic drinks. I could easily tell what she had in her plastic bags as they would always make the clinging sound that glass and plastic bottles do and or metal cans will make. At around the same time, I asked Stan if he would help me, what I asked him was for him to help me to help everybody by reading a proposal that I had prepared for the community event that I had started to build, to which he did agree to read. In the following days, I approached Stan as agreed for an update, as to any amendments that he may advise me to make within the document, when speaking to him, he explained to me that he was grateful that I had asked him to go over the proposal and that he enjoyed reading it very much so, I can remember that his words made me feel very happy, me being me, I questioned him a little more whether there is anything else's that he recommends being updated or changed for the better of the event being created, I received a reply of no it is perfect just how it was alongside with the advice of to send it off, even low I still understood that I was not quite ready at this stage! The slowdown and Closing of talking to Stan, at this period was just after I said to him that I treat my work seriously, so because of this reason, I will be indoors working hard, so if he ever needs any help of me just tell me and I will be there for him.

Hi Simon

Thanks for your help, the generator is needed for the Muswell Hill Festival at Cherry Tree Wood, Summer lee Avenue, Finchley N2 9QH, on Sunday

8th September 2013

Access to the site is from 6am and the event finishes at 6pm. The generator has to be operational by 8.30am. The event is run for the benefit of The London Centre for Children with Cerebral Palsy, this centre is self-funding as it receives no local authority or government funding as it does not use therapies which are approved by these bodies. The centre has a reputation for excellence as it uses therapies developed in other countries. Your generous offer to only £ 200 is very much appreciated and I cannot thank you enough.

Dear Lorraine

Thank you for your telephone call today.

I am sorry that Simon is upset regarding his representation. Can you please send me an email with all of Simon's complaint so that I can discuss this with Michael Carroll? Michael will also want to discuss your concerns with the barrister and we will change the barrister as it is not acceptable that the barrister did not attend court with the correct paperwork. The amended defence case statement was emailed to the barrister on 4th September 2013 and Simon had to bring the exhibits to accompany the defence case statement to today's hearing. If he did not do this then can you please ensure that they are scanned and emailed over to me so that I can email them to the CPS and the Crown Court.

Hi Josey

After just taking to you on the phone about Jay who was at court today with Simon to deal with the above matter Jay come to court today with no papers. The judge was not happy and ordered him to supply said papers to the court today by 4pm also he had not prepared for the case so when the judge was asking thing Jay did not know what to say and had to say to the judge, I have to think about that. I do agree Simon was meant to bring papers with him but Jay also should have had the paper work you had sent him and have had a printer in order to print it of for the court. Lying to the judge to say he had tried to email them does not go down well with any judge. And the Judge saw through this as he said don't you mean you tried to print the paper work to bring to court. This is not the 1st time Jay has turned up with no paper work for this case and tried to also use he turned to email it as he did not have access to a printer. Does his offices have no printers as I know full well you sent the paper work to him well on time for him to have had access to a printer before today's hearing. Simon did indeed get upset due to jay no having anything or knowing anything to say to the judge in his case and did stand up and try to explain himself to the judge which the judge did not like and in the end told Simon to leave the court and wait outside. But Simon should not have needed to stand up Jay should have known what to tell the judge and been prepared for the case. It was also said about Simon curfew in court and it has now been said it is a door step as the prosecution said also in court it has never been electronic curfew so the judge accepted this and said it was door step. Simon no longer wants Jay to act for him on any matters can you please sort a next person to be in court for him if you are able can you get the guy that Simon has had in the pass I forget his name but he dealt with a case a while ago for him. If you need Simon to sign this then I will get him to do this when he gets home from court but he does not want Jay on any of his cases again.

Many Thanks

Hi Josey

I agree and do not blame you at all as I know full well you sent the edited paper work over to Jay Thursday of last week which should be well in time for him to have access to a printer and get up to speed with the case. I also know you were not complaining that Simon forgot the documentation I just added it to my email so you were fully aware Simon did not bring it to court.

Lorraine

I will also send the documents you need over my email later today ATM I am writing some letters for Sheila.

A not guilty plea and this was about the gazebo case: --

I went to the Court to enter my a not guilty plea and this was about the gazebo case: --

It has gotten said to me by other people that throughout the years we will not go without sacrifice, now I find the saying to be true! On this day I attended to the Court to enter my not guilty plea, about the gazebo case from the day of my friend's private birthday party that did get held at the Bianca road after being moved over to there by the police. What did get put against me and into motion at court is a criminal charge of suspicion of a non-dwelling burglary from the police station prior, From the start the case files are in error before printed and in layman terms "a mess," While at the courthouse the prosecutor did not even have any of the case files with himself "Official Paperwork" present, so when present at the courthouse I filed out an official complaint and issued it in to the court clerk by hand delivery and also sent an email into the correct department once back at home. I have continued in my fight of not letting the justice system let me down and in turn the justice system, letting everyone else's down, so, I continue with the work within the local community that I have agreed to, the next festival job is set alongside the North River Lee "Enfield lock" for the date of to tell you the truth I am really looking forward to the day out.

Dear Simon / Lorraine

Can you please scan over to me the receipt and the links for the catalogue as referred to in the defence case statement in order that I can serve this document today?

I have discussed what happened with your case yesterday Simon and it is clear that there has been a total breakdown in the relationship between you and the instructed advocate. Michael has approved the immediate removal of your case from Mr Lemos's diary and I will instruct the Advocate who represented you for the bladed article case. I am sorry that you were disappointed with the instructed Advocate. I hope that the above is a satisfactory solution.

Can you please keep me updated as to any additional concerns that you have regarding any future instructed advocates?

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any further problems.

Regards

Josephine

PS Please ensure that you provide the receipts and the links by return email as the defence case statement should have been served yesterday.

I have sent a copy of your email of complaint to the barrister and I have asked him to respond in writing. I have copied Michael Carroll in on the email and Michael is not happy that Simon was upset at Court today. Michael will be taking action on this but first we have to go through the process of awaiting the barrister's response and I am hoping to respond to you by tomorrow evening, Wednesday evening at the latest. Consequences: --

There will be consequences for their actions, thinking this is what made me carry on staying alive: -

I did find myself helping Stan, at his own requests, this got achieved in helping to complete some following: -

1. A Simple task, like pushing the chair that Stan sits down the road for him, into his house.
2. Taking Stan to the doctors, after he had fallen over, when closing his curtains.

3. My mother and I shared with Stan, at his house, our boxing day.

4. I hand delivered Stan and Debra their Christmas presents early and in time, even low I was finding life hard, as of the police bail conditions and the separate Anti-Social Behaviour Order proceedings. Up to date, I have never asked of anything of any other person that lives on my estate, other than respect. Shortly after the trial, I got released to be free from police bail conditions and was then single due to the burglary case. It took me a long time to get better, after being kept on curfew and for what I had suffered wrongly, because of the damage that the court case and other on goings had caused me.

I treat the council officials with reverence in the believe that they must act in a natural manner when dealing with incident relating to their clients but they act Inferior with bios decisions against me, resulting in no logic or fair gain at the conclusion of incidents, once put in receipt of true official evidence and this is at my loss of life without any erroneous doings from myself!

Dear Simon,

your case has been listed tomorrow for a mention hearing. You are both welcome to attend if you so desire, but you are not required to attend, as you have not been able to provide me with the original receipt of internet link for the Focus catalogue, I edited the defence case statement accordingly. I now attach the amended defence case statement which I instructed your barrister to serve at tomorrow's hearing. This will trigger secondary disclosure in the case and I will be hoping to offer you an appointment in four weeks' time for a conference with your barrister. If you have any further requests to vary your bail, then please provide me with adequate notice as the courts tend to want the CPS and solicitors to attempt to agree the variation administratively before resorting to the court.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any questions.

Regards, Josephine.

Hi Josey

Just gone over the document you sent over and on number 17 you made a mistake with the date. The Defendant denies entering as a trespasser the said premises. The Defendant accepts that his DNA may have been found on a can but that this may have been moved at any time during the night of the party on the

4th February 2013

The Defendant denies stealing from the premises and he denies causing any damage to the Premises It should be the

4th May 2013

Also, the link for the catalogue for focus is correct

<http://web.archive.org/web/20110321003352>

<http://diy.focusdiy.co.uk/nav/cat2/gazebos/cat/gardenbuildings/0>

It does show the Harrogate Gazebo for the catalogue for focus and it's the website URL archive dated

11March 2011

It does take a little while to load from the archive servers but does load and you can see the items of gazebos that focus was selling on the

you have to look down the list to see the Harrogate Gazebo information. If you load the URL and then right click on the page and select Save As in the menu you can save it to your computer also. The only thing I cannot find is the original receipt for Simon Gazebo that was at his home when the police come.

We have looked again at our decision

You made an appeal against a decision about not being entitled to Income Support upon release from prison, issued to you on 09-Aug-2013.

We have looked again at the facts and evidence used to make our decision. As a result, we have changed that decision and have decided you retained your entitlement to Income Support following your release from prison but have no entitlement for the two days you were in prison.

What happens now: --

Your appeal will not be sent to an independent tribunal as the decision has been changed in your favour.

As explained in our previous letter, if you still think the decision is wrong you have the right to appeal. You should normally appeal within one month of the date of that letter.

The Income Support payment section will be in touch to advise what happens next.

Yours sincerely,

S Anderson

Even low I could not sleep at night or in the day time surprisingly diapered fast, leading me up to the date of the

when I had to arrive at Woolwich Crown Court. This date was for the gazebo case that took place at Bianca road for my friend's Birthday party, and for the prior listed mentioning to take place, for the case to be ready for trial, the time was 11:00 hours. I was feeling depressed of this case by then, but I kept a smile on my face, the day carried on ahead and soon after ending back at home on bail alone.

I have discussed what happened with your case yesterday Simon and it is clear that there has been a total breakdown in the relationship between you and the instructed advocate. Michael has approved the immediate removal of your case from Mr Lemos's diary and I will instruct the Advocate who represented you for the bladed article case. I am sorry that you were disappointed with the instructed Advocate. I hope that the above is a satisfactory solution. Can you please keep me updated as to any additional concerns that you have regarding any future instructed advocates?

The loser's statement is not being disputed. He said he was the owner he reported the trailer as being stolen from the location that Simon collected the trailer from. The CCTV will not change the case in any way either as Simon accepts that he collected the trailer and removed the trailer. The issue in the case is whether Simon bought the trailer in good faith. The jury will consider the price paid, where the contract was conducted and also the circumstances. They will undoubtedly question our inability to provide any defence witnesses to corroborate Simon's version of events. With regards to the trial lasting two days I do not have any control over the trial length. Simon gives his version of events and the jury either believe him or they do not. The CCTV evidence does not add to the case in any way. Simon accepted in his interview collecting the trailer so I am not sure how the CCTV alters this. With regards to the case being in the Crown Court this was Simon's choice. The issue is when, where and what Simon said to satisfy himself that the person selling the trailer was the true owner. This is a question of fact. I hope that this clarifies the position.

Hi Simon Yes, we still want your Generator, if you could confirm the price, and what cabling and connections you have. We need 3 phase supply for a smoke machine and could do with as long an extension as you can supply. We would need you on site at midday. We make our final decision at midday about the weather and if we are going or no go. Regards, Darren.

The loser's statement is not being disputed. He said he was the owner he reported the trailer as being stolen from the location that Simon collected the trailer from. The CCTV will not change the case in any way either as Simon accepts that he collected the trailer and removed the trailer. The issue in the case is whether Simon bought the trailer in good faith. The jury will consider the price paid, where the contract was conducted and also the circumstances. They will undoubtedly question our inability to provide any defence witnesses to corroborate Simon's version of events. With regards to the trial lasting two days I do not have any control over the trial length. Simon gives his version of events and the jury either believe him or they do not. The CCTV evidence does not add to the case in any way. Simon accepted in his interview collecting the trailer so I am not sure how the CCTV alters this. With regards to the case being in the Crown Court this was Simon's choice. The issue is when, where and what Simon said to satisfy himself that the person selling the trailer was the true owner. This is a question of fact. I hope that this clarifies the position.

Regards

Josephine

Also, there is no one from there side that has tuned up they are just using their statements.

Hi Gary

Thank you for the email. This very late notice has now made me lose contracts to hire out the gen, as I could have had other bookings, but knew I was booked for yourself. I did email Darren last week to confirm the booking, as for the gen not being able to cope with your needs, I know it would be fully capable to cope with all the requirements that we agree on and much more, as you know I did have a problem with my van which due to me knowing I was doing this event with you I made sure I paid to get it fixed so I did not let anyone down, as it was for the local community. Creating [REDACTED] painters and decorators: --

Around the same time, I seemed to have a lot of good friends about me who I wanted to help out in life one of them was named [REDACTED] would always help out with maintaining the back gardens at my home and other jobs such as painting, so for me to help dean I had decided that the best way forward would be to help him start to build his company. The company that I had built with him, for he was then named [REDACTED] painters and decorators. We both managed to obtain a big job for him regenerating a person's house externally, this included painting, maintaining and painting the whole front of the house and garages. While dean was at work, I continued to help him out I had ordered some business cards for him from Vistaprint. After he had finished the job that he had in hand, we posted the business cards down the street that he had been working on to gain some more needed work, as he and me including the client was proud of the hard work that had gotten accomplished. We decided the best way for him to gain more clients was to keep advertising the companies that got started, so we split the business card that I had ordered for him in half and in turn I left them on my van's dashboard. I can always remember playing a game when I was driving around London and what I did in this game was taking my time to write down any company vans details that I could see driving past, this got done when I believed they would help me with my dreams. In playing this game, I used to stop at shops and talk to the owners about different business opportunities. I can remember stopping at my local churches in my living surrounding areas and taking their details, I always tried my best to open new doors, as one might say.

How Your Housing Benefit Has Been Worked Out for the period

From 08/07/2013 to 11/08/2013 your Housing Benefit will be £86.84 each week.

Claim reference: 1623514

The rent you are charged each week is £92.49.

Housing Benefit cannot pay for some service charges that are included in your rent. The rent you pay has to be reduced by the amount of these service charges. These amounts are shown below:

Actual amount for Ineligible Water £5.65

Total deductions for services £5.65

The amount of rent after deducting these charges is called your maximum eligible rent. Your rent of £92.49 must be reduced by £5.65, to £86.84 each week. This is your maximum eligible rent.

The maximum Housing Benefit you can get is £86.84 each week. This figure is used when working out 'your total weekly Housing Benefit'.

The amount of Housing Benefit has been worked out by comparing the money you have coming in each week, to an amount the Government has decided is the minimum that someone in your circumstances needs to cover basic living expenses.

Your Total Weekly Income

The amount of money you have coming in each week has been worked out as follows:

Total weekly income £0.00

Your Total Savings

If you have savings and capital over £6,000.00, an amount of £1.00 must be added to your weekly income for each additional £250.00, or part of £250.00 you have.

You have told me that you have no savings or capital, so I have added nothing to your weekly income. If you get savings credit in your pension credit, your savings have already been taken into account by the Pension Service and will not be shown on this letter.

Your Applicable Amount

Your applicable amount is made up of the following allowances and premiums:

Single claimant 25 or over

Total applicable amount

Your Total Weekly Housing Benefit

As your total weekly income of £0.00 is the same as or less than your 'applicable amount' of £71.70, I can pay you your maximum Housing Benefit of £86.84 each week.

You may be entitled to Income Support or Jobseeker's Allowance. You should contact the Jobcentre Plus on 0800 055 6688 for more information.

How Your Council Tax Support Has Been Worked Out

Based on your circumstances I have decided to assess your claim using the Working Age scheme.

From 08/07/2013 to 11/08/2013, your council tax support is £12.64 each week.

The maximum council tax support you could get

Your council tax liability for the year is £818.62 which for this period is £15.70 each week.

The maximum council tax support you could get is therefore £15.70 each week. This figure is used when working out 'your total weekly council tax support'.

Your Total Weekly Income

The amount of money you have coming in each week has been worked out as follows:

Total Weekly Income £0.00

Your Total Savings

The Working Age scheme sets the amounts added to your weekly income if you have savings. If you have savings and capital over £6,000.00, an amount of £1.00 must be added to your weekly income for each additional £250.00, or part of £250.00 you have.

You have told me that you have no savings or capital, so I have added nothing to your weekly income. If you get savings credit in your pension credit, your savings have already been taken into account by the Pension Service and will not be shown on this letter.

Your applicable amount

Your applicable amount is made up of the following allowances and premiums:

Single claimant 25 or over £71.70

Total Applicable Amount £71.70

Your Total Weekly Council Tax Support

As your total weekly income of £0.00 is the same as or less than your 'applicable amount' of £71.70,1 can pay you your maximum council tax support of £15.70 each week.

A reduction of the maximum council tax support of £15.70 that you could get each week must be reduced by £3.06, to £12.64.

Hi Josey

Today Simon called Gumtree up to see if he could in fact get the ad which was placed on Gumtree from the shop where Mohammad worked and got the items he sold to Simon. Gumtree was very helpful and found the ad for Simon and sent it over in the below email, the only thing they could not put in the email was the contact information of the person who posted the ad on Gumtree, but have said they will give this out to the police if the police contact them. The shop was called MJD'S 98 Tower Bridge Road, London SE1 4TP and this is where Mohammad worked. This is the name of the shop where the gazebos chairs and stools were for sale and the shop that advertised them on gumtree. When Simon Ordered the chairs from Mohammad there were 2 different types Simon got 4 of the Milan bars stools and one of the Venice Chair. The Venice Chair is what the police have at the police station. He sold 4 of the Milan Stools he ordered from Mohammad which were different from the one found at Simon address. All of these carry the What! Logo. Simon has since be able to get one of the people he sold the stool to which did keep the box and was able to get the label of it which I have scanned and will send over with this email. Which is clear it is the same chair in the ad on Gumtree. Bar stool.doc is the attachment from gumtree the other attachments are from me.

Hi Josey

Today Simon called Gumtree up to see if he could in fact get the ad which was placed on Gumtree from the shop where Mohammad worked and got the items he sold to Simon. Gumtree was very helpful and found the ad for Simon and sent it over in the below email, the only thing they could not put in the email was the contact information of the person who posted the ad on Gumtree, but have said they will give this out to the police if the police contact them. The shop was called MJD'S 98 Tower Bridge Road, London SE1 4TP and this is where Mohammad worked. This is the name of the shop where the gazebos chairs and stools were for sale and the shop that advertised them on gumtree. When Simon Ordered the chairs from Mohammad there were 2 different types Simon got 4 of the (Milan bar stool) and one of the Venice Chair. The Venice Chair is what the police have at the police station. He sold 4 of the Milan Stools he ordered from Mohammad which were different from the one found at Simon address. All of these carry the What! Logo. Simon has since been able to get one of the people he sold the stool to which did keep the box and was able to get the label of it which I have scanned and will send over with this email. Which is clear it is the same chair in the ad on Gumtree. Bar stool.doc is the attachment from gumtree the other attachments are from me.

Getting a job as a night club manager; --

I had been out looking for more work when I came across a gentleman who was redeveloped a night club in Brixton, what was to get named; as Brixton's white sands night club. This got done while it had been getting built, I spoke to the owner and showed him what I was capable of doing for his company. He got very impressed with my CV and as a result offered me the position of nightclub manager. To make sure that I kept on the owners' books of good workers, I travelled backwards and forwards from my home to the club on a regular basis and in doing this I noticed that I could speed up the process and offered to help move some left over demolition materials to an environmental waste site. On the

14/11/2013

I was travelling with my friend named dean, we were together in my van and driving to Brixton, as we were travelling along Brixton high road. We had got about 400 yards to where I was to park my van outside of the night club and the police officers decided to pull us over, as I hit the 400 yards', mark I had to drive past some police stop and search patrol who were doing some; "Roadside" Apr checks, on passing vehicles. They got placed on the same side of the road as the up-and-coming night club, as I drove past the police and their cars, we never got stopped. I managed to pull over to where I had wanted to stop, outside of the club, without any problems so far. The owner of the club had not arrived yet on this day so I decided to wait in the van. My friend decided to jump out and quickly go to a local shop to buy some drinks and so forth. When I noticed some police, officer come up to the driver's door window and tell me to get out of my van, I asked him why I should do this and what for. He explained that I had not shown up without any insurance on their computer systems as I had driven past them as always, I understood and knew that I had the correct insured to be driven. I explained to the police officer that I was attending the location as I had got a manager's job at the new nightclub and continued to show him a copy of my policy while explaining to him why my van may show up as a not insured. A PC Geoghegan decided to do a full search of myself and of the inside of my van, on him doing so he found the business card that I had previously made for my friend on my dashboard On PC Geoghegan doing this I passed him my own mobile phone so that he could speak to my insurance companies as I had called them while he got engaged in my van. I could hear him speaking to the employees on the phone and then explaining that I have social and domestic and a motor trade policy in place this did include high performance cars, my insurance company was adamant to the police officer that I got covered to drive the van now then in question. With this information being provided to the police officer, he decided to say that I would not get covered if I had tools of another trade on me, to which I did not. He decided to seize my van because he had found the business card that I had made for dean to do with painting, so I refused to get out of the van and surrender my keys to him. Eventually he also decided to arrest me for a breach of the peace. On finally being booked into the police station I had no additional property with me and got held till the next day's early hours of the morning with finally being charged for driving with no insurance as the officer claimed that my insurance policy was not in restraints of the policy underwriting. When I got finally realised, I had to go and pick my van up from the police car compound, in doing so I decided to record in audio format the ongoing, what did in fact happen was I asked to speak to the car compounds manager who is a civilian, I asked him to see a copy of the van's seizure notice, the reason I had done this was because it would show any belongings that got left in the van as they have got to get signed for by the arresting or seizing police officer. In the car compounds manager, helping me with my request, he also noticed that there were no other tools of the trade within the side of the van and that it got signed that I never took anything out of the van, I collected the van and then headed back to my home. So, on the 14/11/2013; I had to yet again attend court to defend myself from their wrongful allegations. What in fact did happen to me is that I got left in amazement by being found guilty of the offences after the PC Geoghegan stood and gave evidence from his police notebook from the day's?

Being upset with knowing that I was right, and all I did was carry business cards in my van that I had made for dean's own company, I explained to the judge that the police officer was being deceitful with his evidence and asked him to give me a chance to prove the truth by requesting a copy of the sound audio recording from the insurance company from when the police officer had first pulled me over. The Judge granted my request, and I applied to the insurance company for the sound recording evidence to get realised to me. On receiving my request of the recordings, I could prove that I was right as I now had both recording from the roadside and car compound. I applied for an appeal hearing to take place at the courthouse. Very soon after this day arrived, and I was on my way to court, I felt a bit of a mess due to what had been going on to me by every person that did get involved in hurting me. In the courtroom the appeal started to go ahead, I can remember the day being a repeat of the trial where I had wrongfully got found guilty in the first instance, till right up until my solicitor asked the police officer to stop going over his evidence from his police note book. When the police officer did do as he had got asked to do by my barrister on the day made sure to confirm with him that his notes were correct from the day's events and looked at a CD player that he had earlier put a copy of the audio recording made by me with PC Geoghegan, talking to them. On playing the audio CD for a few seconds, my solicitor then stopped the CD and asked PC Geoghegan; if this was his voice; for him to confirm the answer: PC Geoghegan, agreed while under oath that it was his voice on the CD and this was to his surprise. There is a copy of the official sound audio transcribed from them days. Hang on first just to confirm one more thing even stronger than before I did not have any other tools of trade in my van on the day of events.

Female: Hello KGM

PC G: Hi there it is PC Geoghan from the Met Police I need to speak to someone about a policy of insurance a gentleman claims to have with you

Female: Okay if you hold the line, I will pass you through to our underwriting department

Carl KGM: Good afternoon Carl speaking how can I help

PC G: Hi there it's PC Geoghan from the Metropolitan Police I've got a gentleman stopped and he has produced a certificate of insurance from KGM and I just wanted to clarify some of the limitation on the use.

Carl: Okay do you have a policy number

PC G: Yeah, I do it's MT3574694.

Carl: It's a Motor trade policy. Yeah, I might have to forward you to another Department

PC G: Yeah sure

Jessica: Hi you have been passed through to Jessica from KGM how can I help

PC G: I have a gentleman here who has been stopped with an insurance certificate issued by KGM. I've got a policy number and other details

Jessica: Okay I can see that from my screen

PC G: Basically, it says motor trade and SDWP and use motor trade purposes- Looking at vehicle it's got a load of tools in and they appear to be workmen doing sort of work odd jobs here and there. Is that something motor trade would cover?

Jessica: No, he just covered for road trade, road risk only and SDWP and would not cover for any other occupation

PC G: Okay right, right. He's claimed he bought the vehicle today or yesterday and he's not able to produce any proof that he has done that

Jessica: Rights

PC G: Erm, does he have to notify you of any vehicles

206,

Jessica: When a client purchases a vehicle, they have 14 days to make us aware. If they didn't within 14 days they don't make us aware then they're not covered but anything like this happened we do need proof to show that he had only had it within the 14 days otherwise it would not cover it we need to obviously we would not ask for proof normally but say if he has like pulled over now we would ask because he could just say he bought it yesterday or a week ago and we would still cover him.

PC G: So, it definitely does not cover him on the if he literally going around with tools in the van doing jobs that is not something, he is covered for

Jessica: Certainly not

PC G: That's not something he is covered for

Jessica: No certainly not

PC G: Can I just get your name obviously for my notes

Charlton Car pound: Good afternoon James speaking

James KMG: Hello James is Kelly there please. Who's calling please?

Charlton Car pound –

Car pound Metropolitan police service James KMG: Yeah one second please. Okay I will just put you through Kelly Tiller –

Hello Kelly: speaking

Gareth: Hello Kelly my name is Gareth, Manager of Charlton Car Pound Metropolitan Police Service I'm dealing with a Mr Simon Paul Cordell something about the tools in the back of his vehicle

Kelly: Correct yeah

Gareth: All I can do is I've looked at the seizure notice which would be given to Paul at the time and any property left was blank so if there were any tools in the back normally that would be registered as tools in the rear of the vehicle

Kelly: Right okay because we had a call from the police

Gareth: Yeah

Kelly: He advised that there were tools in the vehicle

Gareth: Do you want to speak to him a moment

Kelly: Who Sorry

207,

Gareth: Paul because I have got him in front of me

Kelly: Yeah that's fine

SC: Hello

Kelly: Hello

SC: You alright Kelly

Kelly: Okay what have they given you there

SC: They have not given me anything but he did explain to you on the phone that there's no tools on the vehicle on their CADs and in any case, they would write that down tools in the vehicle and so forth Kelly: Right okay and has he gives you a print out of this.

SC: No, you will have to ask him yourself

Kelly: Right can you pass me back to him

Gareth: Hello Kelly

Kelly: Hello, right okay so if there was any kind of tools in the vehicle it would be stated on there

Gareth: Well yeah what happens on the roadside a police officer will issue a seizure notice and he will say do you want to take any property out of the vehicle, normally they take satnavs, wallets, money whatever

Kelly: He could have taken the tools out of the vehicle

Gareth: Well I do not know I am not going to comment on that to be perfectly frank with you all I can do is comment on the paperwork that I see in front of me Right okay

Gareth: And there was nothing left in the vehicle

Kelly: At the time of when it come in but obviously Yeah

Kelly: He's had the opportunity to take items out of that vehicle

Gareth: But then it would have been mentioned that he had done that and there is nothing there saying that he had and it would have also mentioned what was taken on the seizure notice yeah

Kelly: Is there any chance you can forward me a copy of this Gareth: No, we are not allowed to under the Police Act and God knows what else. All I can confirm is what I have seen on the seizure notice

Kelly: Can you confirm that in an email to me please

Gareth: Right what you do

Kelly: I have already emailed yourselves and Right

You've replied to say you would not have anything like that on record and I just need you to pop me over an email to say that

Gareth: If you go to Charlton car Charlton documents and I can reply from there because we have firewalls and God knows what else

Kelly: So, you don't use the vcse one of whatever it is called Gareth: No if you do charltondocuments@met.police.uk. What I am going to do I am going to bring up a copy of this seizure notice just double check that I have done everything right for you

Kelly: Are you a police officer

Gareth: No, I work at the compound I am just one of the little plebs

Kelly: I have just forwarded you over a copy of the email and the reply that I got from the vres Charlton@met.pnn.police.co.uk

Gareth: What I will do I can only go on what we have got here and I'm just bringing it up now if you bear with me. I am looking at the copy of

Kelly: Is that from a PC Geoghan

Gareth: Bear with me at the end of the day it is just a signature

Kelly: Oh, alright okay

Gareth: All I can say is property left in the vehicle there is nothing in their Property removed from driver that is blank as well but obviously he did not remove anything else as that would have been registered

Kelly: Yeah

Gareth: He would have told the officer there's tools in there be careful as they're part of me trade

Kelly: Yeah

Gareth: Then that would have been registered they were within there. We take them out and put them into our property store for safe-keeping and then when he comes to collect them, they get given back then

Kelly: Right okay that fine it is just when we got a call from the officer when he has Mr Cordell at the road side, he has advised us that he is carrying tools in his vehicle

Gareth: Well I can't comment on that I can only go on the information on that seizure notice and there was nothing been entered that the gentleman removed anything or there was anything left. That's all I can say Kelly: That's fine no worries so if you can just reply to my email there and then that will be great. Thanks for your help.

Caller Assistant: We just cover motor traders only and stamp, that is it we would not cover him for any other occupation.

Police Officer: Right, Right, He is claiming that he brought the Vehicles today, or yesterday and he is not able to produce any prove that he has actually done that.

Caller Assistant: What it is ah when a client purses a vehicle they have fourteen days to make us aware and if in them fourteen days they do not make us aware, then they are not covered.

Police Officer: OK.

Caller Assistant: But if anything like this ever happens we do need prove to show that he has only had it for them fourteen days otherwise we would not cover it, we need to oversee prove, we would not ask for proof normally.

Police Officer: Right.

Caller Assistant: But like say as he has now and got pulled over we would ask for that.

Police Officer: Yes.

Caller Assistant: Because he could just say that he bought it yesterday or a week ago, and we can still cover him.

Police Officer: That is what I am saying, that is what I am saying; that is what I am saying as well all right and, err, so it differentially does not cover anything that hmm, if he is literally going around with tools in the van doing jobs

Caller Assistant: Yep.

Police Officer: That is not something that he is covered for.

Caller Assistant: Nope, nope certainly not.

Thank you for calling KGM introduction..... select correct dept from the following:

Thank you for calling KGN accounts department

To speak to an account handler please press 1

Female: Hello KGM

PC G: Hi there it is PC Geoghan from the Met Police I need to speak to someone about a policy of insurance a gentleman claims to have with you

Female: Okay if you hold the line, I will pass you through to our underwriting department

Carl KGM: Good afternoon Carl speaking how can I help

PC G: Hi there it's PC Geoghan from the Metropolitan Police I've got a gentleman stopped and he has produced a certificate of insurance from KGM and I just wanted to clarify some of the limitation on the use.

Carl: Okay do you have a policy number

PC G: Yeah, I do it's MT3574694.

Carl: It's a Motor trade policy. Yeah, I might have to forward you to another Department

PC G: Yeah sure

Jessica: Hi you have been passed through to Jessica from KGM how can I help

PC G: I have a gentleman here who has been stopped with an insurance certificate issued by KGM. I've got a policy number and other details

Jessica: Okay I can see that from my screen

PC G: Basically, it says motor trade and SDWP and use motor trade purposes– Looking at vehicle it's got a load of tools in and they appear to be workmen doing sort of work odd jobs here and there. Is that something motor trade would cover?

Jessica: No, he just covered for road trade, road risk only and SDWP and would not cover for any other occupation

PC G: Okay right, right. He's claimed he bought the vehicle today or yesterday and he's not able to produce any proof that he has done that

Jessica: Rights

PC G: Erm does he have to notify you of any vehicles

Jessica: When a client purchases a vehicle, they have 14 days to make us aware. If they didn't within 14 days they don't make us aware then they're not covered but anything like this happened we do need proof to show that he had only had it within the 14 days otherwise it would not cover it we need to obviously we would not ask for proof normally but say if he has like pulled over now we would ask because he could just say he bought it yesterday or a week ago and we would still cover him.

PC G: So it definitely does not cover him on the if he literally going around with tools in the van doing jobs that is not something, he is covered for

Jessica: Certainly not

PC G: That's not something he is covered for

Jessica: No certainly not

PC G: Can I just get your name obviously for my notes

Name: Jessica Kempton DOB 02.02.1992 Phone: 0208 530 1822

Dear Martin

Today the 15/11/2013

I made a call to be able to speak to you with regard to what happened yesterday the 14/11/2013

with the police. I have talked to Oilly today and he asked me to write this email to you as they are thinking of closing my insurance policy. Yesterday I went for a meeting with the owner of a night club for a future job position the meeting was set for 14.00 hours. I drove down for my meeting and got there at around 13.00 hours there were some police at the road side doing stops on cars etc, as I drove pass and pulled over to park by the night club, my friend who was with me got out of the van to get some drinks and food while I waited in the van, as I got to the club early for my meeting. The police that were doing the stops came up to me, they told me they wanted to do some checks on the van I was sitting in, I asked why and they told me under the road traffic act. I then passed the police my insurance policy for them to go over, the police officer also asked me why I had stopped there. I explained to him I had a meeting in the night club that we were outside, as it was due to open to the public in 1-month time to secure my future position there. While I was there, I was also planning on asking if there were any painting jobs, I explained all this to the police officer I was talking to. The police looked inside the van and clearly saw it was empty and that there were also no signs on the van showing it to be a company van. But the police officer was still unhappy. He talked to yourselves as the insurance company on the phone and was told I was not insured, at what point I called you myself as my insurance company as I knew I was insured. I explained the situation to yourselves to be told I was covered for commuting to work, social and domestic, as well as motor trade, but not for carriage of goods for a company, which did not matter as my van was empty and still is whilst being in the police impound. I am putting in a complaint to the independent complaints commission in regards to the unlawful seizure of my vehicle. Further to this would it please be possible to find out the status of my insurance policy and the reasons as to why I have been told you are in the process of closing my policy.

Yours sincerely

Caller Assistant: Hello Kelley speaking

Police Officer: Hello Kelley my name is Gareth I am the manager at the Charlton car compound for the Metropolitan police car compound services.

Caller Assistant: Hello there.

Police Officer: Hello I am dealing at the moment with a Mr. Simon Paul Cordell

Caller Assistant: Yes.

Police Officer: Something about the tools in the back of his vehicle.

Caller Assistant: Correct.

Police Officer: Right all I can do is I have looked at the seizer notice.

Caller Assistant: OK.

Police Officer: Which would have got given to Paul at the time and any property left is blank so if there was any tools in the back normally that would be registered as tools in the rear of vehicle.

Caller Assistant: Right, OK, because we had a call from the police.

Police Officer: Yes.

Caller Assistant: And he advised that there were tools in the vehicle.

Police Officer: Right do you want to speak to him for one moment

Caller Assistant: Who sorry.

Police Officer: To Paul because I have got him in front of me.

Caller Assistant: Yes that is fine yes going ahead,

Police Officer: One moment, that is Kelley.

Simon: Hello.

Caller Assistant: Hello.

Simon: Are you alright Kelley?

Caller Assistant: Yes.

Simon: OK.

Police Officer: year, OK, so what has got given to you there?

Simon: They have not given me anything, but he has explained to you on the phone that there are no tools in the vehicle on their CADS and in any case they would normally write that sort of stuff down such as tools in the vehicle and so forth.

Caller Assistant: OK, hmm, and has he gives you a print out?

Simon: No I have not got a printout you might have to ask him yourselves.

Caller Assistant: Yes, OK, that is fine if you just want to pass me back to him thank you.

Police Officer: Hello Kelley.

Caller Assistant: Hello right so if there were any kind of tools in the vehicle it would get stated on their

Police Officer: Well yes, because of what would happen, is on the roadside a police officer will issue a seizure notice

Caller Assistant: OK.

Police Officer: And then he will say do you want to take any property out of the vehicle and normally they would take sat navigation systems and money wallets or whatever.

Caller Assistant: But he could have taken the tools out of the vehicle Police Officer: Well I do not know because I was not even there so I am not going to comment on that to be completely frank with you.

Caller Assistant: All right.

Police Officer: All I can do is comment on the paperwork that I see in front of me.

Caller Assistant: Right OK.

Police Officer: And there was nothing left in the vehicle.

Caller Assistant: Right at the time of when it comes in but obviously, he had the opportunity to take items out of the vehicle.

Police Officer: No because that would have been registered that he had done and there is nothing there, when he had.

Caller Assistant: So, it would have also been mentioned with what was taken.

Police Officer: yes, yes, on the seizure notice.

Caller Assistant: OK, is there any chance that you could forward me a copy of this please.

Police Officer: No we are not allowed to under the police Act and good knows what else, all that I can confirm is what I have seen on the seizure notice.

Caller Assistant: OK, and can you confirm that in an email please?

Police Officer: Right, what you do is if you.

Caller Assistant: I have already emailed yourselves and I got a reply to say that hmm you would not have anything like that on records so I just need to pop me over an email to say that.

Police Officer: All right you go to Charlton car, if you go to the Charlton documents.

Caller Assistant: Yes.

Police Officer: And then I can reply from there because we have got fire walls and god knows what else.

Caller Assistant: so you do not use the one vcsc1 or whatever it can get called.

Police Officer: No I will give you the address just one moment, Charlton documents all one word.

Caller Assistant: Yes.

Police Officer: @ Met.police.UK.

Caller Assistant: yes, hmm.

Police Officer: what I am going to do is just bring up the copy of the seizure notice to just double check that I have got everything right for you.

Caller Assistant: OK.

Caller Assistant: And are you a police officer or do you just work?

Police Officer: No, no I just work at the compound I am a civilian.

Caller Assistant: OK.

Police Officer: All I can see is property in the vehicle there is nothing in there and property removed by driver is blank as well, so he never moved anything else as that would have got registered, and he would have told the officer that he had tools in their so can he remove them and be careful with them.

Caller Assistant: Yes.

Police Officer: Because then we would take them out and put them into our property store so that they are for safe keeping and then when they come to collect they get given back that.

Caller Assistant: Right that is OK it is just that when we got a call of the officer when he had

Mr. Cordell at the roadside, he advised us that he was carrying tools in his vehicle.

Police Officer: Well I cannot comment on that.

Caller Assistant: No, I know that you cannot.

Police Officer: But what I can go on is the information on that seizer notice and there was nothing noted about the gentlemen removing anything or there is not anything left in the van, that is; all that I can say.

Caller Assistant: That is fine no worries, so if you could just reply to my email then and that would be great.

Police Officer: OK, then.

Caller Assistant: Yes, cheers and goodbye.

Not too long afterwards I spoke to DVLA and had the points and driving ban redacted. In this time, I could not travel to the other side of London to visit my partner. I won the case on appeal after the police officer lied in 2 different courts.

with the police. I have talked to Oilly today and he asked me to write this email to you as they are thinking of closing my insurance policy. Yesterday I went for a meeting with the owner of a night club for a future job position the meeting was set for 14.00 hours. I drove down for my meeting and got there at around 13.00 hours there were some police at the road side doing stops on cars etc, as I drove pass and pulled over to park by the night club, my friend who was with me got out of the van to get some drinks and food while I waited in the van, as I got to the club early for my meeting. The police that were doing the stops came up to me, they told me they wanted to do some checks on the van I was sitting in, I asked why and they told me under the road traffic act. I then passed the police my insurance policy for them to go over, the police officer also asked me why I had stopped there. I explained to him I had a meeting in the night club that we were outside, as it was due to open to the public in 1-month time to secure my future position there. While I was there, I was also planning on asking if there were any painting jobs, I explained all this to the police officer I was talking to. The police looked inside the van and clearly saw it was empty and that there were also no signs on the van showing it to be a company van. But the police officer was still unhappy. He talked to yourselves as the insurance company on the phone and was told I was not insured, at what point I called you myself as my insurance company as I knew I was insured. I explained the situation to yourselves to be told I was covered for commuting to work, social and domestic, as well as motor trade, but not for carriage of goods for a company, which did not matter as my van was empty and still is whilst being in the police impound. I am putting in a complaint to the independent complaints commission in regards to the unlawful seizure of my vehicle. Further to this would it please be possible to find out the status of my insurance policy and the reasons as to why I have been told you are in the process of closing my policy.

Yours sincerely

Hello Martin

After the call you made today and talked to myself Miss Lorraine Cordell, I am sending over the information you asked for. I do feel also that KMG asking to speak to the police office is in breach of my data protection but I will be willing to write and allow them to do this. As I said to KMG yesterday on a phone that was made to them when I talked to Kelly Tilley I have not been found guilty at a court of law for not having no insurance and it is for a court of law to find me guilty not a police officer who thinks I done something when I have not. Even if KGM does speak to the police office he will still say what he feels and that is not a fact that I am guilty of anything. To be found guilty it would have to be done in front of a judge. Also Martin as you said on the phone today when you in fact talked to the police on that day not once did they say I had anything in my van that would void my insurance, and in fact I believe at this stage if the police did in fact have proof they would have said to you that my van was full of things which is not the case. I would like to also know if my insurance is going to carry on while this matter is addressed or if it will be closed down on the

as the letter says that KGM have sent me. And if KMG is going to close down my policy I would like full written conditions of what part of my policy I have broken. As for the letter of complain that will be going to the police Simon still has not fully read over it to make sure there is no errors or anything else that needs adding but it does go into details as to what went on, it is only for use by yourself and KGM to read only. Also as I said on the phone to you today the police are also telling me that the 3 times that my vehicles were seized and I had to pay for them to be taken out of the compound, I will need to claim this back from my insurance company as they had not done their job and put them on the database so they are at fault not the police. You said to me today that KGM are looking into this as they are on the database and it should show up to the police that I am in fact insured. This has not been the case for me and I have suffered badly due to this and this is the reason I have to carry my insurance policy at all times so when I get pulled over by the police I can show them my documents, as the police say it does not show up as I am insured, this is also the reason the insurance company have had so many calls from the police to asked if I am insured or not since my policy started. Could you please send me proof that the vehicles where on the database so I can put the claim in to the police to get my money back for the times my vehicles were seized. As at this stage I do not want to have to put a freedom of information act into yourselves or the police to the amount of times that the police have in fact had to call my insurance company to see if I was insured due to the police saying I was not insured. I have always been very happy with Broadshure Direct that is why I have still use them and would like my insurance to carry on under them.

The police that were doing the stops came up to me, they told me they wanted to do some checks on the van I was sitting in, I asked why and they told me under the road traffic act. I then passed the police my insurance policy for them to go over, the police officer also asked me why I had stopped there. I explained to him I had a meeting in the night club that we were outside, as it was due to open to the public in 1-month time to secure my future position there. While I was there, I was also planning on asking if there were any painting jobs, I explained all this to the police officer I was talking to. The police looked inside the van and clearly saw it was empty and that there were also no signs on the van showing it to be a company van. But the police officer was still unhappy. He talked to yourselves as the insurance company on the phone and was told I was not insured, at what point I called you myself as my insurance company as I knew I was insured. I explained the situation to yourselves to be told I was covered for commuting to work, social and domestic, as well as motor trade, but not for carriage of goods for a company, which did not matter as my van was empty and still is whilst being in the police impound. I am putting in a complaint to the independent complaints commission in regards to the unlawful seizure of my vehicle.

Further to this would it please be possible to find out the status of my insurance policy and the reasons as to why I have been told you are in the process of closing my policy.

Yours sincerely

Mr. Simon Cordell

Hi Lorraine,

Please find response from your insurers

I have listened to the call that took place between the police and my colleague Jessica advising that Mr Simon Cordell was carrying tools in his vehicle so unfortunately, we have no other opportunity but to continue with the cancellation of the policy. Unfortunately, the policy will cease as of tomorrow as per the letter from KGM. The only way to stop this is to either get the Police officer to contact kgm or to get a signed statement from him before 1700hrs today.

Hello Martin

After the call you made today and talked to myself Miss Lorraine Cordell, I am sending over the information you asked for. I do feel also that KMG asking to speak to the police office is in breach of my data protection but I will be willing to write and allow them to do this. As I said to KMG yesterday on a phone that was made to them when I talked to Kelly Tilley I have not been found guilty at a court of law for not having no insurance and it is for a court of law to find me guilty not a police officer who thinks I done something when I have not. Even if KGM does speak to the police office he will still say what he feels and that is not a fact that I am guilty of anything. To be found guilty it would have to be done in front of a judge. Also Martin as you said on the phone today when you in fact talked to the police on that day not once did they say I had anything in my van that would void my insurance, and in fact I believe at this stage if the police did in fact have proof they would have said to you that my van was full of things which is not the case. I would like to also know if my insurance is going to carry on while this matter is addressed or if it will be closed down on the

as the letter says that KGM have sent me. And if KMG is going to close down my policy I would like full written conditions of what part of my policy I have broken. As for the letter of complain that will be going to the police Simon still has not fully read over it to make sure there is no errors or anything else that needs adding but it does go into details as to what went on, it is only for use by yourself and KGM to read only. Also as I said on the phone to you today the police are also telling me that the 3 times that my vehicles were seized and I had to pay for them to be taken out of the compound, I will need to claim this back from my insurance company as they had not done their job and put them on the database so they are at fault not the police. You said to me today that KGM are looking into this as they are on the database and it should show up to the police that I am in fact insured. This has not been the case for me and I have suffered badly due to this and this is the reason I have to carry my insurance policy at all times so when I get pulled over by the police I can show them my documents, as the police say it does not show up as I am insured, this is also the reason the insurance company have had so many calls from the police to asked if I am insured or not since my policy started. Could you please send me proof that the vehicles where on the database so I can put the claim in to the police to get my money back for the times my vehicles were seized. As at this stage I do not want to have to put a freedom of information act into yourselves or the police to the amount of times that the police have in fact had to call my insurance company to see if I was insured due to the police saying I was not insured. I have always been very happy with Broadsure Direct that is why I have still use them and would like my insurance to carry on under them.

I drove down for my meeting and got there at around 13.00 hours there were some police at the road side doing 293, stops on cars etc, as I drove pass and pulled over to park by the night club, my friend who was with me got out of the van to get some drinks and food while I waited in the van, as I got to the club early for my meeting. How Your Housing Benefit Has Been Worked Out for the period

From 25/11/2013 your Housing Benefit will be £86.84 each week.

The rent you are charged each week is £92.49.

Housing Benefit cannot pay for some service charges that are included in your rent. The rent you pay has to be reduced by the amount of these service charges. These amounts are shown below:

Actual amount for Ineligible Water £5.65

Total deductions for services £5.65

The amount of rent after deducting these charges is called your maximum eligible rent. Your rent of £92.49 must be reduced by £5.65, to £86.84 each week. This is your maximum eligible rent.

The maximum Housing Benefit you can get is £86.84 each week. This figure is used when working out 'your total weekly Housing Benefit'.

Your Total Weekly Housing Benefit

As you are receiving Income Support, I can pay the maximum Housing Benefit of £86.84 each week.

How Your Council Tax Support Has Been Worked Out

Based on your circumstances I have decided to assess your claim using the Working Age scheme.

From 25/11/2013, your council tax support is £12.64 each week.

The maximum council tax support you could get

Your council tax liability for the year is £818.62 which for this period is £15.70 each week.

The maximum council tax support you could get is therefore £15.70 each week. This figure is used when working out 'your total weekly council tax support'.

Your Total Weekly Council Tax Support

A reduction of the maximum council tax support of £15.70 that you could get each week must be reduced by £3.06, to £12.64.

As you are receiving income support, I can pay you your maximum council tax support of £12.64 each week.

Hello Martin

I have spent all weekend trying to get hold of the Charlton Car Pound as that is where the police have said there will hold a list of what was in the van. The police have told me that the compound has to make a list of every vehicle that is impounded so it covers them also so they will have a list. I have sent 2 emails over the weekend which I do know they have read as I had tracking on them. I have spoken to Kelly today and she has asked me to make sure you have the information for the compound and can you pass it over to her asap. Also, can you find out from Kelly Tiller if Simon will be covered after 12.00 today while she gets hold of the compound please and let us know as soon as possible.

Hello Martin,

Thank you for the phone call today to tell me I was still insured. Could you please pass on the attached documents to Kelly Tiller at KGM one is a Subject access request under the Data Protection Act 1998. The other letter is just to get Kelly Tiller to confirm by email I am in fact still insured so I have this in writing and also to find out why my van is still not showing up on the database. And also, about the logbooks which I am still waiting for them from DVLA I called DVLA today when I got back from the compound and was told it can take 8 weeks for me to get the new logbooks, I will therefore send them right over to you by email as soon as I get them.

Many Thanks

Hi Josey

Is there any update as to Simon case have you got any of the information from the crown yet and how is the 3-party discloser going with the insurance company as the case is on the WL for the 16/12/2013 and there not many weeks left till this date?

Also, an update as to the other day when the police seized Simon case. The police officer called Simon insurance it was at this point he told the Insurance company that Simon had tools in his van. And the insurance company has this recorded. The insurance company was then going to void Simon insurance due to what the police office had told them. The insurance was going to be closed as of the

Simon then told the insurance company if they close his insurance down that he will sure as he did not have any tools the insurance company give him till the

25/11/2013

at 12.00 hours to prove in fact he did not have tools in his van. We called the police and was told to contract the compound the van was taken to as they have to list everything that's in any vehicles that are in a vehicle that is taken to any of these compounds. The insurance company asked Simon to go to the compound and call them when he got there to be able to talk to the police at the compound with Simon being there as they would need Simon to be there to be able give the police permission to talk to the insurance company. Simon did this on the

when he got to the compound, he asked to speak to a manager which he was allowed to do the manager looked on their system and told Simon his van had nothing in there. A call was then made to his insurance company and the manager told them the Van had no tools in there in fact it had nothing in there as if it did it would have been noted on their system and the items would need to be taken out and locked up or they could be liable. The insurance company now have not closed Simon insurance down and now know that the police officer lied to them. So, in fact the police were setting Simon up again.

Dear Simon Please see the CPS response to our defence case statement. This was received in the DX today. It does not advance our case. I am also confirming that your barrister can only do a conference on at 10am in Nexus Chambers. He has personal appointments tomorrow and cannot as previously advise to a conference at Croydon Crown Court. I therefore booked a fixed conference for

12th December 2013

12th December 2013

at 10am at Nexus Chambers so that he will not be caught up in a trial and there is no risk of you breaching your curfew. Before that date I would also like to finalise your proof of evidence and I would hope to do that Tuesday afternoon or the following Monday. Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any further questions regarding this case.

Hi Josey

Thank you for the email I just got it so will let Simon look over this tomorrow. Can I ask something the receipt from LiLo Leisure is that the receipt for the?

16/02/2013

or the

04/05/2013

as it seems to be the same receipt. What we want is a full list of items and amounts that were taken on the

04/05/2013

and also, the same for the 16/02/2013

someone can't say an amount in £s of damage and items were taken yet not have a full list, or are they saying on each of the receipts for the

04/05/2013

16/02/2013

all of the items listed on the receipts were taken it does not make sense as they seem to be the same receipts. There are also no invoices for the repair of the damage on the 16/02/2013

or the

04/05/2013

for someone to come up with the amounts that they have for the damages to this so-called building on the

04/05/2013

Which he would have had to get invoices for his insurance companies. Also, there is no information as to really anything for the 16/02/2013

And no information as to the people that were arrested and what happened to them. There is also nothing to show any work was carried out on the building from so, show anything was fixed as I am sure there should have been. There is far too much data that is missing. And I wonder why how can a police officer not have any full lists of items that were taken yet be able to have a total amount of damage that were caused how could they come to these sums?

There seems to me a lot in this case is being covered up by the police and I would like this addressed as how can someone have a fair trial without the full facts.

Dear Simon / Lorraine

Please see the CPS response to our defence case statement. This was received in the DX today. It does not advance our case. I am also confirming that your barrister can only do a conference on

12th December 2013

at 10am at Nexus Chambers. He has personal appointments tomorrow and cannot as previously advised to a conference at Croydon Crown Court. I have therefore booked a fixed conference for at 10am at Nexus Chambers so that he will not be caught up in a trial and there is no risk of you breaching your curfew. Before that date I would also like to finalise your proof of evidence and I would hope to do that Tuesday afternoon or the following Monday.

12th December 2013

Hi Josey

I tried to call you today re Simon case not sure if you got the below email so I will send this again over to you. There are some points I really do not understand and until the crown gives us information as to this it does seem to me that Simon case at court has the claim for Feb 2013 case in it as they are not giving a list of what was taken.

1. Both the invoices from LiLo Leisure products ltd that have been given for Simon Case in May 2013 and the information that the crown has just given you are the same.

2. On the invoices the address that the items in the invoice was not delivered to the address the parties were held in, in Feb 2013 and also May 2013 they were delivered to Marks wholesale which is a big shop, so how did they get to the address the parties were held in I am sure Marks wholesale would have storage? space and it does seem very funny that they would move items that were ordered to sell at one of his large shops?

3. There has never been a list of items that Mr petal said was taken in May just an invoice so is Mr Petal saying that all the items on the list was taken at the party in May 2013

4. So far, we do not even know the list of items that were taken in Feb 2013, and seeing at Mr petal seems to be using the same invoice for both dates there should be 2 lists of items that were taken

5. what was the cost of the damage to the building in Feb 2013 as it seems from the emails Mr Petal has listed from his insurance, they have put both claims into one which in fact would then go over to the date Simon hired his sound system out in May 2013 1202

6. Why did the insurance company not pay the Feb 2013 claim out till after the claim in May 2013? Why did they only pay out after the May 2013 claim is it due that someone was arrested and they could put both claims over to the court case of Simon. As if you look at the dates of the insurance part it does not make any sense as the last date shows April 2013 yet it says they are paying out both claims, how could they pay out both claims when the party in May had not even happened yet. Or is it the case there was a next party after Feb 2013 and before May 2013.

7. What was the costs of damage to the building in Feb 2013 and the value of the items taken.

8. What was the damage to the building in May 2013 and the value of the items taken. In short how could the property have been stolen in May 2013 if it had already been stolen in Feb 2013 as the invoice is the same?

Also, the damage to the building from Feb 2013 seems to have been added to the costs to the May 2013 but yet Simon has not been charged with the party in Feb 2013. It seems they have mixed both cases together and Simon is taking the blame for all of it within the costs. The Crown does need to give us all the information to the Feb 2013 case including pictures so we can see ourselves the damage to the building and they need to tell us if anyone was changed in Feb 2013 and what was the outcome. If the crown does not do this then this is an unfair trail they will be holding as to Simon case. Also, we need to see all the insurance claims to see the total costs of damage in Feb 2013 and also for the claim in May 2013 and the reasons as to why both cases have been linked together by the insurance company. Also, where is the insurance claim for the items within the warehouse that was meant to have been taken as so far, I can only see a claim for the damage to the building?

Any claim would need to include a list of the items that were taken and would need to be replaced. Someone cannot just come up with a figure of a cost for items that were taken and so far, it seems as if that has what has been done in both cases Feb 2013 and May 2013.

Lorraine / Simon

Thank you for the email I just got it so will let Simon look over this tomorrow. Can I ask something the receipt from LiLo Leisure is that the receipt for the 16/02/2013 or the?

as it seems to be the same receipt. What we want is a full list of items and amounts that were taken on the 04/05/2013 and also the same for the

16/02/2013

all of the items listed on the receipts were taken it does not make sense as they seem to be the same receipts. There are also no invoices for the repair of the damage on the 16/02/2013

or the

04/05/2013

for someone to come up with the amounts that they have for the damages to this so-called building on the

04/05/2013

Which he would have had to get invoices for his insurance companies. Also, there is no information as to really anything for the Building the catalogue with Josh and realising some more of his true talents, I realised that I could not run my entertainment company due to the bail conditions that I had gotten imposed to, so I started to build an extra stage of the company that I would need at a later date once the probation conditions could not as easily affect my work.

16th July 2013

Dear Sir or Madam

We act on behalf of our above-named client under the terms of a legal representation order.

331,

Our client's matter was listed at Woolwich Crown Court for a preliminary hearing and an application to vary us client's bail conditions. The Learned Judge on that occasion refused to deal with the application to vary bail and raised issues regarding why the surety was not present. He removed the surety requirement and our understanding is that our client was admitted to bail on the same terms as before. A number of issues have now arisen as a result of this. Serco attended to insert an electronic tag and this was never a condition of our client's bail when he was granted bail by Woolwich Crown Court but a curfew with a door step condition was imposed. Our client explained this to Serco who left. We clarified that this information was accurate by reviewing the advocate's attendance note from 10th July and also receiving verbal confirmation from Mr Lemos to further verify this. When our client went to report to Edmonton Police Station in compliance with his bail conditions, he was arrested for breaching his bail in that he refused Serco entry to install the electronic monitoring equipment. This was on

13th July 2013

Fortunately, our client was able to produce a copy of the bail notice from Woolwich Crown Court and also a copy of the advocate's court attendance notes who attended on to receive clarification from the court. Can you please list this case tomorrow?

13th July 2013

He was released. Ms Cordell contacted Serco and advise Jo badge number 3072 of this development and Serco will now wait until Tuesday

16th July 2013

16th July 2013

in order that matters can be clarified. We thank you in advance for your assistance in this matter and we await clarification of this.

Yours faithfully

Please see the barrister's back sheet from the

16th July 2013

This should have been forwarded onto you and would have been by me if it had been emailed to me in Bulgaria. Case workers are not allowed to send over any paperwork on any client file without prior authorisation from the Solicitor with conduct, namely me. I cannot criticise the case workers for this as I am pretty strict on this. If this had been emailed over to me in Bulgaria then I would have emailed on it but as I was on annual leave the case workers viewed this as non-urgent as the Judge refused to vary the conditions. I am also emailing you the client care letter again which outlines the complaints procedure.

Regards

Josephine

PS As indicated when the case papers are served and the secondary disclosure served then it may be possible to make a further attempt to vary bail but at this stage, I do not believe that the Court will entertain it.

Dear Sir or Madam

We continue to act on behalf of our above-named client under the terms of a legal representation order. Our client has instructed us to make an application to vary his bail conditions so that the reporting condition is removed in its entirety, and if an alternative bail condition is required then his mother is willing to stand surety £1,000.

We attach the following:

(1) Reasons for application

(2) Notice of application for court to consider bail

(3) Map printed from internet supporting the distance from the client's address to the local police station. We also add that £19.60 represents 40% of his benefits when they are reinstated and this will cause our client financial hardship. We would be grateful if you oppose this application that a representative is available for the application to be determined in Court on

16th August 2013

We thank you in advance for your assistance in this matter.

Simon

I have now read through all your case papers, interview transcript and unused material.

Areas for discussion:

1. Premises - need full address of where the rave took place
2. Any emails / Facebook notification of the rave / booking your sound system for the party / any invoices given to the people hosting the party
3. Full contact details for Mohammed in order that I can take a statement confirming the sale to you
4. Receipt that Mohammed gave you, presumably this itemises the goods sold and date of purchase by you – pg. of your interview you make reference to leaving with your sound system and then being offered a job lot of chairs - need specifics on this see 5 below. Please also read your bottom page 20 of your ROTI "I bought it of the person who put the 144 notice on both of them premises that was living there and was a registered squatter Tottenham building. What made you believe that Mohammed had a right to the property?
Where did he tell you he got the property from?
5. I need confirmation of the date you purchased the items; the location where the sale took place
6. What made you believe that both premises were linked?
For all intents and purposes, they appear to be separate buildings and entry to Unit 3 appears to have been gained through a hole in the wall not a natural doorway. This is criminal damage and therefore illegal.
7. Confirmation of where the Notices were displayed. Any photographs from the rave to back this up would be very useful
8. Neighbours who can confirm the date the gazebo was

9. More information on the hole in the wall - photographs would be helpful from rave photographs and also any persons who were living there in the Unit 3 squat
 10. Recordings of conversation between you and police before entering the party. Any shoulder numbers of officers who attended the premises so we can request statements etc from them re damage.
 11. What proof do you have that Unit 3 was not barricaded with wood as the Director alleges and the barricades were not simply moved prior to your arrival?
- Simon I will have a full discussion with you regarding the law etc on Friday but if you can concentrate on the above and collating the requested information. I will draft your defence case statement after I have taken a full proof of evidence (statement) from you.

Josephine

341,

It does show the Harrogate Gazebo for the catalogue for focus and it's the website URL archive dated

11 March 2011

It does take a little while to load from the archive servers but does load and you can see the items of gazebos that focus was selling on the

you have to look down the list to see the Harrogate Gazebo information. If you load the URL and then right click on the page and select Save As in the menu you can save it to your computer also. The only thing I cannot find is the original receipt for Simon Gazebo that was at his home when the police come.

Dear Simon / Lorraine

Your case has been listed tomorrow for a mention hearing. You are both welcome to attend if you so desire but you are not required to attend. As you have not been able to provide me with the original receipt of internet link for the Focus catalogue, I have edited the defence case statement accordingly. I now attach the amended defence case statement which I have instructed your barrister to serve at tomorrow's hearing. This will trigger secondary disclosure in the case and I will be hoping to offer you an appointment in four weeks' time for a conference with your barrister. If you have any further requests to vary your bail then please provide me with adequate notice as the courts tend to want the CPS and solicitors to attempt to agree the variation administratively before resorting to the court.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any questions.

Regards

Josephine

342,

PS Simon can you please sign this defence case statement and either scan and email it back to me or post it to my office.

Hi Lorraine

I am working through my emails slowly and by priority at the moment. I will endeavour to deal with this by Wednesday at the latest. I have been on duty all weekend and today I was in the police station from 9.30am until after midnight. I am aware of the documents being duplicated also. I will deal with each point you raise in due course.

Hi Josey

I tried to call you today re Simon case not sure if you got the below email so I will send this again over to you. There are some points I really do not understand and until the crown gives us information as to this it does seem to me that Simon case at court has the claim for case in it as they are not giving a list of what was taken.

1. Both the invoices from Li-Lo Leisure products ltd that have been given for Simon Case in May 2013 and the information that the crown has just given you are the same.

346,

2. On the invoices the address that the items in the invoice was not delivered to the address the parties were held in, in

Feb 2013

and also

May 2013

they were delivered to Marks wholesale which is a big shop, so how did they get to the address the parties were held in I am sure Marks wholesale would have storage space and it does seem very funny that they would move items that were ordered to sell at one of his large shops?

3. There has never been a list of items that Mr petal said was taken in May just an invoice so is Mr Petal saying that all the items on the list was taken at the party in

May 2013

4. So far, we do not even know the list of items that were taken in

Feb 2013

and seeing at Mr petal seems to be using the same invoice for both dates there should be 2 lists of items that were taken

5. what was the cost of the damage to the building in

Feb 2013

as it seems from the emails Mr Petal has listed from his insurance, they have put both claims into one which in fact would then go over to the date Simon hired his sound system out in

May 2013-12-02

6. Why did the insurance company not pay the

Feb 2013

claim out till after the claim in

May 2013?

Why did they only pay out after the?

May 2013

claim is it due that someone was arrested and they could put both claims over to the court case of Simon. As if you look at the dates of the insurance part it does not make any sense as the last date shows yet it says they are paying out both claims, how could they pay out both claims when the party in May had not even happened yet. Or is it the case there was a next party after

April 2013

and before

May 2013

7. What was the costs of damage to the building in and the value of the items taken.

Feb 2013

8. What was the damage to the building in and the value of the items taken. In short how could the property have been stolen in

May 2013

May 2013

if it had already been stolen in

Feb 2013

as the invoice is the same? Also, the damage to the building from

Feb 2013

seems to have been added to the costs to the

May 2013

but yet Simon has not been charged with the party in

Feb 2013

It seems they have mixed both cases together and Simon is taking the blame for all of it within the costs. The Crown does need to give us all the information to the case including pictures so we can see ourselves the damage to the building and they need to tell us if anyone was changed in and what was the outcome. If the crown does not do this then this is an unfair trail they will be holding as to Simon case. Also, we need to see all the insurance claims to see the total costs of damage in and also, for the claim in

Feb 2013

Feb 2013

Feb 2013

May 2013

and the reasons as to why both cases have been linked together by the insurance company.

Also, where is the insurance claim for the items within the warehouse that was meant to have been taken as so far, I can only see a claim for the damage to the building?

Any claim would need to include a list of the items that were taken and would need to be replaced. Someone cannot just come up with a figure of a cost for items that were taken and so far, it seems as if that has what has been done in both cases

And

Hi Josey

Thank you for the email I just got it so will let Simon look over this tomorrow. Can I ask something the receipt from Li-Lo Leisure is that the receipt for the?

16/02/2013

or the

04/05/2013

as it seems to be the same receipt. What we want is a full list of items and amounts that were taken on the

04/05/2013

and also, the same for the 16/02/2013

someone can't say an amount in £s of damage and items were taken yet not have a full list, or are they saying on each of the receipts for the

04/05/2013

16/02/2013

all of the items listed on the receipts were taken it does not make sense as they seem to be the same receipts. There are also no invoices for the repair of the damage on the 16/02/2013

or the

04/05/2013

for someone to come up with the amounts that they have for the damages to this so-called building on the

04/05/2013

Which he would have had to get invoices for his insurance companies. Also, there is no information as to really anything for the 16/02/2013

And no information as to the people that were arrested and what happened to them. There is also nothing to show any work was carried out on the building from so, show anything was fixed as I am sure there should have been. There is far too much data that is missing. And I wonder why how can a police officer not have any full lists of items that were taken yet be able to have a total amount of damage that were caused how could they come to these sums?

There seems to me a lot in this case is being covered up by the police and I would like this addressed as how can someone have a fair trial without the full facts.

Please see the CPS response to our defence case statement. This was received in the DX today. It does not advance our case. I am also confirming that your barrister can only do a conference On

12th December 2013

at 10am at Nexus Chambers. He has personal appointments tomorrow and cannot as previously advised to a conference at Croydon Crown Court. I have therefore booked a fixed conference for

at 10am at Nexus Chambers so that he will not be caught up in a trial and there is no risk of you breaching your curfew. Before that date I would also like to finalise your proof of evidence and I would hope to do that I tried to call you today to ask you a question about your son's complaint. I was unable to get hold of you. Please can you reply and let me know if your son is disputing his penalty notice or not. If he has requested a Court hearing (which his complaint would tend to indicate) the complaint will be classed as 'subjudice' Which means it will be put on hold until Court proceedings are complete.

After Simon went to see the barrister on the barrister cannot do anything for Simon until at least 18/12/2013

- List of items that were taken
- List of all damage to building
- And anything else to do with that case

He also said he will need the same for the

- List of items that were taken:
- List of damage to building:
- And anything else for that case:
- And any insurance claims: --

As the invoices that have been given are hear say due to the fact the guy would need proof that these items were still in fact inside the warehouse. He does not seem to understand when this went to court and the judge said that we can't have this information. So, could you please talk with him and update him as to what has gone on at the court, as we did not know until last week that the judge had said this, we can't have this information. But at any case it seems the barrister needs updating about this case as he does not know anything and did not even understand why Simon had gone to see him when he was on a case already which was going to overrun till this week at some point, but not before Wednesday. And Simon case is in the WL from 16/12/2013.

From what we have found out when Simon called the insurance company the claim for the insurance that was put in was only for the building and no content. Simon called them on the 13/12/2013

and talked to someone as Nikki Diamond was not due back in the office until 16/12 2013.

The insurance company did tell |Simon both claims have been put into one as from what the lady could see who looked up the claim REF could see no one from the insurance saw the damage to the building until after which should not come down to Simon as Simon did not cause any damage on the build at any time. Insurance details

04/05/2013

Who stole the Christmas tree?

Thought, the rest of the months in off the summer faded away into the winter and the question to ask was, “Who stole the Christmas tree?

While still living in my flat, I remember when stain took his time to place a Christmas tree in the corridor for the entire tenant’s pleasure. But little was he to know that this good deed of his was soon after to get disheartened. In the years prior to stain placing the Christmas tree in the corridor the council had never changed the entrance codes, to the front door of the flats, so in layman terms, the entrance code to the front door had never got updated and because of this, the past users' fingerprints, to the door locks, could get seen. The faded ID could get seen by any person’s naked eyes, this is due to the wear and tear, making the door entrances vulnerable to prowling eyes. Because of this reason people had started to loaf within side the corridors for shelter or other reasons and so forth. On one of the cold winter nights after stain had done his good deed, the tenants of the block must have got occupied with their own responsibilities. I cannot clearly remember what I personally was doing, but I could bet a pound coin that I was working hard on a good project. On awakening one morning, I went outside into my communal corridor, on doing so, I noticed stain and said to him the usual, “hello and how are you doing.” His voice was full of upsets as I heard his reply, he asked me the question of; do I know where his Christmas tree has disappeared too. At first, I took a full glance to see the spot to where he had placed it and continued to notice that it was in fact missing. I had known stain for so long by this time, in my life, so I took it that he personally would already understand the truth and that would be that I never would have been that person what did move the Christmas tree, in sense to any stake, I and my first civil partner already had our own Christmas tree. After talking for some time and doing our own investigation, we never did find out who actually did steal, “the tree.” So, the question still is who stole; The Christmas Tree?

Hi Lorraine

Are the insurance company aware that Simon is awaiting trial for burglary?

I assume you have disclosed this to them. I would have to disclose this fact to them before requesting information and informer to do this I would require Simon's signed written consent. The next stage is getting the case and listed for mention. Any questions please email me direct. Thanks

He is setting up a meeting with Mr Patel asking him to sign a form that would allow him to disclose any information to any person that has cause to see the claim. But not telling Mr Patel that he has spoken to us or would like a meeting with us. He said some other things also about the claim Mr Patel put in, he said that in

he did put a claim in and was asked by the insurance to do some things which Mr Patel did not do so the insurance closed the claim down and Mr Patel did not do anything else with that claim to say he wanted to keep it opened. Then after

May 2013

Mr Patel again contacted the insurance and said there was a next claim. In the invoice Mr Patel has handed into the insurance it is all in one invoice for one claim. The Insurance Company also have not paid him out yet for the claim. He told me to contact the solicitor dealing with the case as he did not want to step on anyone feet and see about a meeting to be setup. Hi Josey

I told them that Simon was arrested due to DNA being found at the warehouse and has been charged and it is going to crown court so yes they are aware Simon was arrested for the building as I told him Simon is getting done for all of the damages, and it seems from the files they have linked both cases of the

and the

04 May 2013

but Simon was not charged with the case from the

16 Feb 2013

only with the case from the

04 May 2013.

And that Simon was not there on the

16 Feb 2013

and can prove this. I have even told them that 4 people were arrested on

16 Feb 2013

from what I can tell they don't seem to have the information as to even the person in the police who was dealing with the case so it seems that Mr Patel is not telling the insurance company a lot of the things they should know as when I was telling him about things in the case he seemed to be very shocked and un aware of a lot of the things for

Feb 2013

And

May 2013.

But yes, he is very aware that Simon was arrested and that's why I made the call when I saw they had joined the insurance claim under one case for both dates.

I have still not had a reply from KGM about the data protection or an email from them to say he is in fact still insured. And on the Mid database the van is still showing as not insured, due to this Simon is not driving the van as he does not want to get pulled again by the police which I don't think is right as he has in fact paid his insurance to be able to drive it if he needs to can this please be sorted out as he really does not want any more problems with getting pulled over due to it not showing up as insured. I also have called DVLA again about the log book and have been told that they should be with us soon.

Thank you for the phone call today to tell me I was still insured. Could you please pass on the attached documents to Kelly Tiller at KGM one is a Subject access request under the Data Protection Act 1998. The other letter is just to get Kelly Tiller to confirm by email I am in fact still insured so I have this in writing and also to find out why my van is still not showing up on the database. And also about the logbooks which I am still waiting for them from DVLA I called DVLA today when I got back from the compound and was told it can take 8 weeks for me to get the new logbooks, I will therefore send them right over to you by email as soon as I get them.

Woolwich Crown Court, yet again: --

The

23rd December 2013

24/12/2014

A little while after I had to attend at Woolwich Crown Court, yet again, for the gazebo case, that took place on Bianca road for my friend's Birthday party, for a court case mentioning, what got set, re the disclosed and also for an application to seen by the judge regarding varying the bail conditions got opposed against, as the application to vary the bail conditions got refused to get dealt with. After consultation with my solicitor and barrister that got achieved regarding what had occurred in the courtroom, my acting barrister then asked for the case to get listed again on

24rd December 2013

This case just did not want to end. Christmas was drawing near and the winter had settled in and I knew I had to get out of my flat from the torturous acts that members of my neighbours were indulging in towards me, so I reapplied with my mother to go away to visit family over the Christmas season.

On the 24/12/2014

I went back to Woolwich Crown Court with a fresh application to vary my bail conditions for Christmas and New Year periods, so I could spend time with my family's members. I applied to go to Scotland with my family over the New Year and the application to vary bail had gotten granted by the Judge, so I could go. To be honest, I got shocked when the bail variation got granted but I smiled to be out, for the first time in a year. The judge on the day agreed to amend these three conditions;

Number two; Home Residence, to be @ 109 Burncroft Road, Enfield, EN3 7JQ.

Number five; Report daily to Edmonton Police between the hours of 1400—1600.

Number, six; Curfew 8pm — 6am this is to be a doorstep condition — I the Defendant should show myself to any officer upon their requests and with the judge doing this it meant that I still had a curfew off 8pm; till 6am and this was with a change of home address.

Lorraine, as per telephone conversation today please find a screen print from the insurance company KGM confirming that vehicle reg CX52 JRZ should be showing on the database. I have today contacted the MIB and spoken to a young lady named Sam who has confirmed the vehicle in question IS showing as insured with KGM Insurance, there seems to be an issue with the ASK mid database but Sam has assured me that the Police National Computer accesses the MID direct and this should not cause a problem. If the police contacted the MIB regarding the vehicle they will confirm that the vehicle is insured under policy number MT3574694

Hi Lorraine

Do you have an email for Nikki Diamond and do they have an office in London?

I will need a statement from Nikki Diamond re the photographs to have them admitted as evidence.

Josephine

Hi Josey

As said on the phone to you we had a meeting with the insurance man Mr Trevor Allaway today, the meeting went well for both of us in the fact that information was given on both side and the Trevor Allaway said this will help both of us. There is some fact he told us and confirmed that with Nikki Diamond while here on the phone as Nikki Diamond was the main person dealing with the insurance claim before I talked to her on the phone some time ago about the claim Mr Patel & D Patel had put in. She then handed it over to Trevor Allaway. We have been told that the problem the insurance company had with the claim that was put in

was that they did not believe them. When taking out insurance you have to state the conduction of the property, they believe he did not do this correctly as when the damage was reported and Nikki Diamond went to see the property the damage and conduction to the property did not look correct at all. He also said that he is not insured for the contents in the building. He only has insurance for the building. The insurance company also said that it is down to the owner to keep the building in a conduction of repair which was not the case when Nikki Diamond went to see it on the

28/03/2013

you could see there was damage that was being claimed for that was done a lot earlier. And the building was not kept to a good state.

399,

There are 3 cases that have been put in total in damage on the invoice that was put in was under one invoice as Mr Petal told the insurance company, he could not see what damage had been done when this is why the case was joined together after he put the claim in on the

07/06/2013

the invoice was for a total cost of £40,000. The dates claims were made for are 16/02/2013

after the party

25/03/2013

a next claim was put in for the alarm. Which he was meant to have fixed but I sure he did not as there was a next break in on that date. Nikki Diamond then went to see the building for the 1st time on the

28/03/2013

she took pictures of all the damage at this time. Then they put a next claim in on the

07/06/2013

Now when Nikki Diamond went to the building on the 28/03/2013

and took pictures of the damage, they are the same as the pictures the police took of inside the building in

May 2013,

nothing had been done to that building the mess was still there where the stock was, and the list of damage they have for the earlier case is all the damage the roof the brick walls the graffiti, the front fore door, the alarm, the staircase and more was listed. This damage to this building was there when Nikki Diamond went to see the building on the so how could Simon have done any of this damage. Mr petal also never told the insurance company about the building being squatted he only said the building was broken into. There was more said but the end part is really we help them they help us and Mr Trevor Allaway said that we need to get Simon solicitors to set a meeting with Nikki Diamond so a statement can be taken from Nikki Diamond about the claims. I asked him will she do this and he replied yes, she will do a statement about the case for Simon. He also said he needs to go back and have a think about what to do with this claim as some of the things he was told by us. So, can you please set up a meeting with Nikki Diamond to take a statement from her for Simon Case.

Thank you for your email. As I advised you on Monday, I would arrange an appointment with Nikki this coming week for either myself or a colleague to take a statement. This is subject to her convenience. With regards to Third Party Disclosure, this now no longer applies as Nikki is willing, you say to disclose her file to us. If she is not then we rely on Third Party Disclosure again. The Section 8 application has been requested from Jemi and I am awaiting his response. I will update you again next week with a confirmed time for the appointment with Nikki. I have been tied up for three days at Snaresbrook Crown Court and will be again on Monday and Tuesday of this week. I have a client who is facing a lengthy / possibly discretionary life sentence and the client is vulnerable. This requires me to attend court on a regular basis on short notice. There are still disclosure issues in that case and I anticipate that the trial will start on Tuesday so I can turn my attention to all other outstanding cases. I hope this clarifies the above and I will of course confirm the date and time that we will be taking the statement from Nikki.

Hi Josey

Simon will be going out for a meal on the night of the 25th

in the evening and then going on to a club with his girlfriend which at this time he is trying to save his relationship with. They have not chosen yet where they going for the meal or which club yet. But with the statement from Nikki Diamond being shown in court I sure the court will see that all the damage that they are saying Simon has done is not the case here as it was done before

May 2013.

I through this was the information that was going to be shown to the crown in order to show them their case is badly flawed. That's why I through you said to Simon if you get the statement and it says what we have said there should be no problem with the bail application for his birthday. That's why I passed the information over to you last week in order for the meeting to be setup with Nikki diamond so you had the statement from her for the bail application.

I need the specific places, restaurant, club etc otherwise I cannot make the bail variation application. A message has been left for Nikki Diamond to get back in touch with me so that we can arrange an appointment and I have not heard. Jemi is drafting the section 8 application at present.

I through this was the information that was going to be shown to the crown in order to show them their case is badly flawed. That's why I through you said to Simon if you get the statement and it says what we have said there should be no problem with the bail application for his birthday. That's why I passed the information over to you last week in order for the meeting to be setup with Nikki diamond so you had the statement from her for the bail application.

Thank you for your email. As I advised you on Monday, I would arrange an appointment with Nikki this coming week for either myself or a colleague to take a statement. This is subject to her convenience. With regards to Third Party Disclosure, this now no longer applies as Nikki is willing, you say to disclose her file to us. If she is not then we rely on Third Party Disclosure again. The Section 8 application has been requested from Jemi and I am awaiting his response. I will update you again next week with a confirmed time for the appointment with Nikki. I have been tied up for three days at Snaresbrook Crown Court and will be again on Monday and Tuesday of this week. I have a client who is facing a lengthy / possibly discretionary life sentence and the client is vulnerable. This requires me to attend court on a regular basis on short notice. There are still disclosure issues in that case and I anticipate that the trial will start on Tuesday so I can turn my attention to all other outstanding cases. I hope this clarifies the above and I will of course confirm the date and time that we will be taking the statement from Nikki.

My birthday: --

The start of

a new year for everyone; it was January and this special day was my birthday. I can reminisce about the day being depressing as I could not get the Woolwich case to get dropped, in accordance to the law and my legal rights re got, which meant that I got bail condition subjected towards my person still, so I found myself stuck in my home, all alone getting attacked by my neighbours. I placed my sound system in my lock up at another address to where I live, earlier in the last year on and took a look online at Facebook. In doing so I noticed that I received a lot of nice birthday messages, which in fact cheered me up, but my smile was not to last for too long, as I realised how far Stain and Debbie and the Mathiyalagan Markandu family members and guests, managed to damaged my life. Typing on the keyboard of my computer doing my work would mean they would hear me and bang above where it would have the worst effect on me, by hitting the floorboards and dropping objects above my head for hours at a time. I kept video diaries and audio recordings so to prove what kept going on.

Dear Simon / Lorraine

Thank you for your email.

I am writing to confirm that Jemi has drafted the section 8 application that requires minor amendments before it can be served. I am also attaching the letter that I am proposing to forward to the insurance company. There is a process that I must go through in order to secure an application for Third Party Disclosure and one of the processes is requesting the insurance files from the Loss Adjustors. I anticipate that they will be refused and this will then form the basis of the Third-Party Disclosure application. I regret that I was unable to submit the application to vary your bail conditions for your birthday. This was due to a number of factors as follows:

There is a procedure which must be satisfied, namely writing to the court and giving five clear days' notice. (Bail variations are different to applications to bail which must be heard within 24 hours if the request to list is made before 10am on the previous day.) This could not be done in this case as I was waiting confirmation of the dates and location of the restaurant, night club etc. The added difficulty is the attitude of the Court to previous bail applications and also to our defence case statement. Can you please let me know your views on the proposed letter to Miss Diamond?

I would like to get this document emailed to her today so that I can then apply for the Third-Party Disclosure. Simon can you please attend my office on at 3pm so that I can finalise your proof of evidence. If this appointment is not convenient then please confirm this so that I can make alternative arrangements. I will forward the amended section 8 application in due course.

Dear Simon

I have checked the invoice / delivery note from LiLo Leisure Products and there is no reference to Venice chairs on this invoice. There is reference to Monaco chairs. I have raised this issue with Jemi and I have asked him what he wishes to do tactically in relation to this matter. I state this for the following reason Mr Patel will have to give evidence in the witness box regarding his claims to the insurance company. He will also have to give evidence in relation to the statement that he made to the police in relation to the Venice chairs he alleged in his section 9 statement that he recognised. At present he has not produced an invoice confirming that he was ever in possession of the Venice chair. He will be asked about this when he is giving evidence. We will be seeking stock movement also as the goods were delivered on and allegedly stolen in February 2013

19th January 2012

We will be seeking confirmation of the movement of stock from the premises. I will also be emailing the CPS to make arrangements for the original invoice for the purchase of the gazebo seized from your rear garden to be examined and agreed prior to the trial. Please confirm that you are still in possession of the original invoice in order that I can do an addendum to your defence case statement. I will be requesting that the CPS take a detailed statement from Mr Patel together with invoices, delivery notes and stock movement from the premises at Unit 3 Horrison's Industrial Estate.

Hi Josey

In reply to the other email about the invoices we already know this is many mistakes, there is also mistakes as to the address on the invoices, all but one was del to an address off Marks Wholesale LTD

East Building

Canada water retails Park

Surrey Quays Road

Surrey Quays

London

SE16 2XD

One of the pages of the invoice was del to a next address of

Marks Wholesale LTD
Unit 34
Hatmerle Road
Peckham
London
SE15 0SA

The real address of the building is Unit 3 – 4 Haymerle Road
London
SE15 6SG

There are no notes on the invoice to say there was any address problems which there should have been because Unit 34 Hatmerle Road, Peckham, London, SE15 0SA is not an address.

As you are aware the premises being checked and being secured by Mr Patel will be open to rigorous cross - examination. The date used by me in my letter is the date specified in the indictment that is before the court. I will amend my letter and specify that Simon was there to hire his equipment. It would be helpful if Simon can bring to the meeting on Friday a copy of the invoice confirming this and also any company accounts that he has kept since the start of his company to show that he is in business. The statement from Nikki Diamond will follow after the Insurance company discloses the claims made by Mr Patel, whether voluntarily or by Third Party disclosure. I am in possession of the interview tape of Simon which you can listen to at my office. I will see if Anthony can burn a copy so

Dear Simon / Lorraine

Thank you for your email.

I am writing to confirm that Jemi has drafted the section 8 application that requires minor amendments before it can be served. I am also attaching the letter that I am proposing to forward to the insurance company. There is a process that I must go through in order to secure an application for Third Party Disclosure and one of the processes is requesting the insurance files from the Loss Adjustors. I anticipate that they will be refused and this will then form the basis of the Third-Party Disclosure application. I regret that I was unable to submit the application to vary your bail conditions for your birthday. This was due to a number of factors as follows:

There is a procedure which must be satisfied, namely writing to the court and giving five clear days' notice. (Bail variations are different to applications to bail which must be heard within 24 hours if the request to list is made before 10am on the previous day.) This could not be done in this case as I was waiting confirmation of the dates and location of the restaurant, night club etc. The added difficulty is the attitude of the Court to previous bail applications and also to our defence case statement. Can you please let me know your views on the proposed letter to Miss Diamond?

I would like to get this document emailed to her today so that I can then apply for the Third-Party Disclosure.

Simon can you please attend my office on

Friday 31st January 2014

at 3pm so that I can finalise your proof of evidence. If this appointment is not convenient then please confirm this so that I can make alternative arrangements. I will forward the amended section 8 application in due course.

Regards

Josephine

Hi Josey

Sorry for the late reply to your email I have been very unwell; Simon can come for the meeting at your office on Friday. As for the letter there is some mistakes please see below. Between 30th April 2013

And

9th May 2013

having entered a building, namely Unit 3, Horrisons Industrial Estate as a trespasser stole therein a chair and a gazebo. The dates are wrong Mr Patel left the building at 14.00 on the

1st May 2013

and then did not return till

8th May 2013

at 10.30 so he knew the building was ok until the 1st May 2013

not sure why the

30th April 2013

has been put in. also Simon was charged with Burglary and this is what we have told the insurance company he was charged with when we had the meeting. Our client has denied any involvement in the burglary matter but concedes that he was a DJ at a party hosted by persons who had established a legal squat at the commercial premises. Our client further contends that when he arrived at the premises in the wall had already been damaged and he also contends that this damage had been done at an earlier date back in when there was another private party. He was not a DJ at the party he was there due to Hiring his sound system out. Also Simon still wants a statement from Nikki Diamond taken, as he feels if the statement was taken then this could help his case now in the fact if this was shown to the crown they would have to look at this impact on the case, it would also help Simon case for her to stand up in court in front of the jury and say what went on within the claim that Mr Patel made.

May 2013

February 2013

Dear Ms Diamond

We act on behalf of our above-named client. We attach a copy of a letter in which we seek disclosure of a client's insurance claims. We appreciate the constraints of client confidentiality but would be grateful if you could confirm a willingness or otherwise to disclose so that we can then progress to the next stage of applying for an application for Third Party disclosure. We thank you in advance for your assistance in this matter.

to transfer legal representation Simon Further to your telephone conversation with me today during which you have accused me of not representing you correctly and not defending your case properly you leave me with little choice but to list the case at Woolwich Crown Court in order that your legal representation order can be revoked. I am cancelling your 2pm conference with me for Tuesday

I am not prepared to be subjected to threats about you blackening my name over Facebook. I work very hard for all my clients and my track record as a Criminal Defence Solicitors attests to that. I have represented you since you were a juvenile to the best of my abilities and I have never not defended a client properly or tried my best for my client. You stated that during the telephone conversation that the Judge asked you to change your solicitors at the last bail hearing on Christmas Eve. As you are aware, I was on annual leave from

I made the bail variation as requested and you were not happy as the court did not suspend your curfew. That is the simple fact of the matter here. You also stated that during a conference with Jemi, the barrister that I appointed for you that he also advised you that I was a poor solicitor and not acting in your best interests. You only raised this today and I will most certainly be taking this accusation up with Jemi and his clerks. I asked you to confirm this in writing and you have refused to do this. I again ask you to confirm this in writing as Jemi will have to respond to this allegation. I will be asking Jemi and his clerks to comment on the allegations that you have made. You will of course appreciate that if Jemi does not agree with your accusations that he will probably refuse to represent you. You are accusing him of slandering my reputation by saying that Jemi says I am not representing you properly and that he advised you to change your solicitors. With regards to your complaint in relation to the bail variation you were asked in a number of emails to provide full details of your plans, venues etc and you did not do this instead you shouted down the phone and refused to give specific instructions. When you eventually did give the requested information, it was too late to apply to have the bail position varied. I suspect you know what the court's attitude to the requested variation would be in any event. With regards to the request for the original receipt I have to provide this to the court in an addendum to your defence case statement and the police will then make their enquiries. I am sorry that this position has arisen but you have left me little choice in the matter. I wish you good luck with your case and I will confirm the date that your case is listed for the revocation of legal aid. I will aim from Tuesday or Wednesday of this coming week. Can you please confirm by return email the advice that Jemi gave you at your conference at Isleworth Crown Court and also please confirm why it took you so long to raise it with me? You telephoned me on a Sunday, reserved for emergency phone calls. You should have raised it back when you had the conference with Jemi. You have raised it now and I will deal with the accusations now. I await hearing from you by return email with regards to Jemi.

Subject: RE: Simon Cordell application to transfer legal representation

Hi Lorraine

It is 10.47pm. I do not have Simon's file at home with me. I will ask Jemi to respond to the allegations made by Simon re his conference on 13th December 2013.

At the same time, I will ask him and his clerks to respond to why the Christmas bail variation was not made on 19th December 2013.

As you are both aware, I was on annual leave until 06th January 2014.

Simon's case is listed for trial in

June 2014.

There is enough time to secure the information but there is a process. With regards to the section 8 application Jemi has been on notice that this has been required since before Christmas. A detailed defence case statement was submitted and as a result of this document and the Crown's failure to disclose the requested items that the Third-Party Disclosure arise as did the section 8 application. If the Insurance company believe Mr Patel has committed a fraud then it is their decision whether he is prosecuted. Nikki Diamond has to confirm her unwillingness to disclose the file before I can apply for Third Party Disclosure. I cannot take a statement from her as part of her statement will require her to disclose and exhibit as part of that statement the original insurance claims and she cannot do this as client confidentiality arises. Re Simon's most recent request to vary bail he did not provide the information when requested. I have dealt with this point already as I have re the Third-Party Disclosure and the section 8 application. I am not prepared to have my professional judgement or integrity called into question. Simon threatened to blacken my name on Facebook Lorraine. I am reliant on instructions from my client re bail variations. I am reliant on Counsel drafting applications re section 8. I drafted Simon's original bail application and defence case statement well within the time limits. All other requests to vary bail I have made. Due to the number of bail variations Simon is aware of the process and trying to get the variations agreed administratively. He is also aware of the attitude of the Court to his case the issues regarding Simon's case when I am on leave, I have no control over. Simon himself caused problems in this case by

(a) his behaviour on arrest

(b) his comments to police when the police were at his house re the number of items bought as a job lot. There was no evidence of this apart from what came from Simon himself.

(c) The gazebo in his garden was easily dealt with as he had the original receipt

(d) Simon ignoring legal advice in his interviews (e) Simon's inaccurate interpretation on the law on burglary and what squatters can and cannot do whilst squatting in a building. There is a risk that Simon will be convicted in this case and this is not through the fault of Michael Carroll & Co or my representation but through his own conduct on his arrest and at the police station. To try to blame other people for the position he finds himself in is very wrong.

Simple questions to consider:

1. Did the police know about or have any evidence re the job lot answer No until Simon himself revealed this

2. Could Simon explain his DNA in a moveable object answer. Yes, and he would have achieved the same result as Naomi

3. Could police prove the Venice chair came from warehouse no. Information on this again came from Simon

436,

4. Is Mohammed likely to be a witness as to sale of the items?

No because he will have to be advised to obtain independent legal advice as he could incriminate himself This was better left to cross examination at trial as too late then to produce invoices but Simon obviously does not agree. This will be an example of Simon making a further tactical mistake as he did during the comments to police at his address and again in interview. The Judge and prosecution will be influenced in making decisions in this case based on Simon's conduct before arrest, in interview and his previous convictions. The point that Simon is missing is that a prima facie case exists and this case will go to trial. Simon should reread his interview and his attitude in his interview where he effectively suggests it serves the owner of the premises right for having his premises burgled. If Simon had not made such foolish comments when he was arrested and instead followed sound legal advice at the police station then we could have made representations to review the case but based on his admissions at his address, coupled with his interview this was impossible. At the start of this case Simon was very much mistaken with regards to the law. Tactics and timing are important in cases. Simon does not want to allow Solicitors to make tactical decisions so the best of luck to him. Once I get an email back from Jemi re the conference and section 8 application I will be listing this case to have the legal representation order revoked. During the telephone conversation today Simon again was abusive, he questioned my professional integrity, my ability to defend my clients and he threatened to slander my name. I heard him loud and clear Lorraine. All I can say is he has a very short memory. I know exactly how many times I have represented Simon and how many of those cases have resulted in a charge or a conviction. I am duty solicitor at court tomorrow and I will email Jemi in the morning. I will request an urgent response from him and I will then let you know when the case will be listed.

Kind regards

Josephine

Hi Josey

Simon has asked me to write this email so I am just writing what has been asked and the facts he is saying. As you are aware Simon is not great with Emails or letters and replying to them due to his writing and spelling. Simon has said he is not treating you in anyway, yes, he did say he was going to put his papers on Facebook to ask people what they feel about his case. He would then be able to obtain feedback from the general public. He feels there have been many errors in his case, some of these errors he wants me to list below.

His case was listed for the warn list for the 16/12/2013,

this could not happen due to issues with the crown not giving the information over. You at this time wanted it to go to trial and the morning the trial started wanted to list information that was needed for Simon case. When Simon went to see his Barrister on the

the barrister new nothing about the case and asked Simon to explain what his case was about. While Simon was explaining his barrister told Simon not to rush, Simon showed the barrister the invoices for the case and the barrister said these invoices were hear say, can he prove the items were even in the building at the time Simon was there. The Barrister asked where the disclosure, as what we showed him was rubbish. We had most of the case files with us that you had emailed to us. The Barrister asked has a section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure been put in, we told him no he said as soon as we get back get your solicitors to put a section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure in it should have been done already don't delay get it done today. Solicitors aren't doing the job properly get onto them. The Barrister asked when is this in court we said next week, to which he said I don't even know why you've been sent to me for this meeting as I'm on another case until Tuesday, Wednesday so won't be able to represent you. The barrister also told me to get a copy of my interview tapes and go over them and mark any part that is wrong on the crown's paper work. Simon had about a 20 min with his barrister before the barrister had to go back into court. When an application for a Section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure was put into the court on the

There was a time given that Simon's solicitor had till the 16/01/2014

to submit the section 8 and the Third-Party Disclosure to the court. And that then the crown had until the 16/02/2014

to give the information that had been requested. If the crown failed to give the information the case would need to be relisted in court so this could be addressed. As of today's date

02/02/2014

we still do not know if the section 8 and the Third-Party Disclosure has been given to the court. The last email from you on this subject was dated the

27/01/2014

where you told us that Jemi has drafted the section 8 applications that require minor amendments before it can be served.

438,

As for the Third-Party Disclosure as of 29/01/2014

a letter to Nikki Diamond from the insurance company had just been sent over by yourself, I believe that this is the process that needs to happen before a Third Party Disclosure application can be put in as you need it in writing that the insurance company is not willing to hand over the file without the Third Party Disclosure. On the 13/12/2013

a call was made to Cunningham Lindsey where we talked to someone about the case for the insurance part of the claim, we were told that Nikki Diamond was not due back into the office until the 16/12/2013.

16/12/2013

my mum called Cunningham Lindsey to talk to Nikki Diamond where we were told that Nikki Diamond was working from home that day and given Nikki Diamond's mobile number to call her. My mum then made a call to Nikki Diamond and we chatted about the case telling her what had happened in Simon's case and what we believed had gone on. Nikki Diamond was concerned about what we had told her over the phone, and at this point told us she needs to put this to her manager and could she take our phone number so that her or her manager could call us back. I gave Nikki Diamond our contact information.

my mum took a call from Trevor Allaway Commercial Special Investigator for Cunningham Lindsey my mum and Trevor Allaway talked for some time over the phone about the case at which point he asked that could he have a meeting with Simon to take a statement from him, he also said he did not want to step on Simon's solicitor's feet and to please advise our solicitor as to what was going on and that he would like to have the meeting with Simon. After the called I Emailed you what had gone on and forwarded you a copy of the email Trevor Allaway had sent. You replied asking if the insurance company aware that Simon is awaiting trial for burglary. I replied yes; they were as I had disclosed this to them on the calls that were made. Nothing was done with this information so on the

my mum made a call to Trevor Allaway to setup a meeting with him at my mum address this was set for the 13/01/2014

at 11am, when my mum spoke to Trevor Allaway, he told her that he will be being the complete file for the claim with him to the meeting. On the 13/01/2014

the meeting with Trevor Allaway went ahead. Where information was given by both parties. There was shock also on both sides about parts of information that was spoke about. Trevor Allaway even showed us pictures of which Nikki Diamond had taken on the

and was shocked to see the picture the police had taken for my case as they were the same pictures Mr Patel & D Patel had done nothing to the building and now, I was paying the price due to this. Trevor Allaway also made a call to Nikki Diamond to get dates for claims etc and to make sure he had all the facts correct. Nikki Diamond gave the dates of

17/02/2013

for the 1st claim

25/03/2013

for a 2nd claim

07/06/2013

for the 3rd claim

We were shocked there was in fact a next claim we knew nothing for the 25/03/2013,

and also, the date for the last claim of the

07/06/2013

when in fact Simon case was for the

04/05/2013

We asked Trevor Allaway why the claim for 17/02/2013

and the 25/03/2013

was not paid out he said we did not believe the claim was real. He also said that when someone takes out insurance, they have to put down the condition of the property, and they also believed a lot of the damage to the building was from an earlier date. Trevor Allaway also said that to get out solicitors to go and get a statement from Nikki Diamond as she would be a creditable witness for Simon. All this was explained to you with an email that was sent to you on the

by my mum and a phone call where I talked to you when you were on your way to the prison to see someone. I at this asked you also about his birthday and you said if Nikki Diamond could do a statement that said everything, I had said then there should be no problem for my birthday. My mum did get a next email from you that day asking for Nikki Diamond information as when the 1st email had been sent to you my mum had forgot to put it, my mum replied with the information for Nikki Diamond being mobile number and office address she could not at this point find Nikki Diamonds email address so this was not included. Emails was sent on the

and the 18/01/2014

asking if a date had been setup for you to take the statement from Nikki Diamond and if the section 8 and the Third-Party Disclosure has been given to the court and for an update. You replied to this on the 18/01/2014.

On the 21/01/2014

my mum emailed you about the application for my curfew for my birthday, you replied to this asking for his plains for his birthday so you could put the application into the court. On the

22/01/2014

when I went to mums, she showed me the email I was upset with this due to the fact I did not see why I needed to give the locations as to where I was going. You said you had to have this to put the application in. My mum emailed you the details as to where I was going. As we had not heard anything, I believed the application had been put in and that it should have been heard on The 24/01/2014

my mum late on the 24/01/2014

emailed you and texted you to get an update as to the application. There was no reply to this from you until the 27/01/2014

where you told us, the application could not be put in due the notice you need to give the court.

440,

You also in that email explained the process needed for the Third-Party Disclosure application. In which was the 1st time I knew a letter would be needed to be sent to the insurance company and they would need to refuse to hand over the files before you could go for the Third-Party Disclosure application through the court. And also give me an update as to the section 8 application that you could confirm that Jemi has drafted the section 8 application that requires minor amendments before it can be served. But you knew this was needed when the application was put into the court on the

19/12/2014

when the application was heard for the section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure. So why was this only being address on 27/01/2014

when this then had already passed the date of the 16/01/2014

to hand the application into the court?

I feel this delay will again make my case take longer as there is still going to be a time given by the court to the crown to reply to the applications. On the

29/01/2013

a reply was made by email from my mum. Explaining parts in the letter that you attached to the email you sent on the 27/01/2014

for Nikki Diamond about the discloser of the file was not correct and needed amended. She also wrote that I still wanted a statement taken from Nikki Diamond due to this helping my case. You replied to this email on the saying that, the statement from Nikki Diamond will follow after the Insurance Company discloses the claims made by Mr Patel, whether voluntarily or by Third Party disclosure. I do feel this statement is 100% needed sooner not later as once this is shown to the crown I sure they will rethink their case on me. As I feel at this time this is an unfair trial due to how Mr Patel has used my case to be able to manipulate his insurance claim due to what has already been discussed with Trevor Allaway. And this is a clear breach in my human rights to have a fair trial. Also, on the

29/01/2014

19/01/2013

when the application went into the court a bail application was meant to have been done at the same time for my bail conditions over the holidays that were upcoming. For some reason the bail application was not heard so you relisted this for

23/12/2013

to be heard by the court, you sent a text to my mum after you found out the outcome of this bail application in which you said I was on an electric tag to my mum address, and that the curfew was not lifted that Serco would come to my mums address to install the tag there. I got very upset with hearing this as I for one reason I was never on an electric tag for this case from the start of it. I did try and call you and I got no reply so I called the court explained to the court the issues I had and was advised to call my solicitor and ask them to relist the case for the

24/12/2013

this would need to be done within the next 20 mins. I then called the office and explained this to someone in the office and was told I would get a call back. I did not get a call back but at around 21.47 that evening you texted my mum saying that Simon needed to be at Woolwich crown court at 09.45 on the 24/12/2013.

24/12/2013

I went to court and my mum come with me, when we got there, we were told the case was not listed before 11am. So, we waited at the court at around 10.50 as a barrister had not turned up for me my mum texted for to ask the name of the barrister that would be coming that we were outside court 7 waiting,

441,

there was no reply to this text so at around 11.10 I made a call to the office and spoke to someone there that told me a barrister would not be attending, I was really upset with this but what could I say. I then saw the usher of the court and told her what was going on, she said why had the solicitors told me to come here and yet now there would not be a barrister and not tell me this beforehand, she told me she would talk to the crown who was in the court room and explain to him what was going on and then let me know what could be done. About 5 mins later she came out of the court room and told me that the crown was going to call it on and see what could be done. It was called into court and when the judge heard I did not have a barrister she asked the clerk of the court to call the office and see what was going on, which the clerk on the court did, when she got off the phone she told the judge no one was coming to the court for me. I stood up and tried to explain to the judge what had gone on. My mum at this asked the judge if she could explain it and the judge said yes to come forward, she could hear what my mum was saying. My mum explained to the judge about the

and the 23/12/2013

the judge was at loss of what could be done as the rule that had been made on the 23/01/2014

she could not change as this would be dealing with a judicial review and she could not hear that. The crown then asked if he could speak to the judge and said that due to new evidence, she could hear it on them grounds. The judge at that replied yes, she would like to hear this but I did not have a barrister she then went on to ask the barristers in the court room would they be willing to represent me and told them that I had legal aid and that it would be marked on the file. One stood up and said yes, she would stand in. the judge then said to us to go outside with the barrister and speak to her and when ready it would go back into court. We went out explained to the barrister what was going on. She told us that even from what she had heard in court that I should really think about changing solicitors. It went back into court and the judge heard the case and my bail was varied on the

01/01/2014

my mum again texted you due to an issue where I got arrested, she had tried to call the office but there was no answer of a voice mail message to give a number to call. No one got back to my mum so when she got to court, she had to ask a solicitor that was on duty that day to help me. He said he was not meant to as I had legal aid for the case already but he would go and speak to me, he did in fact represent me in court that day. On the

03/01/2014

I asked my mum sent you an email to ask if my case was too much for you as I knew you had a lot of work on. You told me you were still on annual leave and I return to work on Monday. On the

31/01/2014

I was due to have a meeting in the office which you had to cancel as you were dealing with other cases. This was re booked for at 2pm. I have called you many times and it has just gone to voice mail and you have not called me back. I have also called the office about things I feel are wrong and told someone would call me back which has not happened. I can prove this with statements from the phones that were used. There are emails that have been sent to you and no reply to them emails and what I have asked have been given.

442,

There was a break down before in this case as you are aware and I dropped the complaint. Josey, I have used you as a solicitor for many years and don't just look at you as a solicitor you are a friend of the families. All I want is for my case to be dealt with in a correct manner, which will lead me to have a speedy and fair trial, and I don't want to feel like I am being punished for a crime that I have not been convicted of. And I feel with the statement from Nikki Diamond that would show somewhat to Mr Patel ways in how he has dealt with his insurance case in this matter that clearly is not correct all ready. Could you please email back at the points that have been included in this email, and if you feel I am wrong on any points or the way in which I am feeling.

to transfer legal representation

Simon

Further to your telephone conversation with me today during which you have accused me of not representing you correctly and not defending your case properly you leave me with little choice but to list the case at Woolwich Crown Court in order that your legal representation order can be revoked.

I am cancelling your 2pm conference with me for Tuesday

04th February 2014.

I am not prepared to be subjected to threats about you blackening my name over Facebook. I work very hard for all my clients and my track record as a Criminal Defence Solicitors attests to that. I have represented you since you were a juvenile to the best of my abilities and I have never not defended a client properly or tried my best for my client. You stated that during the telephone conversation that the Judge asked you to change your solicitors at the last bail hearing on Christmas Eve. As you are aware, I was on annual leave from

23rd December 2013

I made the bail variation as requested and you were not happy as the court did not suspend your curfew. That is the simple fact of the matter here. You also stated that during a conference with Jemi, the barrister that I appointed for you that he also advised you that I was a poor solicitor and not acting in your best interests. You only raised this today and I will most certainly be taking this accusation up with Jemi and his clerks. I asked you to confirm this in writing and you have refused to do this. I again ask you to confirm this in writing as Jemi will have to respond to this allegation. I will be asking Jemi and his clerks to comment on the allegations that you have made. You will of course appreciate that if Jemi does not agree with your accusations that he will probably refuse to represent you. You are accusing him of slandering my reputation by saying that Jemi says I am not representing you properly and that he advised you to change your solicitors. With regards to your complaint in relation to the bail variation you were asked in a number of emails to provide full details of your plans, venues etc and you did not do this instead you shouted down the phone and refused to give specific instructions. When you eventually did give the requested information, it was too late to apply to have the bail position varied. I suspect you know what the court's attitude to the requested variation would be in any event. With regards to the request for the original receipt I have to provide this to the court in an addendum to your defence case statement and the police will then make their enquiries. I am sorry that this position has arisen but you have left me little choice in the matter. I wish you good luck with your case and I will confirm the date that your case is listed for the revocation of legal aid. I will aim from Tuesday or Wednesday of this coming week. Can you please confirm by return email the advice that Jemi gave you at your conference at Isleworth Crown Court and also please confirm why it took you so long to raise it with me?

You telephoned me on a Sunday, reserved for emergency phone calls. You should have raised it back when you had the conference with Jemi. You have raised it now and I will deal with the accusations now. I await hearing from you by return email with regards to Jemi.

Regards

Josephine Ward

Subject: RE: Simon Cordell application

Hi Josey

Simon has asked me to write this email so I am just writing what has been asked and the facts he is saying. As you are aware Simon is not great with Emails or letters and replying to them due to his writing and spelling. Simon has said he is not treating you in anyway, yes, he did say he was going to put his papers on Facebook ton ask people what they feel about his case. He would then be able to obtain feedback from the general public. He feels there have been many errors in his case, some of these errors he wants me to list below. His case was listed for the warn list for the 16/12/2013,

this could not happen due to issues with the crown not giving the information over. You at this time wanted it to go to trial and the morning the trial started wanted to list information that was needed for Simon case. When Simon went to see his Barrister on the

the barrister new nothing about the case and asked Simon to explain what his case was about. While Simon was explaining his barrister told Simon not to rush, Simon showed the barrister the invoices for the case and the barrister said these invoices were hear say, can he prove the items were even in the building at the time Simon was there. The Barrister asked where the disclosure, as what we showed him was rubbish. We had most of the case files with us that you had emailed to us. The Barrister asked has a section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure been put in, we told him no he said as soon as we get back get your solicitors to put a section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure in it should have been done already don't delay get it done today. Solicitors aren't doing the job properly get onto them. The Barrister asked when is this in court we said next week, to which he said I don't even know why you've been sent to me for this meeting as I'm on another case until Tuesday, Wednesday so won't be able to represent you. The barrister also told me to get a copy of my interview tapes and go over them and mark any part that is wrong on the crown's paper work. Simon had about a 20 min with his barrister before the barrister had to go back into court. When an application for a Section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure was put into the court on the

There was a time given that Simon's solicitor had till the 16/01/2014

to submit the section 8 and the Third-Party Disclosure to the court. And that then the crown had until the 16/02/2014

to give the information that had been requested. If the crown failed to give the information the case would need to be relisted in court so this could be addressed. As of today's date

02/02/2014

we still do not know if the section 8 and the Third-Party Disclosure has been given to the court. The last email from you on this subject was dated the

27/01/2014

where you told us that Jemi has drafted the section 8 applications that require minor amendments before it can be served. As for the Third-Party Disclosure as of a letter to Nikki Diamond from the insurance company had just been sent over by yourself, I believe that this is the process that needs to happen before a Third Party Disclosure application can be put in as you need it in writing that the insurance company is not willing to hand over the file without the Third Party Disclosure. On the 13/12/2013

29/01/2014

a call was made to Cunningham Lindsey where we talked to someone about the case for the insurance part of the claim, we were told that Nikki Diamond was not due back into the office until the 16/12/2013.

On the 16/12/2013

my mum called Cunningham Lindsey to talk to Nikki Diamond where we were told that Nikki Diamond was working from home that day and given Nikki Diamond's mobile number to call her.

445,

My mum then made a call to Nikki Diamond and we chatted about the case telling her what had happened in Simon's case and what we believed had gone on. Nikki Diamond was concerned about what we had told her over the phone, and at this told us she needs to put this to her manager and could she take our phone number so that her or her manager could call us back. I gave Nikki Diamond our contact information. On the

17/12/2013

my mum took a call from Trevor Allaway Commercial Special Investigator for Cunningham Lindsey my mum and Trevor Allaway talked for some time over the phone about the case at which point he asked that could he have a meeting with Simon to take a statement from him, he also said he did not want to step on Simon's solicitor's feet and to please advise our solicitor as to what was going on and that he would like to have the meeting with Simon. After the call I Emailed you what had gone on and forwarded you a copy of the email Trevor Allaway had sent. You replied asking if the insurance company aware that Simon is awaiting trial for burglary. I replied yes; they were as I had disclosed this to them on the calls that were made. Nothing was done with this information so on the

my mum made a call to Trevor Allaway to setup a meeting with him at my mum address this was set for the 13/01/2014

at 11am, when my mum spoke to Trevor Allaway, he told her that he will be being the complete file for the claim with him to the meeting. On the 13/01/2014

the meeting with Trevor Allaway went ahead. Where information was given by both parties. There was shock also on both sides about parts of information that was spoke about. Trevor Allaway even showed us pictures of which Nikki Diamond had taken on the

28/03/2014

and was shocked to see the picture the police had taken for my case as they were the same pictures Mr Patel & D Patel had done nothing to the building and now, I was paying the price due to this. Trevor Allaway also made a call to Nikki Diamond to get dates for claims etc and to make sure he had all the facts correct. Nikki Diamond gave the dates of 17/02/2013

for the 1st claim

25/03/2013

for a 2nd claim

07/06/2013

for the 3rd claim

We were shocked there was in fact a next claim we knew nothing for the 25/03/2013,

and also, the date for the last claim of the

07/06/2013

when in fact Simon case was for the

04/05/2013

We asked Trevor Allaway why the claim for 17/02/2013

and the 25/03/2013

was not paid out he said we did not believe the claim was real. He also said that when someone takes out insurance, they have to put down the condition of the property, and they also believed a lot of the damage to the building was from an earlier date. Trevor Allaway also said that to get out solicitors to go and get a statement from Nikki Diamond as she would be a creditable witness for Simon. All this was explained to you with an email that was sent to you on the

by my mum and a phone call where I talked to you when you were on your way to the prison to see someone. I at this asked you also about his birthday and you said if Nikki Diamond could do a statement that said everything, I had said then there should be no problem for my birthday. My mum did get a next email from you that day asking for Nikki Diamond information as when the 1st email had been sent to you my mum had forgot to put it, my mum replied with the information for Nikki Diamond being mobile number and office address she could not at this point find Nikki Diamonds email address so this was not included. Emails was sent on the 15/01/2014

and the 18/01/2014

asking if a date had been setup for you to take the statement from Nikki Diamond and if the section 8 and the Third-Party Disclosure has been given to the court and for an update. You replied to this on the 18/01/2014.

On the 21/01/2014

my mum emailed you about the application for my curfew for my birthday, you replied to this asking for his plans for his birthday so you could put the application into the court. On the 22/01/2014

when I went to mums, she showed me the email I was upset with this due to the fact I did not see why I needed to give the locations as to where I was going. You said you had to have this to put the application in. My mum emailed you the details as to where I was going. As we had not heard anything, I believed the application had been put in and that it should have been heard on the

my mum late on the 24/01/2014

emailed you and texted you to get an update as to the 446, application. There was no reply to this from you until the 27/01/2014

where you told us, the application could not be put in due the notice you need to give the court. You also in that email explained the process needed for the Third-Party Disclosure application. In which was the 1st time I knew a letter would be needed to be sent to the insurance company and they would need to refuse to hand over the files before you could go for the Third-Party Disclosure application through the court. And also give me an update as to the section 8 application that you could confirm that Jemi has drafted the section 8 application that requires minor amendments before it can be served. But you knew this was needed when the application was put into the court on the 19/12/2014

16/01/2014

I feel this delay will again make my case take longer as there is still going to be a time given by the court to the crown to reply to the applications. On the

I made the bail variation as requested and you were not happy as the court did not suspend your curfew. That is the simple fact of the matter here. You also stated that during a conference with Jemi, the barrister that I appointed for you that he also advised you that I was a poor solicitor and not acting in your best interests. You only raised this today and I will most certainly be taking this accusation up with Jemi and his clerks. I asked you to confirm this in writing and you have refused to do this. I again ask you to confirm this in writing as Jemi will have to respond to this allegation. I will be asking Jemi and his clerks to comment on the allegations that you have made. You will of course appreciate that if Jemi does not agree with your accusations that he will probably refuse to represent you. You are accusing him of slandering my reputation by saying that Jemi says I am not representing you properly and that he advised you to change your solicitors. With regards to your complaint in relation to the bail variation you were asked in a number of emails to provide full details of your plans, venues etc and you did not do this instead you shouted down the phone and refused to give specific instructions. When you eventually did give the requested information, it was too late to apply to have the bail position varied. I suspect you know what the court's attitude to the requested variation would be in any event. With regards to the request for the original receipt I have to provide this to the court in an addendum to your defence case statement and the police will then make their enquiries. I am sorry that this position has arisen but you have left me little choice in the matter. I wish you good luck with your case and I will confirm the date that your case is listed for the revocation of legal aid. I will aim from Tuesday or Wednesday of this coming week. Can you please confirm by return email the advice that Jemi gave you at your conference at Isleworth Crown Court and also please confirm why it took you so long to raise it with me?

You telephoned me on a Sunday, reserved for emergency phone calls. You should have raised it back when you had the conference with Jemi. You have raised it now and I will deal with the accusations now. I await hearing from you by return email with regards to Jemi.

Hi Josey

Lorraine as a matter of respect to you I have responded to the most recent email now that I have some time. My replies to Simon are in bold. I accept that Simon believes his comments before being arrested are not damaging to his case and he believes that his interview is well thought out and legally reasoned. Unfortunately, I do not agree with Simon's belief that his comments and interview are not damaging to the case - they are what made the difference in this case. Thank you for the reply to Simon's email, Simon has asked me to write this email for him. The section of my email that was sent to you yesterday that address Jemi and the meeting we had come from my friend Katie who did attend the meeting with Jemi with me, so new what was said and I used her words as to what she heard at the meeting as to what Jemi said to me. If needed Katie could confirm this so can my mum as she was the one writing the email for me that was sent yesterday. Could you also please send me a copy as to what you have sent over to Jemi by email and his reply to your email?

(a) Simon / Lorraine I have emailed the email I sent to Jemi and his response. This was based on the conversation and accusations made by Simon on the telephone

Sunday 2nd February 2014.

With regards to Jemi's non-availability. Jemi was booked for Simon's case and his jury was out and at risk of over running. You were advised of this fact at the time. What does happen sometimes is that once speeches are done in a case the barrister can get an alternative barrister to baby sit the case. Also, Simon's case was in the warned list, not given a fixture so there was no guarantee that the case would be listed. The case Jemi was dealing with at the time should have been a five-day case but it over ran, I agree the case is now listed for the warned list for the week commencing

30th June 2014

As you are aware on the 19/12/2013

when my mum got the email from you about my case about the application that was put to the court that day, when my mum got the email she was very worried due to the date for the listing for the new trial date, so she herself called you before she had even showed me the email. She knew the new trial date would cause a delay in my case by 6 months or more. she asked you some things on the phone on the one being if we got the information from the crown could the date of the

19/01/2014

be taken sooner. You replied once we get the information form the crown and Third-Party Disclosure it could be listed back in court and there maybe was a chance to being the date forward for the hearing, this is the information she told me.

(b) Yes, Simon I agree I did say this to your mother. I said there was a chance and I did not put it any higher than that. It is this that is upsetting me so much as the longer it takes to put the applications into the court the longer it will take to get the information that is needed in my case. As you know I am on bail conditions that have stopped me doing anything for my business that I have been setting up for many years now. In fact, I have lost a lot of business due to the bail conditions I am on. I do not think it is right that a judge to say to me that I can sub contract my business out, I am not talking here a small amount of money for my sound system or any of my equipment, if it was lost or damaged it could take a long time in which to recover the costs. This is why when my equipment is hired, I also go with it due to me being able to look after it and make sure they don't red line my equipment or it is damage or taken, I myself take care of it. And I do feel my human rights are being violated by the court and crown not allowing me to do my work. The longer it takes this case to go to court for trial is the longer my business cannot run this is why I am so upset that things are not being put in on time to the court. I have spent many years getting to where I am today within my business and due to this case, my business is has suffered.

(c) I have no control over Crown Court Judge's decisions re bail. They apply the Bail Act and the objections under this legislation in determining whether an individual should be given bail. You were originally refused bail due to fears that you would commit further offences and fail to surrender. I secured you bail and I made this application out of office hours so you did not spend any longer in custody that what was necessary. I have made all requested bail variations with the exception of the one for your birthday as you did not feel you needed to provide me with the specifics of the variation and instead chose to argue with me about the rights of the Crown Court to require this information. Yes, I agree my case is in the warned list for the week of the but would like the information well before this date so that maybe the trial can be taken forward. I would also like it sooner than later so the facts as to how Mr Patel has done this can be shown to the crown.

(d) As stated to your mother when the information from the insurance company is disclosed whether voluntarily or by Third Party Disclosure the Crown Prosecution Service would have been invited to review the evidence. I do not have this information. I did request this information in my defence case statement as it is information in Mr Patel's possession and the prosecution could have asked him for this. Likewise, the first burglary this should have been disclosed to us under normal disclosure rules but the court has insisted on a section 8 application for this. As for what I said at my home and at police station is not the issue here I knows what I said and was being honest as I did not think I had done anything wrong. I did buy the items from Mohammed in good faith. (I asked you for details of Mohammed with a view to taking a witness statement. I also advised you that he would have to be advised to seek independent legal representation to avoid self in crimination. Never provided) For it to have been a job lot of 5 of each or just 1 gazebo, and 1 chair which was found at my address I think the police would have taken the same said outcome to this case. They wanted someone for this case and I was that person. This can be shown by any information we have asked for not being given they still have not even given the CAD reports for that day in truth that there was other police at the scene and let me in the building knowing I was there to hire my sound system for a private party that night as I explained this to them when I got there. Let alone how many times they attended the building on that evening even down to the council attending with the police due to noise. There is also the case as to when I turned up at the building and the police was already there, how is it when they did their checks, they did not see that a Burglary had happened on that building on the

and let us enter the building knowing this as really, they would have got that report back on their checks that evening Which in my eyes does show a cover up as where are the reports as it is to do directly with my case. The DC dealing with my case also dealt with the other case on so, would also been aware of the condition of the building after the 16/02/2013

16/02/2013

pictures where taken for the case of the 16/02/2013,

so, he would have been well aware the pictures taken for my case was the same so how could he then charge me with all the damage to the building?

Where is the information that the police should have asked Mr Patel as to him securing the building after the?

(e) This is a matter for cross examination and the officer in witness box where he does not have any room to manouvere. Yes I am upset as I do feel I have been setup by the police and they by doing this have allowed Mr Patel to use my case to make his claim to the insurance company go ahead was this planned from the start and yes I have asked this to myself many times and others I have spoken to have said the same said thing.

(f) Simon based on the forensic evidence recovered at the scene the police had reasonable grounds to arrest you for this offence. So yes, I want my trial sooner than later as I want to get on with my life and my business and yes, I do understand I could be found guilty for this case but until I do, I should be able to run my business. And I don't think I am asking too much here.

I believe also that it could be taken to the high court for a judicial review about my bail condition but I was never made aware of this. Seeing as the crown court attitude in this case has never been good as you have put it. And that the court is unwilling to see that I need to work or face losing my business.

(g) The bail conditions imposed by the Court are not unreasonable. They are imposed to prevent the commission of further offences and failure to surrender. I have never tried to blame other people for the position I find myself in, what I am saying is I don't feel as if things are being done in a timely manner.

If you just look at the Third Party Disclosure, if you knew that you had to write to Nikki Diamond and get her to say in writing her unwillingness to disclose the file before you could then apply for the Third Party Disclosure, why did you not write the letter back in

after the application was put into the court on the 19/12/2013

or after you come back from annual leave, due to knowing that you needed this before the 16/01/2014

that the judge had said.

(h) The information that forms part of Third-Party Disclosure was originally requested in your defence case statement. Your trial is now scheduled for and yes, in an ideal world I should have sent a letter to Nikki Diamond and the insurance company. Nikkii Diamond has to refuse to give the information first of all before the Court will even entertain an application for Third Party Disclosure and then the Court could direct the information to be brought to court for the trial. This is what happens in Social Services cases by way of example. We would request paper copies, failing that then a statement from Nikki Diamond. If the insurance file is served then Nikki Diamond is not required as a witness as the insurance claims and reports can be introduced under the hearsay rules. I do understand you were waiting for Jemi to do the write up for the section 8 and that was out of your control. But the Third-Party Disclosure was not. Also why was it when we told you about getting a statement from Nikki Diamond did you not say then you had to wait until the Third-Party Disclosure was given as she would not be able to do a statement without client confidentiality arising which would have caused issues. You told me on the phone that if you got the statement from Nikki Diamond then the bail condition change, I wanted for my birthday should not be a problem.

June 2014

(I) I said it was worth a try. I did not put it any higher than this. I do not recall saying it would not be a problem but words to the effect that it would be worth a try. We are covering old ground here as I was also reliant on specific information that you refused to give as you felt the court had no right to know your movements. Can you also keep me updated as to the date for court so I can attend?

(j) No problem I am hoping to resolve this matter once I speak to Michael Carroll tomorrow in the afternoon so I will be asking for a hearing on either Thursday or Friday of this week.

Subject: RE: Simon Cordell application

to transfer legal representation

Hi Lorraine

It is 10.47pm. I do not have Simon's file at home with me. I will ask Jemi to respond to the allegations made by Simon re his conference on

13th December 2013

At the same time, I will ask him and his clerks to respond to why the Christmas bail variation was not made on 19th December 2013.

As you are both aware, I was on annual leave until

06th January 2014

Simon's case is listed for trial in

June 2014

There is enough time to secure the information but there is a process.

453,

With regards to the section 8 application Jemi has been on notice that this has been required since before Christmas. A detailed defence case statement was submitted and as a result of this document and the Crown's failure to disclose the requested items that the Third-Party Disclosure arise as did the section 8 application. If the Insurance company believe Mr Patel has committed a fraud then it is their decision whether he is prosecuted. Nikki Diamond has to confirm her unwillingness to disclose the file before I can apply for Third Party Disclosure. I cannot take a statement from her as part of her statement will require her to disclose and exhibit as part of that statement the original insurance claims and she cannot do this as client confidentiality arises. Re Simon's most recent request to vary bail he did not provide the information when requested. I have dealt with this point already as I have re the Third-Party Disclosure and the section 8 application. I am not prepared to have my professional judgement or integrity called into question. Simon threatened to blacken my name on Facebook Lorraine. I am reliant on instructions from my client re bail variations. I am reliant on Counsel drafting applications re section 8. I drafted Simon's original bail application and defence case statement well within the time limits. All other requests to vary bail I have made. Due to the number of bail variations Simon is aware of the process and trying to get the variations agreed administratively. He is also aware of the attitude if the Court to his case the issues regarding Simon's case when I am on leave, I have no control over. Simon himself caused problems in this case by

(a) his behaviour on arrest

(b) his comments to police when the police were at his house re the number of items bought as a job lot. There was no evidence of this apart from what came from Simon himself.

(c) The gazebo in his garden was easily dealt with as he had the original receipt

(d) Simon ignoring legal advice in his interviews

(e) Simon's inaccurate interpretation on the law on burglary and what squatters can and cannot do whilst squatting in a building. There is a risk that Simon will be convicted in this case and this is not through the fault of Michael Carroll & Co or my representation but through his own conduct on his arrest and at the police station. To try to blame other people for the position he finds himself in is very wrong. Simple questions to consider:

1. Did the police know about or have any evidence re the job lot answer No until Simon himself revealed this

2. Could Simon explain his DNA in a moveable object answer. Yes, and he would have achieved the same result as Naomi

3. Could police prove the Venice chair came from warehouse no.
Information on this again came from Simon

4. Is Mohammed likely to be a witness as to sale of the items?

No because he will have to be advised to obtain independent legal advice as he could incriminate himself This was better left to cross examination at trial as too late then to produce invoices but Simon obviously does not agree. This will be an example of Simon making a further tactical mistake as he did during the comments to police at his address and again in interview. The Judge and prosecution will be influenced in making decisions in this case based on Simon's conduct before arrest, in interview and his previous convictions. The point that Simon is missing is that a prima facie case exists and this case will go to trial. Simon should reread his interview and his attitude in his interview where he effectively suggests it serves the owner of the premises right for having his premises burgled.

If Simon had not made such foolish comments when he was arrested and instead followed sound legal advice at the police station then we could have made representations to review the case but based on his admissions at his address, coupled with his interview this was impossible. At the start of this case Simon was very much mistaken with regards to the law. Tactics and timing are important in cases. Simon does not want to allow Solicitors to make tactical decisions so the best of luck to him. Once I get an email back from Jemi re the conference and section 8 application I will be listing this case to have the legal representation order revoked. During the telephone conversation today Simon again was abusive, he questioned my professional integrity, my ability to defend my clients and he threatened to slander my name. I heard him loud and clear Lorraine. All I can say is he has a very short memory. I know exactly how many times I have represented Simon and how many of those cases have resulted in a charge or a conviction. I am duty solicitor at court tomorrow and I will email Jemi in the morning. I will request an urgent response from him and I will then let you know when the case will be listed.

Kind regards

Josephine

Hi Josey

Simon has asked me to write this email so I am just writing what has been asked and the facts he is saying. As you are aware Simon is not great with Emails or letters and replying to them due to his writing and spelling. Simon has said he is not treating you in anyway, yes, he did say he was going to put his papers on Facebook to ask people what they feel about his case. He would then be able to obtain feedback from the general public. He feels there have been many errors in his case, some of these errors he wants me to list below. His case was listed for the warn list for the 16/12/2013

this could not happen due to issues with the crown not giving the information over. You at this time wanted it to go to trial and the morning the trial started wanted to list information that was needed for Simon case. When Simon went to see his Barrister on the

the barrister new nothing about the case and asked Simon to explain what his case was about. While Simon was explaining his barrister told Simon not to rush, Simon showed the barrister the invoices for the case and the barrister said these invoices were hear say, can he prove the items were even in the building at the time Simon was there. The Barrister asked where the disclosure, as what we showed him was rubbish. We had most of the case files with us that you had emailed to us. The Barrister asked has a section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure been put in, we told him no he said as soon as we get back get your solicitors to put a section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure in it should have been done already don't delay get it done today. Solicitors aren't doing the job properly get onto them. The Barrister asked when is this in court we said next week, to which he said I don't even know why you've been sent to me for this meeting as I'm on another case until Tuesday, Wednesday so won't be able to represent you. The barrister also told me to get a copy of my interview tapes and go over them and mark any part that is wrong on the crowns paper work. Simon had about a 20 min with his barrister before the barrister had to go back into court.

455,

When an application for a Section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure was put into the court on the 19/12/2013

there was a time given that Simon solicitor had till the 16/01/2014

to submit the section 8 and the Third-Party Disclosure to the court. And that then the crown had until the 16/02/2014

to give the information that had been requested. If the crown failed to give the information the case would need to be relisted in court so this could be address. As of today's, date

02/02/2014

we still do not know if the section 8 and the Third-Party Disclosure has been given to the court. The last email from you on this subject was dated the

27/01/2014

where you told us that Jemi has drafted the section 8 applications that require minor amendments before it can be served. As for the Third-Party Disclosure as of a letter to Nikki Diamond from the insurance company had just been sent over by yourself, I believe that this is the process that needs to happen before a Third Party Disclosure application can be put in as you need it in writing that the insurance company is not willing to hand over the file without the Third Party Disclosure. On the 13/12/2013

29/01/2014

a call was made to Cunningham Lindsey where we talked to someone about the case for the insurance part of the claim, we were told that Nikki Diamond was not due back into the office until the 16/12/2013.

16/12/2013

my mum called Cunningham Lindsey to talk to Nikki Diamond where we were told that Nikki Diamond was working from home that day and given Nikki Diamonds mobile number to call her. My mum then made a call to Nikki Diamond and we chatted about the case telling her what had happened in Simon case and what we believed had gone on. Nikki Diamond was concerned about what we had told her over the phone, and at this told us she needs to put this to her manager and could she take our phone number so that her or her manager could call us back. I give Nikki Diamond our contact information.

17/12/2013

my mum took a call from Trevor Allaway Commercial Special Investigator for Cunningham Lindsey my mum and Trevor Allaway talked for some time over the phone about the case at which point in asked that could he have a meeting with Simon to take a statement from him, he also said he did not want to step on Simon solicitor feet and to please advise our solicitor as to what was going on and that he would like to have the meeting with Simon. After the called I Emailed you what had gone on and forwarded you a copy of the email Trevor Allaway had sent. You replied asking if the insurance company aware that Simon is awaiting trial for burglary. I replied yes; they were as I had disclosed this to them on the calls that were made. Nothing was done with this information so on the

08/01/2014

my mum made a call to Trevor Allaway to setup a meeting with him at my mum address this was set for the 13/01/2014

at 11am, when my mum spoke to Trevor Allaway, he told her that he will be being the complete file for the claim with him to the meeting. On the 13/01/2014

the meeting with Trevor Allaway went ahead. Where information was given by both parties. There was shock also on both sides about parts of information that was spoke about. Trevor Allaway even showed us pictures of which Nikki Diamond had taken on the

28/03/2014

and was shocked to see the picture the police had taken for my case as they were the same pictures Mr Patel & D Patel had done nothing to the building and now, I was paying the price due to this. Trevor Allaway also made a call to Nikki Diamond to get dates for claims etc and to make sure he had all the facts correct. Nikki Diamond gave the dates of 17/02/2013

for the 1st claim

25/03/2013

for a 2nd claim

07/06/2013

for the 3rd claim

We were shocked there was in fact a next claim we knew nothing for the 25/03/2013, and also the date for the last claim of the

07/06/2013

when in fact Simon case was for the

04/05/2013

We asked Trevor Allaway why the claim for 17/02/2013

and the 25/03/2013

was not paid out he said we did not believe the claim was real.

456,

He also said that when someone takes out insurance, they have to put down the condition of the property, and they also believed a lot of the damage to the building was from an earlier date. Trevor Allaway also said that to get out solicitors to go and get a statement from Nikki Diamond as she would be a creditable witness for Simon. All this was explained to you with an email that was sent to you on the 13/01/2014

by my mum and a phone call where I talked to you when you were on your way to the prison to see someone. I at this asked you also about his birthday and you said if Nikki Diamond could do a statement that said everything, I had said then there should be no problem for my birthday. My mum did get a next email from you that day asking for Nikki Diamond information as when the 1st email had been sent to you my mum had forgot to put it, my mum replied with the information for Nikki Diamond being mobile number and office address she could not at this point find Nikki Diamonds email address so this was not included. Emails was sent on the 15/01/2014

and the 18/01/2014

asking if a date had been setup for you to take the statement from Nikki Diamond and if the section 8 and the Third-Party Disclosure has been given to the court and for an update. You replied to this on the 18/01/2014.

On the 21/01/2014

my mum emailed you about the application for my curfew for my birthday, you replied to this asking for his plans for his birthday so you could put the application into the court. On the

22/01/2014

when I went to mums, she showed me the email I was upset with this due to the fact I did not see why I needed to give the locations as to where I was going. You said you had to have this to put the application in. My mum emailed you the details as to where I was going. As we had not heard anything, I believed the application had been put in and that it should have been heard on the 24/01/2014

my mum late on the 24/01/2014

emailed you and texted you to get an update as to the application. There was no reply to this from you until the

where you told us, the application could not be put in due the notice you need to give the court.

You also in that email explained the process needed for the Third-Party Disclosure application. In which was the 1st time I knew a letter would be needed to be sent to the insurance company and they would need to refuse to hand over the files before you could go for the Third-Party Disclosure application through the court. And also give me an update as to the section 8 application that you could confirm that Jemi has drafted the section 8 application that requires minor amendments before it can be served. But you knew this was needed when the application was put into the court on the

when the application was heard for the section 8- and Third-Party Disclosure. So why was this only being address on 27/01/2014

when this then had already passed the date of the 16/01/2014

to hand the application into the court?

I feel this delay will again make my case take longer as there is still going to be a time given by the court to the crown to reply to the applications. On the

29/01/2013

a reply was made by email from my mum. Explaining parts in the letter that you attached to the email you sent on the 27/01/2014

for Nikki Diamond about the discloser of the file was not correct and needed amended. She also wrote that I still wanted a statement taken from Nikki Diamond due to this helping my case.

You replied to this email on the

saying that, the statement from Nikki Diamond will follow after the Insurance Company discloses the claims made by Mr Patel, whether voluntarily or by Third Party disclosure. I do feel this statement is 100% needed sooner not later as once this is shown to the crown I sure they will rethink their case on me. As I feel at this time this is an unfair trial due to how Mr Patel has used my case to be able to manipulate his insurance claim due to what has already been discussed with Trevor Allaway. And this is a clear breach in my human rights to have a fair trial. Also, on the

when the application went into the court a bail application was meant to have been done at the same time for my bail conditions over the holidays that were upcoming. For some reason the bail application was not heard so you relisted this for

23/12/2013

to be heard by the court, you sent a text to my mum after you found out the outcome of this bail application in which you said I was on an electric tag to my mum address, and that the curfew was not lifted that Serco would come to my mums address to install the tag there. I got very upset with hearing this as I for one reason I was never on an electric tag for this case from the start of it. I did try and call you and I got no reply so I called the court explained to the court the issues I had and was advised to call my solicitor and ask them to relist the case for the 24/12/2013

457,

this would need to be done within the next 20 mins. I then called the office and explained this to someone in the office and was told I would get a call back. I did not get a call back but at around 21.47 that evening you texted my mum saying that Simon needed to be at Woolwich crown court at 09.45 on the 24/12/2013

24/12/2013

I went to court and my mum come with me, when we got there, we were told the case was not listed before 11am. So we waited at the court at around 10.50 as a barrister had not turned up for me my mum texted for to ask the name of the barrister that would be coming that we were outside court 7 waiting, there was no reply to this text so at around 11.10 I made a call to the office and spoke to someone there that told me a barrister would not be attending, I was really upset with this but what could I say. I then saw the usher of the court and told her what was going on, she said why had the solicitors told me to come here and yet now there would not be a barrister and not tell me this beforehand, she told me she would talk to the crown who was in the court room and explain to him what was going on and then let me know what could be done. About 5 mins later she came out of the court room and told me that the crown was going to call it on and see what could be done. It was called into court and when the judge heard I did not have a barrister she asked the clerk of the court to call the office and see what was going on, which the clerk on the court did, when she got off the phone, she told the judge no one was coming to the court for me. I stood up and tried to explain to the judge what had gone on. My mum at this asked the judge if she could explain it and the judge said yes to come forward, she could hear what my mum was saying. My mum explained to the judge about the 19/12/2013

and the 23/12/2013

23/01/2014

she could not change as this would be dealing with a judicial review and she could not hear that. The crown then asked if he could speak to the judge and said that due to new evidence, she could hear it on them grounds. The judge at that replied yes, she would like to hear this but I did not have a barrister she then went on to ask the barristers in the court room would they be willing to represent me and told them that I had legal aid and that it would be marked on the file. One stood up and said yes, she would stand in. the judge then said to us to go outside with the barrister and speak to her and when ready it would go back into court. We went out explained to the barrister what was going on. She told us that even from what she had heard in court that I should really think about changing solicitors. It went back into court and the judge heard the case and my bail was varied on the

01/01/2014

my mum again texted you due to an issue where I got arrested, she had tried to call the office but there was no answer of a voice mail message to give a number to call. No one got back to my mum so when she got to court, she had to ask a solicitor that was on duty that day to help me. He said he was not meant to as I had legal aid for the case already but he would go and speak to me, he did in fact represent me in court that day. On the

03/01/2014

I asked my mum sent you an email to ask if my case was too much for you as I knew you had a lot of work on. You told me you were still on annual leave and I return to work on Monday. On the

31/01/2014

04/01/2014

at 2pm. I have called you many times and it has just gone to voice mail and you have not called me back. I have also called the office about things I feel are wrong and told someone would call me back which has not happened. I can prove this with statements from the phones that were used. There are emails that have been sent to you and no reply to them emails and what I have asked have been given. There was a break down before in this case as you are aware and I dropped the complaint. Josey, I have used you as a solicitor for many years and don't just look at you as a solicitor you are a friend of the families. All I want is for my case to be dealt with in a correct manner, which will lead me to have a speedy and fair trial, and I don't want to feel like I am being punished for a crime that I have not been convicted of. And I feel with the statement from Nikki Diamond that would show somewhat to Mr Patel ways in how he has dealt with his insurance case in this matter that clearly is not correct all ready. Could you please email back at the points that have been included in this email, and if you feel I am wrong on any points or the way in which I am feeling.

458,

to transfer legal representation

Simon

Further to your telephone conversation with me today during which you have accused me of not representing you correctly and not defending your case properly you leave me with little choice but to list the case at Woolwich Crown Court in order that your legal representation order can be revoked. I am cancelling your 2pm conference with me for Tuesday

04th February 2014.

I am not prepared to be subjected to threats about you blackening my name over Facebook. I work very hard for all my clients and my track record as a Criminal Defence Solicitors attests to that. I have represented you since you were a juvenile to the best of my abilities and I have never not defended a client properly or tried my best for my client. You stated that during the telephone conversation that the Judge asked you to change your solicitors at the last bail hearing on Christmas Eve. As you are aware, I was on annual leave from

I made the bail variation as requested and you were not happy as the court did not suspend your curfew. That is the simple fact of the matter here. You also stated that during a conference with Jemi, the barrister that I appointed for you that he also advised you that I was a poor solicitor and not acting in your best interests. You only raised this today and I will most certainly be taking this accusation up with Jemi and his clerks. I asked you to confirm this in writing and you have refused to do this. I again ask you to confirm this in writing as Jemi will have to respond to this allegation. I will be asking Jemi and his clerks to comment on the allegations that you have made. You will of course appreciate that if Jemi does not agree with your accusations that he will probably refuse to represent you. You are accusing him of slandering my reputation by saying that Jemi says I am not representing you properly and that he advised you to change your solicitors. With regards to your complaint in relation to the bail variation you were asked in a number of emails to provide full details of your plans, venues etc and you did not do this instead you shouted down the phone and refused to give specific instructions. When you eventually did give the requested information, it was too late to apply to have the bail position varied. I suspect you know what the court's attitude to the requested variation would be in any event. With regards to the request for the original receipt I have to provide this to the court in an addendum to your defence case statement and the police will then make their enquiries. I am sorry that this position has arisen but you have left me little choice in the matter. I wish you good luck with your case and I will confirm the date that your case is listed for the revocation of legal aid. I will aim from Tuesday or Wednesday of this coming week. Can you please confirm by return email the advice that Jemi gave you at your conference at Isleworth Crown Court and also please confirm why it took you so long to raise it with me?

You telephoned me on a Sunday, reserved for emergency phone calls. You should have raised it back when you had the conference with Jemi. You have raised it now and I will deal with the accusations now. I await hearing from you by return email with regards to Jemi.

Utter nonsense, in every particular save that I could not do his case as then listed. Josie you know Simon has ADHDO and can get particularly anxious. I know that makes hard work, but I seem to be able to cooperate with him. If you wish I'll call him and see if we can extend that cooperation and respect to all his representatives.

Simon was very clear in what he said on the phone re his meeting with Jemi. I did not misinterpret or misquote what he said. He also told me I was a bad solicitor and he did make the threat to publicise how I was dealing with him on Facebook because I clearly heard you tell him "No you are not". My interpretation of you saying this is that you knew he had gone too far by the threats he had issued. "All that he wants is to be dealt with in a timely and professional manner" really Lorraine but you state Simon is not casting aspersions on my professional integrity. Re the timely manner Simon's main complaint is that his bail was not varied again specific instructions not provided when requested and Third-Party Disclosure. The trial is in June. Both the Third-Party Disclosure and section 8 application would be dealt with at the same time. I started dealing with Simon when he was 16. I observed Michael when Simon was accused of committing a robbery in the lifts at Edmonton Green. Simon was wearing a yellow coat and you a navy and cream ski type coat. A care worker was in the interview with him also. Units I think so nothing wrong with my recollection. Identification parades took place. I recall the police sending him a birthday card shortly after that to mark the occasion of his 17th birthday so he would not require an appropriate adult. Simon has been represented by Michael Carroll & Co and me personally always to a high standard. My track record as a criminal defence solicitor attest to this. In 15 years, I have successfully defended a number of very serious cases. I know how to make correct tactical decisions for clients. I should not have to defend my reputation to either Simon or you as you both know very well from past experiences how hard I try for people I am perfectly within my rights to ask for legal representation to be revoked in this case but because of the length of time I have known both you and Simon I will suggest to the court a transfer of legal representation on the ground of breakdown in relationship and the client alleging breakdown in trust and confidence in solicitor. I am at HMP Belmarsh this morning I will try to speak to Michael Carroll on the phone so he can authorise this. Best of luck to both you and Simon. You have all the case papers already. Anything you do not have copies of email me in a list. Please confirm details of the solicitor who you wish to transfer the case over to at your earliest convenience.

I remember your old number 07961 833 021 but cannot remember the other one or your house number. I will hopefully list the case next week. Can you confirm the new Solicitor details at your earliest convenience?

I have also asked Jemi he can still do the case but you will probably have to tell the new solicitors that he is your preferred barrister. If you give them my contact details, I can email over all the information etc.

Hi Josey

Sorry it's taken me a while to reply I have not been well, my home phone number is 0208 245 7454 and my other mob is 07807333545 Tyrone mob is 07572600589, as for the new Solicitor details Simon is seeing a Solicitor today so is not sure yet if they will take the case on until after the meeting. If they are going to do so I will send over later today the information. Also I am contacting the City Of London Magistrates court today due to the failure to surrender for his bail, as you are aware that this should not be on Simon PNC and I have spoken to you before about this many times, and the court a long while back and they said they was going to put it right and have not done so. You have always said not to worry about this on his PNC yet they are using this so to impose more bail conditions on this case due to failure to surrender. I am going to try and get this sorted as they are holding this against Simon and have done so more than once so I do feel this does needs addressing and not left any longer.

I have lost all my telephone contacts as my smart phone has died. Can you please email me your telephone number and Tyrone's please?

I remember your old number 07961 833 021 but cannot remember the other one or your house number. I will hopefully list the case next week. Can you confirm the new Solicitor details at your earliest convenience?

I have also asked Jemi he can still do the case but you will probably have to tell the new solicitors that he is your preferred barrister. If you give them my contact details, I can email over all the information etc.

Hi Josey

Thank you for the email Simon went to see the solicitor yesterday and due to how far the case is they would not take it over he has a next meeting tomorrow with a next solicitor. Until he gets a solicitor, I cannot give you the details. I will update you tomorrow if he can't get a solicitor, he will deal with it himself in court. Also, if Jemi has done the section 8 can you email that over and have you had a reply from Nikki Diamond as of yet. As Simon wants to get them into the court as soon as possible as it is already well past the date the judge said he will hand them in his self if needed.

The level of service provided by the Enfield Home and the Enfield Council departments when I deal with them is terrible, and in my case, I get disadvantage because of the neglect and. Intentional infliction of emotional distress that I get opposed towards by their staff! It is truly tragic that the Enfield Councils and the Enfield Homes inclusive of the Metropolitans constabulary left the occupiers of 117 Burncroft Avenue without any form of support in regards to their Child's protection when I notified them of my concerns and video evidence of the legal guardians consecutive while amoral behaviour of criminal attempts, as for the child protection Act 1989 states that in section 27 of that act it requires all local authority as a must to assist in the protection of children, since the young child's birth the child legal mother and father have provoked a Critical emergency needed for the Mental stability of themselves to get questioned as for the complete absinth of the disregard for life itself, as the Article 2 of the human Right Act 1998 explains within its context, as I am Confident that the child is in danger alongside many of my other witness towards the child's legal guardians stability and Mental stability. Errors on my PNC Record: --

12/02/2014

Emails again got sent to westminster.gov@hmcts.gsi.gov.uk regarding failing to surrender on my PNC, criminal Record. Westminster sent the memorandum of conviction via an email after my request to the courthouse; I received this email on the not too long after us paying for it. When I received the email, I acknowledged that it demonstrated what I claimed all about and that it was in error. The failing to surrender got dismissed by the court a long time beforehand, so it should have never of been placed on my PNC record and this error on my criminal record is why I got sent to prison, due to no fault of my own. I know it should not be on a copy of my Police Record, stating that I got found guilty of this offence. In understanding this error and knowing that many more were on my record to which I disputed knowledge about I continued in my search for answers; Then on the more Email's got sent to another court house such as; Highbury Corner Magistrates Court, to have all my PNC records checked, for cases that were heard by Enfield Court which Edmonton Police dealt with. This took time to address as there where a list of Records I wanted checked. While waiting for my replies from the courthouses regarding my criminal recorded being in error so I felt depressed because of all the ongoing in my life so I attend to the local doctors to explain how the police court case and bail conditions deterred, my life away from being in harmony.

17/02/2014

Hi Lorraine

Trevor Allaway has indicated that he will view a section 35 request favourably. If he agrees that we satisfy the criteria of section 35 then we will not have to resort to Third Party Disclosure as he should disclose. We may still have to do Third Party disclosure if he redacts information that may be relevant. A decision cannot be made on this until we receive either

(a) the file from the insurance company or

(b) the insurance company is unwilling to disclose in which case Third party Disclosure kicks in again. The section 8 application was sent off today. I had asked Jemi to amend and he had not so I amended it and sent it off. Lorraine as Simon's case is in the warned list there is no guarantee that he will get Jemi to do the trial. He is still booked to do the case but this is dependent on other cases not over running or him being instructed in a week long case. Simon's conference with Jemi in December was a classic example of this. He was dealing with a child neglect case which over ran and had Simon's case been listed then Jemi would not have been able to do the case. Jemi or his Chambers may be willing to do the case. The court can direct that legal representation stay in place for the purposes of Counsel conducting Simon's trial and possibly for a pretrial conference but their diaries change and this affects their availability. I hope this clarifies.

Dear Simon / Lorraine

Please note that your case is listed for mention at Woolwich Crown Court on

18th February 2014

The listing indicates that you must attend. Can you please confirm the details of your new solicitors in order that I can email the court and confirm that we do not object to the proposed transfer of legal representation?

If you cannot locate a Solicitor to take over the case then we can apply on this date to have legal representation revoked so that you can represent yourself, as you have indicated you wish to. I stress that legal representation still covers Counsel and in a case like this it is better to at least have representation from a barrister. The majority of the work has been done on this case and the only outstanding issues are as follows:

1. Disclosure from Insurance company
2. Disclosure requests in the defence case statement
3. Bad character skeleton argument to oppose Jemi will draft this as he will be arguing to exclude the bad character. In relation to 1 and 2 above the items disclosed will assist with cross examining witnesses. I have forwarded emails sent to the CPS, Woolwich Crown Court and also to Mr Trevor Allaway. If you have any further questions then please do not hesitate to email me. I will still assist you with the preparation of the defence until legal representation is revoked or transferred.

Subject: Regina v. Simon Cordell for mention at Woolwich Crown Court on

Dear Simon / Lorraine

Please note that your case is listed for mention at Woolwich Crown Court on

18th February 2014

The listing indicates that you must attend. Can you please confirm the details of your new solicitors in order that I can email the court and confirm that we do not object to the proposed transfer of legal representation?

If you cannot locate a Solicitor to take over the case then we can apply on this date to have legal representation revoked so that you can represent yourself, as you have indicated you wish to. I stress that legal representation still covers Counsel and in a case like this it is better to at least have representation from a barrister. The majority of the work has been done on this case and the only outstanding issues are as follows:

1. Disclosure from Insurance company
2. Disclosure requests in the defence case statement
3. Bad character skeleton argument to oppose Jemi will draft this as he will be arguing to exclude the bad character. In relation to 1 and 2 above the items disclosed will assist with cross examining witnesses. I have forwarded emails sent to the CPS, Woolwich Crown Court and also to Mr Trevor Allaway. If you have any further questions then please do not hesitate to email me. I will still assist you with the preparation of the defence until legal representation is revoked or transferred.

Regards

Josephine

Hi Lorraine

Trevor Allaway has indicated that he will view a section 35 request favourably. If he agrees that we satisfy the criteria of section 35 then we will not have to resort to Third Party Disclosure as he should disclose. We may still have to do Third Party disclosure if he redacts information that may be relevant. A decision cannot be made on this until we receive either

(a) the file from the insurance company or

(b) the insurance company is unwilling to disclose in which case Third party Disclosure kicks in again.

The section 8 application was sent off today. I had asked Jemi to amend and he had not so I amended it and sent it off. Lorraine as Simon's case is in the warned list there is no guarantee that he will get Jemi to do the trial. He is still booked to do the case but this is dependent on other cases not over running or him being instructed in a week long case. Simon's conference with Jemi in December was a classic example of this. He was dealing with a child neglect case which over ran and had Simon's case been listed then Jemi would not have been able to do the case. Jemi or his Chambers may be willing to do the case. The court can direct that legal representation stay in place for the purposes of Counsel conducting Simon's trial and possibly for a pretrial conference but their diaries change and this affects their availability. I hope this clarifies.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this email after a call that was made to the City of London Magistrate Court on the 10/02/2014

about a list that is on my PNC that is incorrect. I was told to write this email including as much information as I could to get this updated. I have contacted you a few times before about this Error on my PCN and was told that you would get it updated but as of now this has never been done. I was told on the

when I called due to the date that it would be down to the police to update this. You would have only forwarded the information to the police to get this updated. The Error is for a case that was heard on the

03/03/2008

The error is that I did not go to go but my mum called the court and a sick note was handed to the court and the case was dismissed, so should not be on my record. This has caused me problems with bail on a few times and this is why calls have been made before to the court, at this time it has been causing me problems again with a case I am at Woolwich Crown court for. I have attached the page for the PNC print out the police did for the case at Woolwich crown court that I am on bail now for. This print out was done by the police on or around the

for the Woolwich case. I do feel this is causing me problems with my bail and I am therefore asking for this to be dealt with as fast as possible in order that I can show the court this should in fact not be on my record. I was told on the

when I called that if I ask for a court transcript that this could be done faster than updating the PNC records and I would be able to show the Judge at Woolwich crown court the court transcript for the case that is on my file in error and that should be enough to prove that it should not be on my record. I am there for asking for the court transcript to be sent to me if there are costs for this please email me back with the cost for this to be sent to me and I will get this paid to the court. Please see attached file for the page in my PNC record which is there in error I have highlighted the case. If this can be done as a matter of urgency due to the impact this is having on my life.

Many Thanks

Mr Simon Cordell

Dear Mr Allaway

Thank you for your email.

This case is listed for mention at Woolwich Crown Court on

18th February 2014

It is my understanding that you have been contacted directly by Mr Simon Cordell and Miss Lorraine Cordell in relation to ongoing legal proceedings. Thank you for the indication that an application under section 35 of the Data Protection Act 1998 would be viewed favourably. We make this application under section 35 of the Data Protection Act 1998 to request details of all insurance claims submitted by Mr Rakesh Patel in relation to a burglary committed at Unit 3 Horrisons Industrial Estate. Mr Patel alleged in a section 9 statement to the Metropolitan Police that a burglary was committed between

01st May 2013

And

08th May 2013

He alleges that goods to the value of £8220 were stolen and damage to the walls estimated to be between £8,000 £10,000. Our client disputes involvement in the burglary but states that he did hire out his sound equipment in order for a private party to place arranged by persons legally squatting at the premises. Mr Cordell was forensically linked to the premises by DNA on a can of drink. Mr Cordell gave an explanation for this in that he stated that he oversaw the persons using his equipment. Mr Cordell has stated that when he arrived damage had already been caused and he has produced Facebook pictures purporting to be of the alleged premises. It is our understanding that you are in possession of photographs from previous burglaries at the same premises and the damage cited by Mr Patel in his statement to the police actually relates to damage already caused during a previous burglary and not as Mr Patel alleges. We rely on paragraph section 35 (2)

May 2013

(a) and

(b) which states:

Personal data are exempt from the nondisclosure provisions where the disclosure is necessary

(a) for the purposes of, or in connection with, any legal proceedings (including prospective legal proceedings), or

74,

(b) for the purpose of obtaining legal advice, or is otherwise necessary for the purposes of establishing, exercising or defending legal rights. Mr Cordell faces a trial at Woolwich Crown Court in respect of an allegation of burglary. Mr Cordell contests this and alleges that he is being singled out and blamed for offences committed on earlier dates. He also denies causing the damage and alleges that this was caused on an earlier date. It is crucial to Mr Cordell's defence that any evidence that supports the fact that previous burglaries were committed and extensive damage caused be disclosed in order that Mr Cordell can defend his legal rights. Any claims for stolen stock and any invoices submitted are also requested as old invoices have been submitted as part of these proceedings to support the value of the goods stolen. We would be grateful if the above could be disclosed as a matter of urgency. If you cannot disclose this information then please confirm this in order that we can apply to the Court for a Third-Party Disclosure summons. We thank you in advance for your assistance in this matter.

Yours faithfully

MICHAEL CARROLL & CO

PS: We attach a copy of the statements made by Mr Patel in these proceedings and also a copy of the indictment which confirms the charge against Mr Cordell.

Disrepair!

I received unreliable promises of agreements of my landlords, causing me a breach of trust in relation to the problems that are to do with the damp not getting fixed in the needed efficient fair and timely manner as required by their company's stationary duties, at my loss of life and cash expenses!

The disrepair issues remain unhurried from getting resolved in due process with concern for my health and safety after Enfield Council and Enfield homes as an add-on towards my dissatisfaction of their services!

Time Spent Building;

In the background of everything going on I continued working on Creating a new and up to date Index of the Too Smooth Entertainment Health & Safety Policy Licensee's and amending the Statement and Contents and I continued to Study and finish at the Time Start: 07:00 Am and Time End: 03:30 Pm!

Dear All,

Please could you kindly assist Lorraine Cordell on behalf of her son Simon Cordell. They believe that a number of summons have been issued against Simon for the offence of no insurance since due to an error made by the insurance company as per the attached letter. Unfortunately, due to Simon not always receiving the summons/adjournment notice they are unsure how many cases have been issued against him and are trying to get them all reopened and listed before court to be heard together in light of the above. Please would you be able to check your database and confirm to the email address below the number of cases with reference number, court and conviction date. I have also spoken to her on the phone and informed Lorraine that she will need to contact the court directly to make application to reopen/stat Dec's, which she can only do so once the information has been obtained. The only matter the cps are currently aware of is for the case ref J63181495 which is listed for appeal at Kingston Crown Court 05/03/15.

If you are unable to advise her on summons that have been issued on her son, please could you kindly advise her where she could obtain the information.

Kind Regards,

Emma O'Sullivan

Subject: RE: Simon Cordell

To whom it may concern:

I am writing this email due to the number of problems I have been having due to a policy of insurance I had with KGM insurance which did not show up on the MID database in the week it was fine as I carried my insurance documents with me at all times and the insurance company could be called, but the problems was when the insurance company was closed as the police could not contact them. My mum Lorraine Cordell and I have sent many emails to the courts with my insurance documents, but there have been cases where I have not had a summons. So did not know about cases and they have been heard at court and I was found guilty of no insurance. I have done statutory declarations at court including my insurance documents and this still has not corrected anything. One of the statutory declarations was again heard at court on the

26/01/2015

which again I did not know about for Willesden Magistrates' Court. But I have sent so many emails to this court with all documents and asked for them to be checked with the police officer at court to show I was insured to drive. This has not been done I have just again been found guilty due to not getting letters of a court hearing date. I have now also got a letter of Indemnity from KGM who I was insured with under policy number MT3574694. 00.01 AM on the 23/02/2013

and was in force until Midnight on the 22/02/2014

when it lapsed. Most of the cases are with the KGM policy you will see the reason as to why in the Letter of Indemnity from KGM. I also believe there was one case for Covea Insurance PLC policy number MT10 021608047 it was not showing on the MID due to the stop was the day after I took the policy out. Please can any cases be set aside and reopened and looked into and any other cases that have been heard for no insurance under these policies of insurance be addressed. You will in due cause be hearing from my solicitor, she is trying to address all the cases, but this is taking time. She has seen all the emails I have sent trying to address these issues and feels more should have been done as it would have only taken for the insurance policies to be checked and this would have stopped a waste of time and money for the courts, and myself at this time she wants to just appeal all cases to the crown court. which would again be a waste of money for the courts. and again, of my time. But this is having an effect on my life my driving licence has been revoked 3 times for no insurance, when in fact I have always had insurance to drive and would not drive if I did not have insurance. Please see attached documents Could you get back to me as soon as possible by way of email, as it does seem there is an issue with my post and not getting letters that was meant to be sent to me? I am taking this up with the royal mail.

Hi Jemi

Thank you for the section 8 you done for me and the understanding as to me getting very anxious about this case it has really got me more than anyone understands. I have sorted out with Josey the disagreement we had and she is still representing me. I am hoping that you can still do my case, and I am looking forward to a meeting with you when Josey sets this up before the trial date. I am building up a list of things I would like to ask you, and I hope that we can get time to go over them all.

Many Thanks

Hi Jemi

Mr Cordell telephoned my office and stated that he discussed his case with him on 13/12/2013

13th December 2013.

He made the following allegations:

1. You told him you could not do his case as you were dealing with a murder and you did not know why we had instructed you or why you were having a conference

2. We had not forwarded any case papers to you

3. We should have put in the section 8 application and Third-Party Disclosure application and because we had not done this the client states that you advised him, we were not taking his case seriously and you recommended he change solicitors. I do not for one minute believe the accusations made but if you can please just confirm the position before I apply to court to revoke the legal representation order. If you can respond as a matter of urgency, I would be grateful and please forward the amended section 8 application so he can represent himself.

Thank you.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this email after a call that was made to the City of London Magistrate Court on the 10/02/2014

about a list that is on my PNC that is incorrect. I was told to write this email including as much information as I could to get this updated. I have contacted you a few times before about this Error on my PCN and was told that you would get it updated but as of now this has never been done.

I was told on the 10/02/2014

when I called due to the date that it would be down to the police to update this. You would have only forwarded the information to the police to get this updated. The Error is for a case that was heard on the

03/03/2008

25/01/2008.

The error is that I did not go to go but my mum called the court and a sick note was handed to the court and the case was dismissed, so should not be on my record, this has caused me problems with bail on a few times and this is why calls have been made before to the court, at this time it has been causing me problems again with a case I am at Woolwich Crown court for. I have attached the page for the PNC print out the police did for the case at Woolwich crown court that I am on bail now for. This print out was done by the police on or around the

for the Woolwich case. I do feel this is causing me problems with my bail and I am therefore asking for this to be dealt with as fast as possible in order that I can show the court this should in fact not be on my record. I was told on the 10/02/2014

when I called that if I ask for a court transcript that this could be done faster than updating the PNC records and I would be able to show the Judge at Woolwich crown court

503,

the court transcript for the case that is on my file in error and that should be enough to prove that it should not be on my record. I am there for asking for the court transcript to be sent to me if there are costs for this please email me back with the cost for this to be sent to me and I will get this paid to the court. Please see attached file for the page in my PNC record which is there in error I have highlighted the case. If this can be done as a matter of urgency due to the impact this is having on my life.

Many Thanks

Mr Simon Cordell

Hi Josey

I just been emailed from the court the outcome of the city of London case fail to surrender as you will see from attached copy that has been sent over to me today from the court this case was dismissed. I had to pay £5.00 to get this from the court so I will email you the copy of the receipt also and the email I sent to court to get this dealt with I will send this over so you have copies of it. So, on Simon bail for this case there should be no fail to surrender, as he has never failed to surrender to the police or the court. Also, there are some other things on the PNC that I want to look into as there are some other errors, I am sure, but I wanted to get this one dealt with 1st as this was causing a problem. Also, Simon has looked over the section 8 and there are some errors with the dates Jemi put March and not May in 2 places also he put in section 2, 21. arrested win connections I think that should have been with and not win. Not sure if you corrected this with the one you sent over to the court.

Also is it 9.30am Simon needs to be at court tomorrow can you let me know please.

Many Thanks

Hi Lorraine

Thank you for the information. I have forwarded this to the barrister, Andy Locke who is covering the hearing tomorrow. I asked for the case to be removed from the list for two weeks as I have yet to hear back from the Insurance company and the prosecution but the court went ahead and listed it. Simon must attend by 11am. His case is fourth on so if he arrives at court for 10.30am he will be in plenty of time. I will send a chaser email to the Trevor Allaway this evening. He is in court 7. If the insurance file and the disclosure from the police comes back favourably then coupled with the confirmation that Simon has no convictions for failing to surrender I will try again to get his bail conditions relaxed but I stress I can only do this once I am in receipt of the disclosure and this will be dependent on what the disclosure reveals. I can then compile all the case papers for the defence and assess whether we can make a request for the prosecution to review the prosecution against Simon. I think that they will proceed regardless but I will try once I am in receipt of all the information and if this information assists the defence and undermines the prosecution. I will arrange an appointment with Simon for this weekend / early next week and I hope to have some disclosure before the. Any questions please do not hesitate to come back to me.

I would be very grateful if you can pull up the following records so I can check them with the PNC the police printed off for the case that is ongoing at Woolwich Crown Court, I have been told I will need a Memorandum of conviction or the transcript for the case.

I do know there are some errors on the cases that was heard at Enfield Magistrates and can see them clearly, but due to how far they go back cannot remember some of the cases. I do also know some are correct but due to some dates being wrong on some of the ones I can see errors in I would like to check all the cases on the PNC that was heard at Enfield Magistrates. If this can be done as a matter of urgency due to the impact this is having on my life with the case that is ongoing at Woolwich Crown Court and my bail and other issues. If the information could be emailed to me, I would be grateful as I am next in court on March 2014 and would like this information of any errors so I can show the judge. Attachments: INSURANCE FILE.pdf

Dear Simon / Lorraine / Jemi

I refer to the above matter.

Please see attached a copy of the insurance file. I will require the police disclosure before tackling the issue of bail again and I hope to be in possession of this before the

04th March 2014

I will email a copy of the insurance file to the CPS also to further bolster the argument about disclosure of all police files in relation to the earlier two break in / burglaries. You will all not doubt note the insurance quotes and the names of the company providing the quotes, the amounts quoted and the damage being caused before

May 2013

I do not see any evidence of any money paid out to repair the wall and I will ask the insurance company if Mr Patel has provided any that this was done or the cost. It is referred to in email but no quote is attached or indeed the date the work was undertaken. The photographs provided by the insurance company do not assist as they do not show the damage to the internal walls but the police files for the first two offences may well confirm that the damage is identical. This and the links from Facebook. As you are aware of, I do not receive the police disclosure by the then I will have to make a further application for the case to be listed for lack of disclosure. Should you have any questions re the documents forwarded then please do not hesitate to contact me.

04th March 2014

Josephine

Dear Martin

Here is the logbook for CX52JRZ please see attached. I did call DVLA after I got the letter from them which showed the spelling of the last name wrong as it was spelled Cardell and not Cordell, they told me I had to wait until the logbook come in the post and then to fill in section 6 to get it corrected. Which I will be doing. Also, I have also noticed today when the logbook came in the post and I am not sure why they have put the new keepers date as

15/02/2014

as the green slip section 10 was sent to them, so the date of the 10/11/2013

was on it so I will be writing a letter to ask why this was done, along with the section 6 to correct the last name. Could you please update us as to when this can be sorted with KGM as to the claim that is against Simon so he can sort his insurance out. Also, about the claim for

we still have not heard from KGM as to when someone will be sent out to take a report from Simon could this be looked into?

And also, I know there was some confusion as to the number that was called to report this on the

09 Dec 2013

please see the below information from my phone bill Mon 09 Dec 13:28 SPEC SERV 08444126412 22:00 The call was made to 08444126412 at 13:28 and lasted 22 min this is when Simon called to report what had happened on the

and give all the information which the person noted. I know there is some issue as to the lady who witnessed this information being missing but it was all given on this call. If it can be possible can someone get the tape for this call and get the information to the witness so KGM can contact her about what she saw and who was at fault.

where I told them, I would send the invoice for the van, since this time I have not had one single letter to say they did not get the invoice, or any letters about this so-called claim for the 14/09/2013

and this is nearly 6 months old now. How can it be I have not had one single letter yet now my insurance is due to be renewed they bring up this and this is nearly 6 months down the line and I have heard nothing about this claim since I talked to someone from KGM on the phone back in Sep 2013?

I have still not had any letters about the subject access request under the data protect act 1998, and the letter I emailed yourself to send over to KGM on the

26/11/2013

at 15.46, and will now be taking this up with the ICO. I have never had so many problems with an insurance company in my life then what I have had in the past year with KGM, and will be taking this up with the insurance ombudsman I have already spoken to them and they are very shocked at what I have told them and that is not all of it, they have asked me to write it all down and send it to them by email which I will be doing. There should be only one thing that is outstanding and that is the issue for the 09/12/2013, I have made 3 calls to the claim line to inform them what happened and yes there is a claim which was not my fault being addressed. I am at this time waiting for someone to contact me about this matter as this is what I was told the last time I made a call about it. Could this be looked into also so I know that it is being addressed in the correct way and I am not just waiting for someone to contact me and this does not happen as I would like to get this addressed as soon as possible so that KGM will see this claim was not my fault. I would like to get insured yet for the past days have not been able to do so as I am waiting for information on a quote and also to hear back about what KGM is doing with my 10 years no claims which was protected. I have been with Broadsure for a few years now and have never had any problems with you.

Disrepair!

I stay calm even when I see the damage to my personal property that the damp is causing and this neglect breaks my heart in knowing that if the Enfield Council and Enfield homes were efficient within their timescales that I would not have to go through such sacrilege of my memorabilia and electrical belongings getting damaged even more than ever necessarily I am not sure what it is more painful to me this all adds to the demotion of my health and the additional average daily routine stress unrightfully!

Dear Martin

Here is the logbook for CX52JRZ please see attached. I did call DVLA after I got the letter from them which showed the spelling of the last name wrong as it was spelled Cardell and not Cordell, they told me I had to wait until the logbook come in the post and then to fill in section 6 to get it corrected. Which I will be doing. Also, I have also noticed today when the logbook came in the post and I am not sure why they have put the new keepers date as

15/02/2014

10/11/2013

was on it so I will be writing a letter to ask why this was done, along with the section 6 to correct the last name. Could you please update us as to when this can be sorted with KGM as to the claim that is against Simon so he can sort his insurance out. Also, about the claim for

we still have not heard from KGM as to when someone will be sent out to take a report from Simon could this be looked into?

And also, I know there was some confusion as to the number that was called to report this on the

09 Dec 2013

please see the below information from my phone bill Mon

09 Dec

13:28 SPEC SERV 08444126412 22:00

The call was made to 08444126412 at 13:28 and lasted 22 min this is when Simon called to report what had happened on the

09/12/2013

and give all the information which the person noted. I know there is some issue as to the lady who witnessed this information being but it was all given on this call. If it can be possible can someone get the tape for this call and get the information to the witness so KGM can contact her about what she saw and who was at fault.

Dear Annabel Jereniah

I have just seen the Memorandum of Entry that the Crown Court has sent and on that it says there was a Disqualification until test passed. But when we contacted the court, we were only told about 6 points and a fine for this case and this was also on the letter from the court. If I knew a Disqualification until test passed when I filed my appeal on the 13/02/2015

I would have ticked this be suspended until appeal was heard. Can you please look into this and see if the appeal could include the suspension of the Disqualification until the appeal is heard?

Please see attached document

As you will see the letter Found Guilty again

Hi Josey

Can you let me know if when Simon case will be listed as we have not heard anything?

Has the CPS sent anything else over if not we were thinking the pressure needs to be kept on the police and CPS for the discloser so was thinking it would have been better to have gone back to court by now so the judge can see what's going on?

I know the CPS asked for more time and said they would have the information over to you by the end of business day on the

this did not happen and again they asked for more time which has again passed and they have not given the information over, is the judge going to be made aware of this as they had enough time already to give over the information that was asked for. They have now not done what the judge asked 4 times, and you have also given them 2 more extensions and still nothing. And I do think the judge needs to be made aware of this fact. Can we have an update as to what is going on, I know when I last talked to you on the 24/04/2014

you said you was going to put into the court on the 29/04/2014

so, I was thinking it should have already been listed for yesterday or today but have not heard anything.

How Your Housing Benefit Has Been Worked Out for the period

From 07/04/2014 your Housing Benefit will be £90.65 each week.

The rent you are charged each week is £96.66.

Housing Benefit cannot pay for some service charges that are included in your rent. The rent you pay has to be reduced by the amount of these service charges. These amounts are shown below:

Actual amount for Ineligible Water £6.01

Total deductions for services £6.01

The amount of rent after deducting these charges is called your maximum eligible rent. Your rent of £96.66 must be reduced by £6.01, to £90.65 each week. This is your maximum eligible rent.

The maximum Housing Benefit you can get is £90.65 each week. This figure is used when working out 'your total weekly Housing Benefit'.

The Enfield Council and the Enfield homes have left the disrepair of the damp and heating issues for so long that the damp water shows on the electrical wiring systems and sometimes causes them to overloaded making the electrical sockets dangers and causing further damage to my personal property, such as my TV that also has mould growing over it, as much as I try my best to keep it clean and well ventilated!

CASE HISTORY

24/01/2017: On the 24/01/2017 My mother had requested my personal Data held about myself on the Enfield Councils computer system and so on to delivered to ourselves and this is the date that the information got taken out of there computer systems.

Y

01/03/2012: March 12- 1st contact with MH services following arrest after a bad trip of taking LSD & alcohol, mental state assessed remained in custody of police - no MH input

Z

02/03/2014: March 14 - 2nd contact, assessed by team psychiatrist, presented with anxiety & suicidal thoughts in context of social stressors due to pending court case leading to stress. Discharged from MH services, suicidal thoughts are longstanding from early childhood and present at times of high stress, not 'A typical' of other forms of suicide as relates to thoughts as opposed to wish to die, and usually found in context of those presenting with early childhood trauma as a way of expressing emotions.

00/11/2014: Nov 14 - Mental Health Act assessment, not detained in hospital, discharged from mental health services. Presented highly volatile, angry & paranoid about motives of others, presented in context of social stressors due to on-going issues with police & court process - mother reported he has been targeted by police causing him stress??

He has a medical history of Crohn's disease which may impact on mood stability particularly if not compliant with treatment and monitoring of symptoms. All assessments completed by mental health services have found no evidence of serious mental illness, he appears to be a very angry young man who has had an extremely difficult and traumatic early childhood which is likely to explain his distrust of people in authority (e.g. police) and being angry at others and at the world....

Further to the conversation between Mrs Cordell and a member of staff yesterday, please specify which dates and offences you wish us to check. Almost all the offences are archived and not immediately accessible using the computer; specific dates and offences would help reduce the delay in providing this information.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this email as I have an ongoing case at Woolwich Crown Court, and I have noticed some errors in my PNC record which the police printed of at around

I would be very grateful if you can pull up the following records so I can check them with 551, the PNC the police printed off for the case that is ongoing at Woolwich Crown Court, I have been told I will need a Memorandum of conviction or the transcript for the case. I do know there are some errors on the cases that was heard at Enfield Magistrates and can see them clearly, but due to how far they go back cannot remember some of the cases. I do also know some are correct but due to some dates being wrong on some of the ones I can see errors in I would like to check all the cases on the PNC that was heard at Enfield Magistrates. If this can be done as a matter of urgency due to the impact this is having on my life with the case that is ongoing at Woolwich Crown Court and my bail and other issues. If the information could be emailed to me, I would be grateful as I am next in court on and would like this information of any errors so I can show the judge. Please see below the lists of cases I would like information on.

Can you let me know what time court is for tomorrow as Simon wants to go?

I have told him he does not need to go till the 18th but he is so unstable he wants to be there tomorrow; he has been to the doctors due to his health. He wants his bail address by the court. There are some parts that should be looked at for failing to surrender which should now be dropped as he has never failed to surrender to the court or police.

Dear Mr Cordell,

Further to the conversation between Mrs Cordell and a member of staff yesterday, please specify which dates and offences you wish us to check. Almost all the offences are archived and not immediately accessible using the computer; specific dates and offences would help reduce the delay in providing this information.

I would be very grateful if you can pull up the following records so I can check them with the PNC the police printed off for the case that is ongoing at Woolwich Crown Court, I have been told I will need a Memorandum of conviction or the transcript for the case. I do know there are some errors on the cases that was heard at Enfield Magistrates and can see them clearly, but due to how far they go back cannot remember some of the cases. I do also know some are correct but due to some dates being wrong on some of the ones I can see errors in I would like to check all the cases on the PNC that was heard at Enfield Magistrates. If this can be done as a matter of urgency due to the impact this is having on my life with the case that is ongoing at Woolwich Crown Court and my bail and other issues. If the information could be emailed to me, I would be grateful as I am next in court on and would like this information of any errors so I can show the judge. Please see below the lists of cases I would like information on.

I will confirm the listing tomorrow. If Simon can obtain a letter from the Doctor as to his anxiety levels being affected as a result of the curfew, we could make a further application but would require medical evidence in support.

I am shocked at what the CPS has sent over. They have known all along people was arrested at the party in Feb 2013 with items from the building, saw the damage to the warehouse and still NFA these people they even had the police watching the building seeing people take lots of things out the building in Feb 2013. So really had them red-handed and still done nothing. And NFA the people they did arrest. Josey, they know Simon did not do this so why charge him and put this all on him, this is why they are covering up and don't want to give the information.

Again, they have withheld so much information like the pictures from Feb 2013. Again, they have not given any of the officer names that were there before the party started in May 2013 and let the party carry on knowing all this information. This is clearly a setup. Can Simon bail be address with this information?

So really had them red-handed and still done nothing. And NFA the people they did arrest. Josey, they know Simon did not do this so why charge him and put this all on him, this is why they are covering up and don't want to give the information. Again, they have withheld so much information like the pictures from Feb 2013. Again, they have not given any of the officer names that were there before the party started in May 2013 and let the party carry on knowing all this information. This is clearly a setup. Can Simon bail be address with this information?

Disrepair!

Trying to get the problems in my flat repaired has inflicted suffering upon me that I should not have gone through and members of the Enfield Council and housing teams staff have favoured the wrong decisions and also lied about me in regards to stealing the metal copper pipes from within my rented home, and this got achieved at my losses out of my life time, because it caused me to go without a healthy flat to live in for an unfair amount of time!

Time Spent Building:

In the background of everything going on I continued working on Creating a new up to date Organization and Arrangements Statements and policy and I continued to Study and finish at the Time Start: 07:00 Am and Time End: 03:30 Pm!

Further to the conversation between Mrs Cordell and a member of staff yesterday, please specify which dates and offences you wish us to check. Almost all the offences are archived and not

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this email as I have an ongoing case at Woolwich Crown Court, and I have noticed some errors in my PNC record which the police printed off at around 25/06/2013. I would be very grateful if you can pull up the following records so I can check them with the PNC the police printed off for the case that is ongoing at Woolwich Crown Court, I have been told I will need a Memorandum of conviction or the transcript for the case. I do know there are some errors on the cases that was heard at Enfield Magistrates and can see them clearly, but due to how far they go back cannot remember some of the cases. I do also know some are correct but due to some dates being wrong on some of the ones I can see errors in I would like to check all the cases on the PNC that was heard at Enfield Magistrates.

If this can be done as a matter of urgency due to the impact this is having on my life with the case that is ongoing at Woolwich Crown Court and my bail and other issues. If the information could be emailed to me, I would be grateful as I am next in court on March 2014 and would like this information of any errors so I can show the judge. Please see below the lists of cases I would like information on.

Hi Josey

If at all possible, can you confirm what happened in court today by email. Is it the case now that no more discloser will be asked for?

Also, if no more discloser is needed can you list it for court to see if the judge will bring the trial date forward?

If the conditions of bail could be changed there would not be so much of a problem waiting till July 2014 for it to go to trial, but I don't think Simon or I can take this till July 2014 if the bail is not addressed. There are still some issues I do see one being is part of Simon bail conditions is for failing to surrender which should not be the case as there is no failing to surrender on his record now and this has been proved. There is also the case you said before once you got all the discloser you needed from the insurance and CPS you said you would put an application in for his bail to be addressed; now it all seems to be on a letter from the doctors which was not the case before. If we take this to the high court for his bail to be addressed will they look more of the case of just what the CPS says?

I don't think Simon can take it till the 17/02/2014 to see DR Jervis psychiatrist at Barnet Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust 58 to 60 sliver street, EN1 3EP, nor do I think I can take any more of the worry that he will just end his life as that is what it has come to. If you just look at my phone bills and see all the 101 calls to the police over the last months with Simon telling them he wants to kill himself you would see this.

The other day I had 4 police officer in my home due to this while I am trying to stop him thinking the way he is for hours.

The stress this is having not only on Simon but me and the people around him trying to help him. The judge has got to hear what is going on here to this family due to all this and the lies by the police and the cover ups in this case. How can they call this burglary they are still hiding the information as to the inspector that was there before the party started that let the party go on, and went into the building before Simon had even gone in there and saw the damage to the building?

How can they hide that he comes along with TSG more than once?

And also, on one time came with the council due to noise how they can lose all this data. As this would prove Simon did not break into the building and in fact show that there were people living there. They also took a guy Simon knows called Martin Carl in the back of their van due to him hitting a girl which a 999 call was made. The police stayed there for around 1 hour this time as they were trying to get the guys shoes to be able to take him away. Simon is not sure if they took him to the station but if the police took him away there should be a record of this. The CPS is saying there have given all the discloser yet where are the pictures from the Feb 2013 case where are all the statements for this case. Are they hiding information as we are not asking for the information to the right address?

As if you look in the information, we got yesterday from the CPS the address is Bianca Road which as we have said before that's the road, we said the party was on. The case for Simon the police is saying Haymerle Road. Which as we showed you when you on Google maps both streets are right around the building as it is covered by 2 street names. Josey Simon cannot take no more his bail needs to be address ASAP I am scared I going to get the police here saying he has taken his life something does need to be done.

Dear Nikki Diamond

I am writing this letter to you after Trevor Allaway sent us the file for Mr Patel, due to my son Simon Cordell being charged by the police. When looking at the Pictures which were sent with the file I was wondering if you had any other pictures then the 3 that was sent to us. Maybe ones that show the damage to the wall, and maybe ones that are in colour if at all possible. From the Pictures we got from the police re the case of my son there does not seem to be any that show the damage to a wall. The problem is my Son never went into that part of the warehouse so from the picture the police have given it is not clear at all. And the 3 pictures that Trevor Allaway sent in the file he cannot see any damage to any walls. In 2 of the pictures the police have sent there is what the police have said is a concealed passageway which they think is how the warehouse was accessed. But to me there seems to be no way access could have been gotten this way. Please see IMG3853 and IMG3854 I know you have been in the warehouse yourself and noted the layout of the warehouse that was included with the file that has been sent over to us. Is there any way if you do not have any more pictures you can mark on your layout where the wall was damaged inside the warehouse?

I know this is asking a lot but if you could help at all I would be most grateful.

Many Thanks

Lorraine Cordell

Hi Josey

An update to the email below. The police called here late yesterday night I was thinking they had come to tell me Simon was dead. The police have put Simon on their vulnerable list due to how bad he has got, he is even beaching his skin because he thinks the police are doing this due to his colour, he has been doing this for the last weeks but it only come out this weekend. He has started over the last weeks locking himself away not letting anyone see him which is really not a good thing. Saturday he even told Katie not to come any more which really is the last person he lets in. This really has to be listed for court this week as he is getting worse. I want to write a letter to the judge about what is going on would he read this at a bail application and not let it be read out in court as there will be very private things in it. Can you give me an update to the below email and this one as to what can be done I am trying to keep him as claim as I can till he has to see the psychiatrist but it is very hard and this is making things worse on my health which you know already is not good. I would also like to put a complaint in about this and how the police have handled this whole case.

Hi Josey

If at all possible, can you confirm what happened in court today by email. Is it the case now that no more discloser will be asked for?

Also, if no more discloser is needed can you list it for court to see if the judge will bring the trial date forward?

If the conditions of bail could be changed there would not be so much of a problem waiting till July 2014 for it to go to trial, but I don't think Simon or I can take this till July 2014 if the bail is not addressed. There are still some issues I do see one being is part of Simon bail conditions is for failing to surrender which should not be the case as there is no failing to surrender on his record now and this has been proved. There is also the case you said before once you got all the discloser you needed from the insurance and CPS you said you would put an application in for his bail to be addressed; now it all seems to be on a letter from the doctors which was not the case before. If we take this to the high court for his bail to be addressed will they look more of the case of just what the CPS says?

I don't think Simon can take it till the 17/02/2014 to see DR Jervis psychiatrist at Barnet Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust 58 to 60 sliver street, EN1 3EP, nor do I think I can take any more of the worry that he will just end his life as that is what it has come to. If you just look at my phone bills and see all the 101 calls to the police over the last months with Simon telling them he wants to kill himself you would see this. The other day I had 4 police officer in my home due to this while I am trying to stop him thinking the way he is for hours.

The stress this is having not only on Simon but me and the people around him trying to help him. The judge has got to hear what is going on here to this family due to all this and the lies by the police and the cover ups in this case. How can they call this burglary they are still hiding the information as to the inspector that was there before the party started that let the party go on, and went into the building before Simon had even gone in there and saw the damage to the building?

How can they hide that he comes along with TSG more than once?

And also, on one time came with the council due to noise how they can lose all this data. As this would prove Simon did not break into the building and in fact show that there were people living there. They also took a guy Simon knows called Martin Carl in the back of their van due to him hitting a girl which a 999 call was made. The police stayed there for around 1 hour this time as they were trying to get the guys shoes to be able to take him away. Simon is not sure if they took him to the station but if the police took him away there should be a record of this. The CPS is saying there have given all the discloser yet where are the pictures from the Feb 2013 case where are all the statements for this case. Are they hiding information as we are not asking for the information to the right address?

As if you look in the information, we got yesterday from the CPS the address is Bianca Road which as we have said before that's the road, we said the party was on. The case for Simon the police is saying Haymerle Road. Which as we showed you when you on Google maps both streets are right around the building as it is covered by 2 street names. Josey Simon cannot take no more his bail needs to be address ASAP I am scared I going to get the police here saying he has taken his life something does need to be done.

Hi Josey

Simon knows about court tomorrow and he wants to attend. Can you let me know the time for court tomorrow and who will be attending will it be Jemi?

I am shocked at what the CPS has sent over. They have known all along people was arrested at the party in Feb

2013 with items from the building, saw the damage to the warehouse and still NFA these people they even had the police watching the building seeing people take lots of things out the building in

Feb 2013

So really had them red-handed and still done nothing. And NFA the people they did arrest.

Josey, they know Simon did not do this so why charge him and put this all on him, this is why they are covering up and don't want to give the information. Again, they have withheld so much information like the pictures from

Feb 2013.

Again, they have not given any of the officer names that were there before the party started in May 2013 and let the party carry on knowing all this information. This is clearly a setup. Can Simon bail be address with this information?

Plan:

1. If Mr Cordell would like to try medication Sertraline starting at 50 mg for one week then increasing up to 100 mg would be a good choice.
2. Crisis plan agreed with Mr Cordell if he feels like acting on his suicidal thoughts (call crisis team, or Samaritans or an ambulance).
3. Discuss with team at MDT for advice around sources of support
4. Mr Cordell to consider psychotherapy to address problems from the past.

Thank you for referring this 33-year-old man with low mood, suicidal thoughts and anxiety. He attended an appointment at the Silver Street Clinic 11.03.14 with his mother Lorraine. Mr Cordell explained to me that he is under a lot of stress at the moment due to a pending court case. He told me he is accused of burglary, but that he had been wrongly accused and the police had falsified items on his criminal record. He said that the record had led to the judge placing restrictive bail conditions including being at home in his flat after 8 pm. This has meant Mr Cordell has not been able to work for the last nine months (as he normally works as a DJ and party host with most work going on beyond that time). The bail conditions have just been extended for a further six months. Mr Cordell feels that these restrictive conditions have made him feel "a prisoner" in his own home. Mr Cordell describes feeling anxious most days. He says he has a poor appetite and has lost "3 stone" in weight over the last 9 months. He says he often finds his thoughts are over active and will not give him any rest. Mr Cordell says he finds it difficult to get off to sleep, sometimes not until 5am, but then will stay in bed until midday.

His mother says she has noticed him become "more aggressive" and trying to isolate himself from others. Mr Cordell says he frequently has suicidal thoughts and that he has been researching ways to kill himself "on YouTube". These have included "poisoning, over-dose, hanging". He said that he has tried to kill himself by hanging in the past. He says he has all the materials at home ready to act on his thoughts and has done so for the last nine months. He says what stops him from acting on these thoughts is a desire for justice, wanting to be proved innocent at trial. He says the police are very worried about him, saying "they know they have messed up and now I am on their most vulnerable list, I call 101 regularly, I had police officers out to my flat twice last week to check on my safety".

Mr Cordell says he feels angry with the police, that he has been victimised by them because of the colour of his skin and that he will continue to be victimised by them.

Past Psychiatric History

Mr Cordell tried to hang himself at the age of 16 when in a young offender's institution; he says he 1st consciousness and needed to be resuscitated. He was moved to a high security hospital and kept in seclusion on a number of occasions, but he says he would destroy the padded cell with his teeth. He says he was seen regularly by a psychiatrist called Dr Caplin from "the safe project". He says there was a second occasion where he tried to hang himself when in a cell after he was sentenced. He has not had contact with mental health services for the last 15 years.

Past Medical History: Nil

Personal History:

Mr Cordell was born at North Middlesex University Hospital. He has a younger brother and sister. Mr Cordell says he knows his maternal grandmother attempted suicide on a number of occasions and had had psychiatric hospital admissions. Mr Cordell's father worked as a union representative and his mother ran her own computer company. Mr Cordell says he did not get on well with his father who was a violent man. He was violent towards Mr Cordell, Mr Cordell's mother and siblings. Mr Cordell left home at the age of fifteen and was homeless for a while. He was placed in to care after stealing a pint of milk. He was placed in a series of children's care homes around the UK, but says that each time he would steal a car and drive back to London. Mr Cordell said he was pushed hard to achieve at school by his father and that he was "an A-star student" for most of the time. He says he was intelligent and would do the work at other times and as a result would often just "mess about" in class. He went on to college and studied engine mechanics, completing a city & guilds qualification. After leaving school, he went on to get jobs in the construction industry. Mr Cordell says he has tried to build himself up a business for providing party entertainment. At the moment he says he is not able to earn from this due to the restrictions of his bail. Mr Cordell has had one long term relationship which he describes as "my first true love". This is with a woman called Diana who is currently studying physiotherapy. They were together thirteen years but he says she has moved back out of his flat in recent months. Mr Cordell thinks this is secondary to the repeated involvement of the police in their lives and the stress this has caused. Mr Cordell lives in a one-bedroom council flat. He says things have been financially difficult in recent months as his benefits were stopped and he has had to borrow from friends and relatives. His benefits have been restarted now. Mr Cordell says he does not smoke tobacco and does not drink alcohol. He says he does occasionally smoke "skunk".

Forensic History:

Mr Cordell was put in a Young Offender's Institution at the age of 16 after repeated driving offences (driving without a license) Mr Cordell says he has not been in trouble with the police for a number of years. He had stolen some trainers at a festival in 2009 and prior to that had not been in trouble since 2005. He denied any violent offences. Mr Cordell currently stands accused of burglary. He has a solicitor and the case will not be heard until July at the earliest.

Mental State Examination:

Mr Cordell presented as a tall mixed-race man with short dark hair and beard, dressed appropriately in trousers and coat. He sat in a relaxed manner throughout our interview making good eye contact. His speech was a little rapid, but normal in rhythm and tone. His mood was described as "anxious", objectively it was a little low with a reactive affect. There was no evidence of formal thought disorder; content focused around the problems caused by his bail conditions. He described suicidal thoughts but said he had no plan to act on the thoughts due to wanting justice first. Mr Cordell denied abnormal perceptions and was not obviously responding to any. Cognition was not formally assessed but appeared grossly intact. Mr Cordell could see that most of his problems flowed from the very difficult set of circumstances he finds himself in and that he did not think he is "crazy".

Opinion:

Mr Cordell is a 33-year-old man presenting with anxiety and suicidal thoughts over the last nine months in the context of having a pending court case with no clear date or outcome yet. I would agree with Mr Cordell's own assessment that he does not have a major mental disorder. He has symptoms of anxiety in keeping with the stressful circumstances he finds himself in. He also displays a number of maladaptive psychological coping mechanisms, which likely flow from his difficult childhood with a violent father. His suicidal thoughts and acts have been a long running feature, becoming particularly acute at times of involvement with the criminal justice system.

Management:

We agreed a crisis plan today should Mr Cordell feel inclined to act on his suicidal thoughts. We agreed he would either call the Crisis Team (0208 702 5060) or the Samaritans (08457 90 90 90). If these sources of support did not workout, I said he could always call an ambulance in an emergency. We agreed that he could try an antidepressant medication if he chose to, although he remained ambivalent about this at consultation. Sertraline 50 mg OD increasing to 100 mg OD after one week, continuing as long as necessary would be appropriate. I also discussed psychotherapy with Mr Cordell today. He was not sure about this at present. If Mr Cordell would like psychotherapy the IAPT (Improving Access to Psychological Therapies) service would seem like an appropriate place to get this. We have not made plans to follow Mr Cordell up. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Yours sincerely

Hi Josey

Simon date has been moved forward to see DR Jarvis psychiatrist at Barnet Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust 58 to 60 sliver street, EN1 3EP to tomorrow morning at 9.30am. Also can you please give us an update to the below emails as Simon would like to fully understand what went on in court last week as to the discloser and if any more discloser has been asked for, he wants to know if you will be trying to get the discloser from the pictures to the Feb 2013 case and if you will be trying to get the information as to what inspector went to the building before the party started and more times on the night, and the invoices as to what stock was there before Feb 2013 after Feb 2013 and before May 2013. as he really is not 100% sure what he is being charged with as to what damage and the amount of stock he was meant to have taken. And also, to know what can be done with his bail conditions if he cannot get a letter from the DR right away, he is scared as it a new Dr they may not give him a letter right away until they have had more sessions?

Hi Josey

An update to the email below.

The police called here late yesterday night I was thinking they had come to tell me Simon was dead. The police have put Simon on their vulnerable list due to how bad he has got, he is even beaching his skin because he thinks the police are doing this due to his colour, he has been doing this for the last weeks but it only come out this weekend. He has started over the last weeks locking himself away not letting anyone see him which is really not a good thing. Saturday he even told Katie not to come any more which really is the last person he lets in. This really has to be listed for court this week as he is getting worse. I want to write a letter to the judge about what is going on would he read this at a bail application and not let it be read out in court as there will be very private things in it. Can you give me an update to the below email and this one as to what can be done I am trying to keep him as claim as I can till he has to see the psychiatrist but it is very hard and this is making things worse on my heath which you know already is not good. I would also like to put a complaint in about this and how the police have handled this whole case.

Hi Josey

If at all possible, can you confirm what happened in court today by email. Is it the case now that no more discloser will be asked for?

Also, if no more discloser is needed can you list it for court to see if the judge will bring the trial date forward?

If the conditions of bail could be changed there would not be so much of a problem waiting till July 2014 for it to go to trial, but I don't think Simon or I can take this till July 2014 if the bail is not addressed. There are still some issues I do see one being is part of Simon bail conditions is for failing to surrender which should not be the case as there is no failing to surrender on his record now and this has been proved. There is also the case you said before once you got all the discloser you needed from the insurance and CPS you said you would put an application in for his bail to be addressed; now it all seems to be on a letter from the doctors which was not the case before. If we take this to the high court for his bail to be addressed will they look more of the case of just what the CPS says?

I don't think Simon can take it till the 17/02/2014 to see DR Jervis psychiatrist at Barnet Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust 58 to 60 sliver street, EN1 3EP, nor do I think I can take any more of the worry that he will just end his life as that is what it has come to. If you just look at my phone bills and see all the 101 calls to the police over the last months with Simon telling them he wants to kill himself you would see this. The other day I had 4 police officer in my home due to this while I am trying to stop him thinking the way he is for hours. The stress this is having not only on Simon but me and the people around him trying to help him. The judge has got to hear what is going on here to this family due to all this and the lies by the police and the cover ups in this case. How can they call this burglary they are still hiding the information as to the inspector that was there before the party started that let the party go on, and went into the building before Simon had even gone in there and saw the damage to the building?

How can they hide that he comes along with TSG more than once?

And also, on one time came with the council due to noise how they can lose all this data. As this would prove Simon did not break into the building and in fact show that there were people living there. They also took a guy Simon knows called Martin Carl in the back of their van due to him hitting a girl which a 999 call was made. The police stayed there for around 1 hour this time as they were trying to get the guys shoes to be able to take him away. Simon is not sure if they took him to the station but if the police took him away there should be a record of this. The CPS is saying there have given all the discloser yet where are the pictures from the Feb 2013 case where are all the statements for this case. Are they hiding information as we are not asking for the information to the right address?

As if you look in the information, we got yesterday from the CPS the address is Bianca Road which as we have said before that's the road, we said the party was on. The case for Simon the police is saying Haymerle Road. Which as we showed you when you on Google maps both streets are right around the building as it is covered by 2 street names. Josey Simon cannot take no more his bail needs to be address ASAP I am scared I going to get the police here saying he has taken his life something does need to be done.

I am shocked at what the CPS has sent over. They have known all along people was arrested at the party in Feb 2013 with items from the building, saw the damage to the warehouse and still NFA these people they even had the police watching the building seeing people take lots of things out the building in Feb 2013. So really had them red-handed and still done nothing. And NFA the people they did arrest. Josey, they know Simon did not do this so why charge him and put this all on him, this is why they are covering up and don't want to give the information. Again, they have withheld so much information like the pictures from Feb 2013. Again, they have not given any of the officer names that were there before the party started in May 2013 and let the party carry on knowing all this information. This is clearly a setup. Can Simon bail be address with this information?

On the 11/03/2014; I got assessed by Dr Jarvis, who's based on Silver Street, opposite the Enfield police station and Civic Centre, of my free will I arranged the meeting. In doing so I explained to him all and showed evidence of how this had stopped me from working, he told me in reply that he would also get upset with the police if they done the same to him, I soon after left his office.

There were six different records that were not in the court registry: --

The day was the

and my mother helped me at my request and did so and in return she attended to the Enfield Magistrates Court for me to pick up information about my criminal record being in error, as got requested of me by the courthouse from my previous request. When my mother arrived, she got told that there were six different records were not in the court registry and contained on my criminal record, it also got explained by the court employee that if the six dates on my record were not in the court registry, as they were not, then they were never herded before in court. The lady working in the court continued to tell my mother she had seen nothing like this before and said it got worrying, I am still trying to address this, but no one seems to be able to help. I questioned to others; how can there be six different records on my PNC, yet they have never been to court?

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this email as I have an ongoing case at Woolwich Crown Court, and I have noticed some errors in my PNC record which the police printed off at around 25/06/2013. I would be very grateful if you can pull up the following records so I can check them with the PNC the police printed off for the case that is ongoing at Woolwich Crown Court, I have been told I will need a Memorandum of conviction or the transcript for the case. I do know there are some errors on the cases that was heard at Enfield Magistrates and can see them clearly, but due to how far they go back cannot remember some of the cases. I do also know some are correct but due to some dates being wrong on some of the ones I can see errors in I would like to check all the cases on the PNC that was heard at Enfield Magistrates. If this can be done as a matter of urgency due to the impact this is having on my life with the case that is ongoing at Woolwich Crown Court and my bail and other issues. If the information could be emailed to me, I would be grateful as I am next in court on March 2014 and would like this information of any errors so I can show the judge. Please see below' the lists of cases I would like information on.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this email after a call that was made to the City of London Magistrate Court on the 10/02/2014 about a list that is on my PNC that is incorrect.

I was told to write this email including as much information as I could to get this updated.

I have contacted you a few times before about this Error on my PCN and was told that you would get it updated but as of now this has never been done.

I was told on the 10/02/2014 when I called due to the date that it would be down to the police to update this. You would have only forwarded the information to the police to get this updated.

The Error is for a case that was heard on the 03/03/2008 at the City of London Magistrate Court, for failing to surrender to custody at appointed time, on the 25/01/08.

The error is that I did not go to go but my mum called the court and a sick note was handed to the court and the case was dismissed, so should not be on my record

This has caused me problems with bail on a few times and this is why calls have been made before to the court, at this time it has been causing me problems again with a case I am at Woolwich Crown court for.

I have attached the page for the PNC print out the police did for the case at Woolwich crown court that I am on bail now for. This print out was done by the police on or around the 26 June 2013 for the Woolwich case.

I do feel this is causing me problems with my bail and I am therefore asking for this to be dealt with as fast as possible in order that I can show the court this should in fact not be on my record.

407,

I was told on the 10/02/2014 when I called that if I ask for a court transcript that this could be done faster than updating the PNC records and I would be able to show the Judge at Woolwich crown court

the court transcript for the case that is on my file in error and that should be enough to prove that it should not be on my record. I am there for asking for the court transcript to be sent to me if there are costs for this please email me back with the cost for this to be sent to me and I will get this paid to the court.

Please see attached file for the page in my PNC record which is there in error I have highlighted the case.

If this can be done as a matter of urgency due to the impact this is having on my life.

Many Thanks Mr Simon Cordell DOB 26/01/1981

Hi Josey

Simon date has been moved forward to see DR Jervis psychiatrist at Barnet Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust 58 to 60 sliver street, EN1 3EP to tomorrow morning at 9.30am Also can you please give us an update to the below emails as Simon would like to fully understand what went on in court last week as to the discloser and if any more discloser has been asked for, he wants to know if you will be trying to get the discloser from the pictures to the case and if you will be trying to get the information as to what inspector went to the building before the party started and more times on the night, and the invoices as to what stock was there before

Feb 2013

Feb 2013

After

Feb 2013

and before

May 2013

as he really is not 100% sure what he is being charged with as to what damage and the amount of stock he was meant to have taken and also to know what can be done with his bail conditions if he cannot get a letter from the DR right away, he is scared as it a new Dr they may not give him a letter right away until they have had more sessions?

Hi Josey

An update to the email below. The police called here late yesterday night I was thinking they had come to tell me Simon was dead. The police have put Simon on their vulnerable list due to how bad he has got, he is even beaching his skin because he thinks the police are doing this due to his colour, he has been doing this for the last weeks but it only come out this weekend He has started over the last weeks locking himself away not letting anyone see him which is really not a good thing. Saturday he even told Katie not to come any more which really is the last person he lets in. This really has to be listed for court this week as he is getting worse. I want to write a letter to the judge about what is going on would he read this at a bail application and not let it be read out in court as there will be very private things in it. Can you give me an update to the below email and this one as to what can be done, I am trying to keep him as claim as I can till, he has to see the psychiatrist but it is very hard and this is making things worse on my heath which you know already is not good. I would also like to put a complaint in about this and how the police have handled this whole case.

06th March 2014

Hi Josey

If at all possible, can you confirm what happened in court today by email. Is it the case now that no more discloser will be asked for?

Also, if no more discloser is needed can you list it for court to see if the judge will bring the trial date forward? If the conditions of bail could be changed there would not be so much of a problem waiting till for it to go to trial, but I don't think Simon or I can take this till

July 2014

July 2014

if the bail is not addressed. There are still some issues I do see one being is part of Simon bail conditions is for failing to surrender which should not be the case as there is no failing to surrender on his record now and this has been proved. There is also the case you said before once you got all the discloser you needed from the insurance and CPS you said you would put an application in for his bail to be addressed; now it all seems to be on a letter from the doctors which was not the case before. If we take this to the high court for his bail to be addressed will they look more of the case of just what the CPS says?

I don't think Simon can take it till the

to see DR Jervis psychiatrist at Barnet Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust 58 to 60 sliver street, EN1 3EP, nor do I think I can take any more of the worry that he will just end his life as that is what it has come to. If you just look at my phone bills and see all the 101 calls to the police over the last months with Simon telling them he wants to kill himself you would see this. The other day I had 4 police officer in my home due to this while I am trying to stop him thinking the way he is for hours. The stress this is having not only on Simon but me and the people around him trying to help him. The judge has got to hear what is going on here to this family due to all this and the lies by the police and the cover ups in this case. How can they call this burglary they are still hiding the information as to the inspector that was there before the party started that let the party go on, and went into the building before Simon had even gone in there and saw the damage to the building?

How can they hide that he comes along with TSG more than once?

And also, on one time came with the council due to noise how they can lose all this data. As this would prove Simon did not break into the building and in fact show that there were people living there. They also took a guy Simon knows called Martin Carl in the back of their van due to him hitting a girl which a 999 call was made. The police stayed there for around 1 hour this time as they were trying to get the guys shoes to be able to take him away. Simon is not sure if they took him to the station but if the police took him away there should be a record of this. The CPS is saying there have given all the discloser yet where are the pictures from the case where are all the statements for this case. Are they hiding information as we are not asking for the information to the right address?

As if you look in the information, we got yesterday from the CPS the address is Bianca Road which as we have said before that's the road, we said the party was on. The case for Simon the police is saying Haymerle Road. Which as we showed you when you on Google maps both streets are right around the building as it is covered by 2 street names.

Josey Simon cannot take no more his bail needs to be address ASAP I am scared I going to get the police here saying he has taken his life something does need to be done.

Hi Josey

Would it be possible for Simon to get an update as to what will go on in court tomorrow, and who will be attending for him will it be Jemi?

Also, will the court be hearing a bail application tomorrow and if not, can it be put in for it to be heard tomorrow?

Update to Simon cases for Enfield Court which is on his PNC I have the list from Enfield Court which has took them 3 weeks to do as there were so many cases on the PNC. I have tried to call you many times and sent a few texts since I got the list from the court last Thursday so that I could go over the records but I have not heard from you. From looking at the list there are 5 cases that need to come off Simon record for the Enfield cases. There is also an issue I have with one case which will need looking into but I think I have to get my records form that date and see if it is the same case which I think it was as I can only remember one case that was ever at St. Alfred's Church right next to my house. When Simon, Tyrone, and me was arrested also at the church by me. If you remember you took Tyrone case away from mine and Simon due to Tyrone age and his case was heard on its own and Simon and mine was heard together Tyrone went to prison for this case and me and Simon got a not Guilty. There are also 2 other records that they missed out of the list I put in so I need to address this also. So, with the other case for City of London for failing to surrender that will be 6 cases that are not correct on his PNC record. And that is without the one I have an issue with for St. Alfred's Church by me, and the other 2 cases they forgot to check. It's not that the records are wrong it is the case that the court does not have any records at all for these cases, and the lady at the court showed me what she had to look at to get the records which is very large books with each court listing within them for every case heard at court so how is it so many cases do not have any records at the court yet they are on Simon PNC record I just do not understand. 2 are in fact Burglary's, 2 are for class B drugs, 1 is for Taking motor vehicle, Update for DR Jervis psychiatrist after him seeing Simon on the

he has said he will be writing a report to Simon GP and a letter for Simon so he can give it to you, I have spoken to him today but due to a backlog the report has not gone out yet so we will not have that for tomorrow at court I do not think but Simon still wants a bail application for tomorrow if that is possible. Simon has also said he does still want the 999 calls that was made on the day of the party he hires his sound system out to; he does still want the name of the Inspector and any others police officers that attended the building on

04/05/2013

05/05/2013

The picture that the police took of the damaged wall and showed him that picture in interview. And the pictures for the 16/02/2013

that the police took. If there is any reason that you or Jemi feel that this information is not needed can you please update us to the reason as Simon does not understand why these would not be needed for his case. Also, Simon has asked did you put the letter into the council as you said you would do for the person that attended the building on the 16/02/2013

17/02/2013

and the

04/05/2013

as I said to you, I have put a freedom of information act into them, they did reply they did not have any information but I have written back to them saying there has to be a record and I am waiting a reply from them. Can you also please let us know what time Simon has to be in court tomorrow?
