Transcription

They cannot give legal advice. For legal advice, please refer to Citizens Advice Bureau or a solicitor. Please listen to all of this message before selecting an option to ensure you are connected to the correct department.

For county and family court inquiries, that is family, civil and bailiff queries, please press 1. For the Crown Court, That is criminal and dual acquiry. Please press 2. For information on the court address, contact details, please press 3.

Queries for Oxford Magistrate Court, please hang up and redial 01865 448020. That's 01865 448020. If you are trying to pay a fine, please hang up and redial the central payments office on 0300 790 9901. That's 0300 790 9901. For Crown Court listing, please press 1. For other queries regarding Crown Court cases and appeals, please press 2. If you have a query...

Hello, how are you doing? My name is Mr. Simon Benjamin and I'm phoning in from horrificcorruption.com which is a newspaper and I'm interested in doing a blog on a case that you've got ongoing right now present in your courts. I was wondering if you could give me the listing number for that case when it's next at trial so I can attend and if you'd be interested in if it's a situation for me being allowed to bring recording equipment into the court and so forth.

Okay and who would I be sending that email to? Well it would be the Oxford Chrome Court. It's a criminal case is it?

Yes that's correct madam.

Yep. I'll give you our email.

Yep. And that's enquiries.oxford.chromecourt one word. Okay. Okay madam, if you would like to take some time, if you do, the website's turned on, it's at horrificcorruption.com. I've done a blog on hearsay articles before and on holding people hostage and so forth, and I think it's a really interesting weed for yourselves to take advantage of this knowledge that's on the website for yourselves at the moment. It's like a refresh, a safety refresh I would say right now at present. I'm recording this conversation as well and I'm going to be putting that on the website so you'll be able to listen to that also. Is that okay with you? I'm taking minutes of the meetings. Any person, you're being paid, you're a civil servant and you're being paid a wage and any conversation I have with you in regards to any inquiries or anything that you may be talking to, I'm entitled to take minutes in regards to those meetings. The High Court won at reference that it is okay to take audio recording of them minutes of that meeting. So I'm just taking this as our first formal meeting in regards to the court and the company you represent and I'm looking... I'd appreciate that. And no matter what way, I've got the rest of the case paperwork already and if you'd like to see the other work that I've done on other cases and I'm doing at present and the form of reports that we've been filling out, I'm very upset that I've heard that there's six lads that are being held just on hearsay alone and that the judge has allowed for a trial to be heard with no first-hand evidence. There's massive articles about this right now and this will get taken to the Supreme Court afterwards, I believe, and I'm 100% sure that the six lads that you're holding hostage at present will be released. Yeah, without no first-hand evidence attending court and that person saying that they're taking drugs throughout. It's unbelievable that the judge has allowed this to happen and I've already got other judges. There's a massive list of judges already up on the website that are already looking for prosecution to happen against them and I think it's something you should take into account at present. So, take a look at horrificcorruption.com, new newspaper around and I'm going to be visiting your court and I'm paying interest to the case with Tyrone Benjamin involved in it. I will do. And then you can have a formal response. I will do, madam. You please look at the website. Have a good day. Thank you. Goodbye. Bye.