This firm is dealing with a case for myself and I was wondering if it's possible to speak to a case handler that can go through. That's fine. Who's your solicitor? I believe it's Ronhad Amid. Mr. Cordell, Simon Cordell.

Yep. Thank you for calling. Your call has been placed on hold and you will be attended to as soon as an operator becomes free.

Hello? Hello? Hello, Mr. Cordova. How can I help you? How are you doing? Is this, um, I'm not too sure, a RONAC? How are you doing? I'm okay, as best I can be, yes, I'm suspecting the circumstances. Obviously I'm upset and concerned for my house and for my well-being and so forth and what's being done and pursued against me. So I'm just wondering, I've not been able to speak to you throughout it all and I needed a lot of evidence that I have transcribed up. I've got lots of audio recordings that I would like to put forward as my evidence under the Evidence Act 1941. I'd like to be able to see if your firm can help me achieve that.

Yeah, so obviously the person that has been in contact with us throughout has been your mother.

Yeah, that's correct. And the situation is that you have a hearing in December.

I understand that, but what I'm concerned about is that this company obviously is supposed to have my best interest at heart and it's a professional litigation company you are yourselves and I'm slightly, my mum keeps me away because she knows I don't, I go straight down the line with everything, I'm quite honest with it and I feel that if you were supposed to be having my best interest at heart you would have already filed against them for malicious process or malicious prosecution because these same claims have been reinstated I want them in a criminal court I've never really had a chance to go through it with yourself and I don't know if the phone is the correct place to go through it. Maybe a meeting at my house would be a lot better if you could arrange a meeting just to go through this thing and my evidence. Basically, right now where I stand with it all is, The accusations that are in the report that you've got were maliciously made. They were made under the Fraud Act 2006. All of them were... I wasn't in the house when... In my house. I was on bowel conditions at my mother's house. And they didn't realise that I was on bowel conditions in my mother's house. The council never. The council and the police basically made an ASBO against me in the beginning. This is their MO why they've done this. They made an ASBO against me. The ASBO was accusing me of the organisation of illegal raves under the 1994 Act which is a criminal offence. The police never arrested me for the criminal offence and the maximum sentence is six months, do three months. They never arrested me. I went to trial. I proved that the trespass hadn't taken place on these buildings. The only way a rave can happen is outdoors, 20 people listening, not inside a building unless trespassed. Can I just say that the trial in your case is going to probably be over a year. I don't think, I don't think, I don't think, if you sat down with me, your client, and you actually looked at my evidence that I have here now, I don't think it's even fair for you to let me go to a trial with the evidence that I will show you. I think that you should write a letter directly to, I've gone to Enfield Council and I've stripped them of their employers liability public policies just recently. I've got two policies off them last week for 50 million each, 100 million in their policies. I stripped the NHS of their policies as well which is unlimited, the NHS Trust, so that's all Scotland Yard and everything. I've built a complete diary and filed all of the reasons to why. I've took every letter and every application everyone's gave me and made a complete diary of it. My evidence is so overwhelming you'd be sick. I've been recording all the conversations where they're at fault with negligence and gross misconduct. And it says under the constitution to which their companies are set out to achieve that I will be treated with fairness, that no person will breach the equality rights to 2010, the right for me not to be, yeah, I wasn't in the house when they made all of this up. Yeah, they gave me an eight year curfew, held me in my house, forgot to arrest me for the ASBO because I'm phoning them up about the ASBO and saying, well, you're missing all your signatures on the MG11 forms. They're third aspect people. I request for the victims to come to court so that I can stand, I can question the integrity of their... Of the statement makers or the accusers of me. No witnesses would attend court. I won the case hands down, never got arrested for it. It's not even a criminal offence, yeah? So what I noticed is the police officers had changed all of the names in the ASBO, the copper's names, to brand A, brand B. I requested a copy of my criminal record out of the police computers and I can prove that they changed all the names Forged all the MG11s, each police officer wrote four statements each, none of them are signed by the victims, the victims don't work. All the timestamps to the call centres go backwards. The cases are shambles and I would like it brought back. They know that they're looking at custodial sentence for malfeasance of public office, targeted malice. They know that those are the sentences that I would like to uphold against them. Not perjury or nothing like that, I would like to do them for... The interference of the course of justice, yeah, 1986, I'm not happy with what's being done to me. I wasn't in the house for the accusations. These accusations that you've got in that file, they were originally criminal cases. I went to court for the criminal cases and I won the three criminal cases in the criminal court. I got NFA'd. And I was on bail conditions not to come back to my flat while I was on these cases. Lemmy and the council never realised that I wasn't in the flat so what they've done is they've put the three cases that I won at criminal court, they called some person from upstairs while I wasn't in my house on bail conditions to go down to the Civic Centre. They made up six more dates Back day in them nine months eight months, so they were at the time limitation act anyway I want something the rest of them that I'm back I won't even it's not even possible for me to being in the house from they started messaging my mum trying to get away from the Aspo bullying my mother for saying we've got complaint against Simon and if he don't come to the Civic Center We're gonna take his flat off of him Yeah, and we're gonna put processional if he don't I saw I wrote I phoned up the Civic Center said that's in traffic what you're doing, you're not police officers, I've been arrested for these three cases at a criminal call and I've won them all already, no further actions. The witness care team wrote back to the Civic Centre and gave them, I've got all the release notes, saying Mr. Cordell has won these cases, yeah, and he's allowed to go back to his home now. And then they realised, hang on, he's not been in his house. Because basically what's happening, they're saying 12 things and not giving no information to them, which is under the Code of Conducts. They should have basically identified who these people are that are portraying these stories and so forth and the rest of it. They called it all he, she, he, she, he, she. You need a hearsay application to put that application. You should have noticed that yourself as a legal solicitor that it's all he, she, he, she. I can't call none of these people... Thing to do if you're going to be wanting to go down public law. It's probably better that you instruct the solicitor's firm that deals with... It's not public law. There is no such thing as public law. What there is is civil litigation and criminal and civil. Yeah, we don't deal with criminal litigation. Yeah, and what this is is civil. In my case, it's a civil case at the present time now, what they're pursuing. It might be better if you found another firm. Why are you scared to represent me? And you've took £7,000, you've put your legal fees in, I've got all the copies of your legal fees that you've took and everything. You've had this money, £7,000 you requested on your receipt. You've asked for that money, the case got dismissed and I won the case hands-fair down. We weren't representing you with that in that case. We only came on board a few months back. I don't understand why you're scared to represent me. I've got a receipt for £7,000 off Tyler, my legal aid fee's being signed. That's not correct. That's not correct, I can assure you. So you never put a legal aid application in for my...

There is a legal aid application, but we haven't been paid a penny.

Yeah, I can understand that, but on the legal application, it says £7,000 is what this solicitor's firm's going to request once it's done the work for me.

No, that's not the case. Let me look at your file. Hold on. I had to put the legal application in myself and get it granted otherwise this firm wouldn't represent me without the forms.

No, no, no, no, no. I think you're getting confused with the criminal legal aid. The criminal legal aid is different. We don't deal with criminal law. Yeah, civil law. Back then, yeah, we were not representing you. This is under the access to justice, is that not correct?

Access to justice is about legal aid.

Yeah, legal aid, yeah. Your certificate. For civil litigation.

I don't mind either way. If you represent me fairly, you deserve...

You qualified for your qualification. You went to college, you studied hard. You deserve your money.

Yeah, basically I've got a bill, it might just be for the, because basically what's happened in this case here is like I'm explaining. It initially started from the criminal cases where I got arrested for these criminal offences. But then what happened is Lemmy got messaged by, Lemmy got messaged that I'd won them cases. So what Lemmy done...

Yeah, but it's not criminal law. What Lemmy has done after that is Lemmy took the criminal cases that I had already won and put them in a possession order.

Yeah, and he's saying to me, now he's used the same cases that I've already won in a criminal court in a possession, and he lost that possession order in court. Then he went for an injunction order, put the same claims into a next injunction order, I won that in court, the same claims, then he put them into another injunction order straight afterwards, then he's filed them again in another possession order which yous are in control of now. This initially started from...

This is all civil right now, but the cases, I once was arrested for these cases. They're able to do that. That's called malicious prosecution. No, they can't fire the...

As far as I understand, yeah, if you went...

The judge refused to open the case ever again. Lemmy was sitting in the court begging for three months with the case after the...

Why didn't the judge send him to prison? Why didn't...

What the judge done was use an escape goat and tried to say, oh, well, you need to have an assessment, Simon, Cordell. And the doctors have...

I can't answer what the judge's decision was. I think he was wrong in that decision the same as you do, by the sounds of it. The judge should have sent Lemmy to prison and he shouldn't allow this case to be refiled and refiled. We are dealing with your position, Kane. There is another hearing in December and we'll take it from there. There's nothing really for us to do. Because they know how much trouble they're in. Do you have a...

Is there any time that I could have a meeting with yourselves and just go over what has actually happened and present a fair case to you? Even if it's an online meeting on TeamView or something like that. No, no, no. I'll just...

We're open between 9 and 5. You can come into the office. It's because a lot of my stuff that I hold is on a computer, yeah? And I can show you in...

Do you ever use TeamView? I can show you in my computer what I've built and how I've filed it. Just bring it off and bring it into the office. I can understand what you are saying, but the magnitude of the fire itself and the evidence I have is quite large. So where do you think I stand? With the application as it stands and what's on your desk here now, forget that it started from criminal cases, I won, then he filed it again, then he filed it again, then he filed it again. Now that you've got that on your desk, yeah, for a possession order, it says he, she, he, she on every accuser. I would like to request these people to come to court, which is my right to request my accusers under the 1998 Crime and Disorder Act. Yeah, that's fine. Now, I can't do that because the only two names in that whole folder are Lemmy and Lavinia, the two council officers. So they're the only two people that I can call. Every other person that's in that application... You've got to let me talk. Sorry. You sound very on edge and hyper. No, I've just got a lot to say in the short term. I know your time's important to you, so... Now, this case isn't going to be over for a year and a half. We will tell the judge that we want these people produced. How can you produce he or she, he or she? Everyone that lived in this block at that time has moved. I'm the only one that lives here. Stan's the only one that lives beside me now.

Cordell, you have to bear in mind that I have dealt with antisocial behaviour cases like yours before. But it says... They do reuse evidence. You can't reuse... The case was dismissed and it was said that I had won the case in criminal courts. Cordell, if you care... The only way a council can... It's different from civil.

Yes, I'm aware of this. I'm fully aware of this and I'm fully aware that any civil case, no claimant should follow pursuit on a case that they know that there's no likelihood at the end of it of a realistic prospect of conviction at the end of it.

Yeah, they're holding me in a malicious process with the company credit card because they're an authority and they can do so.

Yes, but I'm not subject to a conviction at the end of it. But what they are asking from me is to lose my home, my home and my belongings. I'm a man and I'm being told I'm going to... I can't even paint my walls in my house since 2015 because they've had the same procession order against me. I've won it over four times.

Bring the important documents into the office between Monday to Friday and I'm just fine. And then we can have a chat about it. I appreciate that. Monday to Friday. I appreciate your time. I've got some new clients coming in now.

Okay, I accept that. Thank you for your time, sir. Thank you. Thank you.
