Transcription

Hello, is it possible to speak to Jamie Chambers please? Who's actually calling? Who am I speaking to may I ask? Who am I speaking to? Mr Cordell, Simon Cordell. Right, hold on one moment please. That was Jane. The on grant is currently unavailable. Please leave a message after the tone. When you have finished, please hang up or press the pound key for more options.

Hello Dion Grant, it's Mr. Cordell phoning in. I didn't phone your phone directly, I just phoned Jeremy Chambers' number who's in charge of law and governance for Enfield Council. I intended to speak to him in regards to the call that you phoned me on yesterday about. You gave me an incoming call. I personally checked my diary in regards to the correspondence that have been going between you and my mother in regards to my life. And well-being and there's over 25 emails within a three month period and you was warned in them emails about the way that you was acting for the company I believe that you are if you if you handle my case there will be a conflict of work under the 1998 Act because I am pursuing claims against you also and I believe that you making an attempt to call me yesterday in knowing the failures that you have and the negligence and gross misconduct that you have caused is interference with the course of justice 1963 which is an act of law and it is a criminal offence for you to do so I do not feel that it is fair that I am being passed over now directly to you to be a case handler in regards to these issues and Can you please forward up to your line managers and above that I am not happy and the concerns that I have. Jeremy Chamberlain understands laws and he must have done a law degree to hold the position that he holds. So can you please quote what I have said to you and to him and ask him please to contact me back on the number that I have left on his desk for him to do so for me. The time is now 9.41. It is the 11th of the 12th 2019 and until so and so I'm going to terminate this telephone call. Goodbye.