Hello, Geoffrey Mann speaking. Hello, is this? Oh, this is Geoffrey Mann speaking. Hello? Hello, it's Mr Cordell, your neighbourhood team manager, that's correct, and I've got lots of emails here with your name all signed on it, and your email geoffrey.man at enfield.gov.uk. You're the regeneration and environment department, and I'm Mr Simon Cordell. I would like to have a word with you, I'd like you to know that I'm recording this conversation. And I am making an official report and I'm going to be sending that official report to your directors and executives and I'm sending that to the treaties of rights to the European treaties I'm sending to that also to Sir Jeddett, the Queen's Secretary, and I'm going to be sending it public as well because I've got over 20 million emails here and I've got 500,000 phone numbers. I'm going to show the whole wide world what you and your teams, how you've represented me under your company's heads and breached your statutory duties and you are not acting as reasonable people. I'm explaining to you that my neighbours was attacking me from 2014 and that I had video evidence of them attacking me. The reason that they are attacking me is for two reasons. One, in 2013 I got arrested for handling stolen goods. I threw a girls birthday party under my company head to Smooth Limited which is an incorporated company. I had the receipts and invoices for this party. It was a girl that helped me, she has six children and she'd helped me lots in trying to establish a legitimate company, CIC Association, within the community. I kept going to the Civic Centre and they
