Speaker 1:

Oh hi there. I've been told that I've been trying to get hold of you. I've put a succession claim into your cell for my housing.

You told me that at first, you told the council that I'm not allowed to stay in the police, that I'm not allowed to stay in the house while succession was ongoing. And the police have barred me from going to the house due to that. Which isn't law and then while I'm not allowed to even be in the house as my primary home I'm now being allowed to go back to the address and everything in the whole house has been moved out and there's a letter on the side saying you've told them to move everything out of the house by the 20th And all my personal belongings are gone. This is my home. My sister's already a housing association, London and Quadron, in temporary accommodation, which is on your systems and I advised you of that. And you sort of let her stay in the house and she just took everything, the cooker, the whole lot under your advice.

Well, and you've told me to wait for review.

You're going to go and re-review my evidence. Are you there, madam?

Speaker 2: Yes

Speaker 1:

Like I'm concerned obviously, this is my whole life is inside of that house. I really am the one that's lived in that house. I really am on council registries and I've just contacted other council officers and they've all checked my mum's registry and they said their succession claim hasn't been submitted in my name. Okay, that's fine. As I said, did you submit my succession claim? What do you mean? Before the panel, did you put it, because you never, I kept asking you, can I have the panel decision, can I have a copy of the minutes? of the 202 reviewing thing.

I know that you're a housing regeneration officer and that you're my mother's and I respect that and that's your title, but by law, from my understanding, you're not a landlord of the borough, of the premises. So a landlord has to issue the thing. You're allowed to issue correspondence for them, not being the landlord, but you have to give me their official correspondence. You've not gave me no right to appeal, but all you've gave me is your your own word in an email

I've not been I'm not being a varsity please can you explain to me why I haven't and the rest of it, then all of a sudden you've changed your reason after two months and in the same mouthful you've said, "Oh, you're going to re-review the evidence because there's not enough evidence." I've said to you, "If you require any more evidence," I don't think you've reviewed the evidence, I've said, so I've done a summary of the evidence, I've said to you, "If you require any more evidence, I'm happy to submit that." I've got a lifetime of evidence. I've just got access to my mum's computer. And I got into it and her emails and sms messages, so I got every email from my sister, every email from myself, every time, everything I've ever done in the house, every police correspondence. I could give you a lifetime's worth of history that that's my primary home. And I've offered that to you and no one's took it off of me and now I've had all my stuff moved out of my house. And you never advised me.

Why didn't you tell me that my stuff has to be moved?

Speaker 2

Missing:

Speaker 1:

No, I'm not allowed to go there. You gave it to hostile people that are against me in a case. So with the section 41 notice, section 41 notices are said, have to be said to the property, so that's what I did. But my uncles wrote back to you and he asked for you to extend it and you agreed to extend it to the 23rd in knowing that you're talking to me and that you've not updated me in that correspondence. You've told me that you're going to serve a notice to quit in May and you told me the reason why and you told me that you're going to set up an account in my name for rent. You tried to make it look like I'm a commercial outlet, that I'm a company and rather than make it so that I've got... You're not supposed to cut the succession on the account until the last moment, until the decision is made.

And has this really been put before a panel, a council panel? Is there really minutes to these decisions, may I ask?

Speaker 2:

No, there isn't.

Speaker 1:

So you've never even put it before a panel before?

Speaker 2:

No, it's just gone to our management.

So the information that I've communicated to you is based on my discussions and passing details on to my manager, my management.

Speaker 1:

Who is your management? I've asked you for management's name, you've refused to even give me access to that. This should go through a formal process. You're pretending that you're a house officer and you have the right to act as the landlord and that you're going to put my case for succession and that you gave me an appeal form to fulfill for the panel and no one's decided a proper decision based on whether I'm allowed that house or not. Legal binding.

Speaker 2:

Can I just double check?

Right, so my understanding is that you're still a tenant of ours at the moment at 109,

Speaker 1:

I was, in 2017, the Enfield Council themselves chased me and said that I'm not allowed to live in this house. They put two procession orders on me. Those two and two injunction orders by Lemmy, Neu-Abbassai and Ian Davies, yeah, and with Jeremy Chambers. Yeah, and Dawn Allen. And basically, they chased me for years trying to get my mental capacity, saying that I'm not fit and blah, blah, blah. We went to courts for them taking this house. Eventually, the judge put an order in saying, because they were in so much trouble at the end of it all, He said that I have to have a two bedroom house, this is mandatory order. Because it went before the panels, council panel once or twice, they kept longing it out. Eventually the minya, the person that was in trouble, got her hands back on the case and she'd become malicious. So my mum got so hurt and me being victimised in the house and asking the council, my mum has a spare bedroom, they were asking her for council tax. So my mum put me in the spare bedroom to live and she took me on as her carer complete time not that she was not already. So now I've lived in the house and Enfield Council agreed to this, rather than me be mentally sectioned, they agreed that I live in my mum's house, they agreed that all correspondence go to my mum's house. So if you write to me, you write to my mother. You write Miss Lorraine Cordell and CO 23 Byron Terrace and all correspondence from Enfield Council must go to 23 in my name. Enfield Council is 100% aware that that is my home. They're the ones that took it to court and put the mental cap out and damaged my life. There's over 2,000 emails to it. There's over 2,000 emails of Lemmy Newton and everyone saying, I'm not allowed in 109. The court decommissioned 109 and said, I'm not allowed back into it. Yeah, and I've got to stay down. I've got to be rehoused. I'm allowed anybody in the spare bedroom of my choice because of what mental health services and Enfield Council have done to me and because of the trust issues that it's caused.

And then you've gone against it all and you've not even put it before the board. And you've left me a vulnerable person and you've not checked my sister's history as well and you sort of not even rehoused my sister as well through succession. Through succession, if she's living in the house as well and you've made that her primary house, then you have to rehouse her and reallocate her and downsize her and you should have left me in the premises.

How have you felt? You haven't done anything about your sister. But you've advised the council that through succession I'm not allowed to live in that house and you've not even put the succession paperwork in that you gave me and I submitted back to you and you pretended that you did.

I'm not going to get you into a department like, come on, is my mum's and my house safe at the moment? Is anybody going to go there and try and change the locks as you advised in the 401? Can you prevent that much?

Speaker 2:

Okay. Okay.

- Okay, when you, was there any discussion around you ending the tenancy for 109 or being evicted from 109 or anything like that?

Speaker 1:

- 109, I had two Housing Possession orders against me for five years, but for five years, legal process, I was stuck in, I got so much evidence against the council, they were stuck to go to trial, Enfield Council. So they kept me in a legal process where I was not allowed to go to 109. In 2017 I was barred from one case then. I've always been barred. I was just barred from another case just now because of my neighbour because of the same issue were you lot failed to rehouse me under the court order, so it was allowed to continue against me... Where you lot failed to rehouse me like you're supposed to?

My neighbours keep banging on the tap and floors at me and tormenting me. I'm not allowed to sleep in the bedroom. If I go into my bedroom I start getting banged at. Police and council are well aware of all of this. So I've lost four babies because of it. Yeah, I can't even have a partner in the house. There's so many witnesses to it and video recordings, it's sickening what I have to go through.

They said that I'm not allowed back in. Just recently, but I've still had a restraining order put onto me telling me I'm not allowed to go anywhere next to Rebecca O'Hare or to 115. We've got to cross each other paths and the argument is said to have initiated in the communal hallway. I can't even go out and order food at the moment take away and stand in my communal hallway and wait for food in the chance that she's going to come down the stairs and bump into me with her children. You cannot leave us all like this. You're endangering all of our lives unfairly unweighted. You're sending me to prison for something that was supposed to have been obliged by being prevented and I mandatorily protected and my home is not a home because you failed. It was decommissioned by the court and told that I was told not to decorate, not to paint. I'm being rehoused into a two bedroom house. And my mum, because your past staff done what you're doing here, my mum put me in her house and left me in the spare bedroom to protect me. And the council wrote to us and accepted that. Now you've gone against it.

Speaker 2:

Okay. Do you have any sort of letters about, um, you, like, letters from the council?

Speaker 1:

I have thousands of letters. I have thousands of letters from the council. I've got a diary when the council gave me a form to fill in saying, OK, have you got any neighbours banging at you? And the rest of it. They gave me that in 2014. Every day I was filling in that form. I created a bigger, wider form. So I created a whole diary. Now there is well over an access of 670 members of staff to do with the police involved, the MPs, KOs. I've got every bit of evidence. Do you know what you're going against doing this? There's years and years. The council are not going to be happy and the pre-assessors of you are not going to be happy if you ask me to drag up the paperwork. You can go to my website and check it all. Horrificcorruption.com or Everyoneologinto.me It's all on server side. There's everyone. There were so many members of staff in that council involved in it. It was unrealistic. Everyone.

Speaker 2:

Okay. So it looks like you I didn't exactly like, didn't give up the tenancy. I don't have to give up the tenancy and make myself intentionally homeless. It's the coun- I've been told to keep this tenancy in my name until the council rehouse me into a two bedroom home. I am not supposed to intentionally make myself homeless. I have now, my job, nobody's supposed to make themselves intentionally homeless and give up a what, a secure tenancy since 1996 because they're being attacked without you doing what you're supposed to do. What you're saying is ridiculous. And it doesn't matter anyway. If you were intending to permanently My mummy is the secure tenant. My mummy is the secure tenant. I was not intending to live with my mother for the rest of my life. I'm 45 years and need to have a child. My intentions was to be moved into a two bedroom house as to coach all the views I've to do and as I've supplied you with the paperwork. But you failed in your obligation to do that so me and my family had to safeguard my life rather than letting me into 109 and continuously getting attacked. You ask anybody or look at any of the paperwork, it is reasonable and common sense for that to happen. I have a life, I cannot be victimised because of your views, your values and your obligations and whatever you feel towards me.

So are you currently allowed to go to 109?

I'm allowed access into 109 at the present time. I'm allowed to go to 109, but if I cross Rebecca O'Hare's path, who lives in 115 above me, If I go up to the stairs, if I do anything in the house, I go to prison for life. I'm a complete victim in the house. I'm not allowed in the bedroom. So I go into the bedroom, I get attacked by Richard the Broth. There's bare videos of this. I've lost loads. I'm not even allowed to sleep in a bed with a partner there. The problems with the neighbours are so long occurring, have been in before so many judges and courts. And the council's done everything to manipulate it and swing it, make it look like I was in the wrong. But they couldn't get to any trial through years and years and years because they knew what was happening with the evidence at home. So in the end they promised me the house and failed to give it to me.

Okay. So in terms of your belongings that are currently at... Do you...

My understanding is that some of your belongings are...

Not some of my belongings. I own like a 200 gram sound system, one of them, yeah? Like it's 40 foot long. Each speaker takes like, you have to crane lift them, yeah? Like I've got a garage full of equipment. There's hundreds of amps. There was over £100,000 worth of comics all appraised, all pictures of them all. There was £30,000 in cash directly out of my bank account. £10,000, £10,000, another £10,000 or £7,000 given to my mother in that house for safekeeping because she was buying my summer house and all that, and an extra lock-up for the faculty. So all of my money, all of my clothing is inside of there. There is years of paperwork since I've never, ever, ever been moved out of that address because I need an appropriate adult at all times. I have never been allowed to be interviewed on my own in my whole life. If I get arrested, I have to have an appropriate adult there. If anything happens to me, I have to have an appropriate, my mum is my appropriate adult. My doctor, I've never, none of my paperwork ever got moved at 23 from when I was 16 and above. It's always been in that house because my mum is my carer. Do you understand how serious this is? When did I move back in with my mother? I've never moved out of my mother. I've got my own bedroom there. I've never moved out of there. My bedroom is fully loaded. My bedroom is my bedroom. When my mother became ill, she'd become to a stage where she had to have nappies put on her and she needed to be washed her private parts. I actually wouldn't let me do this My uncle Andrew is gay and she gets on with him a bit easier like that so she allowed for him to help her. She allowed my sister to change her nappies. So they asked me if I can come out of the bedroom for a while and stay at my nan's house. So I stayed in my nan's house for a couple of months while my mum has been going through medical care and was getting treated. She was bedridden. So she couldn't walk, she couldn't move. So Dion and that washed her up. She had a carer come there twice a week as well that looked after her. And my bedroom was used to facilitate her for five minutes and keep her alive. And then I'd been moved back into there the second that was no longer needed because she was passed away.

It's always been my primary home. Okay, because my understanding is that when you started, the tenancy for 109 started back in 2006, so that's why I was wondering if you moved out.

No, in 2006, I was okay. Till 2014, this address was my home. I never had the police here once, never got in trouble. Then all my neighbours started banging at me. My mum started writing to Enfield Council, please protect my son. She wrote to Dawn Allen and all of your teams. Geoffrey O'Man was the team leader. She wrote every day to them. They refused to reply to her. They left me getting victimised badly hurt. About a year after emails and hurt, they thought I'd done something wrong in respect to one of the neighbors. So they messaged my mom from the same emails they had blanked her from a year and said, oh, we want Simon to go for a meeting. My mom, for me, proved straight away that they were mistaken for what they thought I'd done wrong. Then we wanted answers for why they had left me in such a bad position for all of those years. Lemmy went into the systems and created a fake record for me in the council's history. My mum and me subject the history, there was no history for me at all. Then Lemmy got started, he went in and created loads of fabricated accounts, we subject access requests to communities, and there's loads of history being made up for me. So then we proved all the history was fake, then they tried to use it in applications and the judge said this is out of order, he refused to use any of it. He told them they're not allowed to use any of it ever again. But then they somehow, because they couldn't use the same claim number, they got the same fake claims, used the company number card, credit card again. And refold it all under, even though the judge had refused it ever to be seen again. The judges couldn't get it to trial and they kept me in a legal process for over five, six years. In the end, the judge done his nutting and said, "I must be moved out of this house and safeguarded and put into a two bedroom." And this is why you have the court order. And from the second that that court order went into place in 2018, this home become decommissioned. Yousort have to mandatorily give me a two bedroom home. So I've not had a home since the judge and everyone agreed that. And Yousort went to the court and took my mental capacity away from me. - Okay. - Yousort, the Enfield council said, went to the court, said, because I've got such good evidence, they want my mental capacity and they want it so that my mum is not allowed to be my appropriate adult anymore. So that my mum can't call solicitors for me, They wanted a council officer to be my, I have to live with a council officer 24-7. Yeah, under guard. This wasn't a joke. They wanted to take it because I'm too good in law. So by them doing that, my mum and me fought for it and all the doctors and we won and they couldn't diagnose me but we proved everything they was doing was wrong. But in the end, rather than them admitting complete liability to it, they said, look, you can't confess it. You need the two bedroom home. Here's the paper. The Enfield Council asked for the doctor report to be done. So in the middle of the trial, because I'm going to go to trial, the Enfield Council said to the judge, please can we make him have a mental health report? So they've done a mental health report, said I don't have the mental capacity in 2018. The judge said he can't deal with the case anymore because of that reason and that I must have a two-bedroom house because of it now to support what the council requested. I've never really moved out of 23, but I've had my other home. They gave me my other home through Mindcap and the rest of it, and social services gave me my 109. I lived in it, and I lived in other premises before that, and I always needed support, and I think everyone has become aware that there is some underlying issues with me, but not to the extent that Enfield Council has tried to make it out to. And now because of what they've done, I'm scared to admit or have any support at all because of it. And what's not? Because of the way that the extent, the dark tunnels they tried to throw me to for anything. So here we are now, basically.

- Okay. In terms of your belongings, obviously you just explained that you've got a lot of belongings at 23. Where would you want them to go? Nothing can be removed from the property. Legally, you've told me that a succession claim is ongoing, but now you're telling me that you've not really put the succession claim through. Now you're telling me, while you've known all of that, that you've not really put my succession claim through, you've served a notice to them lot, and now you're using that date that you've not made me aware of. You've served me, I am the true resident. My auntie Sheila lives at Five Brook Crescent. Sheila Lewis lives at 5 Brookrath. Dion lives at 17 Tenancy under London quadrant. Sheila is from...

How could you serve them the paperwork to my mum's knowing that that's my primary home and they have their own, whether you have their homes? And it is the council that made it so that I'm not allowed to be in this house and the council that brought all these problems to light and the council that went from my mental capacity and made my mum have to look at me and the council that failed to rehouse me. And allow for me to stay in that bedroom with my mum. How can, now you tell me you've served them paperwork maliciously I would say, if it wasn't negligent, it's gross misconduct and from the way that you're explaining this now that you, and openly admitting, but you never even sent the succession forms, you've never even been for the panels or anything, then what does that mean? - So it's gone to management and Yeah but what did, no no no no decision was not conveyed to me. You've told me that management, no names, you gave me no right to appeal, you gave me, you're telling me that this hasn't been before a succession panel because I just had two members of staff check and they said that no one has ever put your succession form through that I gave to you before a panel and it's never been done right. That's why they can't give you the minutes to the meeting. And I need to speak to you now and that you need to do something right about it. The first member of staff is like, this is a disgrace what she's done. And I've got that all on recording and I'm recording this conversation. You're openly admitting what you're doing to me. Now you're telling me correspondence that you gave to other people behind my back when you're in the middle of emails with me, told me you're going to send it off for re-review. What happened to that re-review that you told me about? You're sending off my evidence for re-review. Now you're telling me verbally that you realise that your management has told you that I don't succeed without putting the succession paperwork through. You failed to tell me that you've not done my succession but now you're telling me you've made a decision based on succession. This is to know how illegal what you're doing is. So the paperwork has gone to management. To management or to the succession or what? Where's the succession paperwork? I put a succession claim in. It goes before a panel and there's minutes to that meeting. There is a 202 review, a right to appeal and review. There is a succession process. That succession process means for as long as succession is ongoing, I'm allowed to legally live in that house. That notice to quit is premature and it is not in compliance to statutory obligations from the housing authority. You are violating, and your company is violating every privilege and legal right and every obligation that you sit to manage and mandate. This is a breach of my human rights, the right to privacy, the right to a private life. This is a breach of my right to life, Article 2. You've given me no right of laws to the burges of the land and the right to live and be safeguarded. How can you do this under the House and Act and be...

I've asked you for the landlord's decision and their appeal decision. And now you're telling me you've sent it to management, but management never put it before appeal. You knew they never put it through. That's why the other staff can't find it on the systems. But now you're relaying to me that some management, you're not going to name what management said to you. Bam, bam, bam. And where's the paperwork? Did management verbally tell you this or they sent you paperwork? So I can definitely get a response to you, I just need case management for that.

In terms of your own housing needs, are you aware of whether you currently have a rehousing application? What do you mean rehousing application? So you mentioned that there was a court case and they said that you needed a two bedroom property. That's why I'm wondering if you have an existing house. When I was supposed to be put for a property, the second it was said in court, my mum come back and my mum spoke to Laminia, who was the malicious woman who was hired for the council from another solicitor firm. Laminia Mellou, acting on the solicitor's behalf, she knew what had happened, she was trying to help other staff and prior for their misconduct. So she'd become malicious in that sense. But she had openly admitted in emails with my mum when they got back that they need to go and that my mum needs to get that form that you just asked for. My mum asked her for it, she said yeah, and they all agreed what the judge had said. Now, a couple of weeks later, and my mum's talking to them, she starts to change the whole thing. She starts to like, long it out and say, they send my mum some form for it, pretending it's it, but it's not the real form. So my mum says to them, my mum asked them about the problem, they basically just, they completely manipulate her and boycott her. But what you're saying and that all the process is asked for and requested correctly on our behalf, but we wasn't relayed that information back correctly and it wasn't dealt with on your behalf correctly. So I can show you those correspondence. If you would like me to forward them to you. And because obviously I'm talking about, I can just pinpoint the key points in short and pretty sure that this was said in that email, that was said in that email. This is us requesting that, this is them doing that, and this is them completely violating it at the end. And this is why I was left in 23 with the spare bedroom. And you would fully agree with me, you'd be like 100% I wish we never dragged this back up. Because of the names and the problems involved in it.

- All right, okay, well, thank you for your call. I'm going to speak to management and I'll get a response out here. Did you get my last email? I sent one to the police, one to you, and one to them bringing it all together. They all responded to me, but you're the only one that hasn't responded. I put a freezing order on the property, a request for the property to be frozen inside of it. So can you comply and respond to that as well, please, to that email and to the severity and the property issues inside of it? and can you actually give me the documents as requested for the appeal so I can see the reasons to why I was refused because I've gave more than enough sufficient evidence here and if you haven't, management haven't logged my succession claim then this is unfair. The ombudsman's already involved as well and the ombudsman said that they're going to message me back next week. They've got a 19 day delay. Okay.

- Yep, so there's two emails that I'll need to respond to Is my house safeguarded at the moment? I use I've got to stop any documents as I am the rightful person to be in the house. Marty, Sheila, not a lot. They own five, but present as I've explained, cancel. And Dion is 17 tenancy, temporary accommodation. And Dion also has a house in Fondazen, which is another address. She has her original address where she was assaulted at in 17. And then she was putting temporary accommodation out of this area. Now, you sort of let her go in that house, then you've sent them correspondence as the representations of the estate. I'm the successor and I'm the person that applied for succession. So you should be doing all correspondence relayed through me and not sending them to hostile third parties that you know are going to take advantage. You've told other people to take all of my personal belongings other than myself. So when it comes to notices, like section 41, that was directly into the property.

Yes, but... I don't know. I didn't know about you not having access because that's not... I gave you complete info. I informed you completely of the situation. I'd ask you to fairly act on it because of the misinformation you had informed the police of me not being allowed to be in the premises while the session is ongoing anyway. And that my sister with another premises and that my aunt Steela with another have more of a right to be in there than me. With my personal belongings and with my collateral history to that address. That the council are aware of and the police are. I've not told anyone that anyone has more of a right than anyone else. You said I have no legal right of occupation whilst succession is ongoing and afterwards, until a decision is made. That is not housing law. Housing law is whilst succession is ongoing, I have a right of occupation, especially if that was my primary house. Housing law says that I could be living in the other house And as long as that's my primary house, I could be in this house, staying in this house as long as I'm clean in it. And as long as that's my primary house, I intend to go back to it in the future. That is case law. The questions you were asking me in the beginning don't even comply to statutory obligations to meet the threshold to comply for succession. And that's why I'll send you a house officer who has really dealt with you and where's the proper things and where's the stuff I should be reading to be able to defend myself. And I will respond to both of your emails. The house is frozen until this is done. I'm going to put a complaint through in a second and that complaint isn't good. Do you actually go to my website and look at the files and the links that I gave you? And do you see what the next email is that's about to be sent in regards to what you've done? I don't have access to any websites. I've only got emails. I've got my website, horrificcorruption.com, which is horrificcorruption.com, but that's the website itself. Where I'm posting all of my files is everyoneologinto.me. So every, because if I put all the files like this, that we're dealing with, case laws and that, into a website, the website becomes too heavy. So I use two different URLs. But if you go to everyoneologin2.me, you're going to see loads of stuff, which is cases before you and before this succession thing started. It's like another case, which is to do with my neighbour upstairs, which is why one of the reasons I'm asking you to get me out there, my neighbours, because it's called another case, but I wouldn't even go into that first, it's just one of the reasons why I shouldn't be allowed in 109 anyway. But if you go to like, down you see 280, that's me fighting for my 280 joints, robbing my nan's house because my mum's died. If you go a bit further down you see 23 succession, that's our case. If you look at it a bit further down you see DB, Dion, that's Dion's case and if you go into the succession case, Yeah, I've placed like 23 apply for succession. You see one of the folders, it's got like all email, an email, it's got all the emails in it. You see the new email that's about to be sent out. It's basically requesting for your job to be taken away. And I don't want to do that to anybody. Not to you, not to anybody. I just want to give my mother's home and the folders to the ones that I'm legally allowed to have. And I know that I'm legally allowed. If I go to everyone login to .min, If I look down, if I look in the list, I've got a formal request to begin 23-5-0-2. But there's all the emails there. I'm about to stand to send 32 complaints in regards to these issues. That's fine, yeah. Now, this isn't something that I want to do to anybody. And you sound quite young. I've had something done to me, but I didn't even deserve to have it done to me. Here, what's been done is wrong. And I don't... All I'm asking is can you please at least stop the house being anyone going to that house. I've changed a lot from it. I've got the keys back to it. I'm the only one with keys to it at the moment. And I'm staying there. But like I'm saying, they've took the cooker out of there. There's my sofas and a couple of little bits. And there's one bed that I can stay in. My main bed's been taken. Everything's been taken. Everything. It's still got bits of it and it's still my family home. My home, my primary home, it does. I know, I do appreciate that. It's a massive loss, the loss of your mother, which I can say is difficult. But I can't guarantee that you you know, this outcome is going to be in your favour. You can't guarantee... Hang on, you're saying to me that what you're trying to relay to me, in short, is that I have applied to you for succession and I applied through the main portal gateway at the same time. So to the main department and you come forward and you've dealt with this. There's the housing regeneration. At points I've said to you, you're not the landlord of the fee. Please can you apply and send me the proper documentation. You supplied me with the succession form for Bill, I passed that to you. Now all the staff are saying it's not on the system. You have come back to me with a normal email as a reply. I've asked you, please can you get the proper stuff? Because this don't feel like a legal succession. You've gone off and you've spoke to your management, as you call them, and you've come back to me, I'm not allowed no management's names. I'm still not being given no documents. You've misled me and not updated me knowing that I'm the one doing succession. Where does this all stand? What is really happening here? You must know more as the housing officer and what you're actually applying as law and what you're doing. You must know what's going on with the case history and collateral history. It took two members of staff five minutes ago to log in on recording into the system and they're like, there is no succession for these house. I'm not sure who you spoke to, so I can't comment on that. Have you seen any paperwork yourself to do with a true appeal for succession other than what I gave you and you gave me in the beginning? The form to fill in? Have you seen anything back from the panel? Have you seen absolutely anything? What do you mean management? Management can't just decide a succession case. It goes through an appeal. Management's not allowed to decide succession. You can't just sit in an office and say, oh yeah, we're going to give this and do that. Who's allowed to do that? This has to go through a formal process, which is success, which is, and it goes through a board. It's like a panel, a panel, like a mini court, and they decide. Is that not correct? Is that not the correct procedure for succession? I can double check this. I'll have to go, yeah, I'll have to go double check and clarify, and then I'll let you know. I'll respond to your email as requested. When will I expect a response by? Er, what day is it today? On the 20th of the 8th. What state, what position are you in with the house? Because you're making it sound like yous are going to continue forward and send locksmiths and everyone to that house and take my generators and my sound system, all my clothing, all the rest of my comics that I left there, all my personal items and my family photos and everything away from me. Because yous have made the home almost unlivable and unattainable because knowing what's really going on. So, Yeah, 23 is my home, but usually I've just got all the cooker and everything taken up, you know, in my back. Knowing that you're going through a succession claim with me and you've took the forms off me for it and you're telling me, you're giving me answers that I'm not applying, I'm not... That I'm not being succeeded for succession because I own another tenancy. That doesn't sound like that's been before a panel. No panel would make a decision based on giving that decision. Because that is not one of the elements. You can go to the house as a learning, as a new for law, and you can understand that that is not a requirement. The fact is whether it's your primary home and whether you're living in that home.

OK, so are you currently physically at the address now?

I've had to leave the address for five minutes. I have to go do things. That's what I'm saying. While I'm out doing this, am I going to go back to my home later and let her think it's all being done because of you that have failed in all your obligations to safeguard me, my property and to mandate what you are legally supposed to do? You can't even... You're giving me legal advice in regards to my succession claim, like you're happy to give me bad advice, that I've not applied, I've not won because of this, because of that, because I own another tenancy. But you can't tell me anything else to do with that, not even a name. You don't even know the people that are telling you this information other than their management. So how the heck can you be doing this, Georgina? You must know who you're dealing with. You must have had some documentation. If I get into a car, or if I took that company over as Ian Davis, it's for me to check that company for any issues. It's like, if I drive someone's car, it's for me to check the tyres and everything else before I go. And especially if I'm talking to you and asking you for these specific problems that are to do with it. And it's for you to be able to inform me. You shouldn't be telling me I need to put a subject access request in to find out who is dealing with my housing application. You don't seem to know a single thing about it. Whether it's been really put through. What happened with the form? Whether it went through a panel. But you're giving me disinformation that I'm not allowed my mum's home and my home. Under false pretense. Which ain't even statute in law. Look, Georgia, I'm going to get going and let you just do this, man. Can you please safeguard that property in that house and with management inside there, whatever management you've got, and management shouldn't be doing panel meetings inside of an office if that's what's happened here, and there should be official documents to prove that fact. Okay, yeah, let me clarify the points and then I will respond to your email, your email, the Q email, This is absolutely too valid. It's now 1-1309-2048-2026. The National Journal.
