Dear Dr. Zarate,

RE: Lorraine CORDELL dob: 03/10/1963 (Hospital no: 40814251)
23 Byron Terrace, Hertford Road, Edmonton, London N9 7DG TEL: 020 8245 7454

Thank you for referring this 50 year old woman for trans anal irrigation advice. Biofeedback therapy did not help her symptoms. She has had bowel problems since having a vaginal hysterectomy in 2008. There were post operative complications with a haematoma. Other medical history includes 2 vaginal deliveries and 1 caesarean section. She had removal of a pedunculated sickle polyp at colonoscopy in 2008. She had a laparoscopic cholecystectomy in 2012. She has had a previous recto-vaginal fistula. She has a history of pulmonary embolism. She has bladder symptoms and has had SNS for this. She takes Oxycotin for degenerative back disease and arthritis in her spine. Ano-rectal physiology tests showed low resting and squeeze pressures. An anal ultrasound scan showed the site of the previous recto-vaginal fistula with a track close to the mucosa. A transit study showed normal whole gut transit.

She passes loose to hard stools every 8 to 10 days, with a feeling of incomplete evacuation. She experiences urgency and urge incontinence with every bowel action. Passive incontinence of a pellet of stool occurs every 2 or 3 days. She is incontinent of loose stools every 8 to 10 nights. She experiences abdominal pain and bloating.

I have shown her the Peristeen system and registered her with Coloplast. They will deliver supplies to her and contact her GP for a prescription.

She has not yet had a surgical review with Mr. Navaratnam, regarding the possibility of ongoing fistula. Following discussion with you, I have advised her not to use Peristeen until she has been checked by him and it is confirmed that it is safe for her to insert the rectal catheter and irrigate.

I would be grateful if Mr. Navaratnam would send her an appointment. I will continue to offer on-going telephone advice and support, if Peristeen is deemed safe for her to use.

Yours sincerely

Lorraine Cordell dob 03/10/1963
23 Byron Terrace Hertford Road Edmonton London N9 7DG
40814251 NHS number: 4820476580

This patient has been seen in our clinic with symptoms suggestive of a persistent rectovaginal fistula. The patient describes the occurrence of gas per vagina. We have performed an ultrasound in our end and this showed a low anal vaginal fistula just to the left of the midline with fluid tracked anteriorly just to the left of the midline-extending from the anal canal towards the vagina.

You might want to review the patient for consideration of an examination under anaesthesia and repair.

List of Conditions:

1. Cholecystectomy
2. Hysterectomy
3. Lung embolism
4. Colonoscopy in 2008 and more recently with a polyp found on one occasion at her local hospital
5. Overactive bladder with good response to PTNS and now on SNS
6. History of rectovaginal fistulae with endoanal ultrasound in March 2013 showing a tract with a rectovaginal fistula but mucosa in the vagina to be intact
7. History of third degree tear
8. Severe constipation

I have reviewed this pleasant lady in clinic who, as you know, has a history of severe constipation associated with faecal urgency.

Anorectal physiology performed at our centre showed evidence of poor squeeze pressures and evidence of the rectovaginal fistula that I have mentioned before. She has been recommended to reduce oral laxatives but use suppositories instead, but this is not effective in the management of her constipation. She is also undergoing bowel retraining.

From all the above, she would not be a good candidate for anal irrigation.

I would recommend the use of Bisacodyl suppositories but I would like to first check with an endoanal ultrasound the situation of her fistula as she describes a recurrence of gas per vagina. She will contact me and let me know when the ultrasound has been performed and, if normal, I will advise you to prescribe her Bisacodyl suppositories.

Lorraine Cordell dob 03/10/1963

I have reviewed this pleasant lady in clinic who is currently having bowel retraining for symptoms of incontinence and she was also recently reviewed with an endoanal ultrasound due to symptoms corresponding to rectovaginal fistula. I have contacted Mr Navaratnam explaining to him the outcome of his investigations so the patient can be reviewed in his clinic. She describes that she opens her bowels once per week but once the rectum is full, she cannot control bowel movements, and that will invariably lead to incontinence. So, she would definitely benefit from the Peristeen irrigation system, as an option, and I am going to ask my colleague Julie Storrie to offer the patient an appointment.

Otherwise, I have discharged her from my care.

I have reviewed this pleasant lady who unfortunately has not had her endoanal ultrasound. I have reorganised this online and if there is a persistence of her fistula, I will refer her to my surgical colleagues. If the fistula is not present, I will advise the patient to use bisacodyl suppositories.

In the meantime she has had bad personal news and her bowel symptoms have become worse. She might benefit from mebeverine 135mg three times her day which I would be grateful if you prescribe for her.

On assessment, she was passing soft and small stools once a week or less. She was using her hands to open up her buttocks to aid emptying and always experienced incomplete evacuation. She was experiencing abdominal pain and bloating. She was experiencing urgency and urge incontinence with most bowel actions. Passive incontinence was occurring once a month. She was also being incontinent at night once or twice a month. She was taking 3 Sennokot a day for a few days once a month, and Andrews Liver Salts. This medication would result in loose stools. Her predominant symptom was "my bowel just fills up and then just empties and I can't control it".

Following treatment, she has symptoms much as before. She opens her bowels once a week on the toilet and is incontinent once a week after using a Glycerin Suppository. Passive and nocturnal incontinence occur as before. She has stopped taking Senna and Andrews Liver Salts.

I have requested that she be seen in Dr. Zarate's out-patient clinic for further advice.

Dear Lorraine

Please find enclosed an invitation to come to the urology suite to meet patients who have already had a sacral nerve implant and those who are considering it.

We thought it would be a really good idea to get everyone together to have an informal chat so that you understand what is going to happen or to give advice as someone who has already been through the procedure.

We would really love for you to come

North Middlesex University Hospital is a teaching hospital, and therefore medical and nursing students may be training in the Outpatient department with our staff. We understand that some patients would prefer not to have a student present during their appointment. If this is the case, please let the receptionist or nurse know upon arrival in clinic.

Car parking is limited, there is a Pay & Display Car Park and the entrance is via Bull Lane. The hospital can easily be accessed by public transport, including by train to Silver Street Station, or by local buses. Please see our website www.northmid.nhs.uk for further details.

Yours sincerely,

This will take place on: Tuesday 18th November 2014 at: 2:00 p.m.

Clinic: Pcc City Rd External Tue Pm

If this is not convenient, or you no longer wish to attend, please call the booking centre on 020 7566 2357 as soon as possible. Our opening times are Monday to Friday 8:30am to 5:00pm.

In order to prevent congestion in the clinics, please do not arrive more than 15 minutes before your appointment time.

In order to reduce the number of times you have to attend the hospital and to minimise any inconvenience, we endeavour wherever possible to ensure that you have all the necessary tests carried out during your outpatient clinic appointment. Therefore, depending on the number and type of tests you require you might need to stay at the hospital up to two or three hours.

If you require surgery, you will need to attend a pre-operative assessment; however, you will usually be offered the option of coming back another day. Every effort is made to see you at your appointment time, but please be aware that delays are sometimes unavoidable.

Please bring this letter to your appointment along with all your current medications, eye drops, and spectacles or contact lenses.

We might need to put drops into your eyes, which can cause blurred vision lasting about four hours. During this time, you will not be able to drive.

Please contact your GP if you need transport for this appointment

If you have any queries about your visit, please contact 020 7566 2089.

If any of your information we hold is incorrect or has changed please complete the enclosed questionnaire clearly and return it in the enclosed envelope.

We have a text reminder system in place to remind patients of their appointments. If we have your mobile number, we will text you to remind you of any appointments you have. Your number will not be passed on to any other organisations.

Please bring your NHS number to your appointment. You will find your 10-digit NHS number on your NHS medical card. If you do not have a medical card, please ask your GP practice for your NHS number. The NHS number improves patient safety by making it easier for us to identify patients correctly, find health records, safely transfer information between NHS bodies and co-ordinate your care across NHS organisations by linking your episodes of care.

Yours sincerely,

Ms Cordell's has experienced a flare-up of her atopic keratoconjunctivitis. This has settled well with some topical steroids and anti-histamines. I have suggested she taper these as originally instructed and we will review her again in the new year.
