25/04/2026 08:44	Review	Insp 01 P215950 Casey	1 have considered the original circumstances of arrest and PACE Code G necessity grounds as communicated by the officer presenting the arrest and documented on this custody record. 1 have considered the custody officer's reasons for detention under S37 PACE at the time of arrival, and enquired into the investigation plan to determine if the reasons for detention remain the same or have now changed. The following people have been spoken to about the investigation; NA PP. Having reviewed the investigation 1 am satisfied that continued detention for the investigation of the offence remains necessary and the reasons for detention are now; to obtain charging decision under the threshold test. The case is with the CPS. 1 am satisfied that there is not yet sufficient evidence to charge the detainee. 1 am satisfied that enquiries are being conducted expeditiously. The detainee was not detained under S37(9) PACE and was fit to be dealt with. 1 have considered the detainee's medical, welfare and individual needs in making my decision, and find that there are no known factors which cannot be properly catered for in custody. DP's custody record contains their current care plan which is continually under review. 1 have also ensured DP has been offered food and drink. The detained person's solicitor was unavailable to speak with (no direct number left) but will be informed of this review at the next available opportunity and invited to make representations. 1 did not seek representation from an appropriate adult because no A/A was required. 1 visited the detainee and spoke with them in person. They were lying down on mattress in cell. 1 explained my role, the purpose of the review, and reminded them of their ongoing rights and entitlements. 1 also enquired about their welfare. They made the following representations: wanted a pen, stating that the crayon wasn't good enough to write with. Also asked how anyone can criminally damage their own door. Custody PS informed re pen who will risk assess. Having reviewed the investigation, the welfare of the detainee and any representations made, 1 consider the detainee's continued detention remains necessary and proportionate. Release of the detainee at this point would impede the ability of the MPS to investigate this allegation properly; 1 therefore authorise continued detention. 1 informed the detainee that 1 authorise continued detention and explained the reasons.
